STURGEON DELIVERED TO WOLF RIVER

DNR employees pass a sturgeon from a truck to several volunteers below ready to walk the fish to about 50 feet to Chickeney Creek. Over 30 sturgeon were released into the Keshena segment of the Wolf River by the Department of Natural Resources as part of a memorandum of understanding with the Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin to help restore the native sturgeon population. Among the more than 200 onlookers was Wisconsin Lt. Gov. Mandela Barnes. SEE THE FULL STORY ON PAGES 18-19.

Jason Tokarczyk, a Bonduel native and owner of Happy Trails CBD, answers questions about CBD on Monday at the Shawano Public Library.

CBD seller separates fact from fiction

Business owner touts benefits of CBD oil, other products

By LEE PULASKI

City Editor

SHAWANO — When it comes to CBD, it's important to know what is the real deal and what isn't.

Jason Tokarczyk, a Bonduel native who recently opened Happy Trails CBD next to Shell 22 in the town of Belle Plaine, helped to clear up some of the mysteries surrounding CBD, where it comes from and some of the benefits the oil provides people suffering from a variety of ailments during a presentation Monday at the Shawano Public Library.

"CBD is kind of what we like to refer to as healing without the high," Tokarczyk said. "It's important to differentiate. Some people have the stigma that it's the legal part of marijuana, but it's actually completely different."

The CBD is extracted from hemp plants, which are high in what is scientifically known as cannabidiol, and low in THC, the part of marijuana that gets people high. THC is much more pronounced in marijuana than hemp, but hemp does contain trace amounts, according to Tokarczyk, who noted that hemp has less than 0.3% THC.

Tokarczyk noted that CBD can counteract the psychoactive components of marijuana, but mostly CBD is used to deal with pain and discomfort, whether it's from inflammation, spasms, depression, abnormal cell growth from tumors, sleep disorders, diabetes and more. CBD helps the endocannabinoid system, which regulates body functions.

"You just have to listen to your body," Tokarczyk said.

CBD can also be beneficial for pets, as well. Tokarczyk said that it helps out animals dealing with separation anxieties.

"We have a 5-year old lab, and anytime there's thunderstorms or fireworks, he would run downstairs, and we couldn't find him," he said. "With dogs and cats, their endocannabinoid system works 5,000 times faster than humans."

With pets, the effects are more instantaneous, Tokarczyk said, while the impact on humans takes about two weeks for those who first start using most CBD products.

Mary Kay Tallier, Tokarczyk's mother, said that there's a lot about CBD and hemp that are misunderstood by the general public. She noted that her bosses at the Wisconsin Department of Corrections expressed concern when they learned her son was opening up his first CBD shop in Kaukauna in 2018.

"The warden and the security director asked, 'Do we need to be concerned about you?'" Tallier said. "They said, 'That's ditch weed, right?' So even if the Department of Corrections, they don't have a good understanding of what hemp versus marijuana is."

There are several other businesses in the area that offer CBD oils and other products, but Tokarczyk recommended that people do some research before selecting products. He noted there are some companies that create CBD products but put in fillers like flavoring, but natural CBD works best when dealing with pain and other health issues.

"Ask the right questions, and make sure they have a COA (certificate of analysis) or some kind of lab report," Tokarczyk said. "If somebody is selling it, they should be able to explain it to you before you make a purchase."

The Happy Trails shops also utilize a registered nurse that can help employees answer customer questions about health benefits and which products are more effective based on a customer's needs.

Tokarczyk also recommended not taking just his word on the effects and benefits of CBD. He steered customers toward the Realm of Caring Foundation (www.theroc.us), an advocate for cannabinoid therapies.

CBD can be a benefit, Tokarczyk said, but only when it's pure and natural and not just a gimmick.

"When you see CBD sold on every corner, it really hurts the industry," Tokarczyk said. "You get bad experiences because you have people come in and say, 'I've been taking this and it's not doing anything.' It's important for us to hold a high standard."

Cellcom gift supports senior program at Navarino

NAVARINO — Navarino Nature Center recently received a $900 Green Gift from Cellcom in support of the center's Senior Safari program.

The Senior Safari is an initiative from the Shawano County Department of Aging that provides free opportunities for Shawano County senior citizens to visit Navarino. The project helps seniors, many of whom are homebound, come out to the center to enjoy the scenery and participate in educational activities, said Tim Ewing, nature center director and naturalist.

"Topics include wildlife populations, individual species, management policies and local history and physical interactions with the landscape through trolley rides. Many of these seniors were very active in their youth participating in hunting, hiking, fishing, farming," Ewing said. "These topics help to keep them in touch with the outdoors while bringing back fond memories of their youth. Trolley rides allow them to get out into the woods, wetlands and prairies where they otherwise would not be able to physically reach due to physical limitations."

Navarino Nature Center was among 32 green organizations that received a share of the $37,398 in Green Gifts from Cellcom this year. The program uses funds generated from Cellcom's cell phone recycling program to fund green nonprofit initiatives.

Typically, between 50 and 70 seniors participate in Senior Safari each month, March through November. For information on the program, visit the Navarino Nature Center website at www.navarino.org.

Shawano Ambulance Service receives heart association award

Service lauded for STEMI response excellence

By DAVID WILHELMS
Correspondent

SHAWANO — Although Pat Trinko, director of operations, hesitated to engage in he called “tactful bragging,” the Shawano Ambulance Service has been recognized as a top provider in the American Heart Association’s 12-state Midwest region because of its response to a specific kind heart attack.

The ambulance service is one of four among Wisconsin’s 425 providers to receive the designation of Mission: Lifeline “Gold Plus” — the highest recognition of its kind. The others are Kenosha, Reedsburg and West Bend.

Part of the credit for the award goes to the ambulance service’s coordination and communication with area hospitals, Trinko said, in treating patients with STEMI, or S-T Elevation Myocardial Infarct. STEMI is an attack where cardiac arteries become blocked “that can be readily identified in the field and is very time-sensitive,” he said.

Restoring oxygen and nutrients quickly greatly increases a patient’s chances of survival and recovery, according to the service website. A seamless exchange of information between paramedics and hospitals is also critical, said Trinko.

“We need to get a person somewhere and get that blockage cleared and get the blood flowing again,”

Kevin King, left, helps Janelle Lange sort out the leads on a Lifepak 15 — a cardiac identification and monitoring device found on each of the Shawano Area Ambulance Service vehicles. The service is the only EMS provider in the region that uses both 12-lead and 15-lead EKGs as its standard of care for identifying candidates for immediate cardiac catheterization procedures. The skills and protocols of cooperation with area hospitals helped Shawano Ambulance Service to earn top recognition from the American Heart Association.

DAVID WILHELMS

Trinko said.

For Shawano County, that “somewhere” is a catheterization lab, essentially an operating room dedicated to opening blocked arteries, found in Wausau, Appleton and Green Bay hospitals.

“To get to this level, we need to have standing agreements with area hospitals,” Trinko said.

The patient benefits by skipping a stop in an emergency room, also saving time.

Janelle Lange, one of the shift captains for the service, agreed.

“We want to make sure the cath lab team is available and ready,” Lange said, noting they are sometimes re-routed to a different hospital.

Lange echoed the time sensitivity for STEMI patients. She said their average on-scene arrival is 15 minutes or less and arrival at a cath lab is often 50 minutes or less. The service website said that the service can consistently deliver a patient to Green Bay and Appleton cath lab 10

FYI

“Don’t Wait. Call 911 if you think you’re having a heart attack” was the unanimous advice of Capt. Janelle Lange, Jay Sailer, Tab Scully and Hilliary Kuchta, paramedics with the Shawano Ambulance Service.

“There can be irreversible damage if you wait,” Sailer said.

He related that on a recent call, when asked, a person who had finally called for an ambulance admitted that chest pains had started the previous day.

“That’s too long,” he said.

Lange noted that a person doesn’t have to wait for a medication because the ambulances have a variety of heart attack medications onboard.

to 15 minutes faster than air transport with the same level of care.

Lange noted the service’s paramedics are trained in responding to heart attacks, including STEMI, and can administer a variety of drugs while en route.

“The more pain a patient is in, the more stress there is on the heart,” said Jay Sailer, a Shawano service paramedic.

The primary tool in the identification and monitoring of STEMI is the Lifepak 15. According to the Shawano Ambulance Service website, they are the only EMS provider in the region that uses both 12-lead and 15-lead EKGs as their standard of care for identifying which patients are candidates for immediate catheterization procedures.

The Lifepak 15 and paramedic training combine to make STEMI identification and treatment most efficient, Trinko said.

The AHA award program, now in its fifth year, seeks to promote a coordinated system of care among ambulance services and hospitals.

Why wait?

Marion Gertrude (Jozwiak) Resch went home to her heavenly Father on Oct. 24, 2019, at Pride TLC, under the comfort care of Ministry Hospice, with family and loved ones by her side.

She was born July 26, 1937, in Hatley to the late John Sr. and Gertrude (Pestka) Jozwiak. She graduated from Birnamwood High School in 1955. Marion married her soul mate, Jerome "Jiggs" Resch, on Jan. 19, 1957, in Hatley. He preceded her in death July 26, 2019.

Marion was a devoted wife and mother. Marion was most often found in the kitchen baking treats and meals, offering comfort to her Mothers Alter Society. She was a strong woman whose devotion to the Lord was fierce.

Marion enjoyed time at her Pelican Lake cabin where she and Jiggs would go boating and fishing and enjoy their children and grandchildren. She spent much time with friends and family.

When she was not at home, she was volunteering at town hall and at St. Philomena's Parish as an active member of the Christian her grandchildren and great-grandchildren; one could argue that was her favorite hobby. She also loved spending time gardening, watching the Green Bay Packers and the Milwaukee Brewers and, of course, bowling.

Survivors also include her children, Mike (Sue) Resch, of Richmond, Virginia, Pamela Walkowski, of Birnamwood, Patrick Resch (special friend Julie), of Duluth, Minnesota, and Tamara Resch (special friend Paul), of Green Bay; her grandchildren, Nicole and Amanda Resch, Cory and Ryan Walkowski, Collin and Kyle Resch, Kristin (Sean) Finn, Kayla (Craig)

Harrington and Morgan Weiss; her great-grandchildren, Lucas, Oliver, Azlea and Conor; and her sister, Patricia (Thomas) Brounacker. Marion is also survived by many nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by one son, James "Jimmy" Resch; three sisters, Loretta Ostrowski, Geraldine Falkowski and Christine Carlson; and one brother, John Jozwiak Jr.

A Mass will be held Nov. 9 at St. Philomena's Catholic Church in Birnamwood at noon with the Rev. Vincente Llagas officiating. Visitation will be from 10 a.m. until noon.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Shawano County tailgate party

Brehanna Skaletski, director of development for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Northeast Wisconsin, shares information on the organization's mission Sunday with the 50 or so attendees of the Shawano chapter's tailgate party fundraiser at the Shawano Lake Golf Course. Young people who share a bond with a Big Brother or Big Sister do better in school, are more likely to enroll in college, take on more leadership roles in school and area more likely to participate in sports or extracurriculars than kids in similar circumstances who do not have the "Big/Little" relationships, she said.

CAROL RYCZEK | NEW MEDIA

Big Brother Brian Silk unsuccessfully tries to coax a speech from his 13-year-old Little Brother during the testimonial portion of a fundraiser at Shawano Lake Golf Course on Sunday. Even with some good-natured teasing, the hood stayed on and the voice of the Little Brother remained silent. Silk was able to share a story about his Little Brother Damien, who was wearing a cast on one arm. He noted that during a middle school football game, Damien carried the ball for 80 yards, then fell on his arm as he was making a touchdown.

CWEC continues partnership with Toys for Tots

ROSHOLT — Central Wisconsin Electric Cooperative kicked off its annual Toys for Tots drive Oct. 26 at their Member Appreciation Pancake Breakfast in Rosholt.

According to Brenda Mazemke, manager of member relations at CWEC, the response was overwhelming from members who said the generous donations were greatly appreciated.

CWEC will once again partner with the U.S. Marine Corps to help make area children's Christmas a little brighter through the Toys for Tots program.

Last year, the program was able to provide toys to more than 1,000 area children.

Mazemke noted that all indications are that the amount will increase this year.

"As you can image, it is a pretty daunting task to collect that many toys," said Mazemke. "We ask you to help us spread a little Christmas joy this holiday season by donating a new, unwrapped toy."

All toys are distributed locally.

To make a donation, checks to Toys for Tots will be accepted by mail to Central Wisconsin Electric Coop, P.O. Box 100, Rosholt, WI 54473. To donate online, go to <http://iola-wi.toysfortots.org>. Donations can also be dropped off at the CWEC office located at 10401 Lystul Road, Rosholt, Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

2019 toy collection sites are: Banner Bank, 416 Main St., Birnamwood; Bowler Schools, 500 S. Almon St., Bowler; First National Bank, 102 E. Railroad St., Bowler; Mills Fleet Farm, 500 S. Main St., Clintonville; Community First Bank, 311 State Highway 49, Elderon; Premier Community Bank, 112 U.S. Highway 45, Tigerton; First National Bank, 140 Cedar St. Tigerton; Associated Bank, 501 S. Shawano County Human Services opens its doors

New campus includes Human Services, Aging and Disability Resource Center, and Lakeland Industries

Story and photos BY CAROL RYCZEK
Editor

SHAWANO — Shirley Kriegel grabbed her mother's arm as her father pushed her wheelchair toward a row of bright green lockers.

"I have my own locker," Kriegel said. She opened it to show them a notebook, a small bag and space that will likely be filled with a coat and boots once winter arrives.

Kriegel is one of the clients who works and learns at Lakeland Industries, which provides training and work for adults with intellectual disabilities or chronic mental health conditions. She and her parents were touring "her building" on the Shawano County Human Services campus, which held its grand opening on Saturday.

The 13-acre campus at W7327

Anderson Ave., Shawano, houses Shawano County Human Services, the Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) and Lakeland Industries. The property also contains a large shed that will be used for storage by the sheriff's and maintenance departments.

The agencies used to be housed in three different Shawano locations: Lakeland Industries, Lakeland Center and the Fellman Center, said Rick Kane, human services director.

In 2017, the county purchased the Dennison's Retail Lumber property in the town of Wescott for $1.8 million after determining the Fellman and Lakeland centers were inadequate and expansion at those sites impractical. The Lakeland centers, located in the Shawano industrial park, will be sold.

On the new campus, the Dennison retail space was remodeled for a vocational training, and the department offices were built new.

The human services department provides "a umbrella of services," said Kane. These include economic support, mental health services, child protection, juvenile justice, aging and disability services, nutrition, transportation, alcohol and drug counseling, vocational development for people with developmental disabilities and drug court.

About 125 people will work on the campus, he said.

He said the $13.8 million project was completed under the estimate of $15 million. The move to the new building was made about four weeks ago.

"It's state of the art," Kane said.

He said having all services, including mental health, under one roof, makes it a model that other counties will wish to copy. Adding vocational services puts Shawano County in a unique position in Northeast Wisconsin, he added.

"A lot of counties don't even have it," Kane said.

Kane also praised what he called the county's aggressive pursuit of state and federal aid to help keep both the project on ongoing operational expenses low.

At the open house, the human services offices, ADRC, Lakeland Industries vocational training and day services center, recycling center and wood construction building were open for display.

Steve Dreher, building maintenance supervisor for Shawano County, said that he didn't mind that his department would be taking on new maintenance responsibilities, now that previously leased facilities were on the county campus.

The best feature of the new campus, he said, was the space for Lakeland Industries.

"These are clients with individual needs," Dreher said. "This is a big improvement for them."

One tough feature of the construction has been a "really wet year. Record setting," he said. The rain cost the project about 45 days' delay, he said. "between 40 below zero and the most amount of precipitation in many years."

At the opening ceremony, Brent Miller, county administrative coordinator, credited county board chair Jerry Erdmann for his efforts with the project.

"He took the ball and ran with it," Miller said.

He also thanked the Shawano County Board and various county departments for their participation in the project.

The Boson Company of Marshfield was contractor for the new building. Silvercrest Construction of Kimberly was responsible for the remodeled space. Devine Construction, Inc., of Portage, provided project management.

The site preparation work was done by the county highway department.

Cara Pahl, center, Lakeland Industries production manager, speaks with woodworker Jeremy Gschwind and his mother, Jeannette Gschwind at the new wood construction plant at Lakeland Industries on the new Human Services campus. In the foreground is a portion of a new venting system to remove sawdust as it is created by the workers.

Fall meeting celebrates Clintonville's history

By GRACE KIRCHNER
Correspondent

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Area Historical Society will hold its annual fall meeting Nov. 14 at the Museum on Main, 102 S. Main St.

Social time will begin at 5:45 p.m., followed by an evening meal at 6 p.m., catered by Bluebird Cafe. A freewill offering will be taken.

After a brief meeting to report on the society's activities and financial status, the 2020 officers will be elected, followed by a 50-50 raffle.

A program featuring the life of Theodora Winton Youmans — an American journalist, editor and women's suffrage activist from Wisconsin — will be presented by Clintonville High School students Theresa Murphy, Carolyn Sasse and Rilie Schertz. They had a state-winning National History Day project about Youmans and the Wisconsin suffrage movement.

On display will be a voting machine and ballots, a brief history relaying to when women were first legally allowed to vote and accomplishments of women in Clintonville as being a "first" in their field. A large exhibit on local cheese factories and dairies is also on display.

For information, call Marilyn Berkvan, historical society president, at 715-823-5659.

THE GARDENING YEAR

Snowfall over the past week has created some breathtaking scenic beauty.

ROB ZIMMER

Even with snow, work can still be done on garden

For many, the first snowfall of the season came as a surprise. Many of our garden trees and shrubs still held tight to the beautiful colors of autumn, even as a blanket of fresh, white snow covered their branches. While the first snowfall did not last long, its beautiful reminder and preview of what's to come will certainly be remembered.

Decorating yard, garden and forest in pristine white, the snowfall provided a stark contrast to trees and shrubs that were still holding on to their colorful leaves. Oaks in gold, chestnut, orange and red, along with maples in lemon yellow and scarlet, were blanketed by the fresh snowfall, adding a stunning contrast to the landscape and a beauty beyond description.

Some locations in our area saw barely an inch of snow, while others received up to 6 inches over two separate snowfalls during the week.

The wet, sticky snow made for some incredible photographic opportunities as it decorated shrubs and branches, still holding on to their autumn leaves.

The picture perfect snowfall is a reminder that the winter season is on its way, and another gardening season has been laid to rest.

November is a time of transition in the garden. There is still time to plant bulbs for spring bloom, as long as the soil can be worked. Tulips, daffodils, allium, hyacinth, crocus, garlic and others can still be incorporated into garden beds and borders.

The month of November is important for gardeners with conifers that need protection from drying out and windburn later in the winter season. To prevent this browning of conifer stems, branches and bows later in the winter, it is important to keep evergreens well watered going into the Thanksgiving holiday season. This gives these plants a better chance at withstanding the wind and sun that dry out the trees and shrubs during the winter.

Now is also the perfect time to add a protective layer of leaves and mulch around tender plants and shrubs. A good 6 inches of mulch is ideal for touchy perennials and shrubs.

Top dressing garden beds and borders is also an important and beneficial November garden chore. Simply spread a good 4-6 inches of compost, either your own from home or store purchased, over the top of garden beds and borders.

There's no need to dig it in or till, simply let Mother Nature do the work over the winter season. The natural cycle of freezing and thawing will help incorporate nutrients from the compost deep into the ground, providing a fertile and rich organic soil just in time for spring planting.

Be sure to leave perennial and annual flower stems and stalks standing throughout the winter season, as these provide cover and shelter for wildlife, as well as home to many butterfly and moth chrysalises and cocoons, overwintering native bees and other insects.

Additionally, the seed heads provide a rich source of food for wildlife and songbirds all winter long.

Find Rob Zimmer on Facebook at www.facebook.com/RobZimmerOutdoors. Listen to "Outdoors with Rob Zimmer" from 4-5 p.m. Fridays and 7-8 a.m. Saturdays on WHBY.

Will November see a continued snowy pattern?

ROB ZIMMER

The first snowfall of the season has arrived.

ROB ZIMMER

With fall colors still decorating the forests and our gardens, the snowfall made for exceptional beauty.

ROB ZIMMER

Area resident wins prize at Great Wisconsin Quilt Show

MADISON — A quilt created by Pamela Kuck, of Shawano, has won a top award in the quilt contest at Madison's Great Wisconsin Quilt Show, formerly Quilt Expo.

For the fourth year in a row, more than 20,000 quilt lovers attended The Great Wisconsin Quilt Show, held Sept. 5-7 at the Alliant Energy Center. The quilt show is presented by Wisconsin Public Television and Nancy Zieman Productions.

Kuck's quilt, "Baby, It's Cold Outside," won third place and a $200 prize in the category that included wall quilts, machine embroidered and thread painted projects.

In 2019, quilters from more than two dozen states and provinces — as well as South Korea and Italy — submitted their best work for judging in this year's 10-category judged and juried quilt contest. In addition to Best of Show, awards were given for first-, second- and third-place quilts in each category, as well as honorable mention. One quilt was also named Viewers' Choice by attendees.

All of the nearly 300 quilts accepted in the quilt contest made it through a rigorous selection process before going on display in the exhibit. The quilts were judged on visual impact and stitching technique.

HIGH SCHOOL CROSS-COUNTRY

CLINTONVILLE'S WILSON, SHAWANO'S KAQUATOSH FINISH IN TOP 30 AT STATE

Bonduel girls take 12th, boys 15th

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Clintonville's Jesse Wilson and Shawano's Demetrius Kaquatosh each turned in top-30 individual finishes in the Division 2 boys race at the WIAA Cross Country State Championships at the Ridges Golf Course on Saturday.

Wilson, a sophomore, took 18th after completing the course in 16 minutes, 56.3 seconds. Kaquatosh placed 26th with a time of 17:01.3 to cap his high school career.

Wittenberg-Birnhamwood's Wyatt Dickman also competed in the D2 boys race, finishing 99th in 17:50.7.

Bonduel had a girls and boys team compete in Division 3, with the girls taking 12th place and the boys finishing 15th. The girls earned a score of 288, while the boys posted a 327.

Wilson came into the state meet hoping to improve upon his 121st place finish in 18:18.3 as a freshman. The sophomore left little doubt in accomplishing that, running in the top 20 for most of the race.

"Getting used to the course, it's a tricky course with some tight turns and hills that you need to play right and I think I handled it a lot better," said Wilson on his big improvement from 2018. "Emotionally, last year I was a little too hyped up, too excited and this year I was able to calm down a lot."

Kaquatosh also spent much of the race in the top 20.

The Shawano senior said the course was a challenging one to conquer.

"State was physically very hard, and I wasn't used to it so it was a little hard for me," said Kaquatosh. "Competing there was just kind of crazy for me because I wasn't used to how big and fast it was.

"I would say that my finish was very strong for the way I had to adjust with the speed of the course."

Also competing at state for the first time, Dickman admitted the course was challenging but thanked a big support group that came to cheer him on and helped him through it.

Dickman had a strong final sprint to the finish line to land inside the top 100.

"I thought it went good," Dickman said of his first state run. "I wasn't expecting too much and I was just expecting to finish. Finishing is a win."

In Division 3 action, junior Kara Troxel led the Bonduel girls, placing 26th in 20:38.4.

While snowflakes fell throughout all six state races on an already cold and breezy day, the Division 3 girls field had to deal with extremely tough conditions.

During the race, it turned into a near white-out, with snow pelting competitors as they navigated the course.

"It (the snow) didn't affect me too much in the beginning, but once it started coming down harder, it got harder to see. My eyes started watering," said Troxel. "But I just had to keep pushing through it so I could finish good for the team."

Junior Kalleigh Schroeder (21:52.5) took 85th, while junior Madison Kurey (22:14.4) came in 97th.

"I would say that going into the race I didn't think I was going to do very good, but as I was racing I felt good and didn't feel much pain," said Kurey. "After the race when I heard my time, I was surprised because I ran really good and had a good time."

Freshman Kendra Troxel (23:04.1) took 119th, while junior Breanna Schnell (23:19.7) was 128th to round out the team score.

(23:33.8) and senior Alexia Folkman (25:10.9) filled out the girls seven-runner team.

Leading the Bonduel boys team was senior Carter Kurey, who placed 57th with a time of 17:46.2.

"It was a lot of fun, I'm glad we made it back down," said Kurey on finishing his high school career at state.

"I think that our team ran good today. I got a strong feeling that there were a lot of PRs (personal records)."

Karter Schroeder posted a strong time of 18:38.6 to cap his freshman season and place 103rd.

"I think I did good because I knew it was my last meet of the season and I had to leave it all out there," said Schroeder.

"My first experience at state was a blast and all the upperclassmen made sure I was having fun."

Sophomore Cooper Uelmen (18:58), junior Jack Johnson (19:07.9) and freshman Ayden Dunst (19:25) placed 113th, 120th and 126th, respectively, to cap the team score.

Seniors William Beaumier (20:22.3) placed 137th, while senior Colen Klosterman (20:48.2) came in 140th to cap the seven-runner team.

Witt-Birn accumulated 358 points, trailing only Seymour (446) and Door County United (428) in the seven-team event.

said Witt-Birn senior Lauren Bahr. “We knew we’d have to fight for points at this meet, and the girls turned out some awesome swims that helped boost us up to third.”

The Chargers took first place in three events, with McKenna Metro-pulos having a role in each one.

As an individual, Metropulos won the 100-yard butterfly after posting a time of 1 minute, 1.99 seconds.

“It is a pretty great feeling knowing that all the time I put in really paid off in the end,” said Metropulos of her top finish. “Although it wasn’t a best time, I definitely am proud of the performance and know that I still have some left in the tank to use at sectionals.”

Resch came in second in the 200 freestyle (2:07.6) and 100 freestyle (57.83), while Bahr was third in the 100 freestyle (59.58) and 100 backstroke (1:06.19).

Thrun placed third in the 500 freestyle (6:03.83) and fourth in the 200 IM (2:34.26). Hegewald claimed third in the 100 breaststroke (1:17.58).

The Witt-Birn 400 freestyle relay team of Thrun, Hegewald, Alexa Chaney and Jessica Storlie took fifth in 4:18.96.

After its memorable night at the conference meet, Witt-Birn will now get ready to compete in the Division 2 Wisconsin Rapids Sectional on Saturday.

"Top finishes at conference are going to keep us all motivated going into sectionals for sure," said Metropulos. "We all had amazing swims tonight, some that were completely unexpected. Placing in top three as a smaller team is the kind of motivation and confidence we need to ride on going into sectionals."

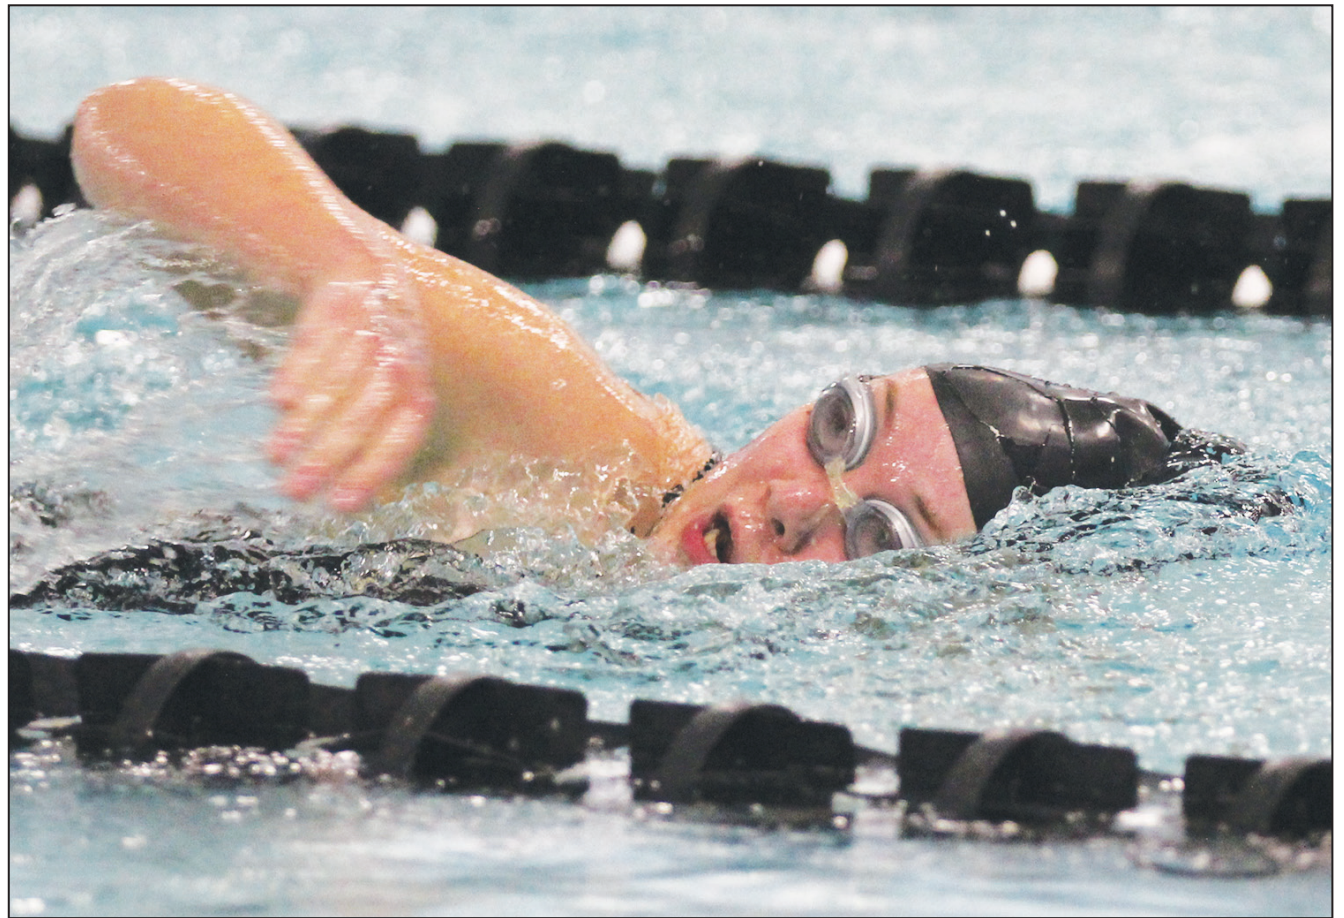

Shawano/Bonduel took fifth with 199 points, while Clintonville came in seventh with 143 points.

Shawano/Bonduel's top finish on the night came from the 200 medley relay team. The quartet of Allison Langlois, Gabi Bukoski, Isabel Colon and Macy Monfils posted a time of 2:09.03.

The same group teamed up in the 400 freestyle relay for a sixth-place finish in 4:22.3.

Individually, Colon placed sixth in the 100 freestyle (1:00.46), while Bukoski was sixth in the 500 freestyle (6:10.42). Anne Carrier took eighth in the 100 butterfly (1:18.72).

Shawano/Bonduel is scheduled to swim in the Division 1 Sectional on Saturday.

Shawano/Bonduel's Elise Oss pulls in a breath in her heat of the 200-yard freestyle at Thursday's Bay Conference Meet in Clintonville.

DAVID WILHELMS

Shawano/Bonduel's Ashauntee Smith surfaces for another stroke during the 100-yard butterfly at Thursday's Bay Conference Meet in Clintonville.

DAVID WILHELMS

Brianna Foth led the Truckers in the pool, placing second in the 500 freestyle (5:52.75) and third in the 200 freestyle (2:11.24).

Foth believes her strong finishes will serve as motivation for sectionals.

"The times make me want to work harder for sectionals to try and swim faster than what I did at conference," said Foth.

Foth was also on the fifth-place finishing 200 freestyle relay team. Isabella Koeppen, Kelli Smith and Emma Wittman filled out the team that earned a time of 1:57.83.

Individually, Smith came in sixth in the 200 freestyle (2:19.47) and eighth in the 500 freestyle (6:18.99).

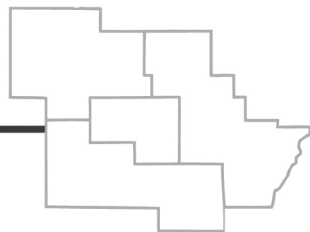

Smith, Koeppen, Foth and Keara

Denzin formed the eighth-place finishing 200 medley relay team. The group posted a time of 2:12.79.

Clintonville will compete in the Division 2 Plymouth Sectional on Saturday.

Packers humbled after loss to Chargers

Green Bay falls to 7-2 after first road loss

By JOE REEDY

The Associated Press

CARSON, CALIF. — Melvin Gordon scored two touchdowns, Michael Badgley kicked four field goals and the Los Angeles Chargers dominated the Green Bay Packers 26-11 on Sunday.

Los Angeles (4-5) snapped a three-game home losing streak in what was easily its best game of the year. The offense moved the ball consistently in Shane Steichen's first game as coordinator, and the defense kept Aaron Rodgers and the Packers out of the end zone until midway through the fourth quarter.

Steichen, who was promoted after Ken Whisenhunt was fired last Monday, called a good game as the Chargers weren't faced with many third-and-long situations. Gordon, who came in averaging only 2.5 yards per carry, had 80 yards on 20 carries, including a pair of 1-yard TDs off left guard in the third and fourth quarters.

Austin Ekeler added 70 yards as the Chargers rushed for a season-high 159 yards and averaged 4.2 yards per carry.

Philip Rivers completed 21 of 28 passes for 294 yards, and Mike Williams had his first 100-yard receiving day in his three-year career with three receptions for 111 yards. Hunter Henry had 84 yards on seven catches.

Rodgers was 23 of 35 for 161 yards as the Packers (7-2) had their four-game winning streak snapped.

Green Bay's lone touchdown came with 6:21 remaining, when Rodgers found a wide-open Jamaal Williams for a 10-yard touchdown. Rodgers then got Green Bay within 26-11 with a two-point conversion. Rodgers got most of his yards in the final 15 minutes after he was held to a career-low 61 yards through three quarters.

Packers running back Aaron Jones came in averaging 137.8 scrimmage yards in his past four games but was held to 29 yards (30 rushing, minus-1 receiving). Davante Adams had seven receptions for 41 yards after missing the last four games because of turf toe.

Rodgers was sacked three times as Joey Bosa and Melvin Ingram each had 1½ sacks. Bosa has 5½ sacks in his past three games.

Los Angeles dominated the first half on both sides of the ball but could not get into the end zone as Badgley supplied all the points with field goals from 29, 40 and 34 yards.

The Chargers gained 250 yards in the first half and had a pair of scoring drives that started inside their 10. They gave up only 50 yards defensively, the first time since 2011 they had allowed that few in the first half.

It was only the third time under Rodgers — and first time since 2013 — that the Packers have had 50 yards or fewer in the first half.

“Really when you look at it, at the half we were pretty fortunate to only be down 9-0,” Packers coach Matt LaFleur said. “Our defense did a good job of keeping the Chargers out of the end zone. Offensively, there was no rhythm whatsoever.”

Badgley added a 43-yard field goal in the second half in his first action of the season. He missed the first eight games with a groin injury.

HIGH SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL

Gresham upended by Wabeno/Laona

Wildcats unable to find rhythm in season-ending loss

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

BOWLER — The Gresham Community High School volleyball team was unable to solve Wabeno/Laona in a Division 4 sectional semifinal match on Thursday at Bowler High School.

The top-seeded Wildcats saw their magical season come to an end in a 25-12, 25-12, 25-15 loss to the second-seeded Rebels.

As she did throughout the season, Karisa Nietzer powered Gresham on the court, but Wabeno/Laona made the Wildcats work hard to earn every point and used several runs to pull away.

“Wabeno/Laona really put a lot of pressure on us and that made it a lot more challenging,” said Gresham coach Tim Wild. “Our passes weren’t as consistent and we just couldn’t get in a good rhythm offensively. And when you’re playing a good team with as many strong hitters as they have, you got to put some pressure on them when you have the ball and we didn’t have enough ball control to make them work.”

“They just kept attacking us. They went on runs and then we kind of got in our own heads,” said Nietzer, who finished with a team-leading 16 kills. “But we got out of it at times, it just went back and forth. It was just a battle against ourselves.”

careers of a talented senior class of Nietzer, Brooklyn Hoffman, Jayden Jensen, Jada James and Monique Terrio.

The group helped the team win a Central Wisconsin Conference-North Division title this fall and finish the season with a 19-7 record. Thursday's loss was Gresham's first since Oct. 5.

“I’d say that it was my best season of volleyball getting to play with this team. We all just worked so well together, even though we couldn’t get much going tonight, we still had a great season and always worked well together. We got really close as a team this season,” said Hoffman.

“I think when I go back and reflect on the season, I’ll think about how our team worked together,” said Jensen, who had 11 digs. “When we worked together, that’s when we played our best.”

Wabeno/Laona jumped out to a quick lead in the first set before Gresham got things going behind Nietzer, Jensen and sophomore Valarie Cerveney. The Rebels took control of the set by winning 10 straight points to go up 16-4.

Gresham played Wabeno/Laona even the rest of the set, but couldn’t string together a run to threaten the Rebels’ lead.

The second set started in a similar fashion to the first, with Wabeno/Laona taking an early lead before Nietzer earned the Wildcats a couple points to cut the deficit to one.

Again, the Rebels went on a run to take control, using a 7-0 stretch to grab a 12-4 advantage.

It seemed that every Gresham point required several big hits and near perfect play on the court. There were multiple times when the Wildcats looked like they were about to earn a big point, only to have the Rebels make a diving dig and go on to take the point.

Despite heading into the third set down 2-0 in the match, Gresham continued to battle.

Nietzer, Valarie Cerveney and junior Makayla Belongia all earned points for Gresham, but Wabeno/Laona still worked out to a 13-7 lead.

The Rebels eventually pushed their lead to 10, 20-10, before Gresham went on a 4-0 run to force Wabeno/Laona’s only timeout in the match. Nietzer had a kill and ace, while Valarie Cerveney added a tip kill during the stretch.

Wabeno/Laona finished off its sweep with a 5-1 run to advance to a sectional final.

Valarie Cerveney finished the night with 10 kills, while Belongia had 10 digs. Sophomore Hannah Cerveney set up Gresham’s attackers, tallying 22 assists in the contest.

“It was definitely an exciting year,” said Wild. “We look back at how we started the season, we were 0-4 and we finished 19-3 the rest of the way. I told the girls if they look back at the whole season, we had an outstanding year. There’s not many teams that are still playing volleyball at this time of year, and they should be really proud of what they’ve done.”

Cecil barn quilt represents blossoming family

CECIL — Gerald and Ann Pagenkopf are the proud and happy sponsors of Shawano County's 353rd barn quilt.

Called "Ann's Flower Garden," the quilt is on display on their beautiful white barn at N6614 County Road C, Cecil.

"We had talked about getting a barn quilt for several years," Ann Pagenkopf said. "And after we had the barn painted this summer, we knew it was time."

When the couple met with project coordinator Jim Leuenberger to pick out a pattern, he had one that he'd wanted to do for quite some time.

When he showed it to them, they immediately agreed to do it.

"We are glad we did," she said, "because it is beautiful."

The Pagenkopf farm has been in the family name since it was homesteaded by Albert Pagenkopf in 1898. He had purchased 160 acres from the railroad to homestead.

In about 1908, the farm was split between Albert's two sons, William and August. William and his wife, Hulda, used horses to till the land.

They had two sons, Sylvester and Arthur, and a daughter, Marcella.

In 1940, Arthur married Alvina and took over the reins of the farm.

They had two daughters, Karen and Kay, and a son, Gerald. William and Hulda Pagenkopf bought a house and moved to nearby Pulci-

fer. After taking over the farm, Arthur decided to change his farming methods, purchasing an Allis Chalmers tractor and reducing his use of horses to till the soil.

On Aug. 27, 1959, during an electrical storm, lightning struck and started a fire that destroyed the barn.

The mow and granary of the barn were rebuilt with the help of neighbors and family, so fall crops could be stored in the barn to feed the livestock.

In 1960, the floor of the barn was cemented and new gutters and mangers built.

In 1978, eight years after his wife died, Arthur decided to quit farming and sold the farm to his son and daughter-in-law, Gerald and Ann Pagenkopf.

Ten years later, they sold the cows and started renting the farm land.

"Now we have more time to spend with our sons, Jake and Gerrod, and our daughter, Jessica," Ann Pagenkopf said.

The Pagenkopf barn quilt was painted by the Shawano County barn quilt committee and was put on display by LeRoy Raddant and his grandson, Keenan, of Raddant Electric of Shawano.

Gerald and Ann Pagenkopf are shown with Shawano County's 353rd barn quilt on their farm at N6614 County Road C, Cecil.

Ballots sent out for FSA elections

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has begun mailing ballots to eligible farmers and ranchers across the country for the Farm Service Agency county committee elections.

"Our county committee members play a key role in our efforts to provide assistance to producers," said FSA Administrator Richard Fordyce. To be counted, ballots must be returned to the local FSA county office or postmarked by Dec. 2.

Each committee has three to 11 elected members who serve three-year terms.

One-third of county committee seats are up for election each year.

Newly elected committee members will take office Jan. 1. County committee members help FSA make decisions on its commodity support programs, conservation programs, indemnity and disaster programs and emergency programs and eligibility.

Producers must participate or cooperate in an FSA program to be eligible to vote in the county committee election.

Producers who supervise and conduct the farming operations of an entire farm, but are not of legal voting age also may be eligible to vote.

Producers can find out if their local administrative area is up for election and if they are eligible to vote by contacting their local FSA county office.

Eligible voters who did not receive a ballot in the mail can pick one up at their local FSA county office. For information, visit fsa.usda.gov/elections.

Farmers get payouts in land conservation program

MADISON — The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farm Service Agency in Wisconsin is processing more than $28 million in Conservation Reserve Program rental payments to landowners to support voluntary conservation efforts on private lands.

"Annual rental payments through the Conservation Reserve Program help farmers and landowners who want to take sensitive land out of production in order to improve water quality, prevent soil erosion or create wildlife habitat," said Sandy Chalmers, Wisconsin FSA state executive director.

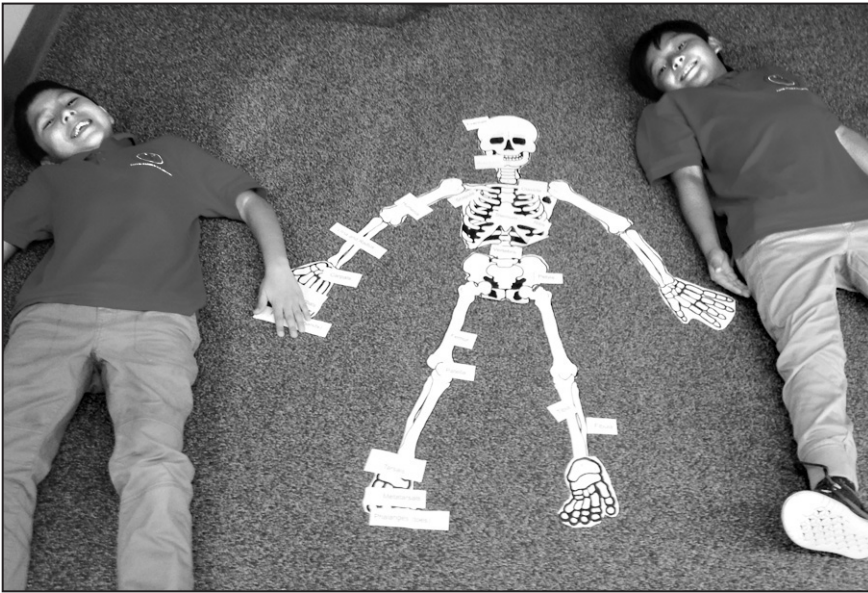

USDA began issuing 2019 CRP payments last week to support voluntary conservation efforts on private lands. In Wisconsin, 14,657 landowners have set aside 195,482 acres in the conservation program.

Nationwide, more than 22 million acres were enrolled in CRP, and annual rental payments totaled more than $1.7 billion.

CRP is a voluntary program that contracts with agricultural producers so environmentally sensitive agricultural land is not farmed or ranched but instead used for conservation benefits. FSA is planning a CRP general sign-up in December, with a CRP grasslands sign-up to follow. Official dates have yet to be announced. For information, visit www.farmers.gov.

Why an internist is an important member of your medical team

ALEXA GAVAGA, MD
INTERNAL MEDICINE
PHYSICIAN

Background

Hi, my name is Alexa Gavaga, and I am an internist at HSHS St. Clare Memorial Hospital Prevea Oconto Falls Health Center and Prevea Shawano Health Center. The first two questions I get asked most often are, "How do you pronounce your last name?" and "What is an internist?" I am happy to answer both of these questions!

First, the As in Gavaga are pronounced similar to the As in Canada. To simplify, I am also happy to go by Dr. G or Dr. Alexa. Second, an internist is a doctor that specializes in internal medicine. Now, you may ask, what is internal medicine? This is my passion and joy and I am even more thrilled to share the who, what, where, why and how with you below.

What is internal medicine?

Internal medicine is the study of medicine that focuses on diagnosing, treating and caring for adults using non-surgical methods. We treat patients with the most common and complex medical conditions. This area of medicine focuses on acute or chronic diseases, disease prevention, wellness, substance abuse and mental health. Heart, blood, kidneys, joints, digestive, respiratory, musculoskeletal and conditions of the vascular system are some of the specific areas of focus. Physicians that practice in this area of medicine are called internal medicine doctors or internists.

Who should see an internist?

Internists care for adults 18 years old and older.

Where would you see an internist?

An internist may work in a variety of locations including hospitals, primary care health centers, nursing homes or rehabilitation centers.

How does one become an internist?

All doctors start by completing a bachelor's degree and then go on to medical school. Medical school graduates decide which area they would like to practice and then apply to a residency program. These residency programs can vary from internal medicine (adults), pediatrics (children), family (all ages), obstetrics and gynecology (women's health), general surgery and many others.

The duration of these programs vary in length. Internal medicine is a three-year residency program providing physicians with specific training to manage and care for adults. Following completion of the residency, internists then become board-certified by passing the American Internal Medicine Board exams. To maintain this certification, this requires yearly continuing medical education and passing a re-certification exam every ten years. Some internists may have specific interests, and apply to a fellowship to complete sub-specialty training in areas such as cardiology, infection disease, endocrinology, rheumatology or others.

Why would you want to see an internist instead of another provider for your health care?

Choosing a primary care provider may be difficult as there are many choices. Some people may pick an internist because they may not have had a family doctor growing up. Others may pick an internist because they have a wide variety of medical challenges or they may want to continue with their routine medical care. Since internists focus on adult care and prevention, internists routinely see patients with conditions such as heart disease, hypertension, diabetes, obesity and chronic lung disease. If these are of your personal challenges, or maybe you have others you'd like addressed, please contact me and we will work together to help you live your best possible life.

For an appointment in Oconto Falls please call (920) 846-8187. For an appointment in Shawano, please call (715) 201-0870.

I look forward to caring for you.
