

MARCH HOURS BRING APRIL FLOWERS

Jim Hanson, founder of The Flower Shoppe, places seedlings in soil with help from Barb Sorlie. The seedlings are among tens of thousands of new plants and are a first sign of spring in the greenhouse on Main Street in Gillett. The greenhouse will be open to the public on April 24. Hanson sold the business to Matt and Melanie Rice in 2004 but has continued to help out. FOR MORE PHOTOS, SEE PAGES 24-25.

One year later, COVID effort nearing success

Nearly two-thirds of local seniors have been vaccinated

By WARREN BLUHM

Editor-in-chief

With numbers down and COVID-19 vaccination efforts well underway, Oconto County Public Health officials are starting to believe the worst of the pandemic may be behind them.

"This is the first time since we started this that they both have smiles," County Board Chairman Paul Bednarek said March 18 after the monthly COVID report delivered by Mike Reimer, Human Services director, and Public Health Director Deb Konitzer.

The report came about a year after Gov. Tony Evers ordered a general shutdown of the state in the wake of a declared pandemic of a unique strain of coronavirus. Reimer noted that the first Oconto County case was recorded on March 27, 2020, and as of his report the county had seen 4,764 positive tests for COVID-19, with 55 related deaths.

The number of new cases has slowed significantly since fall, when the state Division of Health Services (DHS) was tallying as many as 100 positive tests a day in Oconto County. By comparison, the daily DHS report added only 30 Oconto County cases total between March 6 and March 21.

Konitzer said the county has vaccinated more than 1,000 people in the past seven weeks, "and we haven't wasted a dose," crediting careful planning and handling of the vaccine, which she said must be used within 120 hours of arrival.

"For years, for decades, Public Health has had the service of going into the schools, giving immunizations for schoolchildren," Reimer said. "After 9/11, (Konitzer) took that opportunity to use that school-based process as a practice for if we ever had to do a mass vaccination for a pandemic, even though we never thought we would."

The county is scheduling vaccination clinics through the end of June, and 64% of county residents over age 65 have been vaccinated so far, he said.

The monthly Oconto County Board meetings continue to be held at Holy Trinity Parish Hall in Oconto, down the street from the courthouse, to enable social distancing between supervisors and onlookers.

Judge won't suppress DNA evidence in 1976 murders

Lakewood man is accused of killing a young couple in a Marinette County park

By WARREN BLUHM

Editor-in-chief

The judge in the upcoming trial of an elderly Lakewood man accused of a 1976 double murder has ruled on three pre-trial motions, granting prosecutors two victories and the defense one, and he wants to hear further arguments on another defense motion.

Raymand L. Vannieuwenhoven, 83, has been incarcerated since he was arrested in March 2019 and charged with the July 1976 shooting deaths of David Schuldes, 25, and Ellen Matheys, 24, at the McClintock Park campground in the Town of Silver Cliff in Marinette County. Matheys had also been sexually assaulted.

The case went unsolved for more than 40 years until, investigators say, DNA found with Matheys' body was positively matched to Vannieuwenhoven in early 2019.

In the most crucial motion, Judge James Morrison denied a defense request to suppress the DNA evidence because Vannieuwenhoven was tricked into providing the DNA sample used to secure his arrest.

Lead investigator Todd Baldwin enlisted Oconto County Chief Deputy Darren Laskowski to come into the Lakewood home and ask the defendant if he would fill out a short survey for Sheriff Todd Skarban about policing in the area, further asking him to seal the completed survey in an envelope. Instead he turned it over to Baldwin, violating Vannieuwenhoven's consent, the defense said.

Defense attorney Travis Crowell argued that while courts have ruled police have great latitude to use deceit to obtain evidence from suspects, "but this has to be the line. If this can't be the line, I don't know what is at this point."

Morrison submitted his decisions in writing, saying he wanted to stand on the written words in order to be as clear as possible.

In court, he summarized, "I believe a warrant was not required, consent was given, the consent was appropriate in all respects."

Morrison denied a prosecution motion to tell the jury about a 1957 arrest in Brown County, when Vannieuwenhoven was 20, in which he pleaded guilty to a battery charge after attempting to drag a girl into a cemetery. She broke away and ran before he could harm her.

The judge said introducing the incident from a full 19 years before the murders could be unduly prejudicial.

The defense asked for permission to tell the jury about two other suspects in the murders who were the subject of intense scrutiny in the decades before an arrest was finally made.

Morrison denied one motion, saying attorneys had not met the legal requirements for introducing an alternative suspect, but he asked both sides to submit further briefs about the other man, who investigators felt had knowledge about the crime that had not been publicly disclosed.

A hearing about the earlier suspect, with possible oral arguments, has been scheduled for April 8. The two-week trial is on the calendar to begin July 19.

Second child sex assault case filed against Suring man

Incident allegedly occurred in 2008 when girl was 14

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

A second case of child sex assault has been filed against a Suring man in Oconto County Circuit Court.

John E. Fredenburgh, 36, already faced 24 felony counts related to an alleged five-year sexual relationship with a girl said to have begun when she was 12 years old.

In the second case filed March 16, Fredenburgh is charged with second-degree sexual assault of a child in connection with an incident that allegedly occurred in 2008.

A Forest County woman came forward and said she had had sex with Fredenburgh when she was 14 years old. She said the man lived in the same apartment building as her best friend and slowly got to know her.

After a few months, he took her to his parents' property in Mountain where they had sex in the back of a vehicle, according to the criminal he could get kicked out of the Army and lose custody of his children if she revealed their sexual relationship to anyone.

"John told her he felt she was more mature than girls her age and he could trust her to keep their relationship secret," the complaint said. He would have been 24 when the incident happened.

A court hearing on the new charges had not been scheduled as of Thursday morning. He is being held in the Oconto County Jail in lieu of $500,000 cash bond.

complaint. It was the only time they did it, but he propositioned her several times before and after, the complaint said.

The woman said Fredenburgh told her

OBITUARIES

Carleton Peter DeWitt

Carleton Peter DeWitt, 92, of Oconto, passed from this life to eternal life on Tuesday, March 9, 2021, at his daughter's home in Tomball, Texas.

Peter was born on Feb. 19, 1929, to Donald and Eleanor Holt DeWitt, the second of three boys. His brothers were Douglas and Robert DeWitt, who preceded him in death in 2005 and 1972, respectively.

In his youth, Pete was an avid sailor as well as an amateur radio operator. During World War II, he was one of the few "men" in town, even at age 12, who could repair a radio. Peter was active in Boy Scouts and was an Eagle Scout and Order of the Arrow member. He became endeared to Marilyn Mehlberg, the woman who would become his wife of over 50 years, while they worked together on a production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "HMS Pinafore."

In 1947, Peter graduated from Oconto High School and left Oconto to attend Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York where he studied electrical engineering. Upon graduation, in June 1951, he returned to Oconto, married Marilyn, and the two of them left for San Diego, California.

He had been commissioned as a Navy seaman to work at Naval Research in San Diego, but in an agreement between the Navy and Convair, was given a job at Convair Aircraft Corp in San Diego. At Convair, he was part of a team developing early missile and rocket guidance systems, including rockets that Wernher Von Braun had designed. One of the rocket systems he worked on was the Atlas which eventually was used to put the first American, John Glenn, into orbit.

During his work at Convair, the need to make more accurate measurements became apparent and Peter left Convair to work on an early digital voltmeter at Electro Instruments. While at Electro Instruments, he realized that more accurate calibration systems were needed.

Since Electro Instruments was not interested in pursuing this work, Peter, Marilyn and their two children, Chris and Pam, left in 1957 to return to Oconto. With the help of his father, Donald DeWitt, and friend, Norm Wachal, he founded Holt Instrument Laboratories or HiLab. Holt Hardwood and the flooring business was phasing out with the end of the lumber business in Oconto, and he foresaw the opportunity to develop this as a new industry.

Holt Instrument was founded to meet the calibration needs of the U.S. military and aerospace industry providing AC and DC voltage and current calibration instruments. Along with these systems, Holt was also a leader in the development of precision measurement instruments, some of which are still used by the U.S. National Bureau of Standards and in many industries around the world.

This equipment was used by all branches of the military, the U.S. Coast Guard and NASA and the industries that served them, including Boeing, Lockheed, Convair, Grumman, Electric Boat Works and many others. While Holt was founded to serve the aerospace industry, it also sold instruments to many other industries with a need for precise calibration and measurements.

Some of this equipment was even used to help develop the Concord SST, but Holt didn't just sell in the U.S., they also sold to many countries around the world, both their governments and their industries. These included Great Britain, France, Germany, Scandinavia, Egypt, India, Japan, Korea, Australia, and many others.

Peter was most proud of HiLab's work with NASA where they supplied calibration and measurement systems used extensively during the development of the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo systems and is still used today. Their proudest achievement was recognition of its contribution to the development of a simulator used to train the Apollo astronauts in techniques for landing on the moon, and for the conservation of fuel during both landing and takeoff of the lunar landing module used by Apollo 11. After Apollo, Holt continued to support the space shuttle and the development and launch of the many satellites that serve us daily for weather, communications and more.

Less known is the support of our military systems here and overseas needed to defend us and our allies, in some cases rushing repair parts to U.S. bases overseas in less than a day.

Unfortunately, an economic recession and business conflicts contributed to the demise in 1975 of Holt Instrument as we knew it. Peter continued a much smaller business in the 1980s continuing to support past customers until he finally retired in 2018.

While running his business, Peter DeWitt was active in his community. In the early 1960s, he took an active part in trying to keep Dutch Elm Disease from decimating the beautiful Oconto elm trees. He was part of many searches for boaters lost on Green Bay, and involved in the Civil Air Patrol as a small plane pilot. Following his scouting background, he was the Cub Scout Packmaster as well as Scoutmaster for many years.

In 1969, he co-chaired the committee to celebrate Oconto's tricentennial. He was a senior warden of St. Mark's Episcopal Church and fostered the relationship with the Machickanee Players theater group from its start in what was the church guild hall. He was an active member of the local Civil Air Patrol, serving as communications officer and never missed bringing out his grandmother's Detroit Electric car for parades.

He was an avid supporter of the Oconto County Historical Society, the Packers, and the Wisconsin Humane Society. He was an active member "the bell ringer" of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Marinette until his move to Tomball.

Peter DeWitt thanked the citizens of Oconto for the honor of being asked to preside as 2019 Copperfest grand marshal, and the privilege of having raised five children there with his wife, Marilyn. "There is no better place to live a life," he was quoted as saying. Peter DeWitt lived all but 12 of his 92 years in Oconto.

He was a drummer in his youth, he loved music, nature and Island Lodge at Archibald Lake. He loved that his children loved their Lord and each other.

He moved to Tomball, Texas, to live with his daughter, Lisa, and her family in January 2019.

His surviving children are Chris (Jan Hutchins) DeWitt, Pam (Bob) Booth, Dan (Laura Usiak) DeWitt, Dr. Lisa (Chris) Wanner and Mary (Joe) Cazier. He has 10 wonderful grandchildren, Katrina "Katie" Booth, Rob (Kelli) Booth, Anna DeWitt, Matthew and Nick Wanner, Joey Cazier, and step-grandchildren, Preston and Zachary Cazier and Katrina and Shain (Amy) Wiederholt. He has one great-granddaughter, Adalynn, and a step-great-grandson, Mason Wiederholt.

His beloved wife of 51 years, Marilyn, went to be with her Lord in 2002.

The family will receive relatives and friends on Thursday, April 22 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 917 Church St., in Marinette from 10:30 a.m. until noon. At noon, a memorial service will take place. Burial will be at noon the following day, Friday, April 23 at the Evergreen Cemetery in Oconto. If attending services, we respectfully request that social distancing be practiced and masks be worn.

Gifts may be made in Peter's name to the Holt and Balcolm Logging Camp No. 1 (please send to Robert Brown, 14849 McCabe Road, Lakewood, WI 54138), the Oconto Historical Society, Wisconsin Historical Society or the Wisconsin Humane Society.

Shirley M. Fiala

Shirley Marie Fiala gained her angel wings Nov. 12, 2020. Born on March 24, 1931, Shirley was the oldest of four children born of her parents, Gladys and Raymond Sager.

In her early years, Shirley grew up on a farm, first in Kewaunee and later in Oconto and Suring. Though she was tasked with working on the farm, Shirley dreamed of moving to Chicago and being a single career woman, traveling, and enjoying all that life had to offer.

As life does have a way of showing us what God has in store and not what we've planned, Shirley met Gene Fiala and was married a year and a half later. Spending their early married life running a service station in the Chicago area while Shirley also worked at Illinois Bell, Gene and Shirley spent many nights out on the town listening to their favorite music, Dixieland jazz.

Some of her fondest memories were of listening to their favorite band, the Dukes of Dixieland. She kept a picture of the two of them with the band and signed by each member.

Again, life changed Shirley's plans when she met her new niece, Laurie

Sager. Now desiring to be a mother, Shirley and Gene brought two beautiful children into the world, Sherrie Kay and Gene Raymond.

Gene Sr. passed away on Nov. 7, 1963. Shirley went back to work on Nov. 22, 1963, the day President John F. Kennedy was assassinated. She remembered that time in her life as being the most stressful of her days.

A few years later, Shirley moved her young children back to Wisconsin to be closer to her family. She spent the rest of her years devoted to giving her children a great life. Trips to Chute Pond, California, Florida and many gather places allowed Shirley to combine the love of her children and travel. After Sherrie and Gene had grown, Shirley continued to travel, enjoying trips to San Francisco, San Diego, Florida, Boston, Cancun, New Orleans, Denver and so many other places.

Once her grandchildren were born, Shirley devoted her life to them, coining every Saturday as "Grammy Day" and taking the grandchildren to toy stores to touch, play and enjoy anything they wanted, followed by a lunch out. Returning home happy but tired, Shirley repeated this experience until the grandchildren had grown and had other activities which required their attendance.

Shirley worked for Illinois Bell for years, where she became lifelong friends with three women, Florence, Carmane and Barbara. Though they all moved on to other locations across the US, they remained in contact for the rest of their lives. Shirley then worked at CESA 8 for 28 years, holding several positions within the organization, including interim administrator, retiring in 1995.

Independent until the end, Shirley drove her car until last year, walking around the mall or other stores admiring different styles, colors and designs. She especially loved sofas. As her memory faded and her mind became confused with details, she never forgot her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Her love was so strong. She will be missed by us all and her memory will always bring a smile to our faces. We are all blessed to have such a true angel watching over us.

Shirley is survived by her children, Sherrie Quade (Evan Schnieder) and Gene Fiala (Patti); her grandchildren, Alex Fiala, Eric Fiala (Shaina) and Andrea Quade; step-grandchildren Mande School and Zach School (Tabitha); great-grandchildren, Ava, Garrett and Eliand Noah; brother, Gene Sager (Pat); sister, Elaine Kostreva (Calvin); nieces, nephews and friends.

Shirley was preceded in death by her husband, Gene Fiala; parents, Gladys and Raymond Sager; her sister, Vivian Tolzman; brother-in-law, Nick Tolzman; and her son-in-law, Mark Quade.

Friends and family may call at 4-7 p.m. on Friday, March 26, 2021 at Ryan Funeral Home, 305 N. 10th Street, De Pere. A celebration of life will be held at 6 p.m. It would have been the week of Shirley's 90th birthday.

SENIOR LIVING

Initiative to help vaccinate vulnerable seniors

By RACHEL TREISMAN
Wisconsin Public Radio

The country's rollout of COVID-19 vaccines is picking up speed, with a third new vaccine ramping up production and an accelerated timeline promising enough supply for every American adult by the end of May.

Still, the process of finding and booking appointments remains difficult for many eligible individuals. Now, a new initiative by more than a dozen health insurance providers is aiming to promote health equity by making it easier for seniors from underserved populations to get vaccinated.

Andy Slavitt, senior adviser on the White House COVID-19 Response Team, said at a regular briefing that the pilot program will help 2 million of the country's most vulnerable seniors overcome three commonly-cited challenges: questions about the vaccine, scheduling and transportation.

"This commitment came from organizations who have the call centers, technology and community relationships to run a pilot program like this, and it comes on the heels of our call to action last week to the private sector to use their talents and resources to help bring a quicker end to this crisis," Slavitt said.

Through the Vaccine Community Connectors pilot, Slavitt said, providers will contact unvaccinated Americans over the age of 65 who live in areas of "high social vulnerability" to talk about the efficacy, safety and value of vaccines. They will also facilitate registration and appointment scheduling, arrange transportation to and from sites and ensure individuals return for their second shot. Slavitt added they are looking to deploy mobile vans in certain communities.

In a press release announcing the initiative, members of the trade groups America's Health Insurance Plans and Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association said providers will use enrollee data, analytics and government resources to help identify vulnerable communities and tailor their outreach to them.

For example, they said, some communities will be best served by mobile clinics or language assistance, Vaccine clinics are taking place Thursdays and Fridays at the old Lakeland Center, 504 Lakeland Road, Shawano. If you can't get an appointment there, there is a new initiative to help seniors find locations that offer coronavirus vaccines.

while others will benefit most from free transportation provided by ride-sharing services.

"Improving health equity means setting important goals, removing barriers to better care and meeting people where they are," said Tonya Adams, national spokesperson for the Vaccine Community Connectors program and chief customer experience officer at Regence BlueCross BlueShield.

The U.S. is racing to vaccinate its population in the face of a number of newly emerging coronavirus variants, and as several states have moved to roll back mask mandates and other public health directives.

Dr. Rochelle Walensky, director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, warned at Wednesday's briefing — as she has since late last week — that recent progress in slowing the pandemic appears to be stalling. The most recent seven-day average of new cases stands at 66,000, an increase of 3.5% over the previous seven days. And the most recent seven-day average of deaths increased 2.2% over that period to slightly more than 2,000 deaths a day.

She urged Americans to continue masking up, observing social distancing and avoiding gatherings, measures she said would determine the course of the virus in the "pivotal" months before the country can be vaccinated en masse.

Some 15.6% of the U.S. population has had at least one dose of a COVID-19 vaccine, according to an National Public Radio tracker.

SAVVY SENIOR

How to search for senior discounts in 2021

By JIM MILLER

Special to NEW Media

Dear Savvy Senior,

I just turned 60 and would like to find out the best way to go about locating senior discounts.

Looking to Save

Dear Looking,

One of the best, yet underutilized perks of growing older in the United States is the many discounts that are available to older adults.

There are literally thousands of discounts on a wide variety of products and services including restaurants, grocery stores, travel and lodging, entertainment, retail and apparel, health and beauty, automotive services and much more. These discounts — typically ranging between 5 and 25% off — can add up to save you hundreds of dollars each year.

The first thing to know is that most businesses don't advertise them, but many give senior discounts just for the asking, so don't be shy.

You also need to know that while some discounts are available as soon as you turn 50, most don't kick in until you turn 55, 60, 62 or 65.

Because senior discounts frequently change and can vary depending on where you live and the time of the year, the internet is the easiest way to locate them.

A good place to start is at The-SeniorList.com (click on the "Senior Discounts" tab), which provides a large list of discounts in categories, i.e. restaurant dining, grocery stores, retail stores, prescription medications, travel discounts and more.

You can also search for discounts by provider. Go to a search engine like Google and Yahoo and type in the business or organization you're curious about, followed by "senior discount" or "senior discount tickets."

Another good avenue to senior discounts is through membership organizations like AARP, which offers its members age 50 and older a wide variety of discounts through affiliate businesses (see AARPdiscounts.com).

If, however, you don't like or agree with AARP, there are other organizations you can join that also provide discounts like the American Seniors Association (AmericanSeniors.org), the American Automobile Association (AAA.com), or for retired federal workers, the National Active and Retired Federal Employees Association (NARFE.org).

Here's an abbreviated rundown of some of the different types of discounts you can expect to find.

Restaurants: Senior discounts are common at restaurants and fast-food establishments — like Applebee's, Arby's, Burger King, Chili's, Denny's and IHOP — ranging from free/discounted drinks, to discounts off your total order.

Retailers: Many thrift stores like Goodwill and Salvation Army, and certain retailers like TJ Maxx, Banana Republic, Kohl's, Michaels, Ross and Walgreens stores offer a break to seniors on certain days of the week.

Grocery stores: Many locally owned grocery stores offer senior discount programs, as do some chains like BI-LO, Piggly-Wiggly, Fry's Food Stores, New Seasons, Fred Meyer, and Hy-Vee, which offer discounts on certain days of the week but they vary by location.

Travel: American, United and Southwest Airlines provide limited senior fares in the U.S. to passengers 65 and older, while British Airlines offers AARP members discounts of up to $200. Amtrak provides a 15% discount to travelers over 62. Most car rental companies give discounts to 50-plus customers or those who belong to organizations like AARP. Royal Caribbean, Norwegian, Celebrity and Carnival cruise lines offer discount rates to cruisers 55 and over. And, most hotels offer senior discounts, usually ranging from 10 to 20%.

Entertainment: Most movie theaters, museums, golf courses, ski slopes and other public entertainment venues provide reduced admission to seniors over 60 or 65. And the National Park Service offers a lifetime senior pass for those 62 and older for $80 (see nps.gov/planyourvisit/passes.htm).

Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of "The Savvy Senior" book.

Schools have preliminary plans for graduation

Some schools returning to traditional graduations, others get creative with celebrating seniors

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Just over a year into the COVID-19 pandemic, area high schools are still having to adjust their plans for graduation.

Most schools in the area plan to hold their graduation ceremonies in late May and early June. Due to the pandemic last year, most of the schools were forced to change that. This year, some of the schools are looking to return to that normal time slot to hold their ceremonies. As we start to return to normalcy, some schools already have preliminary plans on what graduates can expect to happen come May and June.

Shawano Community High School plans to hold its graduation ceremony on schedule on May 28, but instead of the traditional location of the school's field house, it will once again be held on the football field, where grads can social distance, according to principal Scott Zwirschitz. The 2020 graduation had to be postponed to August and held on the field with limited attendance from family members and limited to the presentation of the diplomas.

"It is difficult to plan a graduation at a facility outside of your own. I am hoping that we can have the graduation in person and together, but we will have to wait and see about the cases."

TIM MAYER, Bonduel High School principal

poned to August and held on the field with limited attendance from family members and limited to the presentation of the diplomas.

"We believe we can have more spectators outside than inside, but we will have a contingency plan to move it back inside the gym if the weather doesn't look like it's going to cooperate," said Zwirschitz, noting that moving it into the field house would limit the number of spectators that would be allowed inside.

Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School is planning to hold its graduation ceremony in a similar fashion as last year. Weather permitting, the ceremony will be held on May 28 at 6 p.m. on the football field. The graduates will be up in the bleachers, while guests of the graduates will be socially distanced on the football field.

"Having the graduation ceremony outside on the football field was successful last year," said principal Bill Hass. "We received very good feedback on doing it that way last year."

The Bonduel School District is undecided of what its plans are regarding graduation moving forward. The school board will thoroughly study trends and the amount of COVID-19 cases that are present in the Bonduel area to decide what an appropriate celebration would be, according to Tim Mayer, high school and middle school principal.

Last year, the school held a virtual ceremony and presented it at the Shawano Cinema drive-in movie theater, 1494 E. Green Bay St., Shawano. School principal Tim Mayer said that something like that could happen again this year. With all of the factors that are coming into play on how the graduates will be honored, Mayer hopes that it can be in person.

"It is difficult to plan a graduation at a facility outside of your own," said Mayer. "I am hoping that we can have the graduation in person and together, but we will have to wait and see about the cases."

Menominee Indian High School principal Chuck Raasch has preliminary plans of holding gatherings in the school's gymnasium on May 26.

There will be two separate sections comprised of graduates based on the letter that their last name starts with. Students whose last name start with A-L will be honored at 5 p.m. while those starting with M-Z will be honored at 7 p.m.

Each graduate will have four tickets to use to invite guests, according to Raasch. Each person entering the gymnasium will have to follow the safety procedures put into place, including having temperatures taken, practicing social distancing and wearing masks. Each person will also be recorded for contact tracing. The gymnasium will be sanitized between sessions.

Last year, MIHS held graduation in its parking lot. Students got out of their cars to receive their diploma and were verbally congratulated by the superintendent and Raasch. The entire graduation was broadcast on Facebook Live.

"Our preliminary plans are to hold a somewhat traditional graduation this year," said Raasch. "It would be nice to have everyone together."

Gillett Secondary School is planning on having its graduation ceremony as traditional as possible, according to principal Jason Dreier. With just under 50 seniors this year, Dreier does not expect a lot of people to fill up the gym for graduation.

Dreier noted that there were roughly 50 graduates last year. With that number not being staggeringly high, Dreier hopes that the pandemic won't be an issue. The graduation is going to be held on May 30. Even with the small gathering, the graduates, members of the school board and visitors are going to follow the COVID-19 mandates, including social distancing and wearing masks.

Last year, the graduates were celebrated online as each senior was highlighted in a Facebook post on the school district's Facebook page. A YouTube video was also made of all of the seniors detailing their plans after school. Finally, a commencement ceremony was held on the track in August.

"Our plan is to have a traditional graduation this year," said Dreier. "We are still going to comply with the COVID-19 mandates for graduation, too."

OFHS spring play tradition returns

In this scene from rehearsals for "Sleeping Beauty, Briar Rose," royal parents (Maddie Haines and Casey Fischer), along with their guards (Sophia Collar and Alaina Blaser), mourn the loss of the princess (Paityn Keller).

CONTRIBUTED

COVID protocols prevent ticket sales to public

After a year of living with the COVID-19 pandemic, the Oconto Falls High School Drama Club is attempting a gradual return to normal with preparations of their spring production: the children's tale of "Sleeping Beauty, Briar Rose," by Max Bush.

But with COVID-19 protocols still in place at the Falls Area Performing Arts Center, tickets to the April 10-11 performances will be pre-sold to family members of the cast and crew only.

This version is based on the tales of Charles Perrault and the Brothers Grimm. While hunting a deer in the deep forest, a prince comes upon a young woman sitting among the ruins of an old kingdom. As the young woman tells the prince the story of the abandoned castle, we see the events as they occurred 100 years earlier.

A king and queen long to have a child and heir to the throne, and — aided by Erda, the forest fairy — their wish is granted. For the celebration of Princess Rose's birth, the king invites a number of fairies, but not Erda. Angered, Erda places a curse on Rose so that on her 16th birthday, Rose will prick her hand on a spindle and fall dead. The other fairies soften the curse by declaring she will simply sleep for a hundred years. The king will not allow Rose to leave the castle walls in fear of her death.

As Rose grows into a searching adolescent, her curiosity also grows. She meets Erda, who attempts to help her understand the wider world. On her 16th birthday, Rose pricks her hand and falls into a deep sleep. As she sleeps, she dreams, and her dreams begin to answer her life-long questions. When Rose awakes, she and the world around her have changed, and the prince, having recognized her from the story he's being told, joins Rose as she emerges into her new life.

With direction provided by faculty member Gayle Gander, the production is being led by senior student director Katelyn Staidl, who will also be performing as the Narrator. Senior Connor Romandine portray the heroic Prince Edmund in search of the enchanting Princess Rose, played by junior Paityn Keller. Standing between their happiness is the villainous Erda, portrayed by senior Gabby Wellnitz. The rest of the acting troupe is composed of seniors Maddie Haines, Casey Fischer; juniors Kleo Van Dornick, Jessie Pumplun, Raina Coopman, Savannah Long; and freshmen Ashlynn Vanderheyden, Sophia Collar and Alaina Blaser.

Audience members are asked to wear face coverings and to abide by social distancing restrictions in the PAC.

Spring arrives at Oconto Falls

Judy Kostreva sprays rows of seedlings in the controlled environment of The Flower Shoppe's greenhouse in Gillett.

In indoor locations, plants are starting to show color

STORY AND PHOTOS
by CAROL RYCZEK

Spring may be slow to come to the north country, but it has already arrived in a few lucky indoor locations.

One such location is the greenhouse operated by The Flower Shoppe, 100 S. Main St., Gillett. Its interior is packed glass wall to glass wall with seedlings as the owners prepare for the spring gardening season.

"We have 30,000 4-inch plants, 1,000 hanging baskets and 1,400 flats," said Matt Rice, who was overseeing a planting day while the owner, his wife, Melanie Rice, worked at the company's retail flower shop at 224 N. Main St. in Oconto Falls.

"There are some plugs, but we mostly seed and transplant all by hand. There's little automation," Geranium plants are among the first to bloom in The Flower Shoppe greenhouse in Gillett.

Matt Rice said. Planting began Feb. 1. He and his crew will care for the plants in anticipation of the greenhouse's April 24 public opening.

By then, he said, the greenhouse will be packed with flowers.

Geraniums are already starting to flower, as are some small petunias, though the early blooms are often picked off to allow the plant to develop, Melanie Rice said.

This year, her husband added, he anticipates sunflowers will be popular choices for home gardeners, along with succulents. His choice for flower of the year is a mini petunia called "Vista Pink," but he knows that every gardener has his or her own favorites.

"We try to have enough variety in a small town, so you're not planting the same things as your neighbor," he said. "We try to introduce new things, but people have their favorites. Some people like to mix it up, but others are more traditional."

Ordering the plants for the greenhouse is fun, he added. "It's like looking through a Christmas catalogue when they come in," he said.

The greenhouse also supplies baskets and container flowers to the Oconto Falls store, he said. While the outside gardens are just ramping up, Easter, Mothers Day and proms make this the busy season for Melanie Rice's indoor operation.

"People are excited for spring to come," she said.

Judy Kostreva tends a pot in a greenhouse full of small plants. In another month, the pots will be overflowing with flowers.

Library celebrating National Poetry Month

April is National Poetry Month and Shawano County Library will be highlighting different poems, poets, and related activities during the entire month.

The Academy of American Poets describes the month as a time to “remind the public that poets have an integral role to play in our culture and that poetry matters.” National Poetry Month launched in 1996, making this year the 25th celebration.

The library will be celebrating by offering a variety of virtual programs available on the library’s Facebook page. During the programs, patrons will see and hear friendly staff faces, a few star patrons, and a wide variety of poems. Poetry readings will take place every Monday through Friday in April at 8 a.m.

Other virtual programs include do-it-yourself magnetic refrigerator poetry on April 1 at 9 a.m., as well as learning how to make infused water through the Hungry Librarians program on April 12 at 9 a.m. A Blackout Poetry event will take place April 14 at 9 a.m., and patrons can learn how to make their own cake box journal on April 21 at 9 a.m.

There will also be a virtual challenge available through Beanstack (shawanolibrary.beanstack.org). Patrons can sign up for a Beanstack account anytime and get started on this challenge on April 1. The challenge will allow patrons to explore poetry more fully through poetry readings, delving into the different types of poetry, creating their own Mad Libs-style poetry, as well as many other great activities.

For information, contact the library at sha@shawanolibrary.org or 715-526-3829.

WNA launches editorial writing, cartoon contest

As a continuation of its efforts to increase civic education and engagement, the Wisconsin Newspaper Association Foundation has launched the Wisconsin Civics Games Editorial Writing and Cartoon Contest.

The contest will celebrate the rights established by the First Amendment. The contest is open to all Wisconsin middle and high school students.

“We were thrilled by the enthusiastic statewide response to the launch of the Wisconsin Civics Games in 2019 and shared in the disappointment this year’s games had to be canceled because of the pandemic,” said WNA Foundation Board Member Eve Galanter, who helped spearhead the Wisconsin Civics Games. “We didn’t want to lose the critical connections that had been made or the momentum that had been built toward fostering civic and civil engagement.

“During this challenging time, we decided to continue these efforts with the launch of an editorial writing and cartoon contest.”

For the writing contest, high school students will be asked to write a guest column of 500 words or less about the First Amendment, and middle school students will be asked to write a letter to the editor of 200 words or less on the same topic. Students wishing to compete in the editorial cartoon contests may do so by submitting one First Amendment-themed editorial cartoon. Entries can be submitted online.

The entry deadline is May 15, and winners will be announced on July 1.

First-place winners will receive $500, second-place winners will receive $250, third-place winners will receive $100 and honorable mention recipients will receive $50.

In addition to being published on the Wisconsin Newspaper Association’s website, winning entries will also appear in newspapers across the state.

Additional information can be found at wisconsincivicsgames.com. Those interested in providing support through a donation or sponsorship can also find more information on the Civics Games website.

Wisconsin men finish 1-1 in NCAA Tournament

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

The Wisconsin men's basketball team was unable to rally from an 18-point deficit in a 76-63 second round NCAA Tournament loss to top-seeded Baylor on March 21 in Indianapolis.

The ninth-seeded Badgers turned the ball over 14 times in the contest, with most of the turnovers occurring in the first half. Wisconsin trailed 42-29 at halftime and then was down by 18 points early in the second half.

The Badgers were able to cut the deficit to seven a couple times, but eventually they ran out of time.

D'Mitrik Trice led Wisconsin with 12 points, while Nate Reuvers had 11. Micah Potter and Jonathan Davis each scored 10 points off the bench.

Potter grabbed 10 rebounds to record a double-double. He also had three assists and three blocks.

Both teams converted 25 of their 55 field goal attempts while each knocked down eight 3-pointers. The difference was at the free-throw line, where Baylor outscored Wisconsin 18-5.

Wisconsin forward Micah Potter, center, has his shot blocked by Baylor guard Matthew Mayer, left, in the first half of a second round NCAA Tournament game March 21 at Hinkle Fieldhouse in Indianapolis.

Wisconsin ends the season with an 18-13 record. The Badgers went just 10-10 in Big Ten play.

To open the tournament, Wisconsin dominated from start to finish in an 85-62 win over North Carolina on March 19 in West Lafayette, Indiana.

The Badgers were led on offense by Brad Davison and Trice. Davison made five 3-pointers and 10 of his 15 shots in a 29-point outburst. Trice converted eight of his 15 shots to add 21 points.

Against a taller and more athletic eighth-seeded North Carolina front line, the Badgers actually controlled the glass, out-rebounding the Tar Heels 37-34.

Davison and Davis led the team with six rebounds each. Trice, Al-eem Ford and Reuvers each grabbed five boards.

Reuvers and Potter proved to be a strong last line of defense for Wisconsin, blocking four and three shots, respectively.

As a team, Wisconsin shot over 50% from the floor, while holding North Carolina to just 38.5%. The Badgers made eight more 3-pointers (13-5) and only committed 11 fouls in the contest.

Wisconsin's 85 points was tied for the second-highest mark of the season.

Deer season planning meetings running through April 1

Feedback to be provided online in mid-April

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources announced March 18 that the 2021 County Deer Advisory Councils' planning meetings will take place virtually March 22 through April 1 to discuss the upcoming deer seasons.

Wisconsin's hunting legacy runs deep. Everyone has a say about the deer herd in Wisconsin, and the DNR wants to hear from you. Anyone interested in listening to their county's meeting can join from the comfort of home.

Every county in Wisconsin has its own CDAC (<https://dnr.wisconsin.gov/topic/Hunt/cdac>), and each spring they meet to develop recommendations for antlerless harvest goals, antlerless tag availability and season options for their county. The recommendations for the 2021 deer hunting season are provided to the Natural Resources Board (<https://dnr.wisconsin.gov/about/NRB>) along with recommendations from the DNR.

Councils will develop their recommendations using two meetings separated by a public input period to provide transparency and multiple opportunities for public input. After each meeting, the DNR will update the CDAC website with meeting summaries and preliminary recommendations.

The councils will meet virtually via Zoom to develop preliminary recommendations on harvest quotas and season structure options. Oconto County is set to meet March 29 at 6 p.m., with Shawano County meeting on March 30 at 7 p.m.

Zoom link and call-in numbers are available at <https://dnr.wi.gov/topic/hunt/CDACFind.aspx>.

All council meetings are open to the public. Anyone wishing to provide feedback will be asked to do so using the online public input form available on the DNR website from April 12-25.

The agenda for each county's meeting will include the development of antlerless harvest goals and season framework recommendations for the 2021 deer season to achieve each county's deer population objective. Options under discussion include the antlerless deer harvest quota and various season framework options such as offering the holiday hunt or extended archery/crossbow seasons. The public can view the presentations from DNR wildlife biologists regarding objectives at <https://dnrmedia.wi.gov/main/Catalog/catalogs/2021-county-deer-advisory-council-county-wildlife-biologist-presentations>.

A second round of meetings will take place in May, during which council members will review public comments and make final recommendations for the 2021 deer season. The DNR will review the final CDAC recommendations following the May meetings and provide CDAC and department recommendations to the Natural Resources Board for approval in June.

Each county in Wisconsin has a County Deer Advisory Council to provide input and recommendations to the department on deer management within their county. Councils work with local DNR staff to schedule meetings, provide community outreach and an opportunity for public input, review population data and deer impacts on forests and agriculture, develop recommendations on county population objectives and create annual antlerless harvest quotas.

The public can submit questions about the process to DNRCDACWebMail@wisconsin.gov. Information is available on the DNR's County Deer Advisory Councils website.

Watts scores in OT, Wisconsin women win title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Daryl Watts scored a remarkable goal 3 minutes, 16 seconds into overtime, giving Wisconsin a record-tying sixth national title with a 2-1 victory over Northeastern in the women's Frozen Four championship game March 20 in Erie, Pennsylvania.

Watts had the puck behind the Northwestern net when Husky defenseman Megan Carter turned her back. Watts, the leading scorer in the country, intentionally banked the puck off Carter's back and it deflected by goalie Aerin Frankel.

"Literally, I'm speechless right now," Watts said after her 19th goal ended the fourth overtime game in the 20th women's Frozen Four. "I have no words. This is unbelievable.

"My mind is kind of a blur right now. I was pretty sure I could bank it off her."

Second-seeded Wisconsin (17-3-1) tied Minnesota for the most national titles and technically is a back-to-back champion since the 2020 NCAA Tournament was not held because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Wisconsin celebrates its NCAA title win over Northeastern on March 20 at Erie Insurance Arena in Erie, Pennsylvania.

GREG WOHLFORD | ERIE TIMES-NEWS VIA AP

Tight checking kept two high-powered offenses in check until midway through the third period. Then the teams, neither of which had been shut out all year, swapped goals 39 seconds apart.

It started with Wisconsin freshman Makenna Webster getting her eighth when she banged in a rebound of Casey O'Brien's shot with eight minutes left in regulation.

Then Alina Mueller dug the puck out on the end board and found Chloe Aurand in the left circle for a one-timer. Aurand went far corner top shelf for her 15th for the top-seeded Huskies.

Northeastern got a great opportunity late when Britta Curl was penalized for a cross check with 5 1/2 minutes to play, but goalie Kennedy Blair and the Badgers killed off their fourth penalty.

"We did a great job killing penalties and having momentum a bunch in the second and third period," longtime Wisconsin coach Mark Johnson said. "When we got that one goal, I thought that might be enough but give them credit. They came right back the next shift to tie it up. Then it comes down to one shot. I didn't think it was going to come from behind the net."

In addition to 2019, Wisconsin won titles in 2011, 2009, 2007 and 2006 in nine championship game appearances, all under Johnson.

"I haven't met a national championship trophy I didn't like," Johnson said.

Northeastern (22-2-1) had a 22-game unbeaten streak with 18-straight wins. The Huskies were in their first Frozen Four and were trying to win the school's first NCAA championship game in any sport.

The Huskies, who had one penalty, were outshot 37-25 and held to one goal for only the third time this season.

Gillett, Suring place 4 girls on all-conference list

Lena has 3 players recognized

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Gillett and Suring girls basketball teams each had four players named to the Marinette & Oconto Conference list, while Lena had three.

The conference did not break the all-conference players down between a first, second and honorable mention team, instead releasing one list.

Suring

Paige Krueger, Kate Mahoney, Kelsey Smith and Kylee Stelzer represented Suring on the list.

In Suring's 13 conference games, when the team went 11-2, it was Stelzer that led the team in scoring at 14.1 points per game. The senior also averaged 3.9 rebounds, 3 assists and 2 steals per M&O contest.

"This honor means a lot to me due to the unknowingness of what this season has brought us," said Stelzer. "I am thankful to be awarded the all-conference honor."

Krueger finished second on the team in scoring with 13 points per game. The senior grabbed 8.7 rebounds per game to go along with 2 assists, 4 steals and 2.7 blocks.

"Making the all-conference honor (list) means a great deal to me, especially because it was my last high school season and we weren't guaranteed to play," said Krueger.

Smith, another senior, was the team's top rebounder at 10.8 per conference game. She also averaged 6.1 points, 3 steals and 1.8 assists per game.

Suring's Kylee Stelzer, right, drives to the basket during a Division 5 sectional semifinal playoff game against Athens on Feb. 18 in Suring. Stelzer was one of four Suring players named to the Marinette & Oconto Conference list.

Mahoney, a junior, was the team's top 3-point shooter in conference play, hitting 19 triples. She averaged 7 points per game.

The junior also averaged 3.2 rebounds, 2.5 assists and 1.2 steals.

After its strong conference season, in which it tied Coleman for the best record, Suring went on to win a Division 5 regional title before being eliminated in a sectional semifinal against Athens.

"This last year is one I'll never forget," said Smith. "The team stuck together all year which led us to a conference and regional championship. I will never forget the laughs that we had on and off the court."

Gillett

Aubrey DeBauch, Macy Franti, Carleigh Kaczmarek and Karissa Schaal made the list for Gillett, which went 10-2 in conference play.

In those 12 conference games, it was DeBauch that led the team with 14.8 points per game. She also led the team in rebounds (10.5) and blocks (1.8), while adding 2.8 assists and 3.5 steals.

"It stinks that they didn't do all-conference awards like usual, however, I am still thankful that they were able to do at least something this year," said DeBauch, a senior.

Schaal was second on the Tigers in points (10.9) and rebounds (5.3) per game. The senior had an eye-popping 5.2 steals per conference game to go along with 2.9 assists.

Franti, a junior, finished the conference season with averages of 8.6 points, 3.1 rebounds, 2.7 assists and 1.8 steals per contest. Kaczmarek, only a sophomore, added 6.8 points, 2.5 rebounds, 1.8 steals and a team-leading 3.3 assists per game.

The duo will help lead the Tigers into next season.

Due to the pandemic, the WIAA tournament shifted the playoff division for many teams, and Gillett was one of the teams moved up. The Tigers had to play in Division 4, and won a home playoff game before a close loss to Crandon in a regional semifinal matchup.

"There were a lot of ups and downs, and many learning experiences throughout the years," said Schaal of her time on the high school basketball team. "I will never forget freshman year playing with my sister (Kaitlyn) and making it to sectional finals! This was not how I pictured senior year to be but I guess it is what it is."

Lena

Kennedy Marquardt, Natalie McNurlen and Chaela Rabas all made the all-conference list for Lena, which finished 4-10 in M&O action.

Marquardt averaged 7.9 points, 6.2 rebounds, 2.7 steals and 1.5 assists in conference play of her senior season.

"I think this honor simply showcases hard work," said Marquardt. "Basketball has always challenged me and it has proved to me that time and dedication to the sport will allow you to succeed. I hope this honor shows my younger teammates to work hard, because it will pay off in the end."

McNurlen and Rabas enjoyed strong sophomore seasons.

McNurlen led the Wildcats in conference play by scoring 8.1 points per game, just ahead of Rabas (8.0). Rabas was the top rebounder at 8.1 per game, with McNurlen pulling down 5.5 boards.

McNurlen also averaged 2.8 steals, 1.1 blocks and 1.6 assists per conference game. Rabas had 1.9 steals per game.

Gillett's Aubrey DeBauch signs letter of intent

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Gillett Secondary School senior Aubrey DeBauch took the next step in her basketball career on March 19 after signing a letter of intent to play for Cardinal Stritch University.

DeBauch signed the letter of intent in front of family, friends and teammates while sitting inside the school's auditorium with high school coach Justin Daul and future college coach John Pfaffl at her side.

"It means a lot," DeBauch said of signing. "Now I can start planning my future instead of still trying to figure out where I'm going. I'm super excited. I can't wait."

DeBauch starred for the Tigers over the past four years, helping the team to plenty of success while also accomplishing individual milestones.

In her freshman season, DeBauch helped Gillett advance to a Division 5 sectional final game. Gillett won another regional title before dropping a sectional semifinal in DeBauch's sophomore season. The Tigers also had a playoff win in her junior and senior seasons.

As an individual, she eclipsed the 1,000-point milestone late in her junior season and then set the school's all-time high mark in her final playoff win at Gillett. In the same game, she also topped the 1,000-rebound milestone for her career.

She finished with 1,377 points and 1,043 rebounds in her career.

"I'm so proud of the group of girls I've been playing with over the past four years," said DeBauch when asked about holding the school's top mark in both stats. "Together, we made history and that's something super special. In the future, I look forward to watching the rest of the girls play, it'll be great."

DeBauch landed on an all-conference team in all four years of her high school career. She made the Marinette & Oconto Conference honorable mention team as a freshman before earning first team honors as a sophomore and junior.

She likely would have made the first team again this season, but the conference did not break the all-conference list down into first, second and honorable mention teams, instead only providing a list of every all-conference player.

DeBauch visited Cardinal Stritch in the fall, getting to take in a practice and meet the team.

"They were all super welcoming," said DeBauch of the team. "They reached out to me right after that, messaging me later that day."

The Gillett senior then made the trip to Milwaukee to watch one of the team's games in January.

"I can't wait to be part of the family," said DeBauch, who added Stritch and her clicked and it just felt right for her to continue her career there.

The 'Opees' in the age of COVID-19

For the 15th consecutive year, the Wisconsin Freedom of Information Council is presenting its Openness in Government Awards, or Opees, recognizing outstanding achievement in the cause of transparency. Several of this year's awards are related to the COVID-19 pandemic that has forced wholesale changes in how government officials conduct the public's business. All are predicated on upholding the public's right to know. And the winners are:

Media Openness Award ("Mop-ee"): Milwaukee Journal Sentinel

Even in tough times, the state's largest paper blazed a trail for open government. It fought recalcitrant officials to do records-based reporting on COVID-19 in long-term care facilities and meatpacking plants. It intervened in a lawsuit to oppose efforts to shield the names of businesses with COVID-19 cases. And it joined with other litigants in suing the state Legislature over its refusal to release records regarding misconduct investigations.

Political Openness Award ("Pop-

racial and ethnic data linked to the pandemic. The county created a public dashboard of demographic information about cases, hospitalizations and deaths — data then used by Milwaukee Journal Sentinel reporters and other members of the public.

Citizen Openness Award ("Cop-ee"): John Doe

This unnamed person, represented by attorney Tom Kamenick of the Wisconsin Transparency Project, successfully sued the Madison Metropolitan School District to enforce the ability of citizens to get records anonymously, as the Open Records Law explicitly allows. (Too bad we're not having an awards ceremony this year; he could have come incognito.)

While some public entities embraced secrecy over COVID-19, this municipality was among the first in the nation to release

ceremony this year; he could have come incognito.)

Open Records Scoop of the Year ("Scoop-ee"): Tie: Molly Beck, Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, and Emily Hamer, Wisconsin State Journal

Beck broke the story that Jim Troupis, President Donald Trump's lead election lawyer in Wisconsin, filed a list of names of Wisconsin residents he claimed had cast illegal absentee votes which included himself and his wife. Beck checked the county's list of absentee voters to confirm that Troupis was literally trying to disallow his own vote.

Meanwhile, the State Journal distinguished itself with Hamer's persistent reporting on COVID-19 in the state's prisons, including protracted efforts to procure relevant records and the development of courageous sources to reveal dangerous practices within the prison system.

Whistleblower of the Year

("Whoopee"): Peter Tharp

This municipal judge sued his tiny village of Roberts in St. Croix County over its failure to respond to more than 80 record requests made over a three-year period.

In October, the village agreed to settle, providing more than 1,500 records and paying $7,500 in fees, costs and damages. Tharp also had his attorney, Tom Kamenick, file a complaint identifying deficiencies in the village's Open Meetings practices, and send a letter urging improvement, which Kamenick says it has pledged to do.

No Friend of Openness ("Nop-ee"): The UW System

The state university system conducted its search for a new president in a shroud of secrecy, until only one finalist was left. Then that lone finalist backed out, in part due to the outcry over the process. The Board of Regents were forced to restart the process from scratch, urged by the Wisconsin State Journal to "learn from their mistakes." That would be nice.

Your Right to Know is a monthly column distributed by the Wisconsin Freedom of Information Council (wisfoic.org), a group dedicated to open government. Bill Lueders is the group's president.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Backs the Democratic alternative

To the editor:

As you know, there is a special election for Wisconsin's 89th Assembly District on April 6. I'm writing to explain why I support Karl Jaeger.

Karl is currently an elected supervisor on the Marinette County Board. He's pledged to reintroduce the CLEAR Act to regulate PFAS and supports restoring our "Prove it First" sulfide mining law. He also supports the recent budget to expand healthcare access and expand broadband throughout the state. He's also said that he's ready to go to Madison to do the work for our district.

By comparison, Elijah Behnke has said he plans to spend as little time in Madison as possible. When asked about PFAS, he declined to comment. He also doesn't appear to have anything in the way of a comprehensive plan for expanding broadband access in Wisconsin. We need safe water, and we need high tech jobs if this area is going to compete with the rest of the world.

Right now, the lack of fast, inexpensive broadband access is making our businesses less competitive and our communities less desirable. Having broadband access in the 21st century is the same economic driver that electricity was in the 20th century. We need a representative who understands this and is willing to work to improve broadband access for everyone in rural Wisconsin.

The choice for me is clear. I support Mr. Jaeger because he has demonstrated his commitment to the citizens and communities of the district, and to the future of Wisconsin as a whole. He has a history of public service and experience in the government.

I encourage my neighbors in the 89th Assembly District to vote for Karl Jaeger on April 6.

Michael Moran, Suamico

Sees a contrast between Assembly candidates

To the editor:

There is a special election for state Assembly District 89 coming up and the two candidates have very different issues they are highlighting. It's not that they have different approaches to a similar set of issues, they are talking about completely different issues.

Elijah Behnke's website addresses guns, religion, abortion, election irregularities, etc. While most of these are fear-based falsehoods to me, even on his chosen issues, he offers no particular legislation which he would support if he were elected.

Karl Jaeger's website lists clean water, health care, public school funding, and broadband expansion as his major issues. For each one of these, he offers specific legislation or actions he would support. Health care is a major issue for me, and I like Jaeger's proposal to expand BadgerCare with Federal Medicaid dollars. The recently passed Covid Relief package provides even a bigger incentive for Wisconsin to join 38 other states already in this program. That's potentially billions of federal dollars coming back to Wisconsin which we originally paid to Washington.

All of our surrounding midwestern states regardless of political party have already done this, saved their taxpayer's money and expanded health insurance. It's time for some grown-up thinking in Madison and enough of the fear-based falsehoods.

For me, the choice is clear — I am going to support Karl Jaeger on April 6.

Mark Smith, Oconto Falls

TAKE NOTICE that a referendum election shall be held on April 6, 2021 in the Oconto Falls Public School District for the purpose of approving or rejecting a Revenue Cap Resolution adopted by the School Board of said District on January 11, 2021.

The Revenue Cap Resolution reads as follows:

RESOLUTION TO EXCEED REVENUE CAP COMMENCING WITH THE 2021-22 SCHOOL YEAR

BE IT RESOLVED by the School Board of the Oconto Falls Public School District, Oconto County, Wisconsin, that the final school district budget shall include the amounts set forth below in excess of the revenue limits imposed by Section 121.91 of the Wisconsin Statutes on a recurring basis over a period of five years commencing with the 2021-22 school year as follows: $3,300,000 in the 2021-22 school year and $275,000 in each of the 2022-23, 2023-24, 2024-25 and 2025-26 school years aggregating total recurring revenue cap relief of $4,400,000 in the 2025-26 school year and thereafter for the purpose of maintaining current programs and services and funding building maintenance, competitive staff compensation, expanded course offerings and additional building security improvements.

The referendum ballot will ask District electors: "Shall the School Board of the Oconto Falls Public School District be authorized to exceed the revenue limit under Section 121.91 of the Wisconsin Statutes on a recurring basis over a period of five years beginning with the 2021-22 school year by an amount of $3,300,000 in the 2021-22 school year and $275,000 in each of the 2022-23, 2023-24, 2024-25 and 2025-26 school years aggregating total recurring revenue cap relief of $4,400,000 in the 2025-26 school year and thereafter for the purpose of maintaining current programs and services and funding building maintenance, competitive staff compensation, expanded course offerings and additional building security improvements as provided in the foregoing resolution?"

A "yes" vote is in favor of the resolution set forth above and is a vote to approve exceeding the revenue cap on a recurring basis over a period of five years commencing with the 2021-22 school year as follows: $3,300,000 in the 2021-22 school year and $275,000 in each of the 2022-23, 2023-24, 2024-25 and 2025-26 school years aggregating total recurring revenue cap relief of $4,400,000 in the 2025-26 school year and thereafter for the purpose of maintaining current programs and services and funding building maintenance, competitive staff compensation, expanded course offerings and additional building security improvements.

The board of review may not hear an objection to the amount or valuation of property unless, at least 48 hours before the board's first scheduled meeting, the objector provides to the board's clerk written or oral notice of an intent to file an objection, except that upon a showing of good cause and the submission of a written objection, the board shall waive the requirement up to the end of the 5th day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than 5 days with proof of extraordinary circumstances for failure to meet the 48 - hour notice requirements and failure to appear before the Board of Review during the first 2 hours of the first scheduled meeting.
- 4.) Objection to the amount or valuation of property shall first be made in writing and filed with the clerk of the board of review within the first 2 hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, except that, upon evidence of extraordinary circumstances, the board may waive that requirement up to the end of the 5th day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than 5 days. The board may require objections to the amount or valuation of property to be submitted on forms approved by the Department of Revenue, and the board shall require that any forms include stated valuations of the property in question. Persons who own land and improvements to that land may object to the aggregate valuation of that land and improvements to that land, but no person who owns land and improvements to that land may object to the valuation of that land or only to the valuation of improvements to that land. No person may be allowed in any action or proceedings to question the amount of valuation or property unless the written objection has been filed and that person in good faith presented evidence to the board in support of the objections and made full disclosure before the board, under oath, of all of that person's property liable to assessment in the district and the value of that property. The requirement that objections be in writing may be waived by express action of the board.
- 5.) When appearing before the Board, the person shall specify, in writing, the person's estimate of the value of the land and of the improvements that are the subject of the person's objection and specify the information that the person used to arrive at that estimate.
- 6.) No person shall appear before the Board of Review, testify to the Board by telephone or subject or object to a valuation: if that valuation was made by the Assessor or the Objector using the income method; unless the person supplies the Assessor all of the information about income and expenses, as specified in the manual under Sec. 73.03(2a), that the Assessor requests. The Village of Suring has an ordinance for the confidentiality of information about income and expenses that is provided to the assessor under this paragraph which provides exceptions for persons using information in the discharge of duties imposed by law or of the duties of their office or by order of a court. The information that is provided under this paragraph, unless a court determined that it is inaccurate, is not subject to the right of inspection and copying under Section 19.35(2) of Wisconsin State Statutes.
- 7.) The Board shall hear upon oath, by telephone, all ill or disabled persons who present to the Board a letter from a physician, surgeon or osteopath that confirms their illness or disability. No other persons may testify by telephone.

Notice is hereby given this 26th day of MARCH, 2021.

Respectfully submitted,
