County departments resume collaborative fight against drug abuse

Meth, heroin, fentanyl, high-grade marijuana pose the biggest threats, they say

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

With COVID-19 numbers more or less under control and vaccinations available to anyone who wants them, a collaborative effort between the Oconto County Sheriff's Office and the county Health and Human Services Department to make a dent in the rising illegal drug problem is finally being taken off "pause."

Heads of the county's biggest departments delivered their annual reports to the county board on April 22, and the director of Oconto County Health and Human Services says the county stands at "the beginning of the post-pandemic phase," transitioning from dealing with the COVID-19 crisis to dealing with its impact on mental health and other social issues.

"The damage that has occurred to the county is significant. There are issues with mental illness, issues with drug abuse," said Mike Reimer, Health and Human Services director. "We had our windstorm a couple years ago; we had to react to the windstorm and then we had to clean up the damage. It's a similar issue in terms of the social issues with the pandemic."

Reimer and then-newly elected Sheriff Todd Skarban worked out a plan in late 2019 to help drug-addicted jail inmates prepare for treatment after their release, along with other efforts to tackle drug abuse. The county allocated $141,000 in the 2020 budget to develop those services.

The COVID-19 pandemic put the effort on hold, but Reimer said the departments are totally committed to making it work now.

"We have a sheriff who refuses to lose, and we have staff that are very talented and united in our approach to battle this methamphetamine crisis that we're having," he said. "I don't want to go into the gory details of what your employees actually have to see in these situations, but you may trust that it's truly horrific."

Mike Reimer, director of Health and Human Services for Oconto County, describes meth as "a terrible, terrible substance" during his annual report to the county board on April 22.
WARREN BLUHM | NEW MEDIA

The effects of methamphetamine addiction are taking a toll on its victims, their loved ones and the community at large, Reimer said.

"This is a terrible, terrible substance, and when people are getting addicted to it, they have to be forced off of it. They cannot stop on their own in almost every situation. I don't believe I've ever seen it," he said.

"The good news is methamphetamine use is down," District Attorney Edward Burke said during his own annual report. "The bad news is now we've got heroin on the rise."

Skarban and Burke said the county had seen as many as four overdose deaths in the previous three weeks, adding that one person was charged with first-degree reckless homicide for providing the substance and may be charged in connection with one or more of the other deaths.

The sheriff said testing for meth often comes out positive for the deadly chemical fentanyl as well.

Although the governor and a number of other politicians have called for legalization of recreational marijuana, Skarban expressed a need for caution because of the higher potency of the product now on the streets and dealers who blend it with other substances.

He cited an incident in Florence County, which had a drug-sniffing dog he said had not been trained to alert on marijuana because it might soon be legalized. But the dog did respond to a batch of high-grade marijuana, and the seized material tested positive for methamphetamine laced inside.

"That's what we're up against; they're blending these substances," Skarban said.

The sheriff talked about people who were arrested for possession of marijuana exhibiting "strange" behavior unlike any he has seen in more than 25 years as a law officer.

"When you have people acting in a certain way and it's really odd, and it's only because of marijuana consumption — because everybody's cool with legalizing it now, right? I sure as hell am not," Skarban said. "I watch these people on this high-level THC concentration in this stuff trying to chew on lugnuts? 'But it's only weed, it's harmless.'"

DA: Jury trials in a logjam

As many as six or seven trials can be scheduled on the same day

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

Jury trial delays created by the response to COVID-19 have left courts in Oconto County and statewide "approaching a crisis," Oconto County District Attorney Edward Burke told the county board April 22.

Burke presented his annual report to supervisors listing the number and types of cases that he and Assistant District Attorney Lisa Rowe handled during 2020.

"The numbers don't tell you how many cases we're backed up on," Burke said.

The courthouse was closed for a few weeks after Gov. Tony Evers issued his "Safer at Home" edict in March 2020, with only essential court business conducted — often using remote technology. Courtrooms reopened by early May, but face masks and some participation via Zoom remote conferencing continue to be part of everyday life.

"We've been trying to have jury trials throughout this process ... Because of COVID restrictions, we couldn't have them. The Supreme Court put restrictions on us so we couldn't have a jury trial," Burke told the county board. "We tried to have one in December and I think 14 people showed up, and both sides get to strike four jurors each, so that left us with six jurors; we can't have a jury trial with six jurors."

On days set aside for jury trial, it's not uncommon to have six or seven scheduled trials stacked up, and most of them are postponed again, he said. "Two of us can't prepare for that many trials on any given day."

With newly elected state Rep. Elijah Behnke watching from the gallery, Burke said he and his fellow prosecutors around the state could use as many as 50 new assistant district attorneys to handle the load, including one for Oconto County.

In the short term, he said the state should consider recruiting reserve judges and limited-term prosecutors to lessen the gap between arrest and trial.

"We're dealing with something that we've never dealt with — nobody, I think, has ever dealt with — is this pandemic," Burke said.

Proceedings of April 21

Justin M. Pieper, 25, Gillett, had his deferred prosecution agreement extended for one year on a 2019 felony charge of strangulation-suffocation, after he pleaded no contest to misdemeanor charges of battery and disorderly conduct, in connection with an incident that occurred last May 17. Judge Jay N. Conley sentenced him to one year of probation including four months in the county jail on the misdemeanor counts.

A jury trial was rescheduled for July 20-21 for Christopher Allen Gulledge, 33, Oconto, after Judge Jay N. Conley declined to accept a plea agreement on charges of substantial battery and misdemeanor counts of endangering safety by use of a dangerous weapon, two counts of bail jumping and one count of disorderly conduct, in connection with an incident that allegedly occurred Aug. 21. A final pre-trial conference was scheduled for May 25.

Judge Michael T. Judge ruled that during his sentence, Wenzel must maintain absolute sobriety and complete all assessments, counseling and treatment deemed necessary by his agent. He must also obtain the agent's permission prior to engaging in any dating or sexual relationships. The sentence is consecutive to any sentences he is currently serving.

Oconto man charged in heroin death

Charges may be pending in other overdose deaths, officials say

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

An Oconto man has been charged with first-degree reckless homicide in the drug overdose death of an Oconto Falls man, and law enforcement officials say more charges are possible in connection with other deaths.

Oconto County Judge Jay N. Conley set bail at $75,000 cash for Jason T. Lipp, 34, during a brief court appearance on April 21. He is due back in court on May 13.

A man identified in the criminal complaint as B.S.S. was found dead in his Oconto Falls home by his son Aug. 2, 2020. An autopsy indicated the man died of a "mixed drug overdose" including levels of heroin, fentanyl, methamphetamine, duloxetine and zolpidem.

The son told authorities his father was in pain and sought to purchase heroin from Lipp, the complaint said. Investigators talked with another man in December, who told Brown County authorities he bought heroin from Lipp and went into convulsions after taking it.

When he woke up, Lipp allegedly told the man, "I knew I shouldn't have sold you some of that stuff, old dude in Oconto died from it."

District Attorney Edward Burke told the Oconto County Board on April 22 that the city of Oconto has recently seen two overdose deaths and one in the city of Oconto Falls, "and it's all the same person." Lipp has only been charged in connection with one death so far.

Sheriff Todd Skarban said officials in Brown and Oconto counties are working together to trace the path of the deadly drugs to their source.

10-year prison term ordered for child abuse

3-month-old child expected to never fully recover

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

An Oconto Falls man was sentenced April 20 to another decade in prison for causing lifetime injuries to his 3-month-old child.

Vincent J. Enneper, 25, entered no contest pleas in February to charges of child abuse recklessly causing great harm and neglecting a child with the consequence of great bodily harm. A related charge of child abuse intentionally causing great bodily harm was dismissed as part of a plea agreement.

Judge Michael T. Judge followed the terms of the agreement filed when the pleas were entered Feb. 9, sentencing Enneper to 10 years in prison followed by five years of extended supervision for the child abuse charge, to be served concurrently with the sentence he is currently serving for arson. For the child neglect count, Judge imposed and stayed a six-year term of prison and supervision, including three years of probation consecutive to his current sentence.

Terms of his extended supervision include that he maintain absolute sobriety; have no contact with the victim or her mother or any children without agent permission; and complete all assessments, counseling and treatment deemed necessary by his agent.

According to the criminal complaint, local authorities were notified by doctors at Children's Hospital in Milwaukee, where the child was taken Jan. 9, 2020, suffering from at least two skull fractures and brain bleed seizures.

Enneper had been home alone with the baby the day before and claimed that she fell out his arms and hit her head against the hardwood floor while he was using one hand to prepare a bottle to feed her.

The baby's injuries were described as very severe, and the prognosis is that she will have lifelong deficits from a severe brain injury, the complaint said.

Enneper was 16 when he was charged with starting several fires inside St. Anthony Catholic School on Feb. 21, 2012, causing approximately $2 million in damage. He told authorities he did it because he was fascinated by fire.

He was sentenced to five years in prison to be followed by 10 years of extended supervision. He was still serving the second phase of that sentence when he was arrested a year ago. The extended supervision was revoked because of the violation, and he is serving seven years of additional confinement with two years reserved as extended supervision.

Former coach, teacher sentenced to prison

Charge involved sexual relationship with a 15-year-old student

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

A former assistant coach and substitute teacher with the Oconto Falls School District has been sentenced to prison for having an inappropriate sexual relationship with a 15-year-old student more than five years ago.

Brynn M. Larsen, 31, pleaded no contest in February to third-degree sexual assault in connection with the relationship with one of her volleyball players beginning in October 2013.

Oconto County Circuit Judge Michael T. Judge sentenced Larsen on April 20 to two years in prison, followed by five years of extended supervision, during which time she may have no contact with the former student and may not have contact with any minors without prior agent approval. She must enroll in and successfully complete all treatment programs deemed appropriate by the Department of Corrections, and she must register and comply with the sex offender registry program.

The criminal complaint said school and police officials questioned Larsen and the girl in 2013 after they were seen leaving a restaurant holding hands, and another teacher saw them holding hands and kissing at a mall.

Both called it a close friendship and denied having any sexual contact. The matter was set aside until April 2019, when the young woman, then 20, contacted Oconto Falls police and said "she needs to meet with them, and it's time for the truth to come out," the complaint said.

She told Detective Jamie Kuhn that the 2013 relationship did indeed include several encounters involving sexual contact.

Larsen was originally charged with repeated sexual assault of the same child, second-degree sexual assault of a child and two counts of child enticement for sexual contact. The first charge was amended during plea negotiations, and the other counts were dismissed but read into the record at sentencing.

Viola M. Anderson

Viola M. (VandenBush) Anderson, 97, Oconto Falls, passed away peacefully on April 19, 2021, with family at her side. Viola was born April 4, 1924, to William Sr. and Rose (Wood) VandenBush.

Viola (Olee) lost her mother when she was 8 years old, and so her father raised her and 13 siblings. She worked hard learning to sew, cook, clean and to always appreciate every moment of life.

Viola married Arnold W. Anderson on April 11, 1942, and they settled into their home in Swede Town, where they raised their eight children. She sewed, raised chickens, gardened, baked, canned meats and vegetables. Her large family always enjoyed her excellent meals.

Olee learned to ride bike and swim after age 55. In 1993, at the tender age of 69, Viola directed the Senior Citizen Exercise Class in Oconto Falls. She enjoyed doing water aerobics, walking with the neighbors, bowling and making flower arrangements. She made homecoming, prom and wedding dresses, christening gowns, baby clothes and baby blankets, as well as a stuffed puppy for each grandchild. Olee will be fondly remembered for supplying her special dandelion wine for the Finnegan Lake Ice Fishing Derby for many years.

Her greatest joy were her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren. She would say, "I'd have all my children all over again just to get my grandchildren." Viola was compassionate and cared for many family members, friends and neighbors.

Leonard R. Mroczkowski

Leonard "Lenny" R. Mroczkowski, 86, Krakow, passed away peacefully Wednesday April 21, 2021, at Grancare Nursing Center in Green Bay with his family at his side. The son of Frank Sr. and Rose (Gonsior) Mroczkowski was born June 7, 1934, in Krakow. On Sept. 17, 1960, he married Martha Tyczkowski at St. Stanislaus Church in Hofa Park. The couple lived in Krakow all of their married life, where they raised their family.

Lenny worked at Carver Yachts in Pulaski for 41 years, retiring from the maintenance department in June 1999. He was a member of St. Casimir Parish in Krakow, where he belonged to the Holy Name Society and was an usher. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus. Dad really enjoyed farming, farming and more farming. Even when he retired, he was at the home farm every day, several times a day. Dad's love for the land was not limited to the fields, as he enjoyed gardening as much as farming. He enjoyed listening and dancing to polka music. A few of his favorites were cookies, chocolate, prime rib and a good old-fashioned. Lenny was a loving husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, and we will miss him dearly. Dad's greatest joy in life was spending time with his family. He enjoyed spending time at the cottage on Rost Lake.

Survivors include his four children, Joanie (Mark) Hansen, Green Bay, Dennis (Lisa) Mroczkowski, Krakow, Darlene (Todd) Lent, Green Bay and Ron (Kelly) Mroczkowski, Krakow; eight grandchildren: Dana (Matt) Buckoski, Brent (Rachelanne) Hansen, Harley (Jon) Duesing, Dawn (Brad Wagner) Mroczkowski, Candace Lent, Collin Lent, Jolene (Mike Pomprowitz) Mroczkowski and Josh Mroczkowski; seven great-grandchildren, Wyatt, Marcy and Natalie Buckoski, Olivia and Allison Hansen, William Duesing and Jaxton Pomprowitz; two brothers, Frank Jr. (Sheila) Mroczkowski, Arizona, and Jim (Pattie) Mroczkowski, Pulaski; four sisters, Phyllis (Matt) Dufeck, Pound, Terri (Butch) Wesolowski, Oconto Falls, Mary (Jerry) Wojkiewicz, Pulaski, Sue (Bob) Simkowski, Stevens Point, a sister-in-law, Karen Mroczkowski, Krakow, and brother-in-law, Ray Kozlowski, Pulaski; Martha's siblings, Mary Ladowski, Pulaski, and August (Mary Jane) Tyczkowski, Pulaski; nieces, nephews; other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Martha, on March 20, 2018; his parents, Frank Sr. and Rose Mroczkowski; his father- and mother in-law, Joseph and Veronica (Holewinski) Tyczkowski; one brother, Raymond Mroczkowski, three sisters, Helen Kozlowski, Regina (Peter) Golubski, Geraldine Mroczkowski; and niece, Debra (Golubski) Reinhardt; Martha's siblings, Alex, Alvin, and Steve Tyczkowski, Tony (Theresa) Tyczkowski, Teofil (Dorothy) Tyczkowski, Regina (Edward) Pasowicz and Angie (Wilmer) Marchant, one brother-in-law Hank Ladowski; and niece Connie Ladowski.

Friends called at St. Casimir Church, W140 Park St., Krakow, from 3-6 p.m. Sunday, April 25, 2021, with a wake service at 5:30 p.m. Visitation continued after 10 a.m. Monday, April 26, 2021, at St. Casimir Church, W140 Park St., Krakow. The Funeral Mass was celebrated at 11 a.m. Monday at the church, Fr. Jim Esser, O.F.M., presiding. The Mass will not be livestreamed but will be recorded and can be found on the parish YouTube channel at abvmcast.org (search for the YouTube widget near the bottom of the page). Burial will follow in the parish cemetery.

The family extends a special thank you to Grancare Nursing Center for all the wonderful care for Dad through the years and, recently, Heartland Hospice for their compassionate care through his last days.

Since it might not be possible to be with the family in person, you are welcome to send any cards of condolence to the funeral home (make sure you put the family's name on the outside envelope and your return address) and we will forward your cards and messages to the Mroczkowski family.

Shawano County honors poster contest winners

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

Shawano County had two children place in Wisconsin's land and water conservation poster contest, and one of them will see his poster compete at the national level.

Flynn Bushman, of Wittenberg, took first place in the division for second- and third-grade students, while Aliya Cynor, of Bonduel, took second place for the division for seventh through ninth grades. Bushman's poster will continue to the National Association of Conservation Districts Conservation Poster Contest.

This is the third year that the county has participated in the conservation poster contest, according to Scott Frank, county conservationist. The theme for the contest was "Healthy Forests, Healthy Communities."

Mary George, an office assistant at the land conservation office who spearheads the poster contest effort for the county, noted that efforts to get children involved with the contest this year were more difficult because of the coronavirus pandemic.

"With the schools closed, it was hard to get the information to the children," George said to the Shawano County Board of Supervisors at its April 20 meeting.

Despite the pandemic, five children entered at the local level. All first places go to an "area level," George said, which covers seven counties. Then those winners continue to the state level, followed by the national level.

"I give them a lot of kudos for that," George said. "They were so brave to take the time and do that and take time out of their virtual learning to create beautiful posters."

George added that this is the first year that Shawano County has had two posters place at the state level.

"That's really a big accomplishment for us," she said.

George proclaimed both Bushman and Cynor as "professional artists" because they each won $25 for getting first place at the area level.

In addition to the state honors, FWD Seagrave in Clintonville provided backpacks with assorted items to Bushman and Cynor, according to George.

Millers win harrassment injunction against Retzlaff

Marathon County judge issues temporary restraining orders

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

A Marathon County judge has ordered the owner of a Shawano County campground to cease harassment of a county supervisor and his wife.

Ann Retzlaff is prohibited under restraining orders issued April 27 from contact with Joe and Jackie Miller and must stop what the judge called "false claims and/or allegations of criminal or violent behavior."

Judge Suzanne O'Neill's injunctions, which followed a hearing via Zoom from both Marathon and Shawano county locations, will be in force for four years.

Retzlaff and the Millers are residents of north central Shawano County. Joe Miller is a member of the Shawano County Board of Supervisors and a member of Stockbridge-Munsee Tribal Council, as well as the Bowler School Board.

The Millers individually filed a request for the restraining orders April 14. The hearing was moved to Marathon County after the Shawano County circuit court judges recused themselves, citing Joe Miller's position on the county board.

Among the items submitted as evidence of harassment was a March 26 email sent to Shawano County Sheriff Adam Bieber, Shawano County Supervisor Jerry Erdmann and Shawano School Board member Mart Grams. In it, Retzlaff said that Joe Miller and the other county board members who voted in March against a resolution establishing Shawano County as a Second Amendment sanctuary "need to be removed, fined, tried, jailed."

Retzlaff claimed in the email that the Millers "openly promote hatred" toward her and her business, Annie's Campground, but have not spoken or written to her about their concerns. She claimed the Millers started a petition against her a year ago that caused "haters" to threaten and harass her.

At the hearing, the Millers denied circulating the petition.

Retzlaff claimed that the Millers "are drug traffickers in our area and I suspect know or are a part of the child/sex trafficking at our two casinos/tribal lands," referring to the Mohican North Star Casino Resort, which is operated by the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe, and the Menominee Casino Resort operated by the Menominee Tribe.

During the hearing, Jackie Miller said that the allegations had an impact on her role as a guardian ad litem (a court representative of children's interests) for the Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohican Indians tribal court. She said she received a copy of the email from the parent of one of her clients and had to remove herself from the case.

Jackie Miller added that Retzlaff alleged that she had committed violence against Bieber at a county board meeting where the sheriff had not been present.

During the proceeding, the judge allowed the Millers, individually, and Retzlaff to ask questions about each other's testimony.

Retzlaff asked Jackie Miller if the allegations of drug and sex trafficking were true, to which she responded, "No." She then asked, "Are you a good witch or a bad witch?" Retzlaff explained that when dealing with satanic sex and drug trafficking, "there are good witches and bad witches. I am a good witch."

O'Neill cut off the questioning, saying it was not relevant to the testimony provided by Jackie Miller.

In her letter, Retzlaff also claimed that Joe Miller "is despicable and needs to be charged with numerous crimes, treason, defamation of character, verbal assault against our sheriff and more ... This needs federal attention and resolution."

Joe Miller denied the sex trafficking and drug allegations and said that Retzlaff's allegations of treason, based on the riot of Jan. 6 at the Capitol in Washington, D.C., were words that "take on new meaning to anyone."

"The respondent speaks to her rights. I ask the court, what about our rights? We beg the court for protection against these libelous and defamatory allegations," Joe Miller said.

The judge issued the injunctions at the end of the hearing.

Retzlaff said she would comply with the order to avoid contacting the Millers, because she felt she had already been avoiding contact.

"As far as exercising free speech — she's (O'Neill) in trouble with what she ordered me to do," Retzlaff said.

Jackie and Joe Miller said they were pleased with the court's decision.

Carol Ryczek and Lee Pulaski contributed to this report.

Seeking more dementia-friendly communities

Dementia care specialist program works with individuals, caregivers, businesses, organizations to educate and advance understanding

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

The idea of dementia is scary: A disease or syndrome that slowly steals your memories and beliefs, all of the things we think of as uniquely us.

It's Mary Jo Ruleau's job to demystify those fears and help people understand.

Ruleau is a dementia care specialist (DCS) with the Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) of the Wolf River Region; Kristin Waukau of the Menominee Nation is another. Together the 29 ADRC dementia care specialists and four tribal DCSs across Wisconsin provide support for individuals with dementia and their caregivers, as well as community education and business training to teach others about it.

"We want to enhance the quality of their life as they make this journey and help them stay in their homes as long as they can," Ruleau said during an interview at the ADRC office in Oconto Falls. The region also has offices in Shawano, Keshena and Bowler with satellite locations in Wittenberg and Lakewood.

Not a specific disease, dementia is defined as a chronic or persistent disorder of mental processes characterized by impairment of brain functions, such as memory, judgment, social skills and thinking ability. Alzheimer's Disease is the most common cause of dementia.

The dementia care specialist can offer classes, resources and "someone to talk to," Ruleau said.

Among the ADRC's efforts is to encourage dementia-friendly businesses and communities.

"The goal is to reduce the fear of dementia and the stigma associated with it, so people can feel more comfortable discussing what they're going through," she said.

Ruleau can lead a "Purple Angel" class for business owners and employees, which she described as a "Dementia 101" session about how to recognize when a customer might be having difficulty.

Mary Jo Ruleau, dementia care specialist with the Aging and Disability Resource Center of the Wolf River Region, helps people in Shawano, Menominee and Oconto counties to understand dementia and its impact on lives. WARREN BLUHM | NEW MEDIA

AT A GLANCE

The Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) of the Wolf River Region has six locations:
Menominee County - Health and Human Services building at W3272 Wolf River Road, Keshena
Oconto County - 229 Van Buren St., Oconto Falls
Shawano County - W7327 Anderson Ave., Shawano
Stockbridge-Munsee Community - Elderly Center, N8651 Maplewood St., Bowler
Satellite offices are open for appointments only
Wittenberg - Located in the Wittenberg Community Center, 208 West Vinal St., Wittenberg
Lakewood - Located within North Lakes Community Clinic, 15397 State Highway 32, Lakewood

When an individual calls and visits the ADRC, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekdays, they can speak to an Information and Assistance person, who is able to provide free, confidential Options counseling, access to publicly-funded long-term care programs, pre-admission consultation and relocation, transitional services for young adults, customer advocacy, access to emergency services and short-term coordination. If the customer gives permission, that customer can be referred to the dementia care specialist, if there is a need.

Also, The Dementia and Caregiver Network of the Wolf River Region is a coalition that brings together people from the community to work on dementia-related initiatives, which the local dementia care specialists are a part of. The Forget Me Not Fund supports the Network.

"We talk about what to look for, how to respond, to help them be warm and accepting," she said.

An estimated 120,000 people in the state of Wisconsin are coping with a form of dementia, she said, and about 6 million people in the United States.

Ruleau and her fellow dementia care specialists are always organizing classes and activities such as the Dementia Friendly Book Club, a three-week series about that's about to begin and featuring discussion of "My Two Elaines: Learning, Coping, and Surviving as an Alzheimer's Caregiver," the 2017 book by former acting governor Martin J. Schreiber about his wife, who was diagnosed with Alzheimer's in 2007.

The online information portal Caring.com lists the book among its "Best Caregiver Books," saying it's "infused with patience, guidance and even humor as he talks about how to provide round-the-clock care to the loved one who no longer recognizes you."

The book club will meet via Zoom or telephone from 2-3 p.m. Wednesdays starting May 5 in sessions organized by the Menominee Tribe, Marinette County ADRC and Wolf River ADRC. Schreiber is scheduled to make a virtual guest appearance at the May 12 session.

Other programs include DICE (Describe, Investigate, Create, Evaluate), an interactive session to learn how to assess and manage the behavioral symptoms of dementia. The next virtual session is scheduled for 10-11 a.m. May 4.

Dementia friendly caregiver activities sessions focus on 300 creative ideas that caregivers can complete from A to Z — making applesauce to creating zen sun catchers and everything in between. The free session includes an interactive group activity, with materials mailed prior to the session. The next session, also via Zoom or telephone, is scheduled for 2-3 p.m. May 11, with another set for June 22.

The state Department of Health Services hosts monthly webinars by dementia care specialists in Wisconsin from noon-1 p.m. on the second Wednesday of each month. The May 12 webinar is titled "Building a Support Network," and on June 9 the topic is "Safety Planning."

Most of these programs were held in person until COVID-19 became a concern in March 2020, and in-person activities are starting to return in limited numbers, Ruleau said.

Among these is "Boost Your Brain," an eight-week program that takes a holistic, evidence-based approach to improving brain health. The program is scheduled for 1-2:30 p.m. Wednesdays starting June 16, with in-person or virtual options for participants.

Speakers and trainers will discuss topics like maintaining spirituality, nutrition, physical and emotional health, socialization and exercising participants' cognitive reserves, Ruleau said.

People can register for these events or receive more information by contacting Ruleau at 715-526-4712 or maryjo@adrcwolfriver.org.

New apartments going up in Shawano

S.C. Swiderski breaks ground on Engel Drive complex

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Ground has been broken on new apartments in Shawano.

Mosinee-based S.C. Swiderski LLC began building a new apartment complex on Engel Drive in Shawano on April 22.

The apartment complex will be built on just over 18 acres. The complex will consist of six 16-unit, two-story apartment buildings with attached garages, four 20-unit, two-story apartment buildings with detached garages and four six-unit, single-story apartment buildings with attached two-car garages. The complex will also feature two road entrances, one from Engel Drive and one from County Road B. Construction costs are estimated to be $20 million.

According to Jacqui McElroy, S.C. Swiderski director of business development, 200 apartments will be added to help with the housing demand in Shawano.

City Administrator Eddie Sheppard said Shawano has been struggling with adequate multi-family development housing.

"This is something that we know that we needed for a long time," said Sheppard. "We have been looking for a partner like Swiderski to get in here and build something. As they did their research, they recognized that we just have a lack of it in the community."

Sheppard said that, as more people are coming to Shawano, they haven't been able to keep up with the demand of adequate housing in the area.

"The supply just hasn't kept up with the demand," said Sheppard. "We just haven't had the construction over the last few years to meet the needs."

With the apartments being added, Sheppard said that they are going to need more housing in the future.

Jacqui McElroy, director of business development at S.C. Swiderski, presents the details of what the new apartment complex will entail at the site on April 22. LUKE REIMER | NEW MEDIA

"I think that this is going to help," said Sheppard. "We still know that we need more, and we are always looking at continuing. You are always bringing in new businesses — you have to look at places for people to live, too."

McElroy mentioned that through research, Shawano was found as an area with an opportunity for development.

"We have been working very closely with the city of Shawano on planning this site," said McElroy. "We do research throughout the state, and this Shawano project has one of our highest feasibility scores that we have seen."

S.C. Swiderski has been building and managing apartments since 1992. McElroy mentioned that all of the departments within the company work together to provide something known as the "SCS Difference."

"From our design team to construction to property management, we are all working together to make sure that we deliver quality housing and great service for our tenants," said McElroy.

Sheppard hopes that these apartments and the businesses coming into the community will help to raise the population.

"It is great to have people who are willing to commute and work here, but we want them to live here and be in our community," said Sheppard.

Sheppard forecasts that some units from the apartment complex will be open as soon as October. In total, the whole project will take 18-20 months to complete.

"I think by the end of 2022, everything will be built up," said Sheppard.

S.C. Swiderski was looking at this area to expand their housing, too. According to Sheppard, this worked out as the city owned the land on which the apartments are being built.

Sheppard said that adding $20 million of additional infrastructure into the tax base will help to ease the burden among all of the Shawano taxpayers.

"In general, anytime you are able to grow your tax base, it is good for your community because it spreads that burden out," said Sheppard.

The COVID-19 pandemic has not affected the overall plans of the apartment complex being built.

"Surprisingly, it hasn't affected us," said Sheppard. "This was always the original timeline. S.C. Swiderski has been pretty open and honest with us all along the way, and fortunately they didn't have any delays."

Sheppard believes adding these apartments to Shawano should excite residents due to the continued growth of the city.

"This is a step in growth in our community," said Sheppard. "There is clearly a need for additional housing, which means that people are looking at Shawano as a place that they want to be. It is always a good sign when people want to live here."

Kolaskes expect business to boom in summer

Green Gables in Bonduel is a new gathering facility for those looking to hold social events

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

A new gathering facility for weddings and parties is ready to make a name for itself this summer.

Bill Kolaske, who owns the Red Rooster in Bonduel, purchased the property at N3711 Highway 47 mainly for the barn that was there. A bonus was the 1870s Victorian-style farmhouse that sat next to it. In 2018, the Kolaske family started renovations on the property. Kolaske is assisted by his seven children and their families in staffing the venue.

"He wanted to open a bed and breakfast when he bought this," mentioned Bill's son Ben Kolaske. "The setting and the location was prime for hosting events. He wanted a business that his kids could take over."

Since the renovations were finished on the house and the barn in 2020, Green Gables of Bonduel has become a popular destination for groups of people seeking to host weddings, parties and other gatherings.

"People who did not know that this was here are very impressed with how the renovation went from a barn to as neat as what it did," said Ben Kolaske. "They like the rustic feel and the rustic look."

The family-run business is not limiting itself just to weddings, however. The Kolaskes are also accepting reservations for banquets, class reunions, graduation parties and anniversaries. A craft show, yoga nights and bluegrass music are on the docket for summer, he said.

While the renovated farmhouse did not end up becoming a bed and breakfast, the Kolaskes have put the facility to good use. "We have had small dinner parties for a maximum of a dozen people," said Ben Kolaske. "We provide all of the food."

Stephanie Kolaske, Ben's wife, mentioned that summer will be a busy time at the event space. "We are booked pretty much all of June," she said.

To that end, their staff has plans to continue renovating and improving the grounds to make it a top-notch destination for their clients. "We also have plans to paint the barn and build an arbor to place weddings and receptions wherever the guests want to go," said Ben Kolaske.

All told, the space is large enough for a significant number of guests. "For a sit-down meal, we can hold about 250," said Stephanie Kolaske.

The Victorian-style house on the Green Gables property offers visitors a place to relax and host dinner parties. Dinner parties have been a popular event here, as the employees of Green Gables can accommodate a dozen people in the house. LUKE REIMER | NEW MEDIA

"We want to accommodate however many people that those holding the gathering want there," said Ben Kolaske.

As word spreads about the new facility, Stephanie Kolaske said she is noticing interest from people outside the local community.

"We have had people come in from down by Green Bay and Appleton," she said. "We even had someone from Missouri who is interested in booking an event."

Stephanie Kolaske mentioned that even with the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the size of their facility has led to minimal issues.

"We are lucky in that we have not had much trouble with the pandemic," she said. "We have had groups who wanted to socially distance, and we were able to accommodate them." In addition to allowing for sufficient spacing, the business can also provide extra cleaning for additional peace of mind.

As the weather continues to get warmer and the pandemic slows, business is expected to boom at Green Gables.

"We are expecting to be fully booked by 2022," said Stephanie Kolaske. "We have had a lot of people already. This year we are devoting to exposure and getting people into the barn. 2022 is looking good."

"Any weekends that we have open this year, we want to use as an advertising weekend," added her husband. "We have looked into having a kids' day — having someone come out and do balloon animals and a magician, just to bring people in and know that we are here."

The community is expected to play a big role in the success of Green Gables, as Stephanie Kolaske mentioned that she wants this facility to hold more than just personal events.

"We really want to be a big community place," she said. "We want to hold a lot of community events, hence an FFA dinner banquet and yoga nights."

The Kolaskes mentioned that this facility is needed for the community because of the increased demand for different settings for gatherings. They also said they hope their success will spill over and help other community businesses to thrive.

"The uniqueness of the Green Gables is something that people take into consideration when planning their event," said Ben Kolaske. "It also brings in more business for the community."

"We just want to be a place for people around here to just come and hang out," said Stephanie Kolaske. "There is not much like this facility around Bonduel."

Open house at Horsens

Shawano County residents witness new robot milking technology

The cows at Horsens Homestead Farms poke their heads out of their feeding stations to greet visitors on April 24. The farm milks around 720 cows with state-of-the-art milking technology.

Dozens of visitors took advantage of the April 24 open house at the new robotic milking facility at Horsens Homestead Farms in Cecil to witness the latest in modern farming.

Co-manager of Horsens Homstead Farms, Ryan Horsens mentioned that an opportunity opened up to finally show community residents the new facility. Horsens is a fifth-generation farmer, with the farm starting in 1879.

"We built this project 16 months ago and with COVID-19 and everything, we were always wanting to do an open house," said Horsens. "A lot of neighbors were asking if they could see things and check it out — there was finally a good opportunity to show everybody what we did."

The robot milkers were introduced to the farm in December 2019. According to Horsens, the farm's new robot milkers were a main draw of residents coming to the open house.

Horsens mentioned that robots came out in the last decade, but in the last couple of years, that technology has really improved. He mentioned that Horsens Homestead Farms has included these robots in their facility because it gives the cows more comfort.

"For us, what we were drawn to was the cow comfort," said Horsens. "Its kind of the cow's world, which has always been what we have been striving to do."

Visitors at the open house mentioned that the technology at the farm is a surprising sight to see.

"It is very interesting," said Gillett resident Rich Rademann, who grew up on a farm. "It is unreal to see how modern farming has become."

Roger Salzwedel, a Shawano County resident, was in awe at the new technology in the barn.

"It is simply amazing," Salzwedel said.

Horsens said a cow knows when its ready to get milked when it feels it in its udder, and the cows in the barn have become accustomed to the robots and some cows try to get milked multiple times a day.

"It is a combination between them feeling it in their udder, when they are starting to get more milk, and they get a treat in the robot," said Horsens.

In total, the farm is milking about 720 cows. With nine robot milkers in place, this equates to 60 cows per milking robot.

"We are very happy with this because we were a little nervous with Brock Herzog, a Gillett resident, meets a cow at the Horsens Homestead Open House on April 24. Herzog was one many area residents who came to the farm to see the cows and the new milking technology.

All of the cows at Horsens Homestead Farms are Holsteins. Ryan Horsens says the cows "just know" when it's time to be milked.

Dozens of Shawano and Oconto County residents pack the walk ways of the barn to get a closer look at the cows on April 24. Visitors were also treated to a lunch of burgers or brats, cheese curds, vanilla ice cream and milk.

Horsens Homstead Farms opened up the milking stations for visitors to come and see at the open house on April 24. Co-manager Ryan Horsens described the new robot technology as modern agriculture.

our higher producing cows — that we might not get that number," said Horsens. "But it has really worked out where we are able to have that many cows."

In comparison to working without the robots, Horsens mentioned that the introduction of the robots is similar to what they were doing before.

"The only thing that changed for us was how we got the milk," said Horsens. "The other 99% of the cow's day, we try to either keep it the same or improve it."

Horsens mentioned that a way to improve the cow's living situation was changing how air was ventilated.

"We ended up going from naturally ventilated barns to mechanically ventilated barns," said Horsens. "What we were worried about was cows that were further away from the opening, making sure that they have fresh air. We want to make sure that the air that the cow breathes closer to the opening is the same as further away — it is probably one of the things that I was most proud of in the project."

Horsens believes that the public needs to care about this because of the advancement in agriculture.

"It is modern agriculture," said Horsens. "Being able to see where things have come in the last 50 years — going from where my grandparents were to where we are now, still maintaining a family farm, but also adapting to new technologies that put the cow first."

The main philosophy of Horsens Homstead Farms has always been putting the cow first.

"Our key things that we always talk about are comfort, consistency, and quality forage," said Horsens. "When you get those three things working, it really makes the best environment for the cow."

Cow comfort is a main focus of the Horsens family with the introduction of the robot milkers. Visitors at the open house noticed this as well.

"This is a very modern choice," said Tim O'Harrow, an Oconto County resident who runs O'Harrow Family Farms. "The cows look very healthy and comfortable."

Horsens mentioned that all 720 cows that are milked in the barn are Holstein breeds.

With the introduction of the robots, Horsens Homestead Farms has also introduced collars on the cows that track when the animals are in heat and how long the cows are eating.

"This allows us to figure out what cows are sick, or what cows need attention," said Horsens. "Even though we are bigger, we are making sure that things aren't falling through the cracks."

Horsens said that the farm averages 104 lbs of milk per cow per day. The milk is sent to Agropur in Little Chute, where it is made into cheese.

PBS Wisconsin launches 'Why Race Matters'

PBS Wisconsin has announced the launch of "Why Race Matters," a nine-part digital series focused on important issues affecting Wisconsin's Black communities.

In the new series, host Angela Fitzgerald interviews Black Wisconsinites about race, identity and achieving racial equity in the state. Through conversations with experts, artists, community organizers and health professionals, viewers will hear the historical context to modern issues impacting the state's Black residents, including mental health, civic engagement, maternal well-being, the school-to-prison pipeline, agriculture and land ownership.

"Why Race Matters" is now available for viewing on all PBS Wisconsin digital platforms. Subsequent episodes will premiere 7 p.m. Wednesdays at pbswisconsin.org/whyracematters. Episodes can also be viewed on the free PBS app on Roku, other digital streaming devices and Smart TVs.

In summer 2020, with an urgent and amplified national conversation about race following the killing of George Floyd, Fitzgerald, host of "Wisconsin Life," felt moved to use her role in public media to help localize the discussion about improving the conditions of Black Americans. Out of this comes "Why Race Matters," an extension of Fitzgerald's commitment to foster a Wisconsin that repairs its stark racial disparities and achieves equity for Black people living in the state.

Each episode of the digital series sets up the conversation with background and context about the history of a systemic issue. In-depth interview conversations between Fitzgerald and her guests follow, where personal stories and how they relate to the larger topic are shared.

"We are building out a library of resources to accompany each episode to reflect that way of thinking," Fitzgerald said. "Here are some organizations, here are some things you can read up on, other things to help that energy maintain itself, to hopefully lead to whatever action makes sense."

Kiara Johnson, a sixth-grade student at Sacred Heart Catholic School, helps kindergarten student Alexandria Thorson to learn about praying April 23 in Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Sacred Heart's sixth-grade class has been serving as faith leaders and role models to the younger students.

Mullen wins 2nd straight IMCA Mod feature

Siefert, Lemmens, Sobiescyk and Westphal claim other features

By DAVE BUSS
Special to NEW Media

Week two of the racing season at the Shawano Speedway rolled onto the track with heavy jackets, stocking caps and blankets filling the grandstands as cold temperatures were the story of the night.

With other tracks having to cancel due to weather, the pit area was full of travelers and regulars for the night of racing. Hardy fans came out to see Jared Siefert, Luke Lemmens, Tyler Sobiescyk, Mike Mullen and Tanner Westphal pick up feature wins.

The IMCA Sport Mods led off feature action with Dylan Waldvogel and Sobiescyk on the front row. Sobiescyk wouldn't let his great starting position go to waste as he stormed out to a commanding lead in the early part of the race.

Waldvogel was challenged and eventually passed by John Holtger, who got close to the Sobiescyk machine on a couple of occasions but was not able to make the pass.

Back in traffic, Jayden Schmidt made his way forward in a spirited battle with Jeffrey Teske and Max Oreskovich. Schmidt eventually grabbed the third spot with Teske finishing fourth.

The IMCA Mods ran second on the night and early on it looked like it would be the Eddie Muenster show. Muenster jumped out to a large lead on lap one and began to pull away as last week's feature winner Mullen began moving forward along with Marcus Yarie.

Mullen and Yarie both started in the fifth row, and by lap seven, they were starting to reel in Muenster. Mullen got by the Muenster machine on lap eight, with Yarie grabbing second on lap nine. Lucas Lamberies followed suit and grabbed the third spot on lap 10.

Mechanical problems ended the night for Muenster, while Mullen was cruising to victory. Yarie held off Lamberies for second, with Johnny Whitman and Konnor Wilinski rounding out the top five.

The Late Model Division saw longtime driver Siefert and Justin Ritchie starting in the front row. Siefert capitalized on a great start to grab the top spot and began to pull away from the Ritchie machine. Ron Berna began to challenge Ritchie for the runner-up spot.

A lap seven caution slowed action. On the restart, Berna got past Ritchie and began to challenge Siefert for the lead. Siefert was up to the challenge and again started to extend his lead.

On lap 13, caution flew again and once again give Ritchie and Berna an opportunity to get to Siefert's back bumper. Ritchie used this restart to retake the runner-up spot, with Nick Anvelink moving to third past Berna. Running an exceptionally smooth line, Siefert picked up the feature win with Ritchie, Anvelink and Berna in tow.

The IMCA Stock Cars continue to show why they are the most exciting class to watch every week at the speedway. Dan Michonski, coming off a miserable opening night, went to a backup car while his primary car was being repaired. Michonski started on the pole position in the feature event.

Michonski jumped to an early lead but soon was joined by Chucky Forstner and Eric Arneson in a battle for the top spot. Trent Nolan also joined the battle throughout the middle of the race. A caution took the Arneson machine out of contention a few laps later.

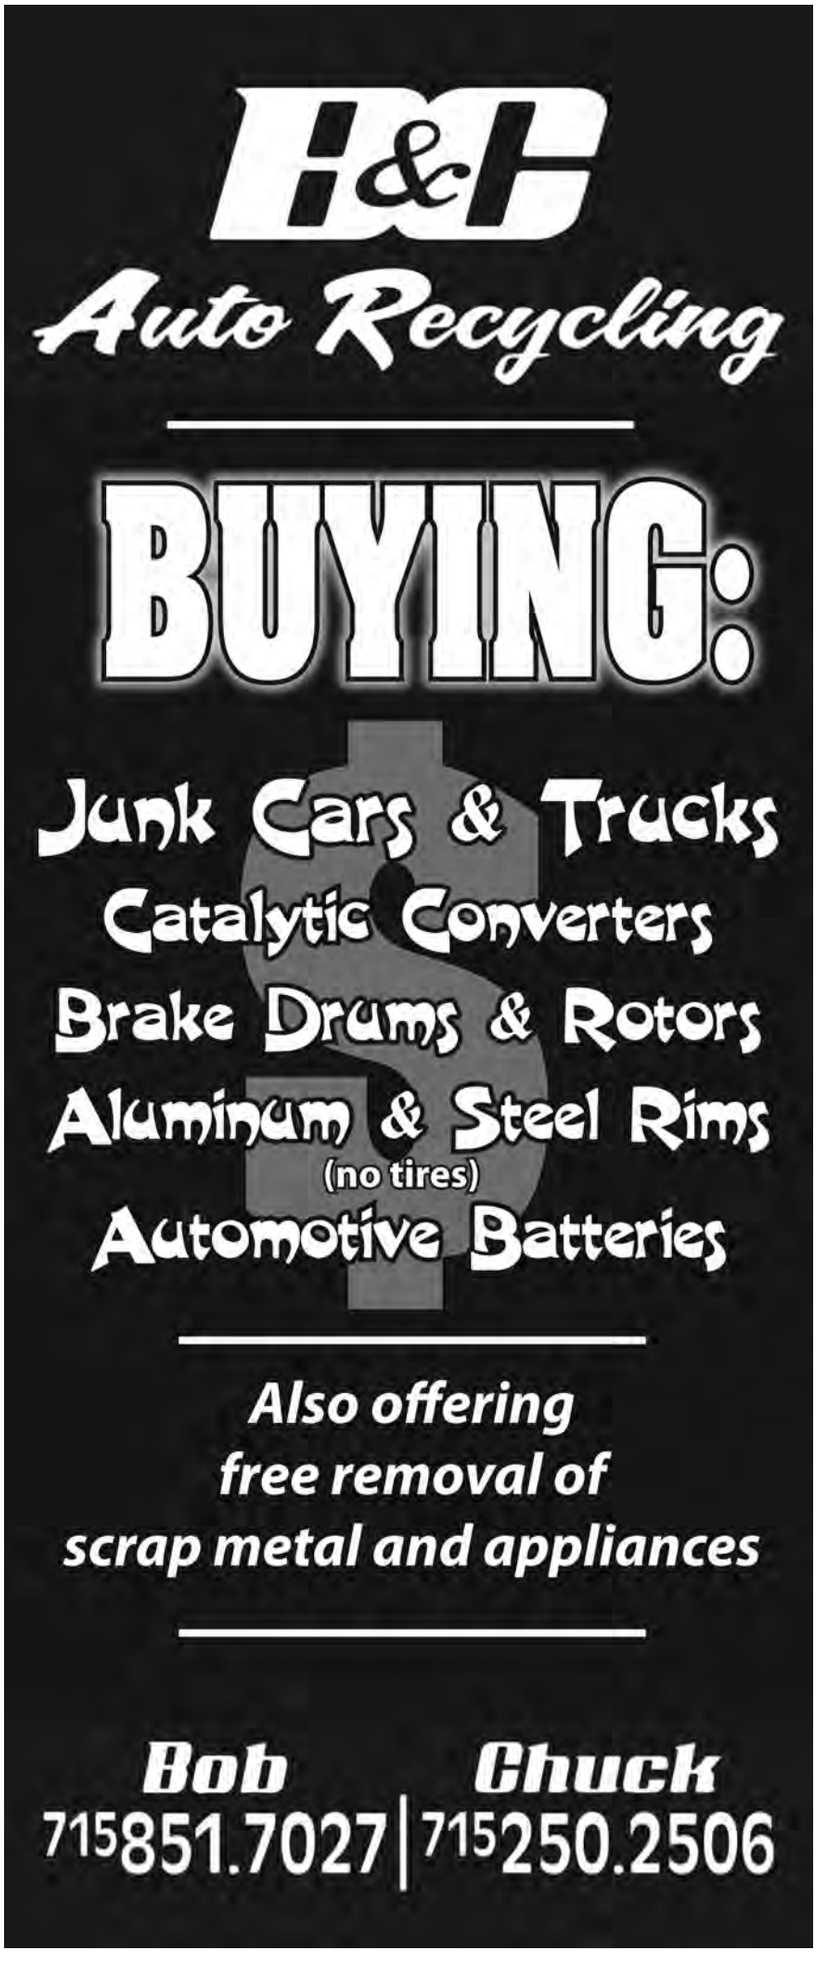

Meanwhile, Lemmens powered his way to the front and eventually wrestled away the top spot from Forstner in a great side-by-side battle. Lemmens, returning to the speedway for the first time in nine years, grabbed the checkered flag with Forstner finishing second. Travis Van Straten took third, with Nolan finishing fourth.

The Mighty 4 feature saw Westphal get past pole sitter Alexis Michonski in the opening laps to grab the top spot. Last week's feature winner Brad Wedde moved into the runner-up spot on lap six, with William Hoefs grabbing the third spot.

Westphal cruised to victory with Wedde doing everything he could to get by. Lucas Hacker, racing for the first time this year, made an impressive run to the third spot, with Hoefs rounding out the top four.

Spring Hearing questions involving Shawano, Oconto counties all pass

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources released results from the 2021 Spring Hearing on April 19.

A pair of questions regarding Shawano and Oconto counties, plus a citizen resolution for Oconto County, all passed.

The Shawano County question asked if individuals favored "applying a daily bag limit of three trout in total with a minimum length limit of eight inches for all trout species in the Little Wolf River from its headwaters to the downstream end of the classified section." The question included the connected creeks of Comet Creek, Jones Creek, Jackson Creek, Flume Creek, Rainy Creek, and Bradley Creek in Marathon, Portage, Waupaca and Shawano counties.

The question passed by a vote of 4,915-753. Of people who indicated they recreate in Shawano County, the question passed 368-62.

The lone Spring Hearing question involving Oconto County was asking if individuals "support applying no minimum length limit for largemouth bass and a daily bag limit of five bass in total for White Potato Lake."

The question passed 4,935-1,270. Of those that recreate in Oconto County, 480 were in favor and 98 were against.

The lone citizen resolution submitted in Shawano or Oconto county came from Oconto. The resolution was to remove burbot from the list of Wisconsin rough fish, which would require legislation. A total of 78 individuals voted on the resolution, with 54 in favor and 24 against.

Of the 57 total Spring Hearing questions, only two were voted down.

People voted against legalizing the harvest of white (not albino) deer statewide. A total of 4,895 people were against it, while 4,704 were for it.

Individuals also voted against allowing dog training, trialing, and hunting on state-owned land from April 15-July 31 without requiring the use of an 8-foot leash. After the votes were counted, 4,870 people were against it, while 3,934 were for it.

Full results can be found at https://dnr.wisconsin.gov/about/wcc/springhearing.

Public input received through this process is advisory to members of the natural resources board, department staff, and anyone who is working on these issues. No final decisions have been made at this time; rather results of this public input will be considered by the Conservation Congress, DNR and Natural Resources Board in the coming months.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

Wisconsin adds former Wake Forest guard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin has added Wake Forest transfer Jahcobi Neath to its backcourt.

Neath, who is 6-foot-3, averaged 3.8 points, 1.7 assists and 15.8 minutes this past season as a sophomore at Wake Forest. He played in 20 games and made four starts.

As a freshman, Neath had 5.3 points, 2.2 assists and 1.9 rebounds per game.

"We have seen that the college game is moving more and more towards using more versatile lineups," Wisconsin coach Greg Gard said in a statement. "Having backcourt depth is essential in today's game, and Jahcobi can give us not only more depth at the point guard position, but he is also versatile enough to play off of the ball and allow us to play multiple guards."

Wisconsin will have a much different team from the one that went 18-13 and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament last month before losing to eventual national champion Baylor. The five leading scorers from that team were all seniors.

Brad Davison is the only senior from the 2020-21 team who has indicated he plans to play for the Badgers again next season.

ATHLETE PROFILE: KENNEDY MARQUARDT

Lena senior looking to pick up where she left off

Lena High School's Kennedy Marquardt is hoping to put together a memorable senior track and field season before heading to St. Norbert College to compete in the sport.

Before having her junior season erased by the coronavirus pandemic, Marquardt was racking up the top finishes in her first two high school seasons.

As a sophomore, Marquardt was the Marinette & Oconto Conference champion in the 100-, 200- and 400-meter dashes, along with the long jump. She later qualified for sectionals as an individual in all four events.

Back in her freshman season, Marquardt helped the Lena/St. Thomas Aquinas Academy co-op's 4x100 relay team to an M&O title. That relay team went on to qualify for sectionals, while Marquardt also competed in the 200 as an individual.

Q: When did your interest in track and field begin?

A: It all began in fifth grade.

Q: What is your favorite part about the track and field season?

A: I love when the bigger meets come around like conference, county, regionals and sectionals. It's a much bigger stage to compete on, and it's always cool to see how everyone shatters so many PRs (personal records).

Q: What is your favorite event to compete in, and why?

A: I love the 200-meter dash and the 4x400-meter relay. They both are longer sprints so it takes an incredible amount of energy and mental toughness to get through both events, but the reward is always great when you finish.

Q: What are your goals for your senior season?

A: My main goal is to just have fun with everything. This is my last sport as a Lena High athlete, so I just want to cherish every last moment. I hope to match some of the PRs I set two years ago, also. My last goal is to make it to state in any event. I have worked so hard, so I hope it all pays off.

Lena's Kennedy Marquardt runs during the Suring Invite on April 23, 2019, in Suring. FILE | NEW MEDIA

Q: After missing last spring, what do you believe will be the most difficult part about getting back into the swing of things this spring?

A: I think that hardest thing will be just going against competition again. It has been over a year since I have competed, so it's going to take a bit to get the times and marks I want.

Q: What is it like competing as a co-op for track and field?

A: It's cool to make friends from another small school just like us! It's weird as well, because in some sports you are competing against them, but in track we are competing with them.

Q: What's your favorite memory of competing on the Lena/STAA track and field team?

A: One memory is from the conference meet my sophomore year. I won all four events at conference, awarding me with four first-team all conference honors. However, my favorite memory was just watching my teammates achieve the success they worked all year for.

Q: Do you have any rituals you go through before competing in an event?

A: I usually like to warm up on my own, because it's a way for me to just relax and think about how I will go about each meet.

Q: Name one thing about yourself that not many people know.

A: I raced an off-road truck for four years.

Q: What's the greatest piece of advice you have ever been told?

A: "Giving up is always too easy."

Q: What are some things you hope to accomplish after graduating high school?

A: I hope to graduate college with a bachelors of science degree in nursing. I also am looking forward to running track and field at St. Norbert College. I then hope to go on to get my masters degree in nursing from Bellin College.

Gillett's Engebretsen to continue athletic and music career at University of Dubuque

He will join track, cross-country teams

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Gillett's Riley Engebretsen signs a letter of intent to continue his athletic and music careers at the University of Dubuque inside the Gillett auditorium on April 21.
MORGAN RODE | NEW MEDIA

Engebretsen will get to continue doing both at the college level after signing a National Letter of Intent to the University of Dubuque in Iowa on April 21 inside Gillett's auditorium.

Engebretsen will join both the cross-country and track and field teams after competing in both sports for Gillett over his high school career.

"Being able to be here today is just amazing," said Engebretsen. "I wouldn't be here today without all of my teammates and (their) support, just the athletic programs with the coaches."

Before signing, Engebretsen thanked his teammates, coaches and teachers who helped him get to this point.

During his thank yous, Engebretsen talked about feeling like a family through athletics. Dubuque gave off a similar feeling.

"The thing that really caught me was knowing that I'd be going to a family atmosphere," Engebretsen said. "The coaches at Dubuque, they said that they wanted the teammates to bond together and they would make sure to make it happen, to have that team bond there. And that's what I've experienced for the past seven years here. Just knowing that I can go back to my teammates to trust them and that's just a big thing."

That family feel was driven home even more for Engebretsen when he got to take in a Dubuque intersquad track meet in January. He was thrilled to see how the team cheered each other on while also competing against each other.

Engebretsen's music career started in third grade when he played piano. He then joined choir and band, which only increased his love of music.

Engebretsen's cross-country career started in sixth grade under Greg Zeitler before moving on to high school coach Bill DeJung, where he helped the Tigers to a lot of success over the past few seasons.

But competing in high school athletics and band wasn't enough for Engebretsen, who plans to minor in piano and major in mathematics. "I don't want this to end, so I want it in college. And so I decided, 'Hey, I'm going to find a college that's going to want me for band and running,' and I was looking and I just found the right spot."

During his athletic career, Engebretsen has piled up several memorable moments.

As a junior, he helped the Gillett boys cross-country team qualify for the Division 3 state meet. At state, he placed 97th to help the team claim seventh.

Earlier that season, the Gillett boys claimed a Marinette & Oconto Conference title.

On the track and field team, Engebretsen was on a sectional-qualifying 4x800-meter relay team as a freshman before helping the 4x400 relay to sectionals as a sophomore.

After losing his junior track season because of the coronavirus pandemic, Engebretsen has a few more things he'd like to accomplish this coming season.

"Going out with a bang," said Engebretsen. "PRing, breaking five (minutes) in the mile, PRing in the two-mile and having a great time with my team."

Oconto County Board Room due for a makeover

Even before COVID, the board's chambers were crowded

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

More than a year has passed since the Oconto County Board last met in the courthouse, and its meeting room is likely to get a complete makeover before supervisors return to their familiar meeting space.

The board has been meeting in the cavernous Holy Trinity Catholic Church fellowship hall a block from the courthouse because seating in the County Board Room does not allow for the social distancing requirements of the COVID-19 era.

Chairman Paul Bednarik told the board April 22 he had been talking with County Administrator Kevin Hamann about a remodeling project even before circumstances dictated the move to Holy Trinity.

"I always thought our board room was very un-handy to get in and out of, and as a result not very safe in case someone would have a health emergency and we would have to evacuate very quickly," Bednarik said.

The Public Property Committee reviewed five options for remaking the room and shared its preferred drawing with the full board. Bednarik said if supervisors supported the idea, they would go ahead and prepare a design plan to present next month.

Hamann noted that the proposal also brings the room into compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act, removing two walls and using what is now Extension and conference room space — which would be reallocated to vacant courthouse space elsewhere.

Supervisor Doug McMahon, who chairs the Public Property Committee, said the proposal is partly partly in response to the experience a couple years ago when a supervisor had a medical emergency during a meeting.

"The main thing is to make it more EMS-friendly," McMahon said. "The way it's set up now, if someone would have a heart attack, it's a can of sardines up there for EMS to come in and do what they have to do."

FILE | NEW MEDIA

Bednarik added that he wants to make the area more of a multipurpose room, with removable desks and chairs, so that it can be used for more than the 50-60 hours a year that the County Board is in session.

Because the remodel is in part a response to the coronavirus pandemic, Hamann said the county can hopefully fund the project with some of the approximately $7.35 million it has been allocated through the federal American Rescue Plan.

Supervisor Guy Gooding was concerned because the drawing shows 6-foot distancing side by side, but the rows of supervisor desks are only 5 feet apart."As much as we think we're family, we're not family as far as the COVID restrictions go."
