Oconto Falls superintendent grateful for community support

Lena and Oconto voters also approved referendum questions

By WARREN BLUHM

Editor-in-chief

A grateful Oconto Falls school superintendent thanked the community for its support in this month's referendum during the school board's regular monthly meeting April 12.

"This will enable our school district to maintain effective programs and services in the future," Superintendent Dean Hess said. "It's going to provide opportunities for course offerings to be expanded in the future. We'll be able to ensure our staff compensation is competitive with our neighboring school districts, and also be able to address both physical and cyber security in the future."

Voters on April 6 approved a measure extending a 2016 referendum approval that enables the district to exceed state-imposed revenue limits. The referendum would begin at $3.3 million in 2022 and then increase by $275,000 per year until stabilizing at $4.4 million in 2025.

The plan was designed to coincide with the payoff of existing debt so that property taxes would increase by about $17 for every $100,000 of assessed property value in 2021.

DEAN HESS

Just under 52% of voters approved the proposal, a margin of 1,189 "yes" votes to 1,104 opposed.

The successful referendum allows the district to avoid "massive reductions" in staff, programs and services, Hess said.

"I'm not sure that was fully understood," he said. "This wasn't about expanding; to a huge extent this was about maintaining the good work that's been happening."

"I hope that our families and our taxpayers know that we will continue to be extremely thoughtful on how we invest their tax dollars in order to maintain high-quality programming and be conscious of the fact that everyone works extremely hard in order to support public education in our community."

The Oconto Falls vote was one of three successful referendum initiatives by Oconto County school districts this month.

Lena voters gave the school district permission to exceed state-imposed revenue limits by $750,000 in 2021-22, $800,000 in 2022-23, $850,000 in 2023-24, $900,000 in 2024-25 and $950,000 in 2025-26.

The financial plan was structured so that projected mill rates will remain stable and actually decrease slightly. The current mill rate is $10.41 per $1,000 of equalized valuation. Baird, a financial services firm utilized by the district, is forecasting mill rates of $10.33 in 2021-22, $9.59 in 2022-23, $9.79 in 2023-24, $10.39 in 2024-25 and $10.46 in 2025-26.

More than 57% percent of Lena district voters approved the question, a margin of 320 yes votes and 238 no.

In Oconto, voters approved borrowing $13 million for improvements to the three school buildings as well as a revenue increase of $800,000 per year for the next five years.

OFHS graduation to return to fieldhouse

COVID-19 moved ceremony to football stadium last summer

By WARREN BLUHM

Editor-in-chief

It looks like the Oconto Falls High School Class of 2021 will be able to graduate in the fieldhouse after all.

The commencement ceremony for last year's seniors was moved from the high school gymnasium to the ST Paper Stadium football field to allow for greater social distancing in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic. During the Oconto Falls School Board's regular April 12 meeting, Principal Dan Moore said that originally similar plans were being drafted this year for the planned May 30 graduation.

"As the administrative team, maintenance department and tech department talked about that, and the fact that we're having some comparable events in the fieldhouse prior to then, the fact that many of the attendees should be vaccinated by the time of graduation, and given that the sound and live-streaming capability is much better in the fieldhouse, we'd like to shift the graduation to the fieldhouse," Moore said.

Mask wearing, social distancing and other COVID mitigation practices will continue to be implemented, he said.

School Board President Ron Leja said the livestream of the ceremony from the football field left much to be desired.

"It was really challenging to see much or to hear," Leja said. "I think it'll be much better (in the fieldhouse)."

Moore said the Senior Awards Assembly and Senior Scholarship Night, which have been held in the school auditorium in the past, are being planned for the fieldhouse, as well. The scholarship event is scheduled for May 12 and the awards assembly on May 26, the seniors' last day of classes. Live streaming will also be part of those events.

"We're particularly looking at seniors and some of the traditional activities that have been a part of the end of their school career," Moore said.

Jury delivers guilty verdicts in death of 14-year-old Abrams girl

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

A former Sobieski man is scheduled to be sentenced June 29 for the December 2018 crash that killed 14-year-old September Deneys of Abrams.

After a two-day trial in Oconto County Circuit Court, a jury on April 8 found Cade Wied, 20, now of De Pere, guilty of second-degree reckless homicide, second-degree recklessly endangering safety and two a pre-sentence investigation.

Data recovered from the car indi-felony counts of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended, along with a misdemeanor count of resisting or obstructing an officer.

Judge Michael T. Judge ordered cated Wied was driving down Sampson Road at 88 mph when it went out of control and crashed into two trees around 7:30 p.m. Dec. 14, 2018.

Deneys was killed in the crash. Wied and another passenger, Josh Christiansen of Oconto Falls, then 17, were treated for serious but non-life-threatening injuries at area hospitals.

A status conference was scheduled for Thursday, April 15, on more recent charges against Wied, who faces three counts of felony bail jumping after he allegedly violated his bond conditions by getting behind the wheel.

According to the complaint, authorities received a tip that Wied was seen driving an SUV on Dec. 21. A sheriff's deputy obtained surveillance video of him filling the vehicle with gas, climbing in and driving away. His bail conditions included not driving any vehicle.

Wied has been in custody in lieu of $100,000 cash bond since the latest incident.

Car fire in Oconto; adjacent buildings saved

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

Fire destroyed a car but Oconto firefighters were able to save adjacent buildings April 10.

According to a news release from Capt. Travis Cain, the Oconto Fire Rescue Department was dispatched to 116 Call Ave., Oconto, at 10:25 p.m., initially for the report of a structure fire. En route crews were informed the incident was actually a vehicle fire. The vehicle was reported to be fully involved next to a garage and between two houses. It was reported the occupants were out of the house and car and everyone was OK.

First-arriving crews found an unoccupied vehicle with the front bumper very close to the smaller garage, and the car was completely engulfed in flames. The car fire was knocked down and firefighters prevented any spread to the buildings.

The cause of the fire was under investigation. The vehicle involved, a 2001 Toyota Echo, is considered a total loss. There were no reported injuries to any civilians or firefighters.

Cain said two fire engines, one ladder truck, one command truck, one rescue truck and one ambulance along with approximately 15 Oconto Fire Rescue firefighters responded, as did two Oconto Police Department officers who helped with traffic control. The officers also assisted on initial hose deployment.

Vegetable planting plans gardening workshop set

As planting season approaches and starts for vegetable gardens, area gardeners have the opportunity to learn more about techniques which optimize the performance and efficiency of their gardens. The Coleman Branch of the Marinette County Consolidated Library System and the UW-Madison Division of Extension are cooperatively sponsoring this opportunity.

The workshop will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, April 20, in the Coleman Baseball Field Pavilion, 320 Elm Drive, Coleman. Participation is limited to 20 individuals, so pre-registration is requested. Register by contacting the Coleman library at 920-897-2400 or branch librarian Tina Brand at tbrand@marinette-countylibraries.org

The workshop will focus on how to get the most out of a vegetable garden by planning the planting. Planting date, spacing, and placement according to the other plants in your garden all matter.

Physical timing and spacing are fairly easy to picture, but the workshop will also work through the concepts of companion planting, through which the gardener can maximize the positive interactions between plants and minimize negative interactions. Agriculture/Horticulture Agent Scott Reuss will lead the discussion and then have time for any other vegetable management questions.

The event is free to attend, but pre-registration is required. Horticulture or agriculture questions can be addressed to Reuss at scott.reuss@wisc.edu or 715-732-7510.

Summer school planning underway

Shawano public schools offering two sessions for students with in-person, virtual options

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The Shawano School District's summer school program will be a lot easier for families this year as officials plan to keep the pandemic in the rear-view mirror and have a program similar to what was available in 2019.

There will be virtual options for families who are not ready for their children to be back inside the buildings, according to Rod Watson, summer school coordinator, but the district is planning in-person learning from Monday through Thursday for five weeks in June and July, as well as Friday field trips to Shawano Lake.

"If you remember, we had that planned last year, but the pandemic ruined everything, and we went virtual for the traditional session and an in-person outdoor session at the end of July and early August that was pretty well attended but didn't involve that many students," Watson said.

For most students, there will be four classes a day, many of them enrichment-based, according to Watson. Some new classes include Spanish for first and second grades, a literature lovers class, engineering classes and even coding classes.

"There are roughly 100 different classes that students can choose from," Watson said. "They are shuffled every year as teachers come and go for a specialty, so we might not be able to teach that anymore, but we offer other ones that teachers want to teach."

Some remediation takes place for students who need it, usually in reading, writing and math, Watson said.

The district is also planning a shorter, second summer session for the first three weeks in August, according to Watson. Students would take two classes per day in this session, he said, and some of the classes would help students to transition to a new grade or a new school, such as the freshman academy for students preparing to start high school.

"There's a class called Camp Third Grade, which I'm working on with teachers at Hillcrest (Primary School) and teachers at Olga Brenner (Intermediate School) about what skills they'd like all third-graders to have," Watson said. "There's also a Camp Sixth Grade for when they come over here (to Shawano Community Middle School)."

Other classes in that August session will also address social and emotional learning, according to Watson. That includes classes on structured play outside.

There has not been an interest in the virtual sessions as of April 6, when Watson presented the summer school plans to the Shawano School Board, but he anticipated some families will want to keep the learning going during the summer months but don't want to have their children in the building while the pandemic is still ongoing.

"There's all kinds of ways we can do it," Watson said. "We've just got to see what kind of interest there is."

Almost 120 students have already signed up for summer school, with some of the students not from within the Shawano School District boundaries, and Watson is estimating there could be 1,000 students involved with classes by the time all is said and done.

"I've been doing this for seven years, and we usually have 500 or 600 who sign up traditionally, and the rest sign up later," Watson said. "It's sometimes hard for people to plan ahead."

Staffing could be a challenge, with interest from existing staff being lower, which Watson attributed to the topsy-turvy school year caused by the coronavirus pandemic. He noted that his current vacancies are in specialty classes, not the traditional ones.

"So far, student numbers are down, but it's hard to predict since we only opened things up a week ago," he said. "It's hard to determine how many students will want to do summer school."

Mother of suspect indicted in reservation shooting

By KEVIN MURPHY
Correspondent

A Keshena man and his mother were indicted this week in federal court in connection with a March 13 shooting on the Menominee Indian Reservation.

According to the three-count indictment, Menom L. Powless-Brown, 19, and Mary K. Powless, 42, both of Keshena, assaulted a man with a dangerous weapon with the intent to harm by pointing a 9 millimeter semi-automatic handgun at another man, a Native American.

Count two of the indictment alleged that Powless-Brown discharged the firearm in relation to committing a violent offense, and count three alleged that Powless-Brown fired on another man with the intent to commit murder.

A news release from the U.S. Attorney's office described the indictment stating that, on March 13, Powless-Brown assaulted another man by pointing a 9mm semiautomatic handgun at him, which he then discharged several times. Two individuals were struck with bullets, and at least one of them sustained significant injuries as the result of the shooting.

Mary Powless was charged with aiding and abetting assault with a dangerous weapon, in violation of, and if convicted faces a maximum of 10 years in prison.

Powless-Brown was charged with assault with intent to murder, punishable by 20 years in prison; assault with a dangerous weapon, punishable by 10 years in prison; and discharging a firearm during a crime of violence, punishable by life in prison.

No court dates have been set in the case.

The Menominee Tribal Police Department and Federal Bureau of Investigation investigated the alleged incident, which Assistant United States Attorney Andrew J. Maier will prosecute.

Shawano Area Fire Department responds to RV fire

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Fire destroyed a recreational vehicle in Shawano on Thursday, April 8.

"We were paged about an RV smoking at 818 Randall St. around 10 a.m.," said Shawano Fire Chief

Shawn Borlace. "We were able to quickly knock out the fire, though."

The flames also engulfed a storage truck that was located in the field behind the RV. Borlace explained that both the RV and the truck were unsalvageable and determined to be total losses.

Borlace said that nobody was hurt and the only things that were damaged by the fire were the vehicles.

According to Borlace, the cause of the fire is undetermined, but the poly fuel within the RV could have caused it to spread quickly.

"With that poly fuel, it doesn't take much to get the fire going," said Borlace.

Eighteen firefighters and 4,000 to 5,000 gallons of water were used to put out the fire. Borlace noted that 18 was a good turnout for a volunteer crew in the morning. On a typical night, as many as 30 firefighters might be able to respond.

Borlace estimated there to be around $30,000 worth of damage.

Sturgeon return to Shawano to spawn

About 1,200
sturgeon handled
by Wisconsin DNR

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Visitors swarmed the shores of Sturgeon Park on April 9 to watch the annual sturgeon migration.

Due to warmer weather and increased water temperatures, the sturgeon spawned early in 2021. With temperatures as high as 80 degrees during the past week, the water became warm enough for the fish to spawn.

“Due to the water temperature, this was the earliest in the five years that I have been here that I have seen them,” said Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources Conservation Warden Clark Delzer.

Spawning temperatures for sturgeon are around 52-60 degrees, according to Aaron O’Connell, a DNR sturgeon habitat biologist.

“Typically for the Winnebago system, these temperatures are met in mid- to late April,” O’Connell said. “But with the warm temperatures this spring, it occurred earlier.”

O’Connell mentioned that thousands of fish make a spawning run on the Winnebago system in any given year. On average, male sturgeon spawn every one to three years, while females spawn every three to five years.

As the weekend went on, more sturgeon filled the shores of the Wolf River at Sturgeon Park. With the growing amount of sturgeon at Sturgeon Park, more visitors followed. The sturgeon are easy to see because they swim shallow, with their mouths and fins poking out of the water on occasion. Like every year, the sturgeon are a popular site for visitors to come from all over the state to watch.

Rothschild resident Lynn Meyer was able to experience the marvelous event for the first time April 9.

“My experience has been interesting,” said Meyer. “I am just amazed that there are so many fish here.”

According to Delzer, Sturgeon Park is a hot spot for the migration and spawn of sturgeon due to how rocky the area is.

“The sturgeon need rocks to spawn,” said Delzer. “The eggs affix to the rocks, and the fish develop on those rocks.”

Ashley Schugel, of Shawano, sits back to get a wider view of the Wolf River and the sturgeon migration April 10.

Even Shawano residents make their way to see the sturgeon spawn run at Sturgeon Park.

“I live right in town, so I come down here annually to see the sturgeon,” said Dave Berkhahn, who has lived in Shawano for 40 years. “It is a really cool experience to see just how big the fish are.”

According to Delzer, these prehistoric fish can grow to be 200 pounds. When the sturgeon are born, they are about 1 inch long. That number jumps up to 3½ inches after about 45 days.

Shawano resident McKaslyn Szymanski makes a point to plan an annual trip with her children to see the sturgeon.

“We like to come every year and experience it,” said Szymanski. “It is very exciting for the kids to see the fish so close to the shore.”

A crew from the Wisconsin DNR was at Sturgeon Park over the weekend to tag and measure the sturgeon. The sturgeon are tagged in order to mark the new fish. They are also tagged for an easier estimate of the population of sturgeon. O’Connell said that the Wisconsin DNR has handled close to 1,200 sturgeon during this spawning run.

Having the ability to see these sturgeon make their spawning run is a unique experience for which many people around Wisconsin and further flock to Sturgeon Park.

“The Winnebago system sturgeon spawning run is unique in that this is one of the only places in the world to see the large number and large-sized fish spawning feet away,” said O’Connell. “The public areas on the Winnebago system that provide viewing of sturgeon spawning are incredibly unique and are unlike other systems.”

THE FABRICATION OF $100,000

Stockbridge-Munsee officials see what Gresham school is doing with gift in fab lab

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

Members of the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribal Council got to see April 5 how their $100,000 gift to Gresham Community School paid off.

School administrators took the council members on a tour of the new portion of the school, paid for through a $6.5 million referendum approved by voters in 2019. Tim Bosman directs the school's new fabrication lab, which is where the tribe's gift went toward, and the former Antigo School District teacher said he's eager to be part of something so new.

"I think it's pretty awesome for the kids and the community," Bosman said. "It's a great start to something that's really going to be neat over the next couple of years. It's just more tools for them to apply their artistic ability."

Bosman showed the council members a number of items being created with 3-D printers, CNC technology, laser engravers and more. Besides the usual cutting boards and wooden hearts, projects have included engraved wooden bookmarks, metal welcome signs, keychains, cookie cutters and other items that are only limited by the imaginations of students and staff.

The fab lab requires students to put their math skills to work as they're designing something, according to Bosman.

"It's just a great way for students to apply those core concepts, and we know that, with regards to the future, a lot of it is in the trades, hands-on," he said.

Students will be able to use the 3-D printers to make items in hours whereas the time would be measured in days or even weeks, according to Bosman.

"Generac used to send their stuff out to get prototyped," Bosman said, noting his wife works for the company, "and it takes two weeks to a month to get it back to see if it's going to work."

The fab lab is also working to create items for elementary school students. Instead of making cards for Valentine's Day, kindergarten students received fabricated items to give to their parents. Bosman said items could also be made for gifts for Mother's Day or other holidays, but they can be made for any occasion.

"The fourth grade was learning about the Iditarod, and they made ornaments, just something to remember it," Bosman said. "A lot of the fab lab isn't just for students learning to do these projects, but it's also to apply to the classrooms, because it helps with memory."

Bosman also showed that the lab can be used to create items with Native American symbols, as well. He displayed an item for the Stockbridge-Munsee officials that had the Mohican symbol for "Many Trails," a design that symbolizes endurance, strength and hope.

The CNC equipment will be utilized more next year, according to Bosman, and students will learn to fabricate cabinets and other larger items.

"It's going to be interesting to see how they come about it all," Bosman said.

There are also plans to open up the fab lab in the evening for adult education classes so community members can explore their creativity.

Bosman said the Antigo School District is utilizing Gresham's fab lab, noting he'd originally been slated to be that district's woodworking instructor, and he's helping Antigo with some of its projects.

"Then they've helped us out with doing some machining," Bosman said.

Jolene Bowman, the tribe's vice president, was very pleased to see how the fab lab turned out. Gresham's student population includes some Stockbridge-Munsee tribal members, about 20 families or more by Bowman's estimation, so the lab will be good for those students as they try to ascertain what they want to do with their lives.

"It provides unique education for all grades to take advantage, and then they can be part of the school," Bowman said. "They'll feel invested in their own education, and there will be positive outcomes and destinations for them as a result. This is a fantastic opportunity for our community, for our families and for the students."

Education is a priority for the tribal council, according to Bowman. The tribe felt investing the $100,000 would be paid back through future generations being able to obtain important skills to build and shape their futures.

"We want to be good stewards and neighbors to the communities that we live in with our families," Bowman said. "A community is not a community without a school, and so we want to make sure we're here supporting the school."

Newell Haffner, the school's superintendent, said the fab lab could not have been completed without the gift from the Stockbridge-Munsee.

"The gift and the timing of that gift was huge," Haffner said. "We got some equipment that was better than what we could buy. We're happy driving a Buick, but now it's a Rolls-Royce."

With the help of the gift, the school was able to purchase an additional 3-D printer, according to Haffner, who is eager to see how well the students utilize it next year when there's a chance schools won't have to worry so much about the coronavirus pandemic. The school had planned to do some community activities with the fab lab, but the pandemic quashed those plans, he said.

"It's going to be cool to see the community come in and learning how to use some of the equipment," Haffner said. "We hope to have farmers come in and learning MIG and TIG welding. I'm excited to see what some of our community can design with the laser engraver."

WIC program clearing up misconceptions

Director wants to help families in need, show program not just a charity organization

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The Women, Infants and Children Program has provided healthy food and nutrition education to those who need it for 50 years.

However, there are a number of those in need who still don't think it's a program that applies to them, according to Marianne Peshek, who manages Shawano County's WIC program. She's trying to dispel the rumors and point out that WIC is not just another charity organization.

"It is a federal program," Peshek said. "It's in every state in the nation."

WIC also provides breastfeeding services to mothers and helps refer people to other community service programs the county provides, according to Peshek.

"WIC works because we are significant in improving children's diets, and WIC leads to healthier babies," she said. "I'm a registered dietitian, so we do a lot of nutrition ed, but a lot of it is the breastfeeding support and the referrals."

There is also a farmer's market program through WIC where families can get food directly from local farmers that's healthy and needed if there is some difficulty finding affordable food in the area, Peshek said. There are some local vendors who also accept WIC funding to provide healthy food.

Where Peshek is running into trouble is when she talks with families who are part of WIC and learns that others who are in need put up barriers, mostly from pride.

"They'll say assistance is for poor people, people that are not working or just using the system," Peshek said. "That is so not true. Most of our families are working families, and I can't say that enough."

WIC is a temporary assistance program, with families staying on until the children turn 5 years old, according to Peshek, although there could be some legislation in the works that would extend the time until a child's sixth birthday.

"They're not living off the system or taking advantage," Peshek said. "Some of them are not making a livable wage, and they do need that food assistance."

The program also benefits mothers who are either expecting or postpartum, Peshek added. She has worked with churches and other organizations to get things like diapers donated to help those who just need a hand up.

Peshek is baffled at why people who are not able to get by think that they're lesser if they participate in a program like WIC. She has noticed some pushback from Hispanic families in need, noting that there are concerns the federal program could check on things like immigration status.

"A lot of people don't know that we do such a great job with nutrition education and helping people stay healthy," Peshek said.

She noted that WIC has started a new grant-funded program called Fit Families. In the program, families set collective goals to get and stay healthy.

"It could be moving more," Peshek said. "It could be drinking more water, or it could be eating more fresh fruits and veggies."

The county's WIC program has seen a decrease in numbers in recent years, according to Peshek — even during the pandemic, when the number of people in need has skyrocketed.

"In big cities like Milwaukee, they have shot up," Peshek said about the same time period. "While we've previously seen a drop in the birth rate, in the last year we've seen an uptick."

There is not a waiting list to get onto the WIC rolls, she noted, and the funding comes from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

For information or to enroll, call 715-526-2822. Currently, WIC assistance is not being handled in person due to the pandemic.

Gresham wins regional title before sectional loss

Menominee Indian eliminated in regional semifinal match

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Gresham Community High School volleyball team claimed an alternate fall season Division 2 regional title before being eliminated in a sectional semifinal match in the postseason.

Top-seeded Gresham took on fourth-seeded Elcho in a regional semifinal on April 10 in Gresham. The Wildcats had little trouble on their way to a 25-10, 25-7, 25-14 sweep.

Valarie Cerveney finished with 18 service points, while Hannah Cerveney had 15 service points and 19 assists. Chloe Bohl had 14 kills for the Wildcats, and Makayla Belongia added eight kills.

Gresham had to work much harder later that evening in the regional title match against second-seeded Tigerton.

Tigerton seized control of the first set early on and went on to win the set 25-17. But Gresham didn't panic, even after getting down again in the second set.

The Wildcats used big runs in the second and third sets before rallying to another set win in the fourth. Gresham won the final three sets by scores of 25-17, 25-16, 25-20 in an gym buzzing with energy and excitement.

"We're all really grateful to be able to have the opportunity to play this year, and Mr. (Tim) Wild always talks about how we worked all year for the end of the season and we really need to put all our effort into it, and I think we really did that tonight," said Valarie Cerveney.

"It's really fun," said Bohl. "My whole team, almost all of us are actually cousins and family, so we all just click together. Everybody is like family. We've never not gotten along, we always work together and that's what makes our team different from others because we're very, very close. In volleyball, out of volleyball, whenever."

Valarie Cerveney totaled 19 kills and 11 service points for the Wildcats in the regional title, while Bohl added eight kills. Hannah Cerveney contributed 25 assists and 16 digs, while Kalayla Tucker had 16 digs.

Josie Cerveney and Maddie Haffner had 12 service points each for Gresham.

The win sent the Wildcats to Elcho High School on April 13 for a sectional semifinal against Algoma. Gresham picked up the No. 2 seed in the sectional pod, while Algoma was the No. 3 seed.

Algoma came away with a four-set win, by scores of 25-20, 25-19, 21-25, 25-6.

The first couple sets were back-and-forth battles between the two teams.

Gresham was able to build a six-point advantage in the opening set and led 16-10 before Algoma used a 8-0 run to surge ahead.

Algoma ended the opening set on a 15-4 run.

ONLINE

Video highlights from Gresham's regional title win over Tigerton can be found online at www.newmedia-wi.com.

"We got off to a good start in the first set. We had a really nice lead and then partway through that set, we just kind of lost momentum," said coach Wild. "It seemed like from that point on the rest of the night, we couldn't get a run going where we could get a little bit of a lead or dig into a deficit."

"They (Algoma) were consistent all night, both offensively and defensively."

Algoma had the lead for almost the entire second set, thwarting off any big Gresham runs and limiting its own errors along the way.

Down 2-0 in the match, Gresham continued to battle and built up a five-point lead in the third set before Algoma rallied to tie it up. But the Wildcats were able to create another five-point cushion and this time held off Algoma.

The fourth set started with the teams splitting the first six points before Algoma rattled off eight straight to grab a commanding lead. Algoma then used a 12-0 run to seal up its win.

After the match concluded, Wild thanked seniors Addison Boucher and Belongia, noting their leadership and importance to the team's success over the past few seasons.

Valarie Cerveney led the team with 14 kills, while Bohl had nine. Belongia added 20 digs and seven kills.

Hannah Cerveney finished the match with 22 assists and 13 digs, and Haffner tallied 13 digs.

Kewaunee Regional

Menominee Indian played at Kewaunee High School for its Division 2 regional pod.

The third-seeded Eagles were swept by second-seeded Oneida Nation in a regional semifinal matchup on April 10.

Fourth-seeded Algoma ended up winning the regional title in that pod.

Marion sets sights on individual goals with young roster this spring

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Marion High School golf team has a couple experienced golfers on the roster this spring, but it is otherwise a pretty young and inexperienced group.

Senior Ellen Radies and junior Isaiah Gueths are the golfers back with the most varsity experience for coach Micah Schwantes. Radies was the team's top finisher at regionals a couple springs ago.

"Having only two returning players from two years ago, it will be the inexperience of the team and teaching the new golfers the game of golf that will be the challenge," said Schwantes.

"With having a young and inexperienced team, the overall expectations are set for them to achieve their individual goals that they have made for the season."

Marion has plenty of athletes it could turn to to fill out the five-golfer lineup, with most having not made their varsity debuts yet.

Senior Branden Beechy and juniors Quinn Tolan and Isabella Tolan are upperclassmen the Mustangs could utilize. Sophomore Andrew Bodoh and freshmen Sam Gueths, Kasey Roethle, Owen Spiegel, Parker Miller and Emily Clegg are potential first-time varsity golfers who could also find roles this spring.

Marion will compete in the Central Wisconsin Conference and then be a part of the Division 3 postseason teams.

Menominee Indian/Gresham boys co-op excited to showcase new golfers

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

As the Menominee Indian/Gresham boys golf co-op gets ready for the spring season, it will do so needing a new group of golfers to lead the way.

Even without experienced golfers to turn to, co-coaches John Teller and Ben Dieck are eager to get the season rolling.

"Excited for some new golfers that will be coming out for the first time and some that will dual sport," said Dieck.

Dieck added that the biggest challenge will be getting the new golfers acclimated quickly.

"Our season is shorter than normal but we are looking to make an impact right away," he said. "We play some challenging courses right out of the gate."

Menominee Indian/Gresham will compete in the tough Central Wisconsin Conference before competing in Division 2 for the postseason.

Shawano Speedway ready to get season rolling

Season set to open April 17

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Shawano Speedway is about ready to get its 2021 season underway, with many fan-favorite promotions and drivers back.

With the favorable weather in the past few weeks, the speedway looks to be on track to starting the season on April 17 as originally planned.

The usual five classes — Mighty 4s, IMCA Sport Mod, IMCA Modified, IMCA Stock Car and Late Models — are back.

Troy Springborn (Late Models), Lucas Lamberies (IMCA Modified), Travis VanStraten (IMCA Stock Car), Jayden Schmidt (IMCA Sport Mod) and Tanner Westphal (Mighty 4s) are the reigning champions in the classes. Those five are scheduled to be honored on May 1, the Night of Champions.

The Dirt Kings Late Model Series will make a couple of appearances this season, including opening night. The Spectator Eliminators are also scheduled to make a handful of showings.

Speedway marketing and promotions manager Brad Luepke is especially excited for the IMCA Stock Car class this season. “There’s gonna be 20 guys that can win a feature on any given night.”

“From all the rumblings that I hear is that all our drivers are going to be back,” said Luepke. “Our pit board is pretty full. We got some new Late Model drivers, some new Stock Car drivers. Every division will have some new faces, and every division will have the veterans too. It’s gonna be a fun year.”

Fans take in an IMCA Stock Car heat race during the Mid-Summer Classic on July 25 at Shawano Speedway. The Mid-Summer Classic returns this season and is scheduled for July 23-24.

Luepke said some safety precautions have been added around the track, including Whelen LED lights and extra caution beacons. A transponder system is also new, and will be able to give drivers and fans lap and finish times in real time.

Ed Bertram and George Giesen are set to be inducted into the Shawano Speedway Hall of Fame on June 19.

The speedway will host its second Mid-Summer Classic on July 23-24. The event replaced the World of Outlaws last summer and received strong reviews.

“People loved it,” said Luepke. “In fact, we did get a little feedback when we didn’t bring the Outlaws back but we exchanged it with this and actually got more positive feedback than negative.”

“These kind of events grow, they get bigger. So your first year is usually your feel out year and it was a really good year. I’ve gotten messages from drivers that weren’t here (last year) and have every intention of coming here (this year). So the car count will be higher, I can promise you that. We’re going to have a lot of fun stuff planned for those two days.”

The following Saturday, July 31, will be the annual Racing for a Reason night. Approximately $170,000 has been raised for childhood cancer awareness in the first 10 years of the event. There will also be an increased purse for the Late Model division that evening.

Championship night is scheduled for Sept. 4. For the entire schedule, visit the speedway website at <https://www.shawanospeedway.net/shawano-speedway>.

The start of the 2020 speedway season was delayed because of coronavirus concerns. When racing began in early June, many COVID precautions were put in place.

Luepke says the start of this season will look similar.

“We’re not actually going to change much from last year, we’re going to keep a lot of the protocols in place,” said Luepke. “Still sanitizing bathrooms, and even the food will be in to-go containers just like last year.”

“I believe that our crowds will mirror what it was last year. They did a nice job up there, they spread out. It looked packed, but when you looked straight on, there was a lot of holes.”

Admission prices are $10 for adults, $5 for teens and $2 for children — with children 11 and under getting in free with a paid adult. Pit passes are $25. For more admission options, visit <https://www.shawanospeedway.net/shawano-speedway-admission>.

“Dirt racing is a fraternity, I call it a fraternity,” said Luepke. “We’re a really tight-knit group, whether it’s the drivers or the fans. We take new members to the fraternity every day, so just come on out, check it out. It’s inexpensive, and you get a lot of bang for the buck. Once you come, you’ll probably get hooked and want to come back again.”

Oconto Falls with limited athletes as season nears

Panthers could have problems competing in conference as result

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

As the Oconto Falls High School track and field team prepares for the spring season, it does so with a limited roster size and not a ton of returning varsity experience.

“Our overall numbers will be down from years past, which will most likely give us concerns and challenges with covering all 18 events,” said Lon Ludemann, who co-coaches with Nick Bohl. “The expectations will be to get the most out of whoever shows up on April 19 (the first day of spring practice). As the saying goes, ‘Sometimes quality is better than quantity.’”

Ludemann also wonders if keeping athletes interested and engaged later into June could be an issue as the season progresses and the school year wraps up. With the modified spring schedule, track and field regionals are not until June 14 this year, as opposed to May 20 — the regional date in 2019.

Since the Oconto Falls team last competed in 2019, it graduated several individuals who qualified for sectionals that year. The Panthers do have a few upperclassmen who will help lead the team.

Senior Amelia Rice will serve as an intermediate distance runner on the girls side, while senior Tucker Moynihan is the top returning boys thrower.

Senior Owen Huber is the top boys sprinter back, and junior Joe Adams will lead the boys long distance runners.

Freshman Hannah Ludemann is one of the first-time athletes expected to make a difference right away after turning in a strong season as a cross-country runner this past fall. She’ll run intermediate and long distance for the track team.

With a limited amount of athletes on the team, the Panthers might have to adjust their focus to excelling as individuals instead of competing as a team in the already talented North Eastern Conference.

“I’m preparing to come out this season and put everything that I got into it, even if we don’t have the numbers like we have in previous years,” said Moynihan. “I am still working my hardest to help make the team competitive against other teams. I definitely think that the sophomores and freshmen will have to step up and take spots that upperclassmen usually have. With this crazy season schedule that we have this year, I am still hoping to have a great season in the short amount of time we have.”

“This season I think that it will be more difficult adjusting to not having some of our best athletes on the team, especially since we couldn’t compete last year,” said Rice. “This spring I know that I will have to push myself harder in practice to better the team even more than years past. For our team, I think it will be important to really focus on our individual events.”

Oconto Falls’ Joe Adams competes during a North Eastern Conference cross-country meet Sept. 4 in Oconto Falls. Adams will serve as a leader in distance events for the track and field season this spring and is one of just a few experienced athletes on the roster this spring. MORGAN RODE | NEW MEDIA

HIGH SCHOOL GOLF

Oconto Falls boys expecting strong year despite youth

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Oconto Falls High School boys golf team enters the spring season with high expectations despite lacking varsity experience.

The Panthers' lineup was dominated by upperclassmen two seasons ago, and all but one of those golfers have since graduated.

The good news for Oconto Falls and coach Scott Schroeder is that the one returning golfer is Evan Jaeger, a 2019 sectional qualifier as an individual.

"We will be a younger team with only one returning varsity player from two years ago," said Schroeder. "However, I like the group of athletes that will be out for golf this year, which will promote quality competition for varsity spots."

"Usually you build on last year's knowledge and success, but those were mostly nonexistent, so we will have to learn quickly."

Some golfers who could potentially fill out the team's five-golfer lineup are junior Rease Hodkiewicz, sophomore Trevor Metzler and freshman Thomas Carmody.

Jaeger, now a senior, will look to use his experience gained in 2019 to lead the Panthers this spring.

"I just plan to lead by example and use my experience to help some of the other guys on the team understand the sport better," said Jaeger. "We've been playing on our own time after practice and I've been teaching them the rules and getting them a better understanding of the game. I'm looking forward to this season."

Oconto Falls will compete in the North Eastern Conference before joining the Division 2 field for the postseason.

Lena eyeing more success with experience on its side

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

While many spring sports teams in the state enter the season with a multitude of new athletes at the varsity level, the Lena High School boys golf team has a couple of familiar faces back.

The last time the Wildcats competed in 2019, they qualified for sectionals under coach John Moe.

"We are still young with losing a year to COVID, but I expect to be competitive in our conference (Marquette & Oconto)," said Moe.

Lena has two golfers back from the sectional-qualifying team. Those golfers are juniors Mason Simonson and Blaydn Anderson.

Anderson had the team's top score at its 2019 regional, while Simonson led the team at the sectional.

"The 2019 team was young, and since last season was canceled because of COVID-19, we lost a few of the guys that were key parts in our success," said Simonson. "There are a few young guys this year that have the potential to be very good."

"My job this year is to push those guys to get out on the course and golf as much as possible. Practice makes perfect," he continued. "This year is going to be more of an experience booster for the other guys in hopes of a great season next year. Being a junior, I obviously don't have much time left in my high school career, so I want to do the best as possible."

Sophomore KC Miller and freshman Braden McVane are golfers who could round out the team's lineup.

After competing in the M&O, Lena will play in Division 3 for the postseason.

Life saving mammography services available in Oconto Falls

If you are a woman over the age of 40, we hope you've already had a mammogram or plan to get one soon. It is important to get regular mammograms because breast cancer normally doesn't show symptoms in its earliest stages. With regular mammograms, breast cancer is more likely caught early, when it is most treatable. Mammograms can even detect some forms of pre-cancer before the development of a tumor.

All women should talk with their health care provider about the appropriate timing for screening mammograms, especially women who are age 40 or at high-risk. A schedule will be based upon an individual's health. At age 40, any woman may wish to begin regular screening mammograms. By age 45, women should have a screening mammogram and continue to have one at least every other year.

What is mammography?

Mammography is specialized medical imaging that uses a low-dose x-ray system to see inside the breasts. A mammography exam, called a mammogram, aids in the early detection and diagnosis of breast diseases in women. Screening mammograms, annual preventive exams, come in two forms; digital technology and digital technology with 3-D enhancements. Have a discussion with your provider about which one is right for you. And, as always, check with your insurance provider to determine if both options are covered.

Mammography on the move

In May 2018, Prevea Health, in partnership with HSHS St. Vincent, St. Mary's, St. Nicholas and St. Clare Memorial Hospitals, launched a 3-D and digital mobile mammography unit to provide residents in small communities greater access to breast health screenings.

The mobile mammography unit is equipped with mammography technology that has the capability to provide 3-D and/or digital images. It features two changing rooms and a waiting room, and is staffed by a registered mammography technologist. It travels on a regular basis to HSHS and Prevea health centers in Gillett, Lena, Mountain, Marinette, Pulaski and Shawano. As of this month, it will be at HSHS St. Clare Memorial Hospital Prevea Oconto Falls Health Center one day a week.

In 2020, the mobile mammography unit and its staff have provided 650 patients in this area with mammograms. Out of those 650 patients:

- 46 patients required additional imaging for suspected breast cancer
- 42 patients received a mammogram for the first time
- 25 patients had not had a mammogram in more than 5 years

"Many of these patients are women who may not have otherwise received a mammogram due to the burden of having to travel to another community far away where services are available," said Tammy Piehl, radiology manager at the Prevea Breast Center in Allouez. "Our mobile unit allows us to take these lifesaving breast screenings directly to them. If we can catch cancer early with a mammogram, it is likely more treatable."

To schedule a screening mammogram in Oconto Falls or another location, call (920) 496-4789. To learn more about mammography services, visit prevea.com/mammo.
