$30M budget passed by Shawano School Board

Higher property values allow for early debt repayment

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

SHAWANO — With little commentary, the Shawano School Board approved a budget just under $30 million Monday for the 2019-20 school year.

Taxpayers can expect to see a slight drop in their district property taxes as the budget includes an 11-cent cut in the tax rate to $9.58, which means someone with property worth $100,000 would pay $958 in school district taxes.

The tax rate could have been as low as $8.88, due to a much higher bump in the property valuations — 5 percent instead of 2 percent — but the board voted to pay off $1 million more off its debt early, specifically the debt incurred when the district built Hillcrest Primary School and renovated Olga Brener Intermediate School. According to business manager Louise Fischer, doing this will help to keep the tax rate steady and allow the debt to be completely paid off one year earlier.

There is currently about $21.9 million in debt for the district, including the renovations at Shawano Community Middle School, which officials expect will be paid off by 2031. Getting ahead on the debt would allow the district to pay off its existing debt by 2030.

“The purpose of this is to pay off our debt sooner, save money on loan interest costs, and also our money would be invested in the meantime, so we’d be making money off of it,” Fischer said, noting that some research into current interest rates show the district could save anywhere from $50,000 to $65,000 on interest costs by paying off more debt now.

Fischer told the board that this was a good time to get ahead on the debt, due to higher property values and a state budget that provided more funding to schools. She said there’s a possibility to do something similar in 2021 if property values continue to rise, which would really help when the bonds are eligible for refinancing in 2023 (Hillcrest and Olga Brener) and 2024 (SCMS).

The 2019 third Friday count in September, the official number the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction uses to determine how much aid it furnishes to schools, showed a 51-student decline, more than double the number Fischer had estimated when she presented the budget in community meetings and the annual meeting in September. That brings the official enrollment of the district to 2,279.

Fischer said the latest decline shows the district’s three-year rolling average, which the state uses to determine how much equalization aid districts get, will be 40 students less when it comes time for next year’s budget. She said that this year’s equalization aid for Shawano was up $359,000 to about $15.3 million compared with what the district received in the 2018-19 school year.

If the school district moves forward with a proposed referendum for a new recreation center in April 2020, and voters approve it, that increase on the tax rate would take place in 2021.

Fischer reported the district will be paying more money toward private school vouchers in the area than she originally presented. She said the district would be paying $876,000 toward the vouchers, not $728,000 like she had presented in September because one of the schools is offering special education.

Fischer noted that $857,000 of that expense is going to the three parochial schools in Shawano —

Sacred Heart Catholic School, St. James Lutheran School and Wolf River Lutheran High School. The remainder is going toward private schools outside the district that are educating students living in the Shawano area.

“When I pressed DPI (Department of Public Instruction), they didn’t give it. They don’t have to give it,” Fischer said. “They just tell us to tax it and levy it on everyone. It’s really frustrating.”

Of the $6.43 in the tax rate that goes toward school operations, vouchers account for 62 cents of that, almost 10 percent, according to Fischer.

Fischer noted that the district is also getting a one-time payment of $326,000 due to the city of Shawano closing two Tax Increment Finance districts. The money is going into one of the district’s accounts that handles capital improvement projects, which brings the total in the fund to almost $1 million.

The district is also getting $131,000 more from the open enrollment program, where families are allowed to enroll their children in schools not in the district they live in. Fischer said the district is expecting to get $362,000 because of the number of students coming into Shawano School District exceeding the number leaving for other schools.

While the funding is welcome, it’s not always reliable, according to Fischer.

“I’m concerned about the up and down of open enrollment,” Fischer said. “There’s no way to really predict it. This is a figure that really helps our budget because we have a net and not an expense, but it would be nice if we could get some stabilization or develop a trend where it goes up every year.”

Bank holds open house

The Denmark State Bank celebrates its new location at 835 E. Green Bay St., Shawano, on Saturday with music, food, a petting zoo, face painting and tours of the new building. Scot Thomson, bank president, said the community celebration represented the philosophy of the bank, which is to provide a local banking option for area residents. The bank, which has been in Shawano for 3 1/2 years, provides banking for agricultural, commercial and retail businesses and “everything else,” Thomson said.

Goodfellows ready to give again

Donations being taken during November

By GRACE KIRCHNER
 Correspondent

CLINTONVILLE — With the holiday season fast approaching, the Goodfellows, a local charitable group from Clintonville and Marion, is busy preparing for their 69th year of distributing food, toys and other items to needy individuals and families in the area.

“Last year, we helped 693 people, including 115 families and individuals,” said Steve Conrad, president.

With the distribution now including the residents in both the Clintonville and Marion school districts, the efforts to serve the less fortunate residing in those areas continues to grow.

“The response from the Clintonville and Marion communities last year was outstanding, with churches, civic organizations and businesses all contributing both financially as well as with donations of food, toys and other items,” said Conrad.

Fifty volunteers from both communities joined in helping prepare for the distribution of items collected to help the less fortunate.

Founded in the early 1950s by Frank Sinkewica, former officer at FWD Corporation, the Goodfellows program has provided countless items to the less fortunate over the years, helping to make their holiday season a bit brighter. In addition, dozens of local residents have generously volunteered their time in making each year’s event a success, many of them having done it for many years.

Funding for the Goodfellows comes from a variety of sources. Along with some funding from the local United Way campaign, a majority of the funding comes from cash donations from generous local businesses, civic groups and individuals. In addition, funding is also provided through grants from charitable foundations with businesses tied to the Clintonville/Marion community — among them, Alliant Energy, ThedaCare and Kwik Trip.

“Cash is the easiest way to give,” Conrad said. “However, we have had everything from paper products to toys. Cash is always good because we can always increase the food voucher, and they can purchase items.”

From Friday through Nov. 15, volunteers begin the process of collecting the names of potential recipients, individuals and families identified as such, are then contacted by Goodfellows members to verify their applications. Shortly thereafter, recipients are selected and notified of their inclusion in the program for that year.

In the past, local churches, service organizations and businesses have contributed everything from toys, canned goods, mittens and caps to blankets and comforters, with every item contributed finding a good home, according to Conrad. Many of the same organizations have provided countless volunteer hours toward making the annual event a success by their assistance during distribution week.

In addition to the items, each family receives a voucher from Tadych’s Econo Foods in Clintonville, allowing them to purchase fresh items and groceries from a list of approved products. The amount of the voucher varies each year, depending on donations received.

In mid-December, the process of assembling boxes of non-perishable food items, purchasing toys and gathering all other collected items begins, culminating with the distribution of everything collected, usually a week before Christmas. This year’s distribution will be from noon to 3 p.m. Dec. 12 at Memory Lanes and Banquet Hall, 250 Country Road I, Clintonville.

As a 501(c)(3) charitable organization, contributions are tax deductible. Anyone wishing to donate can mail their contribution to: Clintonville Goodfellows, P.O. Box 135, Clintonville, WI 54929

Conrad can be reached at 920-402-0225.

Clintonville seeks applicants for Main Street building grants

By GRACE KIRCHNER
Correspondent

CLINTONVILLE — The Redevelopment Authority for the city of Clintonville has announced the issuance of the 2020 grant notice for the Building Improvement Grant Program.

The program is aimed at improving the business climate of downtown Clintonville by assisting business and property owners with improving their buildings on Main Street. They will do this by providing matching funds up to $2,000 for selected projects.

Specifically, the program's eligible activities include — but are not limited to — exterior facade renovations, signage and structural exterior repair. Not everyone who applies for this competitive program will be approved; three grants are likely to make the cut. For complete program details and application information, visit Clintonville City Hall, 50 10th St., or the city's website under the Economic Development page at http://www.clintonvillewi.org/economic\_development/building\_improvement\_grant\_program.

Completed applications are due at 4:30 p.m. Feb. 28. For information, call City Administrator Sharon Eveland at 715-823-7601 or email seveland@clintonvillewi.org.

Nature center hosts family fun

Annual event keeps kids busy with a variety of activities

Alexandria Exworthy, Birnamwood Elementary-Middle School music and band teacher, applies the finishing touches on Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School freshman Elhan Baleski's ghoulish character. Baleski was one of the creatures on the haunted trail, a new feature this year at the fall open house at the Witt-Birn Nature Center.

MIRIAM NELSON | NEW MEDIA

By MIRIAM NELSON
News Editor

BIRNAMWOOD — The annual fall open house for the Witt-Birn Nature Center was held Oct. 22 at the Hi-Wood School Forest north of Birnamwood.

The newest activity was the Haunted Trail, thanks to the effort of Alexandria Exworthy — the new music and band teacher at Birnamwood Elementary-Middle School.

"I've been doing haunted trails since fifth grade, and I'm 26 now," said Exworthy. "With all that experience, I figured that would be a perfect fit for me."

Exworthy enlisted the help of several friends and set up the trail the previous weekend. Props were donated from Schairer's Autumn Acres. The team set up five stations over a quarter-mile trail. The hillbilly station, zombie graveyard, witches station, spider web maze and carnival magician's station were also manned by costumed students to add to the fear factor, Exworthy said.

Jackie Berndt, the district literacy coordinator, serves as the chairman of the committee that makes this event possible, as well as the winter snow event.

"This is the most fun committee to be on," Berndt said. "It's the least cognitive, and the teachers who get involved do so because they're passionate about it."

The activities were scattered throughout the property and inside the Nature Center. In the basement of the building, there was the opportunity to carve or color pumpkins.

Deb Rades, a fourth-grade teacher at Wittenberg Elementary-Middle School, gave archery instructions. Though not a hunter herself, her children competed in 4-H, so she's had a lot of experience.

"I used to gun hunt a little, but it wasn't my thing," said Sage Blum, a Birnamwood seventh-grader, as she waited for her turn to shoot.

Upstairs on the main level of the building, there was plenty of chili that was cooked by the high school Family and Consumer Education classes. Pumpkin desserts were donated by parents wanting to take part in the bake-off contest.

Outside there was the opportunity to press apples in a machine demonstrated by Dan Kapitz, Birnamwood Elementary-Middle School science teacher.

Pressing apples into cider was one of the many experiences for students to try at the fall open house, held Oct. 22 at the Witt-Birn Nature Center. Hazel McPhail, a seventh-grader from Antigo, joins in the fun that evening.

MIRIAM NELSON | NEW MEDIA

"Wilson Orchards donated five bushels of apples, which will make about eight gallons of cider," said Kapitz. "The kids enjoy working the hand-cranked press."

Berndt noted that all the activities were free, which hasn't always been the case. The committee now has a fund that helps to buy the necessities, such as pumpkins and ingredients to make s'mores.

A lot of fundraising has made this all possible, according to former teacher Kelly Kapitz, who has been involved with the development of the property for many years.

Kelly Kapitz shared that the land had been donated decades ago to the school district on the condition that it be used for school forest activities. The property is in a land management project, which means it's logged through a crop management system, and the proceeds go to help fund the operational expenses.

"What's important is the majority of the cost of the Nature Center building was paid for through fundraising, donations and community effort from businesses like Resch Tile and Dombeck Custom Cabinets and the Wisconsin Deer Hunters-Witt-Birn Chapter," she said.

Berndt noted that the fall open house has been better attended since switching from a weekend day to a weeknight. About 100 people attended the event.

Car, semi in accident near Bonduel

No injuries were reported in a car-semi truck accident in the westbound lane of state Highway 29 on Monday morning just west of the Exit 234 onramp from Bonduel. The Shawano County Sheriff's Department said the investigation was still underway and no cause has been determined or citations issued as the Leader went to press. One lane of the highway was blocked. Emergency medical services personnel checked a child riding in the car for injuries. Involved were a man from New York driving the semi and a woman from Little Suamico driving the car. The Bonduel Fire Department also responded to the scene.

Halloween accident stats downright scary

MENASHA — Halloween is nearly here, and kids will soon be out in droves collecting their bags of goodies. While trick-or-treating should be fun, it can be dangerous at times.

According to the National Safety Council, children are more than twice as likely to be hit by a car and killed on Halloween than on any other day of the year. In 2017, October ranked second in motor vehicle deaths by month, with 3,700. July saw the greatest number, with 3,830 deaths.

To reduce the chances of tragedy on Halloween, Dr. Shannon Sullivan said safety needs should be put first — not only in regard to driving, but all aspects of the day.

"Plan costumes that are bright and reflective," said Sullivan, a family medicine physician with Theda-Care Physicians-Menasha. "You can consider adding reflective tape to costumes or trick-or-treat bags for better visibility so drivers can see pedestrians. Make sure costumes are flame resistant, and children should wear well-fitting costumes and masks to avoid blocked vision, trips and falls."

In some cases, it might be smart to avoid masks entirely by opting for face paint. That would keep kids' vision, including their peripheral vision, free to see what's happening around them. If any costumes have props that go with them, such as swords or wands, make sure they have rubber or soft-pointed ends.

Sullivan also recommended putting your child's name in his or her costume, along with the parent or guardian's name, address and contact number. This is especially important if you are not accompanying your children.

Caregivers should also remind children that they should carefully look both ways before crossing the street. They should use crosswalks, intersections and traffic signals to safely get across streets and use sidewalks whenever possible.

Finally, tell them to stay on well-lit streets and to stay off their phones while trick-or-treating.

"Drivers have a responsibility also to make sure kids stay safe," said Sullivan. "They should be extra careful during trick-or-treating hours."

In addition to slowing down and staying off their phones, drivers should be especially vigilant in residential neighborhoods. Halloween causes children to be excited, and they may dart out from in between cars without warning.

Slow down and take extra time to watch for kids, especially at intersections and on curbs, and while you're backing up or entering driveways. Drivers are also advised to turn on their headlights earlier than normal. Know what time your community holds trick-or-treating hours and be extra alert to the danger of children crossing streets during those hours.

When going from house to house, children should walk, not run.

"A parent or responsible adult should always accompany young children, especially those under the age of 12," she said. "Have flashlights for children and their escorts, and stay in groups. Only go to homes with a porch light on, and never enter a home or car for a treat. Remind children to never accept rides from strangers."

As far as the goodies your kids will be collecting, it's important to explain to them — no matter how old they are — not to eat anything before bringing it home and having it checked over by a parent or other adult.

"Parents should examine all treats for choking hazards or possible allergies to ingredients," Sullivan said. "Eat only factory-wrapped treats. Do not eat candy that is not properly wrapped or seems to have been tampered with. Avoid homemade treats from strangers. Throw out anything that seems questionable. While we know it is difficult, try to limit the amount of treats your children eat."

OBITUARIES

Gerald L. Qualheim, 86, of Shawano, passed away Thursday morning, Oct. 24, 2019, at Shawano Health Services following a two-month illness.

Jerry was born Dec. 1, 1932, in Stanley, a son of the late Albert and Ruth (Edwardson) Qualheim. He attended school in Jump River and later went to Hannibal High School, graduating in 1950. Jerry served in the United States Army from 1951 until 1954, where he was stationed in Alaska.

Jerry met his future wife at a dance in Hannibal. On Oct. 22, 1955, he married the former June Brassard at Saints Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Gilman.

Following their marriage, the couple moved to Antigo, where Jerry was briefly employed as a cattle breeder for Badger Breeders. Jerry and June then moved to Cadott, where he was employed in the fuel business. In 1967, the Qualheim family moved to Shawano, and Jerry went to work for Midwest Breeders as the credit manager. The couple bought the Coast to Coast Hardware Store on Main Street in 1979. Following a couple of location moves and a franchise switch, they moved into their new location on Green Bay Street in 1995.

Jerry is a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Shawano. He was also a 50-year member of the Shawano American Legion Post 117 and the Masonic Lodge.

Survivors include his loving wife of 64 years, June Qualheim, of Shawano; eight children, Dr. Kathleen Qualheim, of Shawano, Michael (Beverly) Qualheim, of Logandale, Nevada, Patrick Qualheim, of Shawano, Willis Qualheim, of Shawano, Timothy (Jennifer) Qualheim, of Chicago, Illinois, Theresa (Hugh) Bell, of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, Lisa (Kevin) Wellington, of Fort Collins, Colorado, and Karen (Rev. Jay) Clark, of Little Rock, Arkansas; grandchildren Stefany, Elizabeth, Sean, Christopher (Dani), Timothy (Lyra), Patricia (Laurent), Katie, Kari (Mike), Casey, Kendall, David, Georgia, Samantha, Theresa, Charlie and Quin; 13 great-grandchildren; his sister, Beverly Krizan, of Sheldon; and numerous nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his brothers, Richard, Robert and William; and his sister, Betty Everhart. A funeral Mass for Gerald L. Qualheim will be celebrated Thursday, Oct. 31, 2019, at 11 a.m. at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Shawano.

The Rev. Scott Valentyn will be the celebrant. The American Legion Post 117 will conduct full military honors at the church. Interment will take place in the Sacred Heart Cemetery. Visitation will begin Wednesday, Oct. 30, from 4-7 p.m. at Mickelson Funeral Service in Shawano. Visitation will resume Thursday, Oct. 31, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church from 10 a.m. until the hour of Mass.

In lieu of flowers and plants, the family requests memorials in Jerry's name to Shawano Area Matthew 25, www.sam25.org/donate.

Vicki Lou Marquardt

Vicki Lou Marquardt, 62, of Shawano, passed away Wednesday, Oct. 23, 2019, following a short battle with brain cancer. Vicki was born Oct. 16, 1957, in Shawano, to the late Fred and Lenora (Laude) Krueger.

She enjoyed cooking, baking, the outdoors, fishing and asparagus and mushroom picking with her sisters, and she loved her dog companions. Vicki had a very generous soul, always looking out for the needs of others and helping them wherever she could. She will be dearly missed by all.

Vicki is survived by her siblings, Diane (Art) Mulock, Allan (significant other Deb) Krueger, Rojene (Mark)

Ziolkowski, Audrey Gretzon, and Brian (significant other Becky) Krueger Sr.; her nieces and nephews, Kristy (Len) Armstrong, Julie Krogh, Art (Jody) Mulock Jr., Paul (significant other Jennifer) Mulock, Sherrie (Jay) Dillionaire, Joel (Marie) Howard, Angela (Chad) Wiegert, Eric (Kathleen) Howard, Alicia Klein, Chelsea Ziolkowski, Shannon Gretzon, Aubrey (Chris) Schwartz, and Brian (significant other Shelby) Krueger Jr. She is further survived by numerous great-nieces and nephews, other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Fred and Lenora; her siblings, Kim Marie in infancy, Gary Krueger and Bonnie Verbruggen; and her nephew, Lance Howard.

A private family celebration of life will be held.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to Brian Jr. and his significant other Shelby for everything that they did to help Vicki during her illness; we can never thank you enough. Also, thank you to her nurse Kristy at ThedaCare Hospice for all of the wonderful care given.

Ancient exercise rebounds in modern era

Tai chi, a form of low impact mind-body exercise, has spread worldwide over the past two decades. This ancient art is a graceful form of exercise where you slowly perform a series of movements while simultaneously focusing on breathing. Each posture or movement flows into the next without pause. Tai chi is sometimes called “meditation in motion,” because it encourages tranquility through gentle movements — connecting the body and mind. Despite centuries of use, tai chi has not been scientifically studied until recently.

The New England Journal of Medicine published a randomized clinical trial investigating the effects of tai chi on patients with fibromyalgia. The medical research team provided patients with 24 sessions of tai chi that lasted 60 minutes each over a 12-week period. A control group was given wellness education and stretching for the same period of time.

The tai chi group measured better than the control group on physical and mental quality of life scores, both in the short and long terms. These findings are encouraging because there is a rather short list of treatment options for those suffering from fibromyalgia.

Tai chi has also demonstrated a positive benefit on several psychological conditions. A team of researchers from Tufts University School of Medicine performed a review of scientific studies. They assessed the quality of the research study and the magnitude of the effects.

Tai chi increased psychological well-being, including reduction of stress, anxiety and depression. They also found enhanced mood in healthy participants and in patients with chronic conditions. Tai chi appears to be an effective therapeutic modality to improve psychological well-being among various populations.

Additional studies suggest positive benefits for lowering blood pressure, improving sleep quality, improving balance, flexibility and muscle strength, reducing falls in older adults and increasing energy, endurance and agility. Because tai chi is low impact, it is especially suitable for older adults who otherwise may not exercise.

With today's busy lifestyles, use of these gentle flowing movements may be just the exercise program that many of us need to improve our overall health. Like all exercise programs, benefits are more likely if practiced regularly. Please note that before starting any exercise program, you should consult with your health care professional.

If you are interested in trying tai chi locally, ThedaCare has partnered with the Shawano Park and Recreation Department to offer a class in the past. Keep an eye out for future offerings.

Church craft fairs called a success

The fall bazaar held on Oct. 12 and hosted at St. Paul and Redeemer Lutheran, Holy Family-St. William Catholic Churches, and Alpha House

Resale Shop was a great success, according to event organizer Margie Mech.

Attendees shopped for crafts, bakery, plants, and thrifts. Refreshments included fresh cinnamon rolls, cream puffs, pulled pork sandwiches, taco salads and pie.

Shoppers who had their “Piece of the Pie” stamped at each location were eligible for the prize drawing. Winners were Heather Buntrock, two Christmas pillows; Sophie Wendler, potted mum; Crystal Heckert, kitchen basket; Debra Fuhrmann, handmade shawl. Alpha House sponsored a drawing of a Coach wristlet won by Pat Schultz.

The money raised goes to help projects for each church. The Alpha House is part of the Homme Home Foundation, which supports the residents at the nursing home.

Next year's event will be Oct. 10, 2020.

Menominee get $1M grant for agriculture

Tribe hopes to get people back to farming roots

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

KESHENA — Efforts to restore good health on the Menominee Reservation — and get tribal members back to their roots in the process — got a shot in the arm recently.

The Menominee Tribe received a $1 million Community Impact Grant to be used over the next five years from the Wisconsin Partnership Program at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health. The grant starts Jan. 1, 2020.

The tribe's agriculture and food systems department plans to use the funding to develop a tribal food code and promote healthy food consumption, as well as to provide start-up funds for those who live on the reservation and want to practice farming. The funding will also allow the department to "bring on the rest of the team" to provide those resources, according to department director Gary Besaw.

"The department of agriculture is here to provide the legal infrastructure, which means all of the zoning, the environmental and other types of laws that would serve to assist tribal farmers, agriculturalists and home gardeners in their efforts," Besaw said.

He noted that the resources could include helping people to write grants or to find alternative sources of funding. Developing sources of agri-forestry, horticulture and permaculture are one of the tribe's goals.

"In a certain sense, we view ourselves as another agriculture department, and we're in the process of creating those regs, similar to what the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota and those around us have," he said.

The ultimate goal for the tribe, though, is to serve as resource for those tribal members who seek to be self-sufficient when it comes to feeding themselves, Besaw said.

"The end goal is that we want to re-create a food system here," he said. "We're still considered a food desert here. We don't have a lot of the farming and a lot of growth resource that provides the fresh produce and fresh meats. We have the Save-a-Lot (grocery store), but otherwise, we have to go off-reservation (for food needs)."

Besaw noted that there is historical evidence that ancient Menominee worked as farmers, noting the raised garden beds discovered near the Menominee River, which once served as part of the tribe's ancestral land, as well as the forest areas on current tribal land.

"We were told by some Western scientists, 'Sorry, Menominee, you're not sophisticated enough to have miles of raised garden beds. We don't believe it was you,'" Besaw said. "Well, we proved it was us, and we were indeed sophisticated enough."

"We've told people that we were more than hunters and fishermen, and now we have proof."

The reservation land is set in trust by the federal government for the tribe, and there are policies in place that allow the tribe to lease the land to tribal members to live on. Besaw said the grant would help the tribe to develop policies for farming and other agricultural pursuits on that land, as well.

Harvested corn from the community garden set up at the College of Menominee Nation is part of a continued effort to help provide healthy food on the reservation. A $1 million grant from the Wisconsin Partnership Program will help to allow residents on the Menominee Reservation to grow their own food.

“When someone wants to use the land, it’s owned collectively, most of it,” Besaw said, noting the exception is the Legend Lake area, which includes land purchased after the federal government terminated the Menominee’s status as a tribe in the 1950s. “We’re putting together the regulations to let them know what they can or cannot do on those areas, and this grant will help us determine, based on community input, what our new zoning laws and use laws should look like.”

Currently, the tribe has piecemeal codes for food safety, according to Besaw, with some regulations in the tribe’s environmental codes and some in the health department codes. The grant would help to establish a uniform code in the agriculture department and provide the resources, like food safety inspectors, to make sure policies are followed.

“We would make sure nothing conflicts and that everything makes sense,” Besaw said.

Menominee County, which includes 99% of the reservation, has traditionally ranked at the bottom of state health rankings, something Besaw and the tribe hope to reverse with this return to Menominee traditions. The director noted that several generations ago, the Menominee were among the healthiest people in Wisconsin.

Besaw said that the tribe could look at doing some things similar to what the city of Shawano has done in terms of agricultural policies.

“We need to do like Shawano did to rezone and change our laws to allow poultry and beekeeping, horticulture on residential land,” he said.

The tribe also plans to work with the University of Wisconsin to provide training and certification to farmers in order to help sell their goods not only to people on the reservation but in the surrounding areas, as well, Besaw said. The tribe wants to make sure its people have a variety of healthy foods available to eat, he said.

“We know we’re competing with the McDonald’s and the Fritos and the Hardee’s and all types of things in this world,” Besaw said. “We’re trying to make sure we grow a healthy variety of products and then show them how to process them, whether it be canning or freezing or smoking or drying.”

The tribe’s effort seemed a perfect fit for what the Wisconsin Partnership Program is trying to do.

“The health of a community, like a building, depends on a strong and stable foundation,” said Dr. Amy Kind, associate professor of medicine and chair of the Wisconsin Partnership Program’s oversight and advisory committee. “We know access to healthy food, access to health care, quality education and strong social supports are a few of the many factors that strengthen this foundation and contribute to positive health outcomes for everyone.”

Tamaracks provide golden glow in late autumn

The end of October finds the tamaracks in all of their autumn glory. Our only native conifer that loses its needles completely every fall and regrows new ones each season, tamaracks are amazing when dressed in their golden autumn color.

Tamarack is especially common in our area given their preferred habitat choice of bogs, swamps and wetlands. Throughout most of the summer season, the trees go largely unnoticed. However, as late October and early November arrive, the tamaracks undergo a splendid transformation.

Tamarack is native here in Wisconsin, often growing alongside other native trees such as oak, spruce and pine. They are most often found in moist or wet areas, especially sphagnum bogs, cedar swamps and wetland edges. Where large stands of them grow together, the fall display is simply breathtaking.

For gardeners and property owners with drier landscapes, there are many garden hybrids of tamarack, also called larch, available in many different shapes, sizes and forms. Be aware, however, that most of these are of European descent and not truly native here in North America.

Garden hybrid tamaracks are especially attractive to gardeners who enjoy unusual conifers and specimen plants. Many have been bred to grow in a weeping or irregular form. Varied directions larch is one of the most common, along with weeping larch, where the branches weep vertically, much like a weeping willow.

Tamarack trees are an important food source for many native birds and wildlife species. This tree produces rather small cones that are upright, providing a perfect food source for many small songbirds that migrate through and spend the winter in our area. Squirrels, chipmunks and other wildlife also feed on the seeds and cones.

One of my most memorable nature experiences was to walk beneath the grove of tamaracks in full color in early November while a soft breeze ruffled through the treetops and sent a gentle, golden rain cascading to the earth below. It was incredible to walk beneath the tamarack rain. I will never forget that experience.

Because their needles are very short and soft, there is really no cleanup involved once the tamaracks began to lose their needles. By spring, the tiny needles have decomposed, and the new growth begins to appear in star-like clusters along every stem during the month of May.

Enjoy the tamaracks in all their glory this weekend throughout our area. With the oaks, the tamaracks and beeches are the remaining trees left to showcase their spectacular autumn beauty.

HIGH SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL

WILDCATS CLAIM REGIONAL TITLE

Gresham sweeps Bowler

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

GRESHAM — The Gresham Community High School volleyball team crossed off another season goal on Saturday when it won a Division 4 regional title over Bowler.

The top-seeded Wildcats cruised to a 25-13, 25-13, 25-15 win over the second-seeded Panthers.

“It just shows all of our hard work that we put into the season, how much we’ve worked for it and that we deserve it,” said Gresham sophomore Valarie Cervený on the regional title.

Gresham got out to big leads in the first and second sets before pulling away in a tight third set.

The Wildcats opened the match on a 4-0 run, with senior Karisa Nietzer earning her team a couple points and Cervený serving an ace.

Gresham had a 7-1 lead before Bowler started to get things going. Junior Tynea Johnson and seniors Ireland DeRoos, Brooke Thiex and Kayla Pecore tallied kills to help the Panthers keep pace with the Wildcats.

Gresham was able to pull away and finish off the set behind more strong play from Cervený and Nietzer.

“We just have a really good team bond. We’re all getting along well, we all do a lot of stuff together and in practice we have fun,” said Nietzer on why the team has played so well over the past few weeks.

The Wildcats jumped out to a 7-1 lead in the second set, with sophomore Hannah Cervený serving during a 5-0 run.

Kills from Nietzer and junior Makayla Belongia helped the hosts extend their lead to nine, 12-3, and put the pressure on Bowler.

DeRoos and senior Alyssa Strassburg had kills while sophomore Morgan Paiser served an ace for the Panthers that cut the deficit to seven, 19-12, but Gresham responded ed with a 6-1 run to end the set.

Nietzer and Valarie Cervený each earned multiple points on the run, while Belongia chipped in another kill.

“We had great focus coming into the night. From the time we stepped on that court, we had six girls that were working together,” said Gresham coach Tim Wild. “We attacked the ball really well in the front row, but without our passing that we had in the back row and without our setters putting the ball where they did, I mean it was a total team effort.”

After struggling to get in a rhythm early in the first two sets, Bowler turned things around in the third set and worked out to a 7-5 lead. Thiex, Paiser and Strassburg all served aces during that stretch.

Wanting to end the match in three sets and avoid a repeat performance of the team’s regular season match that saw Gresham win the first two sets before hanging on in five, the Wildcats went on a 7-0 run to regain control.

The run started with a kill from Nietzer, who then provided strong serving for the hosts. Nietzer served five straight aces and finished the night with seven aces, 19 kills and 14 service points.

Gresham didn’t trail the rest of the way, eventually ending the set on a 7-2 run to finish off its impressive win.

Valarie Cervený finished with 12 service points and 10 digs, while Hannah Cervený had 15 assists. Senior Brooklyn Hoffman added 10 assists.

Senior Jayden Jensen helped turn away several strong Bowler attacks, finishing the night with 11 digs. Belongia totaled six kills.

The Wildcats are scheduled to take on second-seeded Wabeno/Laona in a sectional semifinal from Bowler High School on Thursday at 7 p.m.

“Bowler and Gresham are really interconnected, so I’m actually really happy for them,” Thiex said of Gresham’s regional title. “I’ll going to remember this game because it goes back and forth. I remember our last regional title (2016) was against Gresham. There’s just a really close bond between the two schools.”

DeRoos and Strassburg each finished with five attack kills for Bowler, while Pecore and Thiex had three each. Thiex also led the team with eight assists, while Strassburg had five.

DeRoos tallied five digs, while Pecore had four. Paiser served three of the team’s five aces.

“We came here tonight and things were going their (Gresham’s) way, and we just kind of sulked and couldn’t pick things back up,” said Bowler coach Brad Brei. “I told them (his team) afterwards, ‘don’t hang your head, we made it to the regional championship. Just stay proud of yourself.’”

Rodgers, Jones star for Pack in victory over Chiefs

Green Bay improves to 7-1

By DAVE SKRETTA

The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, MO. — It was supposed to be a prime-time showdown between the Green Bay Packers and Kansas City Chiefs, division leaders each led by two of the most talented and exciting quarterbacks in the NFL.

Aaron Rodgers and the Packers lived up to the billing. Patrick Mahomes never got the chance.

Rodgers threw for 305 yards and three touchdowns, two of them to Aaron Jones on a big night for the Green Bay running back, and the Packers held off fill-in quarterback Matt Moore and the rest of the banged-up Chiefs for a 31-24 victory Sunday night.

"I totally trust our quarterback," Packers coach Matt LaFleur said, "and I trust Aaron Jones as a receiver. He made some great plays all night long."

Jones, who briefly left with a shoulder injury, had seven catches for 159 yards and added 67 on the ground — a big chunk of them in the closing minutes, when the Packers (7-1) sealed their first win at Arrowhead Stadium since Nov. 4, 2007.

"He's very talented," Rodgers said, "and I think this scheme is giving him the opportunity to do a lot more out of the backfield. You know, we're splitting him out and throwing the ball to him. We kind of caught lightning in a bottle there a couple of times. Hit him on a slant-and-go for 50 and on a screen pass for 70 or whatever. He's a talented guy. I'm very proud of him."

The Chiefs (5-3) hoped Mahomes could make a miraculous recovery 10 days after dislocating his kneecap in Denver in time to play. But after the league MVP was limited all week in practice, coach Andy Reid announced Friday his franchise quarterback would be inactive for the game.

Moore took the reins of the high-powered offense and fared well, throwing for 267 yards with two touchdowns and no picks in the ex-high school coach's first start in more than two years.

It wasn't the Rodgers-Mahomes matchup everyone wanted, but Moore and Co. made sure it was still an entertaining game between teams with Super Bowl aspirations.

It started like most outside the walls of 1 Arrowhead Drive expected, with Rodgers slicing up the defense and Green Bay marching for two quick touchdowns.

But after a shaky start by Moore, the journeyman quarterback found a groove. He led the Chiefs on an 89-yard drive that ended with a make-it-rain 29-yard touchdown pass to Travis Kelce, then found Mecole Hardman on a 30-yard pitch-and-catch to knot the game.

The Chiefs led 17-14 at halftime, raising some eyebrows across the league.

LaFleur made a couple adjustments, though, and Rodgers and Co. began to move the ball once more. They used a 15-play drive that soaked up more than half the third quarter to get a tying field goal, then got the ball back when LeSean McCoy fumbled on the very next play.

Five players later, Rodgers conjured up more of his magic.

With third down at the 3, he dropped back and was flushed from the pocket. He rolled to his right and threw a blind pass to the back corner of the end zone, where Jamaal Williams somehow took the ball away from Chiefs linebacker Ben Niemann while tapping both feet inbounds.

Rodgers was lying flat on his back, staring at the sky, as the official signaled touchdown.

The Chiefs answered with another long drive, and just when it appeared they had finally been stopped, the Packers' Tramon Williams was flagged for illegal use of hands. That gave Kansas City the ball inside the 5, and Damien Williams scored on the next play to tie it again.

It took the Packers all of 56 seconds to score the eventual winner.

Packers running back Aaron Jones, left, runs with the football during Sunday's win over the Chiefs in Kansas City, Mo. JIM LEUENBERGER

Rodgers again found Jones out of the backfield, and this time he found a lane through the entire Kansas City secondary. It was a foot race from there, and the speedy running back hop-skipped over the goal line to finish off the 67-yard touchdown reception.

"He's an explosive weapon," LaFleur said. "You don't find too many running backs that can go out there and produce like that. You don't see many running backs that you can put them on the outside and run a slant-and-go. I think he's dynamic as a runner, a receiver, a pass protector."

The Chiefs were forced to punt on the ensuing possession and never got the ball back.

Bonduel boys, girls teams headed back to state

Troxel, Kurey lead the Bears

WESTFIELD — The Bonduel High School boys and girls cross-country teams are headed back to state after second-place finishes at the Division 3 Westfield Sectional on Saturday.

The Bonduel boys team posted a score of 72, while the girls tallied an 80. Gillett finished first in both races, with the girls team posting a 36 and the boys a 37.

Kara Troxel led the Bonduel girls team with a fifth-place finish in 21 minutes, 4.82 seconds. Carter Kurey came in eighth with a mark of 18:22.59 to pace the boys.

Cooper Uelmen (18:57.16), Jack Johnson (19:09.26) and Karter Schroeder (19:20.59) also turned in strong finishes for the boys, placing 14th, 17th and 20th, respectively. Ayden Dunst (19:24.27) capped the team score by placing 24th.

"We pushed ourselves through the entire race," said Uelmen. "We didn't let anyone pass us, and we sped up to pass any kid ahead of us, especially a (Weyauwega-Fremont) or (St. Mary Catholic) runner, because we knew they were going to give everything they had since we were in the spot to beat."

"It means a lot to all of us just to have the opportunity to go back to state," said Johnson. "We've all worked so hard for this moment, and I'm just grateful for the opportunity to run with these guys. All season it's been constant switching within our lineup, and we're just a super competitive group of guys who go out each practice and just wanna compete."

Kalleigh Schroeder earned a top-20 finish in the girls race, taking 15th in 22:30.66.

"Qualifying for state means a lot to me," said Schroeder. "This is my first year in cross-country, so being able to qualify with the team is very exciting. We all worked very hard to get here, and sharing that as a team is amazing. It's something I will never forget."

Madison Kurey (23:03.88) placed 21st, Kendra Troxel (23:22.92) 23rd and Breanna Schnell (23:23.21) 24th to cap off the girls team score.

"It is such an honor making it to state again," said Schnell. "I am beyond proud of each of my teammates, even if we didn't take first place. We all went out and gave it our all, and that is what matters most."

Bonduel will send its teams to Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids on Saturday for the cross-country championships.

The Division 3 girls race is set for a 1:20 p.m. start, while the D3 boys hit the course at 3:10 p.m.

Leo Schultz was the lone Wolf River Lutheran runner to compete at the sectional. He came in 95th with a time of 22:49.44.

Kaquatosh, Dickman and Wilson all qualify for state

Trio placed in top six at sectional

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

TOMAHAWK — Shawano's Demetrius Kaquatosh, Wittenberg-Birnamwood's Wyatt Dickman and Clintonville's Jesse Wilson all qualified for state by placing in the top six at the Division 2 Tomahawk Sectional at Edgewater Country Club on Saturday.

Kaquatosh, who won a Bay Conference individual title on Oct. 17, placed second with a time of 16:41.6.

Freedom's Jack Reiter (16:34.6) won the boys race.

Dickman earned his spot at state by taking fifth in 16:47.1.

Wilson, who won the North Eastern Conference boys race on Oct. 19, was right behind Dickman, finishing sixth in 16:48.

All three runners will compete in the Division 2 boys state cross-country race in Wisconsin Rapids on Saturday.

Kaquatosh's strong run led the Shawano boys to a third-place finish with a score of 130. The girls team came in sixth with a score of 169.

Shawano's Alec White placed 10th with a time of 16:54.5, while Zachary Black (17:18.1) took 19th. Johnny Dillen-burg (18:05.9) and Karsten Anderson (18:29) rounded out the team's top-five boys runners.

The Shawano girls were paced by Grace Beyer, who finished 12th with a mark of 20:10.2. Claire Guenther (21:06.4) took 21st, while Lydia Beyer (21:33.4), Odessa Arce (22:34.5) and Rachael Warax (23:26.5) filled out the team.

The Witt-Birn boys took sixth with a score of 213.

Cole Schairer (17:47.2), Brendan Resch (18:24.2), Simon Schairer (18:39.9) and Ian Resch (18:52.3) were the team's top runners.

Four Witt-Birn girls ran, led by Jenna Stone's 22nd-place finish in 21:10.5.

Ruby Nowinsky (22:44.9), Annika Resch (22:53.9) and Lauren Dombeck (24:02.8) were the other three runners.

The Clintonville boys and girls team each placed 12th, with the boys posting a score of 312 and the girls a 345.

Cody Carrico (19:05.3), Josh Wilson (19:05.8), Brody Prill (19:49.8) and Casey Ploederer (20:45) capped the boys team score.

Kayla Klemp (22:26.1) paced the Clintonville girls. Jasmine Wilson (23:23.6), Alli Smejkal (25:08), Magdalena Grassl (25:47.2) and Katie Lamberies (29:07) filled out the team.

Bonduel eliminated from postseason play after home loss to Coleman

Cougars take advantage of Bears' mistakes

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

BONDUEL — The Bonduel High School football team was eliminated from the postseason in a 40-0 loss to Coleman in a Division 6 playoff contest on Friday.

The level one playoff matchup had a similar look to when the teams squared off back in the first week of the regular season, with the defenses dominating in a low-scoring affair. Coleman was able to blow open a tight game by returning a pair of Bonduel fumbles for touchdowns.

“A couple momentum plays that are hard to come back from,” said Bonduel coach James Westrich on the two fumbles that got returned for scores. “The first one wasn’t as bad as the second one, the second one really kind of put the dagger in.”

Bonduel won the first matchup 13-8, but it was Coleman that got on the scoreboard first on Friday.

After forcing Bonduel to punt near midfield, Coleman worked the ball 81 yards down the field before capping the drive with a touchdown pass on third down.

The Bears answered by putting together a long drive of their own. Senior quarterback Cole Letter connected with junior Carson Robaidek on a couple passes for first downs while juniors Max Sokolski, Max Marohl and Isaac Banker split rushing attempts.

Facing a fourth-and-one from the Coleman 17-yard line, the Bears were stuffed in the backfield, turning the ball back over to the Cougars.

Coleman hit on another long pass play to get into Bonduel territory, but senior Alex Garside made a big tackle for loss on fourth down to end the drive.

Bonduel had to punt after just three offensive plays, but the Bears’ defense forced an incomplection on third down to force the Cougars to punt it back.

The game looked to take a huge swing in Bonduel’s favor when senior Dylan Burch blocked the Coleman punt, setting up the hosts at the Coleman 27. But the Bears fumbled on the very next play, and the Cougars scooped it up and returned it for a touchdown to take a 13-0 lead into halftime.

Coleman carried the momentum into the second half, going 59 yards in just five plays to increase its lead to 20-0.

Garside gave the Bears a jolt with a long kickoff return, but on the second play of the drive, Bonduel fumbled and Coleman was able to scoop it up and return it for another score.

“A lot of stuff really didn’t go our way and we caused ourselves a lot of problems,” said Letter. “But at the end of the day, I’m just proud of the way my guys never quit on one another. Passion is one thing that people can’t take away from you, and maybe the game didn’t roll our way, but I’m proud of everything they did.”

After that, Bonduel was unable to get much going offensively, punting on its next two drives. Coleman was able to score touchdowns after each punt to extend the lead to 40-0.

down on its next drive, the Bears fumbled again, and the Cougars ran out the clock from there to finish off its upset.

“In the huddle after the game, I said ‘when you look back at this season, don’t look at the scoreboard at the end of it, look at the 12 weeks of work you put in and think about all the memories and bonds you’ve created through your hard work. And remember that nobody can take away your work ethic and passion and that’s something to live by,’” said Letter.

Bonduel ends the season with a 7-3 record.

HIGH SCHOOL CROSS-COUNTRY

Moss leads Menominee Indian at Athens Sectional

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

ATHENS — Isaiah Moss placed 13th to lead the Menominee Indian High School boys cross-country team at the Division 2 Athens Sectional at Erbach Park on Friday.

Moss, a freshman, finished the race in 17 minutes, 55.6 seconds, missing out on qualifying for state as an individual by about 53 seconds.

Menominee Indian didn't qualify for a team score with only four runners competing. The Eagles did not have any girls competing at sectionals due to a WIAA rule, but can in 2020.

Menominee Indian's Ashton Corn (18:38.4) came in 27th, while Joshua Besaw (20:27.1) and Lloyd Reevis (21:23.1) also ran.

Gresham/Bowler and Marion also had runners compete at the sectional.

The Marion boys placed 13th with a team score of 339, while the girls came in 17th with a mark of 454.

Jaden Stuhr (19:52.6) was the top finisher on the boys team, with Ethan Pockat (20:18.1) not far behind. Isaiah Gueths (20:48.6), Gavin James (22:42.8) and Jack VanKooy (26:10.7) filled out the team.

Nora Wiesman (26:17) and Claire Dow (26:49.2) paced the Marion girls team. Haiyle Larson (28:15.6), Kelsey Zillmer (28:46.8) and Claire Brei (34:01.7) rounded out the team.

Levi Schick led the Gresham/Bowler boys with a 35th-place finish in 18:52.5. The team took 15th with a score of 381.

Isiah Bestul (23:14.1), Donny Edwards (23:16.8), Austin Slater (23:33.3) and Andrew Galland (25:46.8) capped the co-op's team score.

Ireland Jensen (24:57.7) and Maya Thix (29:42.8) ran in the girls race for Gresham/Bowler.

ATHLETE PROFILE: IRELAND DEROOS

Bowler senior a big part of team's success this fall

BOWLER — The Bowler High School volleyball team's season came to an end after a regional title loss to Gresham on Saturday. That loss brought the end for a talented senior class that included Ireland DeRoos.

DeRoos helped the Panthers to a strong season on the court and to a No. 2 seed for the postseason.

In the team's five-set regional semifinal win over Gillett on Thursday, DeRoos accumulated 11 digs and nine total kills. She posted seven total kills and five digs in a sweep of Marion in a regional quarterfinal match on Oct. 22.

"She is my spark plug," said Bowler coach Brad Brei. "When she gets going, the whole team gets going. She became a great server and blocker for our team. She is very tough, any injury did not slow her down."

Q: When did your interest in volleyball begin?

A: It started when I was really young because I always watched my older siblings (Teddy DeRoos, Montana Rickert, Winter DeRoos) play and I wanted to be like them.

Q: What is your favorite part about the volleyball season?

A: Just playing. Being on that court

Bowler's Ireland DeRoos, center, reaches for the ball during Saturday's regional title match at Gresham.

MORGAN RODE | NEW MEDIA

brings a whole new type of joy. Playing in practice is always fun because we all get to have fun and we all have so many jokes and being around everyone knowing that they are like a second family to me.

Q: Your team enjoyed a strong season on the court. What was the biggest key to all the success?

A: We played as a family. When you're on that court, you all have to become one and play as one.

SPORT: Volleyball

POSITIONS: Middle hitter

SCHOOL: Bowler High School

YEAR: Senior

Q: The team also seemed to have several individuals who could carry the team to wins. Talk about what it was like playing on a team with so many special teammates.

A: Everyone has a special talent on this team. Volleyball is a team sport, so playing with all that talent opened my eyes and made me better in different positions on the court by taking everyone's advice.

Q: What's your favorite memory of competing on the Bowler volleyball team?

A: Always keeping coach on the edge of his seat and always being able to crack a joke with everyone.

Q: What are you going to miss most about high school volleyball?

A: The second family I have made over the years and the bond that was created with the coaches. Playing the game in general.

Q: What is your favorite thing to do when you are not in school or competing in a high school sport?

A: Hang out with my nephews — I have two little nephews (Ryder and Rydge Rickert) and they are so much fun to hang out with, and doing my job as a dairy farmer.

Q: Favorite movies?

A: Any '80s movie. My favorite movies of all time are "The Breakfast Club" and "Pretty in Pink."

Q: Name one thing about yourself that not many people know.

A: I have extremely small feet for my height. I wear a size 6 shoe. I have earned the nickname "baby foot" from this.

Q: What is the greatest piece of advice you have ever been told?

A: Don't dwell on yesterday when you still have tomorrow. Just because today was bad doesn't mean that life is bad — you have to live every day. You have to be happy yourself, you can't depend on others to do it for you.

Q: What are some things you hope to accomplish after graduating high school?

A: I plan to go to school and learn American Sign Language and become an interpreter, and live a happy life.
