Gillett City Council OKs Dollar General rezoning

Company needs to come back with site plan before building

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

The way has been cleared for Dollar General to build a store in Gillett, after the city council voted 3-2 on Feb. 3 to rezone three parcels of property on the southwest corner of McKenzie Avenue and West Pine Street.

Previously zoned residential, the properties will now be zoned commercial, allowing Dollar General to proceed with plans to build a retail store there.

Alderspersons Sandra Hubbard, Deb Rudie and Gary Spaulding voted to support the rezoning; Marie Blaser and Matt Stroik were opposed. Alderperson Nanette Mohr excused herself from the discussion because she owns one of the parcels, at 217 N. McKenzie Ave.

The others are 209 N. McKenzie Ave. and an empty lot at 112 W. Pine St. The retail chain store will need to come back to the council for approval of the site plan.

Developer Todd Platt reiterated that the project will bring close to a $1 million investment in the city, with six to 10 new jobs and the potential to draw people into the community.

"We've been doing this long enough to know that when customers come to shop at Dollar General, they'll stop elsewhere, also," said Platt, who appeared before the council in December and at the Board of Zoning Appeals in January. "Hopefully we've been able to address a number of concerns, but I also want to point out that we've also heard a lot of support at the same time."

In response to questions, Platt said the Gillett store would be bigger than the recently built Dollar General stores in Oconto Falls and Pulaski, with an entrance at the corner of the building facing the intersection, similar to the Oconto Falls structure.

Hubbard said she had no issue with the site, noting that it's a stone's throw from other businesses — including the Peshtigo National Bank branch, Spirits of Gillett, the R Store gas station and City Hall.

"The only thing I'm concerned about for the taxpayers is I think the city has to do some future planning as to what, down the road, they're going to allow on McKenzie, so that the whole thing doesn't explode and we tear down all the houses and this kind of stuff," Hubbard said.

Rudie noted that state Highway 22 through the city, also known as McKenzie Avenue and West Main Street, is a largely residential area.

"That should never have been that way to begin with, and I don't see how our city's going to grow if we stay that way," she said. "I don't think we can turn away an offer like this."

Blaser said she supports Dollar General coming into town but not at that location, preferring the intersection of McKenzie and West Park Street a block to the south.

Saying "I don't want to be disrespectful, because I'm not," Platt replied that the company did look at other sites with the city's assistance.

"This is the only opportunity that's going to meet the location criteria of Dollar General," Platt said. "We've confirmed that with corporate, and as I mentioned the last time, we do not have a Plan B. If it's not this site, we're going to have to pull the file and move on."

Spaulding pointed out that other businesses in the area have expressed support for the project.

Stroik, who had commented at previous meetings that he thought the store should be built at another location in the city, questioned how Dollar General could find six to 10 employees at a time when all businesses seem to be having trouble finding help.

"You offer a more attractive and more competitive compensation package, which they do," Platt replied. "They certainly know the challenges of hiring, and the way they address that is by being a good employer."

Mayor Josh McCarthy said he was convinced by the fact that those three properties are valued at about $141,000, while the average assessment of the other local Dollar General stores is in the range of $600,000.

The project also got a boost from three speakers who are not on the council — including former mayor Jerry Lambrecht, owner of Lambrecht's Service Garage. He recalled efforts to attract and keep businesses in Gillett when he was at City Hall.

"We have to keep growing. The only way we're going to grow is to move ahead. We can't be negative," Lambrecht said.

He reminded the council that when Seneca wanted to expand and build a warehouse, the city closed a road and tore down nine houses to keep jobs in town.

Utilities director Ron Anderson — who emphasized he was speaking as a private citizen, not as city employee — said he lives across the street from the Seneca warehouse but sees it was a good investment for the city. He further noted that Tax Increment District financing from that project is paying for Washington Street improvements and preserving jobs.

"We want companies to invest in our city; we're always looking to try to get businesses here," Anderson said. "You got someone standing here that wants to bring a business to the city. Why are we fighting it?"

Jerry Luther also urged the council to approve the rezoning.

Gillett approves system to digitize school files

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Gillett School Board voted to approve a digitizing system for $12,575 during their Feb. 3 meeting.

"The technology committee has been looking at online registration to update your records, phone numbers and email address," said Superintendent Todd Hencsik.

The system is through Infinite Campus. This allows parents to login into Infinite Campus and register their children. They can also update information, pay fees and submit other items that used to be done via handouts.

The cost for this service comes from the setup and as an add-on extension that the school district currently uses.

Hencsik said that the school district was looking at doing something like this last year, but it would have been too close to the start of the school year.

"We want to get ahead of the ball game," said Hencsik.

He said that the school district wants to get the process of digitizing these files started in April.

Hencsik added that employees within the school district spend many hours getting all of the contact information, fees and other items in order in the past. Using this system would help to cut that time down, as families would have the ability to do it themselves.

"At my previous position, the transition to this took about a year, but it really freed up time for the office staff to get done what they needed to get done," said Hencsik.

Board member Jamie Heroux asked what the case would be if a family did not have access to a computer to partake in this process.

"We would ask that the family comes in, where we can walk them through the steps," replied Hencsik.

Heroux followed up by asking what the protocol would be if English was not the family's first language.

"Does it have any capability for a different language?" said Heroux.

Hencsik said that he believes there is an option to toggle different languages.

He added that this forces families to go into the system to make sure that they have the most up-to-date information in place.

"I think that it improves our communication with families," said Hencsik.

Gillett refinances debt

By WARREN BLUHM
Editor-in-chief

The city of Gillett expects to save about $228,000 in interest payments after refinancing more than $2 million in debt.

The city council voted unanimously Feb. 3 to hire low bidder Northland Securities of Minneapolis to underwrite the refunding bonds.

The company was one of four underwriters who bid, securing the contract with a true interest cost of 2.48% over the remaining life of the debt. Bids ranged up to 2.73%.

"We're refinancing as much of the city's debt as we possibly can for better interest rate savings," said John Cameron, of Ehlers Inc. financial advisers, to the council.

The new bonds cover a 2009 bond issue, two state trust fund loans and a bank note from Peshtigo National Bank, all of which carried no penalties for early payoff.

"This is not stretching the debt out; this is not changing the terms of the debt at all. This strictly is refinancing it for a better interest rate savings," Cameron said.

This is a good time for the city to act on refinancing, he added, noting that interest rates have already started to climb since the council began reviewing the refinance proposal in December.

School board candidates face off in primary

Field will be scaled down to four on Feb. 15

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

Six names will be on the primary election ballot Feb. 15 in the Oconto Falls School District, where two three-year terms on the school board are to be filled April 5. One candidate has withdrawn, although he remains on the ballot.

Robert Kellogg messaged the school district Jan. 25, just before interviews were to begin to fill the last three months of an unexpired term. He was one of three candidates who sought the appointment as well as filing for the spring election.

The school board appointed Sarah Schindel to finish Sharon Stodola-Eslien's term through April after interviewing her and Carla Hedtke.

The primary will reduce the field of candidates to four. In addition to Schindel, Hedtke, and Kellogg, the other candidates will be Chad Early, Ron Leja, and Charles O'Harrow. Leja is the incumbent board president. Polls will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Feb. 15.

The Times Herald sent questionnaires by email to the candidates Feb. 3 asking them to respond within four days; Hedtke and Early did not respond to the email. Here are the other candidates' responses.

Ron Leja

Age: 67

Family: Wife, Cathy; four children; seven grandchildren, all attending Oconto Falls schools

High school: Oconto Falls, graduated 1973

College: University of Wisconsin-Platteville, B.S. in agricultural engineering, 1977; UW-Milwaukee, 24 post graduate credits

Years lived in district: 64 years
Community activities: Abrams Livestock Shipping Association president (38 years); Oconto Falls/Abrams Youth Wrestling (37 years); Abrams Planning Commission (17 years); Oconto County Board of Canvassers (12 years); Pulaski-Chase Cooperative Board of Directors (8 years); Oconto County Farm Service Agency board member (3 years)

Previous elected experience: Oconto Falls School Board (33 years)

Why do you want to serve on the Oconto Falls School Board?

I have a strong interest in education and consider myself a lifelong learner. I would like to provide the children of our district with the best possible education while balancing the interest of our taxpayers.

What are the biggest issues/most pressing needs of the district?

Mental health of students is a significant problem that was brought to the forefront over the past couple of years. As a board we need to provide as much support as possible to help students have the resources and tools necessary so they can attend class ready to learn.

Another continuous issue is curriculum and technology. The board has to make sure our curriculum is providing students with the skills they need to succeed in their future endeavors. The challenge with technology is balancing the cost to stay up to date within the budget we have to work with.

How would you describe the process or philosophy you would bring to making decisions on the board?

My process/philosophy has always been to study the issue at hand before the board meeting. Then participate in discussion, listening to other board members and administration on the topic at hand, while adding my own views. After the topic has had sufficient discussion and voted upon by the board, I support the final outcome, which should be the best decision for our students.

Charles O'Harrow

Age: 61

Family: Spouse, Rev. L. Gail Irwin, daughter Evelyn

High school - Oconto Falls High School, 1978 graduate

College: B.S., dairy science, UW-Madison, 1983

Employment: Farmer and busi-

CHARLES O'HARROW

ness owner (since 1993)

Years lived in district: nearly whole life

Community activities: Oconto County Republican Party (chair and member), 1986-2000

Previous elected experience: Oconto Falls School Board, 2009-2015

Why do you want to serve on the Oconto Falls School Board?

My interest in serving on the school board is being driven by the pace of change that is occurring in education. I find the opportunity to reshape the educational experience of our students, teachers and administrative staff a challenge in which I wish to participate.

What are the biggest issues/most pressing needs of the district?

Artificial intelligence and virtual reality are examples of possible strategies likely to enter into the educational experience of our School District. Finding the balance between students' educational and emotional needs and the district's resources is going to be a challenge for the board's leadership as education continues to change.

How would you describe the process or philosophy you would bring to making decisions on the board?

It's important to possess an open mind that can imagine reshaping the boundaries of past practices. However, as we make decisions, set goals or allocate resources, we must remember we represent all the taxpayers, and must be judicious about how we spend money. Our goal is to optimize opportunity for the next generation, which will strengthen our economic base and community. The changes coming in education will bring tension, but we can resolve it respectfully.

Sarah Schindel

Age: 34

Family: Husband, Travis, two kids.

High school: Seymour High School

College: Northeast Wisconsin Technical College

Years lived in district: 12

SARAH SCHINDEL

Community activities: Sunday school teacher, member of Oconto County Farmers Market Committee, member of Healthy Oconto County Physical Activity and Nutrition work group, nutrition educator for Marinette and Oconto County, grade 2-4 and various community outreach programs.

Previous elected experience: None

Why do you want to serve on the Oconto Falls School Board?

I am running to be impartial, open-minded and to work to bring the best learning opportunities to the students of the Oconto Falls School District. I am optimistic, open-minded, willing to listen and bring a fresh perspective as a mother of young children.

What are the biggest issues/most pressing needs of the district?

Division between the community and the district, and in some instances, between parents and the district or staff is an issue. We need transparent, honest conversations and most importantly open ears to make hard decisions. The district and community need to move forward together, commit to decisions that improve student learning, promote more community and parent involvement, and develop more staff support. Another issue is mental health, supporting both students and staff in this need.

How would you describe the process or philosophy you would bring to making decisions on the board?

I really believe that the main key to navigating through problems is listening to each other. Everyone has different life experiences that shape our views and the decisions we make. If there is understanding behind a person's opinion, we also gain mutual respect for each other. When it comes to tough decisions, some may not like the outcome, but we still respect it because we respect that person and their experience that brought them to that decision. This leads to a community that supports each other, and that's a win-win.

Primaries planned for two county board districts, Oconto mayor, Pulaski School Board

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

In addition to the five-way primary election for two seats on the Oconto Falls School Board, the field of candidates will be narrowed down in two county board districts, the Pulaski School District and the race for mayor of Oconto.

Three incumbents reside in the redrawn Oconto County Board District 9, which is comprised of Ward 2 in the Town of Morgan and Ward 3 in the Town of Abrams. Incumbents Al Stranz and Leonard Wahl are on the ballot along with Jolene Barkhaus and Gordon Aprill. The top two vote-getters will advance to the April 5 election. Incumbent Supervisor Fran Wranosky chose not to run for reelection.

The official description of the new District 9 is as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of the Town of Morgan; thence east along the north boundary line of the Town of Morgan and continuing east along the north boundary line of the Town of Abrams to the northeast corner of the Town of Abrams; thence south along the east boundary line of the Town of Abrams to the Pensaukee River; thence southwesterly along the Pensaukee River to County Road EE; thence northwesterly along County Road EE to County Road E; thence west along County Road E to the west boundary line of the Town of Morgan; thence north along said west boundary line to the place of beginning.

A primary is also set for District 20, where there is no incumbent. Covering Ward 1 of the Town of Oconto Falls and Ward 1 of the Town of Stiles, the candidates are Timothy C. O'Harrow, Keith Schneider, Jerrold Schroeder and Richard Wood.

The official description of District 20 is as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner of the Town of Stiles; thence south along the boundary line between the Town of Stiles and the Town of Oconto to the southeast corner of the Town of Stiles; thence west along the boundary line between the Town of Stiles and the Town of Pensaukee and continuing west along the boundary line between the Town of Stiles and the Town of Abrams to the center of U.S. Highway 141; thence north along the center of U.S. Highway 141 to state Highway 22; thence west along state Highway 22 to the boundary line between the Town of Stiles and the Town of Oconto Falls; thence south along said boundary line to the north boundary of the City of Oconto Falls; thence in a counterclockwise direction along the northerly line of the City of Oconto Falls to the Oconto River at a point northwest of the hydroelectric dam in the City of Oconto Falls; thence westerly along the Oconto River to County Road K; thence north along County Road K to state Highway 22; thence west along state Highway 22 to the boundary line between the Town of Oconto Falls and the Town of Gillett; thence north along said boundary line to the northwest corner of the Town of Oconto Falls; thence east along the boundary line between the Town of Oconto Falls and the Town of Spruce and continuing east along the boundary line between the Town of Stiles and the Town of Lena to the place of beginning.

In the city of Oconto, where Mayor Lloyd Heier chose not to run for reelection, Cliff Martin, John Panetti and Patrick J. Trepanier are on the ballot. The top two vote-getters will square off in April.

Three candidates are running for the Zone 1 (village of Pulaski) seat on the Pulaski School Board: Heidi Bukowiec, Jackie Huisman and Matt Rowland. Incumbent Brian Chlopek is not running. The top two vote-getters will be on the April 5 ballot.

The Pulaski board voted Jan. 13 to have seven polling places for the spring primary for Zone 1 instead of the usual 12 in anticipation of low voter turnout and to save money for both the school district and local municipalities. Polling places that were eliminated for this election only are those that had the lowest turnout in the most recent primary election.

The Chase Town Hall was originally one of those seven polling places, but since the Morgan Town Hall will be open for the county board primary, voters from the towns of Chase and Morgan are being sent to Morgan.

The other six polling places are the Angelica Town Hall (for Angelica, Green Valley, Lessor and Maple Grove), D2's of Hobart (Hobart and Oneida), Little Suamico Town Hall, Pittsfield Town Hall, Pulaski Village Hall and Suamico Village Hall.

April 5 referendum to address key facility needs in Oconto Falls schools

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was submitted by the Oconto Falls School District.

On Tuesday, April 5, Oconto Falls School District (OFSD) residents will vote on a referendum question. If approved, it will allow the district to address our most pressing facility and deferred maintenance needs while providing our taxpayers with great value.

At the center of the plan is the building of a new school to replace the current Washington Middle School, which has served generations of our students well. However, while the school was built well for what teaching and learning looked like decades ago, the fact is that it no longer meets the needs of a modern, 21st-century educational experience.

Washington has numerous facility and capacity challenges that, if left unaddressed, threaten the level of quality education we can provide to our students.

We also have deferred maintenance needs across all our schools, going beyond what the district can cover through our annual operational budget. By acting now, we believe we can address these needs in a way that will ensure a bright future for our students.

If voters approve the April 5 referendum, OFSD would build a new middle school on a 90-acre parcel of district-owned land adjacent to both Oconto Falls Elementary School and Oconto Falls High School.

The district would also create new secured entrances for all our schools, along with the installation of efficient LED lighting that will ultimately pay for itself. The referendum will also address traffic flow issues at Oconto Falls Elementary School, separate bus traffic from parent traffic and improve safety.

Furthermore, an approved referendum would allow for updating building systems, including fire alarms and updating air handlers. The district would also use the funds to address outdated systems and other facility needs in our elementary schools and high school.

This proposed plan came about through a robust, community-driven process to assess and prioritize the district's needs, consider various options and find a solution that meets the current and future needs of our students and community. This included a community-wide survey and the work of a community task force.

The total amount of the referendum would be $49.9 million, including $31 million for the middle school. It would have an estimated tax impact of about $10 per every $100,000 of assessed property value in our district.

Moving forward now would enable the district to leverage historically low interest rates, reducing the total costs of construction and renovations. Additionally, construction costs are expected to continue to rise in the future, making the need to move forward now even more important.

The district and board are committed to providing our community with as much information as possible ahead of the April 5 vote. To learn more about Oconto Falls School District's facility needs, the process we have used to find a solution and the proposal on the ballot, please visit <https://ofpanthers.com/referendum>.

As always, we appreciate the support of our community for Oconto Falls schools and the students they serve.

School board green-lights fundraising

Scoreboard, weight room items, theater sound equipment expected to cost district over $500K

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The Shawano School District is going to be looking for benevolent donors with big pockets to help finance some big-ticket items for its sports and fine arts programs at Shawano Community High School after the Shawano School Board gave the green light Feb. 7.

The board gave permission for administrators to fundraise for a new scoreboard for the school's football field, new equipment for its weight room and new sound shells and sound equipment for its auditorium. According to Superintendent Randi Anderson, those four items would cost more than $500,000, and they are not currently in the budget.

"These items have been crucial, and they've been identified for the last couple of years," Anderson said. "We'd like to be able to go out and start to fundraise for them. We really want to start moving this forward as we start driving towards that destination district."

Anderson did not give the board specifics on how the district would raise the money, but it could include offering naming rights to bigger donors, if the price is right. In order for that to happen, though, the board would need to develop a policy outlining how and when naming rights could be offered.

"We do not have the funds inside of our district budget to support these items," Anderson said. "They have been a huge priority for the district for the last several years, so we wanted to move them forward."

Anderson told the board that there is a person in the district to "champion" raising the funds.

Board member Jamie Beyer was among those who wanted to know how the district planned to raise such a large amount of money.

"Are you approaching large companies to have naming rights, or is it bake sales and car washes?" Beyer said.

Anderson replied that it could be a "combination" of things but did not specify, although she said there would be more discussion on the "strategy moving forward."

"If we go to naming rights, if that is the direction we go to, then we'll come back with parameters on what that could look like, based off of board policy," Anderson said. "We have to get approval first, and then we'll look at the specifics."

Board president Michael Sleeper noted that the issue of naming rights has come up previously, and he and board member Diane Hoffman noted that there is no policy in place for giving someone naming rights in exchange for a large donation.

"We have denied things in the past because we did not have a policy," Hoffman said. "It has been a discussion for the last seven years, at least — possibly 12. It is something we need to look at. I'm fine with fundraising, but we shouldn't go down an avenue if we don't have something set up."

Sleeper noted that it would be something that the district's policy committee would be looking at in the future.

Board member Mart Grams, prior to voting, said he wanted to make sure these items were only going to be fundraising items and wouldn't be things that taxpayers would have to foot the bill for. He said he has seen other schools succeed with fundraising and wants to see Shawano do the same.

"I don't want this to become a commercial center, like when you watch soccer all over the world and there's 5,000 ads. All you see is the ads and not the team," Grams said. "Also, I would not like it to be, 'Oh, fundraising failed. Now we're going to make the taxpayers pay.' I have a problem with that, like it's a sneaky way of getting stuff in. If you fundraise it, then I agree with it 100%."

Anderson noted that the four items are vital if the school district is going to be one in which families want to enlist their children.

The four items are also part of a longer conversation the district is having about expanding and renovating athletic and fine arts facilities as a whole. The conversation started in February 2020, before the pandemic derailed things. The board was at that time looking at a plan that could cost about $3.3 million, with the potential of tapping into the district's fund balance, which was then sitting at $7 million.

The pandemic forced Wisconsin schools to close less than a month later, and the topic took a back seat to how to keep education going in a pandemic and how to keep schools open. However, in January of this year, discussions on performing arts and athletics facility improvements came up again. It was during a town hall meeting the district had with the community where it was announced that the district is looking at an estimated $26 million in maintenance projects at all the schools over the next 10 years, a time when enrollment is expected to continue to drop.

After that meeting, the district developed an ad-hoc committee of what it calls its stakeholders to look at the facilities and figure out ways to pay for the maintenance projects. The committee met Jan. 31 and is expected to meet again in February. The committee is expected to bring some recommendations to the board sometime in the spring.

Shawano County moving forward with redistricting map

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Shawano County Redistricting Committee is moving forward with its proposed redistricting map.

The decision was made during the committee's Feb. 2 public forum and subsequent meeting. With no one from the public giving input, the committee decided to approve the map that was discussed at its Sept. 30 meeting.

During that Sept. 30 meeting, the only change made to the map was in the Town of Angelica, at the suggestion of Angelica supervisors James and Connie Przybylski.

"We would like some consideration on the maps that we sorted through," said James Przybylski. "The total population works out pretty fine. We have quite a few wards and we would like to keep it at a minimum of at least three."

Connie Przybylski said that the Town of Angelica has talked to Shawano County GIS coordinator David Poffinbarger about the proposed redistricting map.

"Right now, we have four ballots that we deal with," she said. "If we condensed to this, we would only have three ballots."

James Przybylski added that a lot of questions come up around election time, with residents asking, "Why should I vote for this person if they are not in my district?"

During this meeting, Poffinbarger said that in the Przybylskis' proposal, the population is almost identical.

There would be a -1.55 deviation to a -1.56 deviation.

A deviation is how far away a district is compared to the ideal population. The ideal population is taking the total number of people in the county and dividing it by the number of districts. The final map must have every district within 5% of the ideal population.

The Shawano County Redistricting Committee voted to forward the proposed redistricting map to the Feb. 26 County Board meeting.

Elected officials getting pay increase

Clerk of courts, sheriff, coroner to get 4% hike first year, then 3% in subsequent years

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Pay raises are coming for elected officials in Shawano County.

The public safety committee voted Feb. 2 to give a 4% increase in pay to the county coroner, clerk of court and sheriff. The 4% pay increase would go into effect for the first year, while a 3% pay increase would be for every subsequent year. One other change was made that involved the county coroner, Brian Westfahl, as well.

"The biggest change here would be that Brian Westfahl would move to a full-time salary position and not be paid by call," said Administrative Coordinator Jim Davel. "The biggest change is not necessarily the salary, but Brian would be on benefits."

Being on benefits and having a full-time salary would mean that the coroner would get paid to go to meetings and putting together the budget, among other tasks.

Supervisor Theresa Serrano asked why this was not in place in the past.

"I think this has been an evolution as the position has grown," said Davel. "Back in the day, you didn't need a full-time coroner. We are trying to make this not only beneficial to the county, but we have to get people to at least think about running for that office."

The resolution called for a 1.5% pay increase to begin the meeting.

"That's what the last employees got on the budget," said Davel. "If you want to change that, I have no issues with that. If you are going to change it, I would go no lower than 2%. Last time in the budget, we could afford 3%."

Serrano responded with her thoughts on how much of a pay increase there should be.

"I would say 3% across the board for all of these today (clerk of courts, coroner and sheriff)," said Serrano.

Supervisor Tom Kautza said that if they are giving 3% pay increases to county employees, that money could add up quickly.

"If you don't pay the people, they aren't going to do the job," said Serrano. "Then what are you going to do?"

She suggested that to pay the 3% increase, the county should add 3% to the general fund and to get the solar farm working.

"We can't guarantee that we can get this stuff working," said Kautza.

Supervisor Jerry Erdmann reiterated Serrano's point, saying the county has to make an investment in the staff.

Shawano County Chief Deputy George Lenzner said that they cannot keep going down as a county.

"We can tell you that it is harder and harder to find employees," said Lenzner. "There are other counties that are giving bonuses."

Rec marijuana cash cow for Illinois, Michigan

While Wisconsin Legislature considers medical marijuana, neighboring states reap rewards

By NATHAN DENZIN
The Badger Project

Illinois has collected more than $400 million in tax revenue from recreational marijuana sales in 2021, and Michigan has collected nearly $250 million, according to the two states.

Wisconsin still bans the drug in most forms, but the legislature continues to flirt with legalizing medical marijuana.

Minnesota and Iowa have already legalized the drug for medical purposes, though not recreationally.

In the two years since launching its recreational marijuana program, Illinois has received more than half a billion dollars in tax revenue, according to the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Over $100 million of that will finance programs aimed at investing in communities hardest hit by the drug war, with a large chunk going to fund grants for minority communities disproportionately impacted by gun injuries, child poverty, unemployment and incarceration, the state says. About $100 million was deposited into Illinois' general fund.

Funds from cannabis revenue will also go to local governments, a marijuana regulation fund, facilitating the process of expunging criminal marijuana charges, administrative costs, a public health campaign and research on the effects of legalization.

Recreational marijuana tax revenue is described as a "found money" resource, where one previously didn't exist, by Douglas Berman, a law professor at Ohio State University and the director of the Drug Enforcement and Policy Center there.

"If the money is used well, it can do a lot of good," Berman said. "It's not going to fill every pothole or solve every pension crisis, however it can be wonderful for additional resources."

Of the more than $200 million gathered in Michigan, $20 million will be given annually to clinical trials researching the efficacy of marijuana in treating veterans' medical conditions and preventing veteran suicide, according to state documents. Funds will also go to a K-12 school aid fund, repair and maintenance of roads and bridges, and municipalities and counties where marijuana businesses are located.

Under Wisconsin law, marijuana possession is a felony, though the state has legalized products from non-intoxicating cannabidiol, commonly known as CBD, and the growing of hemp.

Marijuana is classified as a Schedule 1 drug both federally and in Wisconsin, meaning the governments officially consider it to have a high potential for abuse, no currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States and lacking accepted safety for use in treatment under medical supervision.

Other Schedule 1 drugs at the state level include heroin, MDMA and PCP.

"There's this widespread sense that the harms expressed at the outset (of legalizing recreational marijuana) may exist a little bit, but they haven't been as big a deal as you might think," Berman said.

Marijuana legalization has little effect on the crime rate in either direction, according to an ongoing study by the Cato Institute, a libertarian think tank based in Washington D.C., though it notes the data is still limited. A study from the National Bureau of Economic Research found little to no change in traffic crashes in places where cannabis had been legalized.

Wisconsin state Sen. Melissa Agard, D-Madison, has introduced a bill to legalize recreational marijuana in each of the last five legislative sessions, and it has failed each time. When she first proposed the bill in 2014, it received only five co-sponsors, she said. Her 2021 effort lists 40 co-authors and co-sponsors of the bill, all Democrats. Republicans, who have controlled the legislature since 2011, have ignored the bill in committee, where it must pass before going to a full vote in the state Senate.

The state Senate recently took up a bill that increases penalties for a person who uses a butane torch to extract resin from a cannabis plant. Agard introduced an amendment to the bill that would have legalized marijuana in any form. Republicans killed Agard's amendment and passed the initial bill on a 21-12 party-line vote.

"The fact that Wisconsin is an island of prohibition in the Midwest continues to harm folks in our state," Agard said. "At a time when economic recovery is at the tip of everyone's mind, it's really shortsighted that we are not moving policy forward to welcome a billion-dollar industry that's knocking on the door."

Gov. Tony Evers included a provision in his last budget proposal that would have legalized recreational marijuana, but Republicans cut the proposal before passing the budget.

Senate Majority Leader Devin LeMahieu (R-Oostburg) has said the state should wait for the federal government to legalize medical marijuana before doing so.

Assembly Speaker Robin Vos (R-Rochester) has said he is open to medical marijuana, though he wants it legalized in a limited way that doesn't involve "a marijuana shop on every corner."

Last week, state Sen. Mary Felzkowski, R-Irma, and state Rep. Patrick Snyder, R-Schofield, introduced a bill that would create a new state commission to regulate medical marijuana. Physicians who earn certification from the commission would be allowed to prescribe marijuana.

Felzkowski told reporters at a news conference that LeMahieu is "more than willing" to allow a hearing after a similar bill proposed by her failed to gain any traction in 2021.

"We have a trend in this state to look for more natural types of healthcare," Felzkowski said in the news conference. "Empower those who look to natural immunity, natural healthcare, and beefing up our bodies holistically instead of just using a prescription type of medication."

Medical marijuana is very popular in Wisconsin. A 2019 Marquette University Law School poll found 83% of registered voters in Wisconsin backed the idea. A smaller majority, 59%, supported legalizing marijuana recreationally.

"There's always going to be a sort of rural/urban divide when it comes to marijuana because of the politics, but that divide isn't clear in the policy," Berman said. "Rural communities generally support the idea. You can grow and make profit in those rural communities — or they might be using weed too and people don't realize it."

CLUB NOTES

Shawano Optimists

The Shawano Optimist Club held its 19th annual girls basketball tournament on Jan. 29 at Shawano Community High School and Hillcrest Primary School. There were 24 teams in grades 4-8 including local teams and teams from as far away as Menominee, Michigan. Each team was guaranteed three games.

Winners in each grade include fourth grade, Pulaski; fifth grade, Little Chute; sixth grade, Shawano; seventh grade, West De Pere; and eighth grade, Shawano.

Shawano Area Writers

The Jan. 20 meeting of the Shawano Area Writers was held in the Elsie Engel Reading Room at the Shawano Public Library. Members attending were John Mutter, Twilla Beyer, Manuel Moraleda, Irma Brunner, Barb King, Lee Pulaski, Trudy Bosman, Wendy Goerl and Lana Allen, along with visitor Marilyn Kroenke. Marilyn has not written anything yet but hopes to start.

Lee Pulaski, vice president, called the meeting to order. Minutes were approved.

John Mutter presented the treasurer's report, which was approved.

In new business, John Mutter suggested for the writing contest that we raise what the judges are paid. Judges for poetry would receive 50 cents for each poem instead of 40 cents. The judges for fiction and nonfiction would get $1.25 for each story instead of $1. John said that many of the judges would judge for free, but we agreed that even this small amount showed our appreciation for their time and talent. The measure was approved.

John has started contacting schools about the writing contest and has sent 107 emails to the schools. Deadline for all entries is April 1.

Lee Pulaski will mail everyone the information from Untitled-Town about giving a presentation. Instead of having all presentations in one weekend, they are going on throughout the year.

Discussion was held about where in town Shawano Area Writers could give reading presentations.

Wendy Goerl announced her letter about masking was published in the Shawano Leader.

Barb King explained about her efforts to have her book, "Tug Lake Tales," published by a notable publishing company. She was in the process of writing a query letter, outlining the chapters, and preparing the first 20 pages. Although most publishing companies will not accept unsolicited manuscripts, they will accept unsolicited proposals.

Twilla Beyer started the readings by reading two poems, "Big Foot" and "Legend of the Hodag."

Manny Moraleda read a poem he had written for a co-worker on his 90th birthday entitled "Thanks for the Memories."

Irma Brunner read a query letter she is writing to Trilogy Company. She would like 10 plays published in one book.

Trudy Bosomean took a prompt from Writer's Digest to write a poem about a game. Trudy read her poem about the "Do You Remember?" game her family played while

Barb King read a chapter from her mystery, "The Children in the Garden." Jillian is pondering how to get rid of the creepy gnome statues in the front yard. Her neighbor suggests that she advertise that the gnomes are free if the person can remove them from the property. Jillian also asks a friend to sell on eBay all the unopened products that are stuffed in every nook and cranny on the property.

Lee Pulaski read a chapter from his book, "Night of the Hodag." Trent has been given the witch powers his dead grandma had. He's following a hodag and is led into a cave where he encounters a gathering of hodags of all colors. Will they be friendly, or will they attack and tear him to pieces?

Wendy Goerl reads another passage from her series introducing a new character. Alex is deer hunting with a bow and arrow and gets his deer but also encounters a bear.

Lana Allen has been reading a book on writing entitled "Writing Down the Bone" by Natalie Goldberg. Lana read an untitled poem she had written.

Shawano Area Writers meets the third Thursday of every month in the Shawano Public Library at 10 a.m. to noon. The next meeting is Feb. 17.

Contractor for Highway 47 work honored by DOT

Six Wisconsin construction companies received Excellence in Construction Awards at the Wisconsin Department of Transportation's annual Contractor-Engineer Conference held in January in Madison, and one of the awards encompassed a local highway.

The Excellence in Grading Award went to James Peterson Sons Inc., located in Medford, for work on the state Highway 47 project in Menominee County. Successful coordination among the contractor, DOT and the Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin was key to the completion of this 2.5-mile segment of the highway, according to a DOT press release. Strong communication and ability to deliver through complex construction staging needs helped to keep work on schedule and make the project a success.

"Coordination with industry is key to DOT's mission to provide a safe, efficient highway system statewide," said Beth Canestra, director of DOT's bureau of project development. "DOT is fortunate to have strong working relationships with contractors to develop new ideas and innovations that result in great projects. These awards help to recognize a continued commitment to quality and public service."

The contractor for the state Highway 47 project conducted last year in Keshena was recognized with an award from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

St. James receives accreditation award from Wisconsin LCMS

St. James Lutheran School has been awarded an accreditation award for the National Lutheran Schools Accreditation by the North Wisconsin District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

This award is given to Lutheran schools that have completed a self-study review of the school's purpose, facilities, governance, student services, relationships, professional personnel, and curriculum. Following the self-study review, a validation team visited the education campus to verify the documentation and evidence provided by the Lutheran school.

"I am truly proud of the hard work and effort that our teachers, staff, parents, volunteers, and students put forth to complete this process," said David Kaiser, St. James principal. "This reflects the St. James difference we share with our families and visitors of St. James Lutheran. The accreditation process reaffirms what St. James is doing well while identifying areas where we are able to make improvements."

St. James Lutheran joins 60% of the LCMS elementary schools in the United States that are fully accredited.

CLUB NOTES

Suring Area Historical Society

The Suring Area Historical Society meeting was held Jan. 18 at the Suring Village Hall meeting room at 6:30 p.m. Meeting was called to order by President Adelaide Boettcher. The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by all 21 members and friends in attendance.

The secretary and treasurer reports were approved as given. Balance in the SAHS accounts is $67,862.20. Major expense for the month was $3,250 for supplies for repairing the front roof on the museum, which will be done as soon as weather permits.

Boettcher then brought up the possibility of purchasing the former Bank Building in Suring, which had been discussed by the SAHS Board of Directors. The board made the decision that it would be too big a project for the SAHS. Taxes are over $11,000 a year, plus utilities and repairs, which is too great for our group. It was talked about renting parts of the building out to different business firms, which would take a consultant/developer that we would have to hire. The board just couldn't justify that purchase as being within our means, and we do not have enough people to manage two buildings.

Date was set for redecorating the Christmas tree for Valentine's Day as Jan. 26, which was done by Tina Christenson, Adelaide Boettcher and Helen Heimerl.

Our pancake breakfast is set for April 3, to be held at St. John Lutheran Church with the Ladies Aid serving along with helpers — area youth and Mary and Bill Smith and girls assisting — frying pancakes. We thank them all for their assistance.

Our brat frys are set for May 6, May 27, June 17, July 17 for the Friends of the Library Ice Cream Social/Brat Fry at the Bridge, Aug. 5, Sept. 2 and Sept. 30.

The museum will open the first Saturday of May and will be open through Oct 1. Visiting hours are 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Boettcher would like to host a plant sale at her house the weekend of the Suring Library and St. John Rummage sales to benefit the SAHS.

Warren Prochnow has agreed to fixing up the little car in the museum to pull our float in the Labor Day parade.

We are looking to increase our membership and looking for more active working members to help keep our dreams alive and growing. We continue to receive donations from individuals and grants through our members from Greater Green Bay Foundation and Network for Good. We thank them all for their support and interest in our museum projects.

Our speaker for the evening was Jack Valentine, a former student of Suring High School. His mother was a dedicated teacher in the area — Hayes and Suring Elementary. Suring's first four-lane bowling alley was built and operated by Jerry, Jack's father.

Jack remembered setting pins at the bowling alley for 10 cents a lane. He watched very closely (not to get hit) when Jerry Gehling threw his ball down the alley at a high speed. High school students were also hired to watch that the bowlers did not step over the foul line. Spinner Krueger was also mentioned as one of the good bowlers in Suring.

Jack Valentine also worked on the railroad, did logging in the Suring area and was owner of a hardware store. Other workers on the railroad were Ray Brick and Isaac Serier, who was the first railroad station agent and telegraph operator. Jack spoke of and had pictures of Gen. Baird, who flew over Suring in the early years.

Suring had a jail and a hospital (Brazeau Building) as well as a movie theater operated by Peter Bertch with movies for 10 cents by Arno Moede at the old Village Hall. Swimming and softball were the main activities. Then something was mentioned about toilets being overturned on Halloween night. Town Constable August Wicke never did catch them.

Jack Valentine took us down the streets of Suring giving us information on all the businesses and residential properties, which was very interesting. He brought back many good memories. Suring was a very busy town with all its five to seven grocery stores, along with car garages and tractor implements — Suring got only one tractor during wartime and that Farmal was sold to Harry Miller in Suring. The Suring Area Historical Society would like to thank Jack Valentine for his wonderful presentation on the history of Suring as he remembered it.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Last-minute surge helps Gillett boys stun Lena

Pair of 3-point plays lift Tigers to win

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Gillett Secondary School boys basketball team converted a pair of three-point plays in the final minute to rally past Lena for a 57-55 win in a Marinette & Oconto Conference thriller on Feb. 3 in Lena.

Lena senior Bladyn Anderson knocked down a pair of free throws with 54.7 seconds left to give the hosts a 55-51 lead. Gillett freshman Jesse DeBauch converted a three-point play with 43 seconds left to bring the visitors within one.

Twelve seconds later, Lena missed the front end of a one-and-one bonus at the free-throw line, and after pushing the ball down the floor, senior Jack Baer converted a shot to give the Tigers a lead and then hit the free throw to put the team up two with 25.2 seconds remaining.

On the ensuing possession, Lena turned the ball over, and by the time the Wildcats were able to foul a Tiger, just 0.7 seconds remaining. Both the free throws were missed, but a last-second heave from Lena came up short.

"Yeah, you know we were up in the first half — we have had people come back on us, finishing in the second half has been tough for us. We did go down, we had a timeout, we talked it through, we gave it our all — we had a good message from the coaches and we fought hard," said Baer on the thrilling win. "That was exciting man, that was awesome."

Gillett led for most of the first half, pushing the lead out as far as 12 points before taking a 28-20 lead into halftime.

Lena fought back in the second half on the back of senior Max Beyer. After going scoreless in the first half, Beyer erupted for 16 second-half points, helping the Wildcats quickly erase the deficit and eventually pull ahead.

Junior Jacob Belongia hit a shot to put Lena up 38-37 before Beyer converted another shot. Belongia connected again and then Beyer hit a 3-pointer to give the Wildcats a 45-37 lead with just over six minutes to play.

Gillett sophomore Ben Matczak drilled a 3-pointer before sophomore Aydin Franti converted a shot to get Gillett right back in the game.

The Lena lead bounced between five and three points for the next three minutes as the teams traded buckets. A Baer bucket got the Tigers within two with 1:06 to play before Anderson hit his two free throws to set up the incredible finish to the contest.

"We slowed down our offense because our first shots of the second half were one pass and then a shot, so we slowed it down, got good looks, drew fouls and made our free throws," said Franti.

Matczak had 18 points to lead Gillett offensively. He knocked down five triples and had 14 points in the first half.

Baer tallied 13 points, with 10 coming in the second half. Franti chipped in nine points, while De-Bauch had eight.

Beyer made four triples for Lena in his big second half. Senior Logan Shallow and Belongia each tallied eight points for the Wildcats, while junior Reed Hosking added seven points.

"We're a good team — just keep our heads up and learn that we can play and we just to keep doing our thing and not worry when it gets down to the wire," said Beyer on what the team can learn from the tough loss. "We just gotta keep playing our game and play as hard as we can. Win or lose, it's all for fun."

Batten inducted into WFSCA Hall of Fame

Current Pulaski AD led Appleton East softball team to state 8 times over 16-year span

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Current Pulaski High School athletic director Janel Batten was part of the Wisconsin Fastpitch Softball Coaches Association 2022 Hall of Fame Class.

Batten was a part of a class of four individuals that were honored at a banquet Feb. 5 at Chula Vista Resort in Wisconsin Dells.

"This is a great honor and I thank the WFSCA for all that they do and have done for the athletes and coaches in the state of Wisconsin," said Batten. "I also want to acknowledge all of the great coaches I have had the opportunity to work with across the state, two of which (Jeff Hodgson and Patty Jansen) are being honored with me this HOF class, and Steph (Hauser, the final individual inducted) who is such a great mentor and leader of the WIAA."

Batten made sure to thank all the other people who helped her along the way.

JANEL BATTEN

"It would be ridiculous to suggest that I believe I had this success all on my own, though," Batten said. "Success happens when you surround yourself with great people. I did just that, with my entire coaching staff, players, families, and school community over the years. My assistant coaches over the years, my varsity family of Brenda Baranczyk, Steve Baumann, Glen Orsburn and Shelley Baumann were truly a coaching family and deserve equal recognition."

"Our long time JV assistants: Ron King, Mary Koepsel, Jerry Schneider, Amanda Reindl, Leo Sems and Terry Wittmann also put their hearts and souls into the program at Appleton East. Thank you to these and the other coaches and summer coaches along the way for all they have done for kids over the years."

Batten coached high school softball at Oshkosh West for three seasons before returning to her alma mater, Appleton East, in 1998. She spent the next 16 seasons there, and led the team to winning seasons each year.

Appleton East made state in half of those seasons, including six in a row from 2008-13. The team won a state title in 2000 and were the state runners-up in 2003.

Batten led the team to over 400 wins and had 41 players recognized on all-state teams over her time here.

She also volunteered with teams in Appleton during the summertime, helping guide teams to a total of 14 Amateur Softball Association and National Softball Association state championships and a national title in 2000.

"I absolutely loved coaching at Appleton East — not only softball but basketball and volleyball over the years as well," said Batten. "Having went to school and played three sports at Appleton East and returning there to coach and teach was always a dream. Serving there was the dream come true and I enjoyed every year there.

"While I loved teaching math, my passion was to lead from the third base coaching box and I was lucky to coach many fantastic young ladies over the years and experience that with some awesome coaches that I consider family."

Batten said she got into coaching in fifth grade, coaching her sister Amanda's T-ball team.

She said she stepped away from coaching after her father Dennis passed away. "That was a huge loss for me as my dad got me started in sports and coaching and that loss pushed me to make a change."

Becoming Pulaski's AD was the change for Batten, and she thanked the community for welcoming her. Batten volunteers as a part-time coach at Pulaski.

M&M's the last thing that needs a makeover

Many of us have a candy or sweet that we enjoy, something that's considered a treat for achieving something, surviving something or something to munch on to pass the time. I'm particularly fond of M&M's, clinging onto the slogan that the milk chocolate will melt in your mouth and not in your hand. The little candies have never really stayed in my hand that long to put the statement to the test, but I digress.

Besides enjoying the chocolates themselves, we've been entertained by the commercials giving the candies animated form. Most of them followed the antics of the red and yellow M&M's, but over the years, the other colors have been given screen time, much to our delight and amusement. Let's face it. We all enjoy something that moves to the beat of a different drum, and if we didn't like the M&M's as they were, I'm sure Mars would have stopped coming up with such commercials ages ago.

Unfortunately, it seems like even our candy is not safe from the realm of political correctness that has implemented a bigger stranglehold on society than ever these days. Mars, the parent company of M&M's, has decided that the colored candies need a makeover — not of the candy itself, thank God, but the way the candies portray themselves in the commercials.

For starters, there will be no more go-go boots for the green M&M, and no more high heels for the brown one. A change in footwear I can live with, but apparently there's going to be a massive rewrite of their personalities, stating in a press release that they hope to showcase "a world where everyone belongs."

When exactly did round, colorful candies make people feel like they're not welcome or wanted? There's a staggering difference between the debate about whether a transgender person should be played by someone who has been comfortable with his or her gender since birth and commercials where chocolate caricatures make us laugh.

Of course, the announcement from Mars didn't stop there. It went on to state that the candy characters' "more nuanced personalities to underscore the importance of self-expression and power of community through storytelling."

Pardon me for just a moment. My mouth needs a thorough scrubbing to get the taste of political correctness out of it.

Once again, we've delved into the procedure where the needs of the one outweigh the needs of the many, where the rest of us must suffer because someone found the previous personalities of the M&M's offensive. I'm a storyteller, and oftentimes I've found — both through journalism and writing fiction — that most folks react better to what they need to know, as opposed to what makes them happy.

There's a fine line between modernizing fictional characters and turning them into symbols for corporate sociopolitical activism. In the press release, the green and brown M&Ms will now "throw shine and not shade" while the red M&M will be "nicer," and the orange M&M, who used to be the paranoid one, will now "embrace his true self."

How exactly are these changes going to convince more people to buy the candy? I personally liked it whenever the green M&M put the smug red M&M in his place. I got a laugh from seeing the not-so-smart yellow M&M try to stuff a brownie into the tiny candies when the company announced the brownie-flavored M&M's. Changes and evolution should always be subtle, not the equivalent of clubbing someone over the head with "values."

If we're going to be inclusive with the M&M's, why are we taking away the genders? Mars has announced that they will no longer be referred to as "Ms. Green" and so on. Men and women do still exist, you know. None of us could have come into being without them.

Inclusivity goes well beyond genders, too. When are we going to see a farmer M&M, herding his chocolates in from the pastures at night? Where are the M&M's in a loving, same-sex relationship? Where's the Native American M&M to symbolize the company's commitment to caring for the earth? When are we going to see a baby M&M? An elderly M&M?

In changing the personalities to try and bring the world together, Mars has actually polarized its audience. I've seen a number of views on the change, although Fox News commentator Tucker Carlson takes the cake. He said: "M&M's will not be satisfied until every last cartoon character is deeply unappealing and totally androgynous. Until the moment you wouldn't want to have a drink with any one of them. That's the goal. When you are totally turned off, we've achieved equity."

Um, Tucker, if you're turned on by little round candies and spend your nights getting liquored up with them, you might want to see a therapist. The rest of us just want to savor them, not have an affair with them.

There are plenty of things in the world that need changing and improvement, but M&M's are not one of them. For goodness' sake, it's chocolate, not the key to world peace. Give us more flavors and more colors if you like, but don't ruin the characters we've all grown to love.

That'll send us all flocking to Skittles.

SNBT donates $200K to community nonprofits

In a normal year, the holidays can be trying for many organizations. Though this year has been another test of resiliency, the holiday spirit is strong enough to bring people together. To celebrate this generosity, The Stephenson National Bank and Trust (SNBT) shared year-end contributions with 84 local nonprofit organizations.

"Our communities are blessed to have an abundance of caring individuals. Together, they help hundreds of area residents," said Daniel J. Peterson, SNBT president and CEO. "To assist our local nonprofits with their valuable missions, we are honored to give them a token of our appreciation."

Aside from monetary donations, SNBT has been committed to volunteerism with its annual community service pledge. Each year, bank employees pledge an impressive number of volunteer hours, and the hours pledged for 2022 is no exception: 46 employees have pledged 5,098 hours to 110 organizations.

Throughout 2021, SNBT made monetary donations totaling $200,000 to nonprofits in Marinette, Oconto, and Brown counties in Wisconsin, and Menominee and Marquette counties in Michigan.

The organizations who received year-end donations include Bread by the Bay Food Pantry, Crivitz Area Food Pantry, Crivitz Rescue Squad Inc., Crivitz Stephenson Historical Society, Crivitz Youth Inc., Feed My Sheep Food Pantry, Northern Lights Master Gardeners Association, Oconto Area Humane Society, Oconto County Historical Society, Oconto Fire and Rescue Auxiliary, Oconto Hospital Citizens' Foundation, St. Anthony School, St. Thomas Aquinas Academy, The Salvation Army, Tri-County United Way, Oconto Kiwanis Club, Oconto Salvation Army, Toys for Tots of Oconto, Oconto Knights of Columbus, and U.P. Foster Closet-Oconto Division.

WELL... YOU KNOW WHAT I ALWAYS SAY. "TRADITION IS A WONDERFUL GUIDE BUT A TERRIBLE TASKMASTER."

YOU NEVER SAY THAT.

I DON'T?

NO.

THEN WHAT IS IT THAT I ALWAYS SAY?

"MY FEET HURT."

WAIT, DON'T TELL ME. A DRIVERLESS CAR.

NO, THE DRIVER'S SIDE HEATED SEAT DOESN'T WORK.
