Elderly murder suspect not competent but could become so

DNA matched Lakewood man to Marinette County murders, prosecutors say

By WARREN BLUHM

News Editor

MARINETTE — A Lakewood man currently is not competent to stand trial for a 1976 double murder, but a psychologist believes it's possible he could become competent.

Raymand L. Vannieuwenhoven, 83, has been held at Mendota Mental Health Institute in Madison for the past three months. A June 24 hearing originally set to determine his competency to proceed became a scheduling conference for prosecutors and the defense.

He is charged with two counts of first-degree murder in the deaths of David Schuldes, 25, and Ellen Matheys, 24, who were shot to death July 9, 1976, at the McClintock Park campground in the Marinette County Town of Silver Cliff.

The case went unsolved for decades until modern DNA testing matched evidence found with Matheys' body to Vannieuwenhoven in March 2019, investigators said.

The psychological report by Ana Garcia, Ph.D., is not open to the public but was discussed during the hearing in Marinette County Circuit Court.

"In reading this report, for seven pages, I was convinced that they were going to come back and say he was competent; it's a very favorable report for him regaining competency," said Mark Williams, a special prosecutor with the state Department of Justice who is helping District Attorney DeShea Morrow prosecute the case. "It seems that they need just a little bit more time to continue the evaluation, since he's not cooperating with the evaluation tests."

Because the defendant is resisting the tests, the Mendota staff wants to dig deeper before making a definitive conclusion as to his longer-term ability to become competent, defense attorney Lee Schuchart said.

Judge James Morrison scheduled a status conference for 8 a.m. Sept. 14, and he asked the attorneys to be thinking about the court's options if Vannieuwenhoven continues his stance of noncooperation with psychologists.

"If we come to the same position we are now, in September, I want some recommendations from both sides as to what you think I can do, if anything, to obtain his cooperation," Morrison said.

Several members of the victims' families were present in court, but chose not to make a statement. Morrison noted that under the "Marsy's Law" state constitutional amendment approved by voters in April, families of crime victims have a right to be heard at any substantive hearing during the court process.

Vannieuwenhoven was not present at the hearing because he appeared to fall ill earlier in the day and was taken to a hospital as a precautionary measure.

Toddler drowns in Oconto River

Child disappeared in a wooded area

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

A 2-year-old boy drowned Saturday evening in the Oconto River in the town of Stiles.

According to a news release from Oconto County Sheriff Todd Skarban, the Emergency Dispatch Center received a 911 call at 7:34 p.m. that the child was missing in a wooded area near the river. Sheriff's deputies were joined by members of the Oconto Falls Fire and Rescue Department in searching for the missing child.

The little boy was found in the river about 8:30 p.m., and life-saving measures began immediately, Skarban said.

He was taken by ambulance to HSHS St. Clare Memorial Hospital, where he passed away.

Skarban said the Sheriff's Office and Brown County Medical Examiner are conducting an ongoing investigation.

Oconto County updates hazard mitigation plan

Public informational hearing scheduled for Tuesday July 7

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

Oconto County and Bay-Lake Regional Planning Commission staff have scheduled a public informational meeting to provide information about the county's hazard mitigation plan update. The session is planned to run from 3-5 p.m. Tuesday, July 7, at the Oconto County Law Enforcement Conference Center, 220 Arbutus Ave., Oconto.

Hazard mitigation planning involves developing a set of actions designed to reduce or eliminate long-term risk to people and property from natural hazards and their effects.

The 157-page plan for 2021-26 is an update of a similar five-year plan adopted in 2015 and notes that the county "has experienced several hazard events" in the ensuing years, most notable the windstorm of July 2019 that resulted in a federal disaster declaration, as well as the ongoing response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The informational meeting will provide interested individuals with an overview of the plan, a draft plan for review, display maps from the plan and an opportunity to comment.

The commission has posted the draft plan at <https://baylakerpc.org/services/community/hazard-mitigation-planning> (scroll down to Oconto County 2021-2026 draft).

Gillett prepares for scaled-down Fourth

Independence Day parade scheduled for 2 p.m., fireworks at dusk

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

Independence Day festivities in Gillett may not be as extensive as most years, thanks to restrictions set down in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, but there will be a parade and fireworks.

The Roy Hubbard Memorial Truck Show committee stepped in after the Gillett Civic Club bowed out because of the challenges posed by the state's Safer at Home order and other official responses to the coronavirus. The Gillett Business Association was also assembling vendors to give visitors something to do at Zippel Park between the 2 p.m. parade and the fireworks at dusk.

All of the regular foot traffic and light vehicles will line up at the school. The parade will proceed east on Fourth Street to Birch Street,

The 2020 Fourth of July parade will be going the opposite direction down Main Street as it did in 2019, but the start time is 2 p.m. as usual.

FILE | NEW MEDIA

turning north on Birch to Main Street and through downtown to the Flower Shoppe.

All larger vehicles, including fire equipment, will pre-stage on South Elm Street. When West Main Street is closed for the parade, the large vehicles will proceed to the intersection of Main and Birch, where they will be distributed into the main parade.

The route was worked out with the Gillett Street Department due to ongoing street construction and detour concerns with the State Department of Transportation.

One concession to the pandemic is that tossing candy from the floats is prohibited this year.

The fireworks are to be shot behind the grocery store as in years past. People will be able to view the fireworks from Zippel Park.

Donations to help fund the fireworks show can be mailed to Roy Hubbard Memorial Truck Show, P.O. 64, Gillett, WI 54124. Donors should note on the check "4th of July fireworks" or write a note stating that and who it is from.

ELLIE

Meet Ellie. She is a blanket lover and a true side-kick. Ellie is shy at first but once she loves you, she will never leave your side. She would prefer a home with no kids and would do best with calm canine friends.

PENELOPE

Meet Penelope. She is a 1 year old Hound looking for her forever family. She is playful and happy when spending time with people and canine buddies.

ASHLEY

Meet Ashley. She is a 15 year old shy gal looking for a home to retire in. She is declawed and has a rather calm personality. She enjoys snoozin' in her bed and observing the shelter lobby.

DAISY

Meet Daisy. She is a stunning 2 year old cat looking for a home to call her own. She is always begging for attention and ready to make new friends. Daisy is without a doubt a social cat.
