Mark Waukau speaks about the drug problem being an issue on the Menominee Reservation for many years during the March 26 meeting of the Menominee Tribal Legislature at Menominee Casino Resort.

Menominee drug abuse issue prompts community meeting

Tribal members tell legislature that existing programs don't help and community members shun those in recovery

By LEE PULASKI

City Editor

The Menominee Tribal Legislature held a meeting March 26 to get community input on what else can be done to stem the issue of drugs on the reservation in light of recent deaths from overdoses.

"We'd planned already on this path of reaching out to our community, but apparently not soon enough," Chairman Ron Corn Sr. said during a news conference prior to the meeting. "We've had a rash of loss of life just recently, and the leadership just felt that the time is now to have this community engagement."

For many who spoke from the tribe, the time should have been long before now. The first two hours had tribal members pointing out that there were programs to help drug abusers turning people away, people who were trying in their own ways to help that were being ignored by tribal leaders, and reformed abusers who were still being shunned by members of the community, with one finding his salvation in New York with the help of other tribes' programs.

Kristin Waukau told the packed Five Clans Ballroom at Menominee Casino Resort that there are no transition homes on the reservation and little in the way of support groups that could help those dealing with addiction.

"We need support groups for families of addicts, such as Al-Anon," Waukau said. "I know we want to blame cops; we want to blame the legislature for the tribes, but we need to hold ourselves accountable, as well. We have all been affected by drug addiction in some way."

Lorraine Shooter, part of the organization Menominees Against Dope, told her fellow community members that they needed to stop sitting behind Facebook and commenting on the drug problem and take action like she does. She noted that people in the community, instead of helping, have stood by while drug dealers have been calling her names, busting her windows, slashing her tires and more. She noted the legislature needs to support her, too.

“We have big-city drug problems right here in our rural area,” Shooter said. “I went into a house a couple of months ago, and I’ll tell you, it’s one of the most horrific things I’ve had to see — an 11-year-old girl so high she couldn’t sit still. She was spitting. She was moving all over. I had to walk out of the house and throw up. That’s how bad it is in our community.”

For Corn, part of the reason many in his tribe, and in other tribes throughout the country, are turning to drugs can be linked to the historic trauma Native Americans have endured for centuries with forced relocations, boarding schools and the termination of the tribe’s federally recognized status for years until it was restored.

“At one point in time, it’s alcohol,” Corn said. “Today, it’s morphed into this drug problem that we’re currently dealing with. The loss of one life is too many, but I don’t know how many we’ve lost to this.”

Nick Uttecht, an emergency medical technician with Menominee Ambulance Service, has been doing what he can to keep the overdoses from turning fatal. Three years ago, he applied for a grant through Wisconsin Health and Human Services to obtain Narcan to distribute to people who have family members who are abusing drugs that can be used in case said family members overdose.

“It comes in a nasal spray, so it’s very easy to use,” Uttecht said. “People call, and whether they use it themselves or for friends and family, and I go and meet them, train them how to use it. It’s no questions asked. It’s anonymous. I just report the numbers back to the state so they know it’s going out.”

Shooter noted that she has had to turn to Winnebago County to get Narcan, and most of her help is coming from off the reservation, which she feels should not be the case. She implored the community to move forward with ways to help their friends and family on Menominee land.

“A whole other county is coming up here to help our Menominee people because they know what’s going on,” Shooter said. “I’ve got an organization from Minneapolis. I’ve got a Black woman’s alliance group from Madison who is helping this community. I don’t know what more I can do.”

Tribal Police Chief Keith Tourtillott acknowledged that the Narcan is helping to prevent some deaths, but it’s not stemming the number of overdoses, and that is what has the tribe concerned. He noted that the number of overdoses in the last five months has doubled from the previous five months.

“In my mind, it’s an enabling factor,” Tourtillott said of the Narcan. “If there’s no danger of jumping off a cliff, you’re still going to jump for the thrill.”

Annette Kohel, who is a recovering alcoholic and spoke at the meeting via Zoom, is hoping to help others with their efforts to become clean. However, she is seeing that existing programs, like the Maehnowesekiyah Wellness Center located near Gresham, are falling short in helping people in need.

“It’s very hard for me to understand. Why is there no help?” Kohel said. “You can’t just tell someone that they have to stop and expect they’ll listen.”

Part of the problem, in Kohel’s view, is that many in the community want to shame those who are recovering from drug and alcohol addictions instead of supporting them for finally doing the right thing.

“They break you down, and you want to give up because nobody cares,” Kohel said. “That’s what I went through. I went through it for years — people telling me that I’m a bad person, that I’m a no-good person, that I shouldn’t even be on the rez.”

Spencer Gauthier, who spoke from his current home in New York via Zoom, told the legislature and the community that he has been clean and sober for 14 years. He said he had to get help there from those tribes, who had developed three casinos in major cities and were able to funnel the money into treatment programs, but it took more than the basic programs to solve the issues.

“What happened was they were losing one person a day to overdose, and they didn’t know what to do,” Gauthier said. “They have all resources they need. They have behavioral health. They have rehabs. They have detox. They have meetings. It didn’t help.”

Gauthier said he and others were asked to start a culturally based community program, which involved networking with other communities, to try and find a solution. He noted that such programs help tribes to realize that while drug abuse is a plague in their communities, there are other communities that have been besieged by it, as well.

“We found out it wasn’t the government that was the solution,” Gauthier said. “The solution was the people. The power lies in the hands of the people to become involved and to take responsibility.”

SAVVY SENIOR

How to get assistance as an elder orphan

Dear Savvy Senior:

I need to find someone honest and reliable to look after my estate, health and long-term care when I'm no longer able to do it myself. I'm a 67-year-old recent widow with no children and one sibling I rarely talk to. Any suggestions?

Solo Agerby

Dear Solo:

This is big concern for millions of older Americans who don't have a spouse, children or other family they can depend on to watch out for their well-being. While there's no one solution to this issue, here are some tips and resources that can help you plan ahead.

If you haven't already done so, your first step, before choosing a reliable decision maker, is to prepare a basic estate plan of at least four essential legal documents. This will protect yourself and make sure your wishes are carried out if you become seriously ill or when you die.

These essential documents include a "durable power of attorney" that allows you to designate someone to handle your financial matters if you become incapacitated; an "advanced health care directive" that includes a "living will" that tells your doctor what kind of care you want to receive if you become incapacitated, and a "health care power of attorney," which names a person you authorize to make medical decisions on your behalf if you're unable to; and a "will" that spells out how you'd like your property and assets distributed after you die.

It also requires you to designate an "executor" to ensure your wishes are carried out.

To prepare these documents your best option is to hire an attorney, which can cost anywhere between $500 and $2,000. If you are interested in a do-it-yourself plan, Quicken WillMaker and Trust 2022 ($129, Nolo.com) and LegalZoom.com ($179) are some top options.

Most people think first of naming a family member as their power of attorney for finances and health care, or executor of their will. If, however, you don't have someone to fill those roles, you may want to ask a trusted friend or associate but be sure to choose someone that's organized and younger than you who will likely be around after you're gone.

Also be aware that if your choice of power of attorney or executor lives in another state, you'll need to check your state's law to see if it imposes any special requirements.

If, however, you don't have a friend or relative you feel comfortable with, you'll need to hire someone who has experience with such matters.

To find a qualified power of attorney or executor for your will, contact your bank, a local trust company or an estate planning attorney. If you need help locating a pro, the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA.org) is a great resource that provides online directory to help you find someone in your area.

Another resource that can help you manage and oversee your health and long-term care needs as they arise, and even act as your health care power of attorney, is an aging life care manager. These are trained professionals in the area of geriatric care who often have backgrounds in nursing or social work. To search for an expert near you, visit AgingLifeCare.org.

If you need help with bill paying and other financial/insurance/tax chores there are professional daily money managers (see AADMM.com) that can help.

Aging life care managers typically charge between $75 and $200 per hour, while hourly rates for daily money managers range between $75 and $150.

It's also important to note that if you don't complete the aforementioned legal documents and you become incapacitated, a court judge may appoint a guardian to make decisions on your behalf. That means the care you receive may be totally different from what you would have chosen for yourself.

Shawano business owner refurbishing 1800s building

Shawano Barbers currently has siding in front of original brick, windows

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

A Shawano business owner is working to restore a building on Main Street in the city.

Jesse Krajenka is the owner of The Shawano Barbers, 113 S. Main St., and is working to raise money to refurbish his building, which dates back to the 1800s.

"I renovated the whole downstairs area of the barbershop," said Krajenka. "I am almost done renovating the entire upstairs. There was nothing up there. I got heating, electric and plumbing all installed. There are windows all around this building. There are four big windows all along the front of the building."

Krajenka said a previous owner put up siding over the windows and the original brick on the outside of the building.

"They sided over the front of the building and covered up all of the windows," said Krajenka. "What I want to do now that I am done with the upstairs is, I want to open up the front of the building and get some natural daylight in here. I want to see what the front, original brick looks like."

He said that when doing research, he found that the building used to be a Masonic Temple.

"I found a bunch of paper work, newspapers and religious books, so that confirms that," said Krajenka. "I know with Free Masons and Masonic buildings, that they don't have windows, so I came to the conclusion that that was what this building was used for. It is a little creepy."

Krajenka started a GoFundMe page to help raise funds for refurbishing the building.

"I originally got a quote just to frame out the windows at about $1,000 apiece for four windows," said Krajenka. "Prices went up. On the GoFundMe, I put $7,500. Maybe that is a little more, maybe it is a little less. I don't know right now. The $7,500 is just kind of a rough idea."

He added that he was worried about what the brick looks like underneath the siding.

"It can be in very good shape, because it has been out of the weather and elements, or it can be completely trashed and that's why they covered it up, I am not sure," said Krajenka.

Krajenka said that once he raises the funds necessary for refurbishing the building, he wants to leave it all original.

"I love the 1800s feel," said Krajenka. "It goes along with the barber shop — that early feel."

When asked if this would distinguish the barbershop from other buildings in Shawano, Krajenka replied yes and no.

"A lot of the stuff downtown here is either painted or is just modernized," said Krajenka. "I would love to bring that original look. I do have some pictures from the 1800s when then Murdoch Hotel was on the corner and you can see this original building. I just think that it would be so cool to have an original 1800s building right in downtown Shawano."

He added that would help to bring a historical feeling to the city.

"Barbering goes back thousands of years," said Krajenka. "If we can get it to feel like it did 150 years ago or so — I think that would be an awesome thing to bring to Shawano."

ELECTION 2022 — SHAWANO COUNTY BOARD DISTRICT 14

In the April 5 general election, incumbent Deb Noffke will be defending her seat representing District 14 on the Shawano County Board of Supervisors against challenger Jeremy Gretzinger for the spot.

NEW Media sent questionnaires to the candidates in order to provide candidates' opinions on key issues that the county has dealt with and discussed in recent years. Gretzinger's responses were published last week.

What qualifies you to be a member of the Shawano County Board of Supervisors?

Noffke: In District 14, this is my first term on the board. I moved prior to that, so in total, it's 18 years. I have a ton of experience on the board. Currently I am on the public property committee, tribal affairs and county board. I read. I study. I am not afraid to ask questions. I answer to the taxpayer. In a nutshell, I do not think that anyone will accuse me of being a rubber stamp.

The board has had thorough discussions revolving around pay for county employees. How do you believe that county employees should be compensated?

Noffke: We need to pay our employees fairly. That is a double-edged sword. We need to pay fairly to the employees, but we also need to be fair to the taxpayers, because they are paying that wage. We have to somehow remain in line with our county demographics, as far as income per capita. Each year, every employee can earn an increase. All they have to do is meet expectations. In addition to that, in our budget, we set an increase. We also set increases in the middle of the year, if we can afford it.

The board has discussed purchasing new police vehicles, as well as creating a replacement plan for the vehicles. Should the county look at continuing to purchase new vehicles and setting up a replacement plan for the vehicles?

Noffke: We definitely need a replacement plan. Replacing squad cars is nothing new. Speaking with sheriff's (Chief) Deputy George Lenzner, the sheriff's department never advocated for replacing them all. It's a replacement schedule that we need to get set up. In 2020, I believe they replaced three cars, that was it. In this new budget, I believe there was zero cars. That's not sustainable and that's not responsible. If you have a wrong-way driver on state Highway 29, the last thing that you want is an officer saying that I can't catch them because my transmission is flipping.

What is Shawano County doing well in your mind and how can the county continue to excel at this?

Noffke: We try awfully hard to be fiscally responsible and doing things that are needed like the essential services. Most times, the board can do a good job in differentiating between what is a need and a want. Our highway and human services departments and even the airport are doing phenomenal jobs of leveraging to try and get state and federal funding and not putting a burden on our taxpayers. I think to keep doing as some of the departments are doing as far as catching state and federal dollars is important.

What is Shawano County not doing so well in your mind and how can the county change that to be better in the future?

Noffke: Planning. Oftentimes, a knee-jerk response is often an agenda item, without thinking how are you going to pay for that next year. Grandkids are going to be paying for some of these things. You do not want to end up in analysis paralysis, but we need to have a better handle on thinking through the results of something. Sometimes, things don't happen the way that you expect them to. I think we need to do a better job internally at team building. As a geographic area and as an employer, we have a lot of positives.

Two killed in Town of Richmond shooting incident

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

Officials say a Shawano County sheriff's deputy is on administrative leave after shooting a man who had shot and killed a woman moments earlier in the Town of Richmond.

The incident occurred at about 3:55 p.m. March 25, according to a statement from the Wisconsin

Department of Justice Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI), which has taken over the investigation.

The DCI said the deputy was dispatched to a residence on Oak Avenue in the Town of Richmond for a domestic disturbance following a 911 call from a woman at the residence. Upon arrival, the deputy saw a man shoot a woman and then start shooting at the deputy. The deputy reported shots fired and exchanged gunfire with the man. Both the man and woman were killed.

No officers were injured during the incident, the DCI said, and state investigators plan to turn over investigative reports to the Shawano-Menominee County District Attorney's office once concluded.

Heninger leaving Gresham for superintendent post

Benjamin Heninger, principal for grades 6-12 at Gresham Community School, has accepted a position to serve as superintendent of the Butternut School District, effective July 1.

Since joining the staff in Gresham in 2016, he was a member of the administrative team that oversaw a period of sustained growth in the Gresham School District, culminating in the completion of a new junior and senior high school addition in fall 2020. He was promoted to principal in 2017.

Reflecting on his time as a Wildcat, Heninger recalled the growth of partnerships that continue to inspire his passion for servant leadership in education.

"Looking back over the past six years, I can honestly say that we never ran out of ideas to help make our school a better place," Heninger said. "It is such a caring staff, supportive community, and a dedicated school board that remains committed to a vision of doing what is best for all children."

According to Superintendent Newell Haffner, the district is looking for a principal for all grades to take over for Heninger. Haffner currently serves as the principal for the elementary grades.

Shawano County Library celebrating National Poetry Month in April

A celebration of National Poetry Month returns to the Shawano County Library in April.

Shawano County Library has several activities planned during the month, including the following:

- Online poetry readings on Mondays and Thursdays on the library's Facebook page.
- An in-person poetry reading on April 28 at 2 p.m. at the Shawano Public Library, 128 S. Sawyer St., Shawano. Patrons can read their own favorite poems or hear library staff members share theirs.

• A self-directed poetry challenge using Beanstack. Beanstack is available online at shawanolibrary.beanstack.org or through the app Beanstack Tracker. The challenge consists of exploring poetry through reading it, hearing it and creating it.

National Poetry Month was launched by the Academy of American Poets in 1996.

Role-playing games come to life in new show

SCHS bringing 'She Kills Monsters' to its stage

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

Dungeons and Dragons will come to life as Shawano Community High School plans to entertain theater audiences with "She Kills Monsters" on April 7-9.

"To be fair, the monsters are trying to kill her, too," said director Maddie Stuewer as she explained the over-all plot of the show written by Qui Nguyen in 2011.

The play is about two sisters, Agnes and Tilly, who are as different as night and day. Agnes is more popular and mainstream, while Tilly is the family geek. Tilly dies at the beginning of the play, according to Stuewer, and Agnes is left to mourn a sister she didn't know very well because of their different personalities.

"Agnes finds her Dungeons and Dragons playbook and brings it into a comic store, saying, 'I don't know what this is. I want to get to know my sister better. Can you show me?'" Stuewer said. "She starts playing Dungeons and Dragons and gets sucked into that world."

Once taken to that other realm, Agnes finds Tilly, who wrote the playbook in the first place, and gets to interact with her sister again while fighting off otherworldly creatures.

"We've got wraiths, which are like Grim Reapers. We've got Kobalds, which are kind of dragony," Stuewer said. "We've got the Tiamat, which is a five-headed dragon. That's the big monster."

Stuewer said she picked "She Kills Monsters" after reading a bunch of other scripts and finding that they didn't quite jump out as a play for the school to do.

"I wanted something fun, something that contrasted with what we're dealing with in the world," Stuewer said. "When I read the script, I said, 'We have to do this.'"

The show also gives the chance for interesting costumes and props, according to Stuewer, with many of the monsters donning masks. The actors also got to learn about stage combat.

"I've been studying it for the past few months," Stuewer said. "I picked the show in September or October, and since then, I've been studying and studying so I could do the fight choreography."

Stuewer said she enjoyed learning online, working with teachers remotely to get down various fighting techniques, along with stage magic, which she emphatically said she would not reveal any secrets.

"When they're into it, it looks pretty intense," Stuewer said. "It's very cool. Before we even went into the training, we learned the safety and if something

This show also has some SCHS alumni coming back to help with the show, according to Stuewer. Marcus Whitehouse is her assistant director, while Sabrina Damaskie is handling the props, Morgan Briskie is in charge of the costumes and Bailey Harkin heads up hair and makeup.

Besides all the cool gaming themes throughout the show, "She Kills Monsters" weaves a tale on how to deal with grief, according to Stuewer, as well as acceptance for Agnes not only of the life that Tilly lived but coming to terms with Tilly's sexuality, as well.

"I hope that, instead of just enjoying the fights and the monsters, I hope that they take away the deeper meaning that we snuck in there," Stuewer said.

Pussy willow season has begun in northeast Wisconsin.

ROB ZIMMER

Trees and shrubs showing signs of activity

Spring is in the air, and also in the trees. As you may have noticed while driving around the area, or even in your own backyard, the trees and shrubs of our area are putting on quite a show right now, even if it is a bit more subtle and sublime compared to what is coming in May and June.

The maples of our woodlands, backyards and parks are showing their spring enthusiasm in the form of huge, puffy flower buds that are just about ready to burst open. In fact, on many trees, the flower buds highest in the treetops, closest to the sun, have already opened. As the next three or four weeks pass, these buds will continue to open, working their way down to the lower branches.

Maple sap is also rising, forcing these buds to open. Maple tapping has been underway in many sugar bushes for weeks now. Cold nights and warmer days in the 40s are ideal to create the conditions and pressure changes needed to force sap upward through the trees.

The willows are now showing their true spring colors, gleaming in golden yellow.

ROB ZIMMER

Another tree showing spring exuberance right now is the weeping willow. These gorgeous and elegant trees glow brighter and brighter yellow with each passing day as the sap rises into the graceful branches. Soon, these yellow twigs and branches will take on a more lime green hue, as fresh leaf buds begin to swell along their sweeping forms.

Speaking of color, the red osier dogwoods of our area are now blushing beautiful blood red. As the weather warms in early spring, the branches of these spectacular native shrubs glow brighter and brighter red.

Pussy willows are also beginning to emerge, their tiny catkins — covered in silvery, silky fur to keep them warm on cold nights — bursting open along their stems and branches. Soon, these will begin to flower, attracting the first flying bees and moths to their rich pollen.

In wetland areas, tag alder have now formed large male catkins, as have the wild, native hazelnuts. Both of these shrubs are common in our area. Alders are found in wetland edges, such as throughout the Navarino Wildlife Area, while hazelnuts grow in the drier sandhills.

Many other native and ornamental trees are also showing off their own subtle signs of spring. Quaking aspen and cottonwoods now boast large, fleshy green leaf buds that will begin to unfurl in the next few months. A purplish and reddish haze can also be seen among the branches of the white birch groves, where male catkins, stunning in rich purple, now cover the branches.

Spring is a wonderful time to make note of the changes happening right in our own backyards and landscapes, as well as in the wild. Our trees and shrubs are among the first plants to show signs of the new season.

County B at SCHS due for pedestrian signal

School district discusses collaboration with city, county

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The intersection of County Road B and Lincoln Street in Shawano is a busy one, with high levels of vehicle and pedestrian traffic twice every weekday as Shawano Community High School starts and ends classes, and there are concerns that someday someone will be hurt there.

The topic came up for discussion March 23 at the Shawano School District's policy and curriculum committee. Superintendent Randi Anderson noted that it has been a topic of concern for years, and there could be an opportunity for the district and the city of Shawano to work together on a solution.

"We had a conversation with (City Administrator) Eddie Sheppard, looking to see if the district was interested in partnering with the city in splitting the cost for a pedestrian crossing light," Anderson said, noting that the setup would be the same as what's currently on Green Bay Street at the Mountain Bay Trail intersection. The city recently got approval to put another one on Main Street at its intersection with the Mountain Bay Trail.

Anderson noted the cost would be about $10,000 each for the district and city and that there would also need to be involvement from Shawano County, as the road is designated as a county highway. She also noted that the signal may go at the County B intersection with Evergreen Street and plans would be to encourage pedestrian traffic going in and out of the high school to cross there.

"Right now, we have kids crossing at both spots," Anderson said.

School board member James Davel, who is also the county's administrative coordinator, suggested holding off for at least a month while he consults with the county's highway safety commission. He noted the commission meets in April.

"What I'm thinking is that, if everybody's willing to split some of the cost, maybe we could get the county to pitch in, as well," Davel said. "Maybe we could put another one in on Waukechon Street over by Hillcrest (Primary School). It's something to consider."

Board member Chris Gull questioned if there might also be state funding available to pay for the signal, given the intersection's close proximity to Main Street, which is part of state Highway 22.

Anderson noted that good presence from the Shawano Police Department has helped to prevent accidents at the area schools. She said she would like to see the signals installed by the fall.

County board amends abandoned vehicle ordinance

Owners to pay fee for sheriff's department to hold their vehicles

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Shawano County Board of Supervisors voted March 23 to amend an ordinance relating to vehicle abandonment in the county.

The ordinance previously stated that any vehicle left unattended on a public road for 48 hours or more will be considered abandoned. The county board voted to include a $75 administrative fee, as well as increase the $25 daily storage fee to $50 a day, to help offset costs to the sheriff's department.

"It is a simple ordinance in my mind," said Supervisor Jerry Erdmann. "It is simple in my mind to help take care of the abandonment issues that the county has. It will give maybe a little bit to the sheriff's department, but in the long run, will hopefully cut down on the number of vehicles if people will have to pay more for them."

Supervisor Deb Noffke said that the county cannot have abandoned vehicles sitting on the side of the road due to safety concerns.

"But on the flip side, I don't think anyone wakes up on in the morning and decides that I hate this car so much that I am going to leave it on the side of the road," said Noffke. "It would be nice if there was some kind of incentive for them to get that car out of the storage yard."

Shawano County Sheriff's Department Chief Deputy George Lenzer clarified the amendment.

"This abandonment ordinance — it doesn't have anything to do with vehicles abandoned on the side of the road," said Lenzer. "These are vehicles that are sitting in our storage. We can't get rid of them and we don't have room. The owners won't pick them up."

Lenzer said that the sheriff's department sends a certified letter to the owner after the vehicle has sat in storage for 10 days.

"In that certified letter, we tell them at this point, you are going to start getting charged," said Lenzer. "We have been charging $25 and now we are raising that to $50. We are also charging an administrative fee of $75. We usually have to clean all of the garbage out and try to salvage the car. We usually lose money on them."

Lenzer added that this is just a way to make a little revenue for the sheriff's department.

"Right now, we have 14 vehicles in the storage building," said Lenzer. "Out of those 14, 12 are evidence that we are waiting to go through court. We can't charge any fees for those."

He finished by saying the owner of the other two vehicles will start to get charged after the vehicles go through a search and are released.

In regards to vehicles that are abandoned on the highways, Lenzer said that most of the vehicles are picked up by towing companies, who are in charge of the fees associated with them.

"These are vehicles that we have stuck in our evidence, because we need room for our own vehicles or stuff that is waiting for court or needs to be processed," said Lenzer. "I don't think that we are going to get into the business of towing vehicles on a public highway."

Notice of Spring Election and Sample Ballots April 5, 2022

Office of the Shawano County Clerk
To the voters of Shawano County

Notice is hereby given of a spring election to be held in various towns, villages, cities and school districts in the County of Shawano on April 5, 2022, at which the officers named below shall be nominated. The names of the candidates for each office, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, for a referendum, if any, in the sample ballot below.

Information to Voters

Upon entering the polling place and before being permitted to vote, a voter shall:
state their name and address show an acceptable form of photo identification* sign the poll book

If a voter does not have acceptable photo identification, the voter may obtain a free photo ID for voting from the Division of Motor Vehicles.

*If the voter is unable to sign the poll book due to disability, a poll worker may write the word "exempt."

If a voter is not registered to vote, they may register to vote at the polling place serving their residence if the voter provides proof of residence.

Where ballots are distributed to voters, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot.

Upon being permitted to vote, the voter shall enter a voting booth or go to a machine and cast their ballot. The vote should not be cast in any manner other than specified here. Sample ballots or other materials to assist the voter in marking their ballot may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

A voter who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the voter's minor child or minor ward.

An election official may inform the voter of the proper manner for casting a vote but the official may not advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

Assistance for Voting

A voter may select an individual to assist in casting their vote if the voter declares to the presiding official that they are unable to read, have difficulty reading, writing, or understanding English, or that due to disability are unable to cast their ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the voter's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the voter.

Where Paper Ballots are Used

The voter shall make a mark (X) in the square next to the name of the candidate of their choice for each office for which they intend to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of their choice in the space provided for a write-in vote. On referendum questions, the voter shall make a mark (X) in the square next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the voter shall make a mark (X) in the square next to "no" if opposed to the question.

Where Optical Scan Voting is Used

The voter shall fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of their choice for each office for which they intend to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of their choice in the space provided for a write-in vote and fill in the oval next to the write-in line. On referendum questions, the voter shall fill in the oval next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the voter shall fill in the oval next to "no" if opposed to the question.

Where Touch Screen Voting is Used

The voter shall touch the screen to select the name of the candidate of their choice for each office for which they intend to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall type in the name of the person of their choice in the space provided for a write-in vote. On referendum questions, the voter shall touch the screen at "yes" if in favor of the question, or the voter shall touch the screen at "no" if opposed to the question.

After Voting the Ballot

After an official paper ballot is marked, it shall be folded so the inside marks do not show, but so the printed endorsements and inspectors' initials on the outside do show. The voter shall deposit the voted ballot in the ballot box or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit and shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve, so the marks do not show. The voter may insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official touch screen ballot is cast, the voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

Spoiling Ballots

If a voter spoils a paper or optical scan ballot, they shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one voter. If the ballot has not been initiated by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the voter shall return it to the election official who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.

The voter may spoil a touch screen ballot at the voting station before the ballot is cast.

Superintendent: School closing off the table

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

The Shawano School District will not be closing one of its schools after all, according to a notice sent out to parents March 25 by Superintendent Randi Anderson.

The announcement came a few days after a Shawano School Board meeting in which parents and community members filled the Shawano Community High School library to protest the plans and urged the district to consider other methods.

“As we consider future options to maximize student learning that leverage the community’s financial commitment to our schools, we want to thoroughly vet all possible solutions for the best long-range plan for the district,” Anderson wrote.

It is unclear what the next steps will be from Anderson’s message, which was not sent to NEW Media by any district officials. Although administrators told the board early this month that the other options being considered include cutting staff and trimming programs, Anderson said in her notice that the district’s priority will be “to minimize the impact of any reductions on the students, staff and programs.”

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ELECTION MENOMINEE INDIAN SCHOOL DISTRICT

TAKE NOTICE that a referendum election shall be held on April 5, 2022 in the Menominee Indian School District for the purpose of approving or rejecting an Initial Resolution adopted by the School Board of said District on January 21, 2022.

The Initial Resolution reads as follows:

INITIAL RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS IN AN AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED $35,000,000

BE IT RESOLVED by the School Board of the Menominee Indian School District, Menominee and Shawano Counties, Wisconsin, that there shall be issued, pursuant to Chapter 67, Wisconsin Statutes, General Obligation Bonds in an amount not to exceed $35,000,000 for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing a new high school, converting the existing high school to a middle school, improvements to the elementary school and equipment acquisition related to said projects.

The referendum ballot will ask District electors: "Shall the foregoing resolution of the School Board of the Menominee Indian School District be approved?"

A "yes" vote is in favor of the Initial Resolution set forth above and is a vote to approve the borrowing of not to exceed $35,000,000 for the purpose of paying the costs of constructing a new high school, converting the existing high school to a middle school, improvements to the elementary school and equipment acquisition related to said projects.

A "no" vote is opposed to the Initial Resolution and is a vote to deny the Menominee Indian School District the authority to borrow not to exceed $35,000,000 for the purpose of paying the costs of constructing a new high school, converting the existing high school to a middle school, improvements to the elementary school and equipment acquisition related to said projects. Persons with questions regarding the referendum election should contact Wendell Waukau, Superintendent.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF MENOMINEE INDIAN SCHOOL DISTRICT REFERENDUM ELECTION APRIL 5, 2022

OFFICE OF THE DISTRICT CLERK OF THE MENOMINEE INDIAN SCHOOL DISTRICT TO THE ELECTORS OF THE MENOMINEE INDIAN SCHOOL DISTRICT

Notice is hereby given of the referendum election to be held in the Menominee Indian School District, on the 5th day of April, 2022, at which the referendum question set forth in the sample ballot below shall be determined.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, the elector shall give his or her name and address, show an acceptable form of photo identification and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. If an elector is not registered to vote, an elector may register to vote at the polling place serving his or her residence, if the elector presents proof of residence in a form specified by law. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth or machine and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

On referenda questions when voting by paper ballot, the elector shall make a cross (X) in the square at the right of "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall make a cross (X) in the square at the right of "no" if opposed to the question. On referenda questions when voting by marksense ballot, the elector shall complete the arrow at the right of "yes" if in favor of the question, or complete the arrow at the right of "no" if opposed to the question. On referenda questions when voting by optical scan ballot, the elector shall fill in the oval at the right of "yes" if in favor of the question, or fill in the oval at the right of "no" if opposed to the question. On referenda question when voting by touch screen ballot, the elector shall depress the button next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall depress the button next to "no" if opposed to the question.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. If the elector spoils a ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place. Not more than five minutes' time shall be allowed inside a voting booth or machine. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in marking his or her ballot may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

After an official paper ballot is marked, it shall be folded so the inside marks do not show but so the printed endorsement and inspectors' initials on the outside do show. The elector shall leave the booth, deposit his or her folded ballot in the proper ballot box, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit, and the elector shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official marksense or optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve so the marks do not show. After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the booth, insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. If a central count system is used, the elector shall insert the ballot in the ballot box and discard the sleeve, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The elector shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official touch screen ballot is marked, the elector shall leave the polling place promptly.

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM Town of Red Springs

The question will appear on the ballot as follows:

Shall the Red Springs Town Board adopt the following Resolution? Yes NO
Resolved, that "We the People" of the Town of Red Springs seek to reclaim democracy from the expansion of corporate person rights and the corrupting influence of unlimited political contributions and spending.

We stand with communities across the country to support passage of an amendment to the United States Constitution stating:

1. Only human beings are endowed with constitutional rights — not corporations, unions, non-profits or other artificial entities, and
2. Money is not speech, and therefore limiting political contributions and spending is not equivalent to limited speech.

EXPLANATION:

A "YES" vote

supports amending the United States Constitution to make clear that corporations, unions, and other big organizations do not have constitutional human rights supports limiting spending by corporations, unions, and other big organizations related to elections.

A "NO" vote

supports the position that corporations, unions, and other big organizations have constitutional human rights supports unlimited spending by corporations, unions, or other big organizations in elections.

OPINION

'The Hawk Way' has strayed off course

Years ago, the Shawano School District adopted a new philosophy and dubbed it "The Hawk Way." Students and staff were encouraged to go the extra mile and strive for excellence through learning, living and leading.

We still see those words on the district's logo. However, it's doubtful by many in the district that the administration is living the philosophy, at least the way that it's intended, in light of the recent news that the district is looking at closing one of its schools and is taking steps to trim staff.

Social media is lit up brighter than a Christmas tree with people feeling like they've been blindsided by the news that a decision will be made in less than a month as to whether Olga Brener Intermediate School or Shawano Community Middle School, especially since the revelation that the district is facing a $2 million budget shortfall next year, possibly more, is fresh in people's minds.

Such a drop in funding does not happen suddenly. We've known enrollment in Shawano has been declining for years, but our neighbors in Keshena and Pulaski are boasting increases in enrollment, with Menominee Indian reporting at one public meeting that it has 88 students from Shawano through the open enrollment program. What have we done to encourage folks to come back home or get others outside the district to come here?

It's clear district officials knew there would be a need for cuts, supposedly at the start of the school year. That should have been front and center to the board before it met March 16 at Hillcrest Primary School and spent less than an hour hearing the details about potential school closures and discussing them.

Instead, the board spent several meeting slots this school year talking about its strategic plan, and nowhere in the discussion was there talk of closing a school. If this was a looming issue, it would have been smarter to address the issue over several months and make the public aware of it before now, but it was apparently better for leadership to avoid the issue.

Members of the Shawano School Board sit at their spots as a community member speaks during the March 21 board meeting at the Shawano Community High School library. Local residents have questioned on social media whether board members listen or care about their concerns. LEE PULASKI | NEW MEDIA

In January, the district held a town hall in which it addressed declining enrollment, which is tied to state funding and budget caps. However, instead of saying, "It looks like we're going to be short at least $2 million, so we might have to take some steps — say closing a school, giving some employees pink slips, axing the tennis program — to bring the budget in balance," it paraded the sports and performing arts programs around and suggested a future referendum would be needed.

Now, administrators and board members are expressing confusion that people are outraged. I don't see why, as they concealed a financial blemish on its operation the same way someone might put on a hat to hide a hideous haircut and are claiming action needs to be taken immediately to avoid fiscal disaster.

People aren't at your standard level of outrage, either. While dozens have flocked to the Facebook pages Shawano, Let's Talk About It and Concerned Parents of Shawano Schools to express displeasure at the district's lack of transparency, there are a few calling for Superintendent Randi Anderson's figurative head on a platter and also a couple of suggestions that maybe the entire school board should be recalled.

It's clear the school district's communication protocols with the public are failing. Changes need to be made if administrators hope to keep the trickling decline in enrollment from becoming a flood.

Instead of planning public meetings titled "Education Finance 101," which implies us mere mortals have no clue and need to be taught on why we're losing money, there should be town hall meetings where there's discussion on options to drain the red ink that school officials and the community can come together on. The public feels like it's being left out in this decision to close a school, but yet public involvement and voting is required to build a school.

Also, the district should have all of its public meetings recorded live and put on YouTube. Right now, only the board meetings are recorded, and that's only when there's business to be voted on. The work sessions on the strategic plan have not been recorded, nor have the committee meetings where a lot of the discussion on specific matters takes place. If the district wants to be seen as honest and above board, it should show everything it does to tamp down allegations that everything is done in secrecy.

Then there's the school district's social media. Instead of having Throwback Thursdays with vintage photos and providing a scrapbook for fun learning activities in the schools on Facebook, administrators should be using every available platform, both online and offline, to explain their rationale and allow the public to provide feedback.

Once upon a time, Anderson communicated with the public through a "Hawk Talk" event. Bringing those back would not only inform the public but could serve as a two-way conversation where people could provide other ideas and suggestions.

Listening is ideal to learning, and the administration and board members would be wise to listen to the folks who reside in this district and figure out a solution that is not so draconian. If they opt not to do so, then there's a different ideology in play for The Hawk Way, and it's not one that the public can accept.

GUEST COLUMN

Best days lie ahead for the rural economy

I grew up on my family's small dairy farm in central Wisconsin. It is there I learned the value of hard work and the importance of neighbors helping neighbors. These values led me to public service on the local town board and state legislature where I represented central Wisconsin residents. Under the leadership of President Joe Biden and U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack, I am honored to continue working on ways to help rural residents and strengthen communities through the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A couple of weeks ago, Biden used his first State of the Union address to talk about where our country has been and where we are going. The president mentioned a lot we can be proud of and even more to look forward to, especially in rural America. The country has faced deep challenges over the past year, and the people living in rural areas know this better than anyone.

Rural communities are resilient, and when rural America thrives, all America thrives.

That's why the progress we have made in rural Wisconsin over the past year is a good sign for everyone. By investing in water infrastructure and broadband, rural business opportunities and the American food supply chain, USDA is helping communities build a foundation for sustained economic growth.

For example, the city of Chetek will replace a wastewater treatment plant, originally built in the 1950s, with help from the USDA's Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program. I had the opportunity to tour the current plant with city officials to see and hear about the need for this project firsthand. The new plant will address several code violations, allow for future growth and bring safer wastewater treatment to the city's more than 2,200 residents.

A great example of how we're helping to support Wisconsin's food supply chain is by investing in ag producers and small businesses like Ed and Peggy Callahan, owners of Dream Apple Farm. I had the pleasure to visit their raspberry and apple orchard in Port Washington and see the work that goes into producing their products. I also visited their market store, DreamPort Harvest Market, to hear how they used a $49,500 Value-Added Producer Grant through USDA to expand their business and hire employees through marketing and sales of new products like jams, butters, breads and pies.

Additionally, through programs like the Food Supply Chain Guaranteed Loan Program and the Meat and Poultry Processing Expansion Program, we're answering the president's call to create more resilient, diverse and secure supply chains. Promoting competition in the processing sector will lead to fairer prices for farmers, greater value for workers, and more affordable and healthier food produced closer to home for families.

These investments create jobs and economic opportunities in rural areas. They help grow the economy from the bottom up and middle out like the president talked about. They contribute to a circular economy where the resources and wealth we build in rural Wisconsin, stay right here in our state.

This is just the beginning. In the State of the Union, Biden committed to build a national network of 500,000 electric vehicle charging stations, begin to replace poisonous lead pipes so every child — and every American — has clean water to drink at home and at school, and provide affordable high-speed internet for every American — urban, suburban, rural and tribal communities.

The Biden-Harris Administration's plan for the economy is already producing historic wins, and there's room for everyone to participate, no matter their ZIP code. That's why we're optimistic that our best days lie ahead.

By giving everyone a fair shot and providing equitable access to federal resources, we can do our part to carry out the president's economic vision. That means making more things here at home, strengthening our supply chains and lowering costs for working families. It means giving people opportunities to make a good living without having to leave the communities they know and love.

For a lot of us, that means staying right here in rural Wisconsin.

Julie Lassa is the Wisconsin state director for rural development for the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Don't blame Biden for soaring gas prices

To the editor:

Throughout history, presidents have always been blamed for problems with the United States economy. Now is no exception.

Since the beginning of the pandemic, we stayed home more and didn't use as much gasoline. Now people are driving more, so demand for gasoline has increased. Add to that the shortages because of the war in Ukraine, and you get higher prices. To blame President Joe Biden is not fair.

Exxon, Mobil, Chevron, Shell and BP have added to the problem. In the last quarter, they limited supply and racked up $25 billion in profits, which is the highest income level in seven years. Maybe they should help to stabilize prices.

Also happening with the COVID-19 outbreak was the interruption of goods production. Many workers got sick and missed work. This happened just as we were buying more products for home, thus putting a strain on the worldwide supply chain.

Certain corporations have made the situation worse. Starbucks' profits soared 352%. In 2021, Netflix doubled profits, and UPS had a record-breaking year. Amazon made $35 billion, and McDonald's had $23 billion in revenues. Corporate profit margins are now at a 70-year high. They have profited at our expense.

All this corporate greed has led to increased prices. Consumers have found themselves having less purchasing power, even though wages are on the rise. This dilemma is called "inflation," a word Republicans have been using as they blame President Biden for consumer price hikes.

What is being ignored are the indicators that show the economy actually slowly rebounding from the effects of the pandemic. The national economy is seen as growing at 4%, a rate not seen since the Reagan Administration. About 6.6 million new jobs have been created in 2021. As hiring increases, President Biden is on track to have unemployment rates like the 1950s.

Even Wisconsin is making progress. The unemployment rate is 2.8%, the lowest in Wisconsin's history. Gov. Tony Evers' investments in small businesses has paid off.

Our state has accumulated a projected budget surplus of historic proportions. Evers' plan is to return a portion of the money to working families to help them fight rising costs.

We need to stop pointing fingers and have patience as we cope with the higher prices. The price of gas, groceries and goods will come down when supplies stabilize. Have some faith in our leaders.

Mary Arnold, Shawano

Shawano County approves 1.5% wage increase

Increase covers non-union, full-time county employees

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Shawano County Board of Supervisors approved a 1.5% wage increase for non-union, full-time county employees during its March 23 meeting.

Chairman Tom Kautza said that Shawano County lost ground in relation to wage increases, compared to surrounding counties.

"I believe some around us gave 2-2.5(%) and in some cases a 3% increase," said Kautza.

He added that it appears that the county will have money left over from its budget.

"Our employees did save over $52,000 just by taking a higher-deductible health plan, and I always say that if they are saving the money, we should be rewarding them with some of the money that we are saving," said Kautza. "That will help with morale and that will get people thinking more."

Supervisor Kathy Luebke said the county should increase wages for county employees because they are a valuable asset to the county.

"If we are not paying them and they go elsewhere, we are going to be in trouble," said Luebke.

Supervisor Joe Miller said employees would be getting different raises based off of their salary.

"With a $20 an hour salary, 1.5% would equate to 30 cents — peanuts," said Miller. "I strongly respect fiscal conservancy, but it looks like fiscal conservancy got us into a predicament that we have been in for a while."

Supervisor Deb Noffke elaborated on Miller's point.

"Part of the concern is that we don't have everyone at $20 an hour," said Noffke. "We have a wage range that goes up to $50 an hour. The percentage for the lower-paid worker-bee is not as much as an incentive. I think that is where we are having a problem filling jobs — in the lower end. 1.5% of $20 is different than 1.5% of $50."

Supervisor Jerry Erdmann said that Shawano County being conservative has helped the county board.

"The issue that I see it has been going on for years," said Erdmann.

"Our issue is the levy limits that the state puts on us. They basically cap us, because if our health insurance goes up, what we can legally raise — how can you give an increase in salary? With our staff taking options and cutting down the cost of the health insurance, let's reward them for saving."

Supervisor Kevin Conradt said that the county should support this.

"It will catch us up a little bit, but won't catch us up totally," said Conradt. "We have to start somewhere, I understand Deb's concern with every raise we give, we have to come up with next year, but we will find it."

Supervisor Sandy Steinke said that employees who have worked at the county longer will get larger increases.

"The thing that you have to remember is someone who is at $30 an hour compared to someone who is at $15, would have been here 30 years, so they are going to get a little more raise," said Steinke. "That person at $15, if they stay here, will be at that rate, hopefully."

Brunch on the Farm coming up in June

The Shawano County Farm Bureau has announced that Brunch on the Farm will be hosted June 26 by the Viergutz family of Triple D Dairy, LLC.

Triple D Dairy is a 500-cow dairy, located at N12098 County Road D, just north of Clintonville. It is owned and operated by David, Connie, Jacob and Erin Viergutz.

"We are excited to have this annual event that invites the public out to a dairy farm and show them where their dairy products are produced," said Christa Hoffman, Brunch on the Farm chairwoman. "It is an excellent opportunity to join in on all the activities and fun we will offer."

The event will be a traditional, in-person event with opportunities for guests to see a modern dairy farm and have a morning of family fun. The brunch will feature a hearty breakfast, ice cream, cows and many activities for family fun and socialization. Brunch on the Farm typically draws a crowd of 4,000 people from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Follow the Shawano County Farm Bureau and the Shawano County Brunch on the Farm event page on Facebook for details.

Triple D Dairy, LLC, near Clintonville, will be the host for the 2022 Shawano County Brunch on the Farm on June 26. The farm is owned and operated by Connie, David, Jacob and Erin Viergutz. CONTRIBUTED

OBITUARIES

Julie A. Hansen (nee Voigt)

Julie A. Hansen (nee Voigt), 60, of Waldo, formerly of Shawano, passed away Friday morning, March 25, 2022, as a result of a motor vehicle accident.

She was born on Nov. 4, 1961 in Sheboygan, a daughter of the late Ronald Voigt and Joy (Williamson) Robinson.

Julie attended Waldo and Sheboygan Falls grade schools and graduated from Racine Park High School in 1980.

On Feb. 29, 1992, she married Thomas Hansen. He preceded her in death on Aug. 9, 2014.

She worked for Reliance Time Controls in Racine for over 30 years retiring in 2016.

Julie enjoyed flowers, gardening, was an avid rock collector, reading, animals and loved spending time with her nieces and nephews.

Survivors include stepmother, Diane Voigt, of Florida; her siblings, Jim (Patti), of Greenbush, Linda (Dan) Stachow, of Racine, Traci Johnson (fiancé Eric Galstad), of North Carolina, and Kim (Brian) Sippel, of St. Cloud; nieces and nephews, Tyler (Tiffany) Voigt, Jacob (Anna) Voigt, Melissa (Armando) Martinez, William Stachow, Alexa and Shayna Van Epern, and Alyssa Mahloch; great-nieces, Rosa and Amelia Martinez, Olivia and Mari-belle Voigt; and a great-nephew on the way. She is also survived by aunts, uncles, other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her grandparents, parents, her husband and one brother, David.

Cremation has taken place and a celebration of life for both Julie and her brother, David Voigt, will take place on Friday, April 1, 2022, at 6 p.m. at the Suchon Funeral Home in Plymouth. The Rev. Philip Reifenberg will officiate. Visitation will be from 4 p.m. on Friday, April 1, 2022, until the time of services.

In lieu of flowers, a memorial fund is being established in both Julie and David's name.

Arwyn M. Poppe

Arwyn M. Poppe, 86, of the Town of Deer Creek passed away at her home on Friday, March 25, 2022.

The Eberhardt-Stevenson Funeral Home and Crematory in Clintonville is assisting her family.

Robert Louis Price Jr. (Big City Bob) was born May 20, 1953, in Chicago, Illinois. Bob was called to his heavenly home on March 24, 2022, in Cape Coral, Florida.

He is survived by his sisters, Deb (Steve) Borroughs, of Shawano, Cynthia LiVigni, of Shawano, and brother, Ronald (Fabian) Price, of Chicago, Illinois. He is further survived by stepdaughter, Eve Bishop, and stepson, Danny Bishop, both of Green Bay; and his companion, Susan Foster, of Cape Coral, Florida.

Bob is further survived by many aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, nephews, and friends.

Bob's parents, Robert and Loretta Price, as well as his stepson, Nicholas Bishop, and niece, Carly LiVigni, preceded him in death.

Bob graduated from Carl Sandburg High School, Orland Park, Illinois, in 1971 and attended Moraine Valley Community College where he earned an associate degree in Business.

Bob was forever the performer, selling anything to anyone. So skilled, even the buyer would be ecstatic about their two left shoes. However, his skills were truly embodied when performing rock music in front of an audience. Bob's music career was predominately confined to the Midwest area.

Although, he did record in studios in California. Playing with many rock bands, most notably Rocken Horse, Bob once performed at Chicago Fest, on Navy Pier in the late 1970s. He performed with and had affiliations with some of the biggest names in the music industry.

He began his sales career for Chrysler Corporation in Chicago and later was attracted to the Shawano area, where his family would vacation when he was younger. Bob moved to Shawano in 1990 and continued his sales career with a new, upcoming business, American Marine.

Bob lived for the moment, although never unaware of the future. Big guy, big fun, big heart, Big City Bob.

Eventually, Bob had an opportunity to move his skill set to a warmer climate (who can blame him) and took a lead sales position in Fort Myers, Florida, and later to Cape Coral, Florida. It was there that he found peace.

A celebration of life and interment will be held at a later date.

Panic, heart attacks have similar symptoms but different

It can happen at any time: A sudden onset of an intense feeling of fear accompanied by scary physical symptoms like a racing heart, trembling or trouble breathing.

You could be in the grip of a panic attack, which many people experience at some point, but you might wonder if you're having a heart attack instead. Dr. Samantha Kapphahn, an interventional cardiologist with ThedaCare Cardiovascular Care, said it's the right question to ask.

"Never second-guess chest pain or other symptoms of heart attack," said Kapphahn. "It's can be challenging to tell the difference, so you should seek immediate care if you are having certain symptoms. While some people can be hesitant to seek care, avoiding immediate care can potentially translate into more serious health consequences if you are having a heart attack."

Symptoms of a panic attack include sudden, strong feelings of anxiety, fear or doom; a feeling of detachment from reality; trouble breathing; a pounding or racing heart, and/or sweating; shaking, trembling, dizziness or lightheadedness; abdominal pain, nausea and/or headache; hot flashes or chills; and chest pain.

Panic attacks may happen frequently for people who suffer from anxiety-related disorders. They also can just happen suddenly to anyone.

Heart attacks occur when part of the heart isn't getting enough oxygen, usually because of a blocked artery, preventing or slowing blood flow to the heart.

Heart attacks share many symptoms with panic attacks. Some may include chest pain or pressure; trouble breathing or shortness of breath; a pounding or racing heart; a feeling of impending doom; sweating or cold sweats; shaking and trembling; lightheadedness and dizziness; nausea or vomiting; and pain or discomfort in the upper body — particularly arms, shoulders, back, jaw or neck.

While it can be difficult to differentiate between the two, for some people there can be differences between heart attacks and panic attacks: Chest pain that accompanies a panic attack typically remains in the chest, while chest pain that comes with a heart attack can often radiate to other areas, such as down the arms, shoulders, neck or jaw, Kapphahn said.

"Additionally, heart attack pain can be often described as deep pressure — the proverbial 'elephant sitting on your chest' feeling, or it can be described as feeling like heartburn, or even as a generalized discomfort in the chest," she said. "Pain with a panic attack is often described as sharp or piercing."

Never wait to see if symptoms go away, Kapphahn said. Seek medical attention if you have any signs of heart attack, even if you think it may be a panic attack.

Area individuals excel at indoor meet

Oconto Falls, Suring, Gillett among teams in action

Several individual athletes from the Oconto Falls, Suring and Gillett track and field teams performed well during an indoor meet March 22 at Oconto Falls High School.

By the end of the meet, it was the Oconto Falls boys and girls teams that placed first.

The Oconto Falls boys scored 154 points, comfortably ahead of second-place finishing Suring, which had 75 points. Gibraltar tallied 15 points, Gillett 10 and Algoma four.

On the girls side, the Panthers tallied 133 points, with Suring in second with 86 points. Gibraltar was third with 46 points, while Gillett came in fourth with 13 points. Algoma did not score.

Oconto Falls' Logan Seymour enjoyed the best individual night of any competitor, winning the boys 45-yard dash, high jump and triple jump.

Seymour was clocked at 5.45 seconds in his 45-yard dash. He won the high jump after clearing 5 feet, 6 inches. The senior won the triple jump with a mark of 39-2, over three feet further than any other athlete.

"My top three finishes definitely got my season off to the good start I was hoping for and gives me the confidence to keep working hard every day at practice and to make me ready to go for the upcoming meets," said Seymour.

The Oconto Falls boys had four other top individual finishers on the night.

Devon Dorn claimed the top mark in the long jump (17-11). He also placed third in the 200 (28.16).

Isaac Bramer won the 200 with a time of 26.5. Bramer placed second in the 45 (5.56) and was third in the long jump (16-11¾).

Joe Adams won the boys 1,600 (5:11.98), while Ben Adams claimed the best time in the 800 (2:32.42).

The Oconto Falls boys also had the first-place finishing 24-lap relay (9:48.23), 4-lap relay (1:08.47) and 12-lap relay (4:10.51). The 24-lap relay was 3,072 meters, 4 laps was 512 meters and 12 laps was 1,536 meters.

The Oconto Falls girls team had five individual first-place finishers, led by Hailyn St. Louis.

St. Louis won the 200 with a time of 32.38 and had the top mark of 12-9½ in the long jump.

"Being able to compete again was very fun and also shows how I shouldn't take things for granted," said St. Louis.

"My top finishes definitely gave me tons of confidence by showing myself that I'm beyond capable of doing something that I've never ran before on the indoor track. In the 200, my teammates all cheered me on and I kept focus and stayed steady the whole time. It was very fun to compete again, and I'm excited for next week!"

Anna Spaulding claimed first in the 45 (5.91) and second in the long jump (12-7) for the Panthers. Grace Oninski won the girls shot put (31-0) and came in fourth in the 45 (6.29). Hannah Ludemann had the other top finish, winning the 1,600 (6:13.7).

The Oconto Falls girls team also swept the relay events. The 24-lap relay finished in 11:32.5, the 4-lap relay in 1:15.4 and the 12-lap relay in 4:42.9.

Staying on the girls side, Suring's Christine Sleeter won both the high jump (4-10) and pole vault (8-0) and took fifth in the 45 (6.4). Olivia Noack was first in the 800 (2:51.97).

Georgia Gerndt had the team's other top finishes, winning the 400 (1:17.26) and triple jump (26-5½).

"With this meet being my first indoor, I was very nervous," said Gerndt. "But after my first event, the 24-lap relay, my nerves went away and I forgot how much fun I always have."

"I was satisfied on how I did in the 400 for my first meet indoors and the first one of the season, but I know I can push myself harder with more competition and now I am back in the groove. As soon as track ended last year, I was ready for this season, so starting off the season strong definitely gives me more confidence going into future meets."

The Suring boys team won four individual events on the night.

Quinn Thomson won the 400 (1:01.94) while also taking fourth in the long jump (15-7¾) and fifth in the 200 (29.21). Trent Van Den Elzen won the 50 hurdles (8.39), was second in the pole vault (9-6), third in the high jump (5-2) and fourth in the 400 (1:07.32). Jackson Schaal won the shot put (36-8½).

Jeremy Hensel had the other top finish, winning the pole vault. He also was second in the 200 (27.51) and fourth in the 45 (5.72).

"Being indoors, it's definitely a lot harder in the running events, but pole vaulting is nice due to no wind," said Hensel.

In the pole vault, Hensel hoped to improve on his 10-6 height from the team's first indoor meet. "Tonight I got 12, so there was an improvement."

Alaina Herzog had the lone top finish for Gillett on the night, winning the girls 50 hurdles in 8.73 seconds.

"Going into the meet I wasn't sure what to expect, the last time I ran indoor I believe I was a freshman — and I certainly did not expect to win either," said Herzog. "Taking first is still shocking to me, but it was only four hurdles so I don't wanna get too ahead of myself."

"Competing again like this was nice. One thing I took away most was the sportsmanship, right away getting ready to compete girls were already wishing me good luck, and afterwards with nice compliments. The people are what makes this sport so great, felt really nice to compete again."

Gillett's Emily Soper placed third in the girls 45 (6.04). On the boys side, Blake Goodreau was third in the shot put (35-2½).

For the Suring girls, Kate Mahoney placed second in the triple jump (26-1). Placing third was Kaylee Otradovec in the long jump (12-5), MacKenzie Bailey in the pole vault (6-0), Lillie Taylor in the 400 (1:19.9) and Hailey Thomson in the 1,600 (7:09.81).

For the Suring boys, Mason Ferrell was second in the shot put (35-4). Taking third was Ashtyn Edwards in the triple jump (33-3) and 400 (1:05.32).

Oconto Falls' Emerich Skarban took second in the boys 50 hurdles (8.44). Justin Spaulding claimed second in the long jump (17-0¾) and triple jump (36-0).

Also placing second was Brant Laluzerne in the 400 (1:04.02), Grant Yuma in the 1,600 (5:37.83), Griffin Kopke in the 800 (2:34.72) and Evan Yuma in the high jump (5-2). Evan Yuma was also third in the 45 (5.61).

Taking second for the Oconto Falls girls was Hailey Kopke in the 45 (5.92), Brooke Hodkiewicz in the 1,600 (6:22.64), Amber Haines in the 400 (1:18.97), Maddy Przybylski in the 800 (2:56.31), Grace Molitor in the shot put (29-1) and Brailyn St. Louis in the high jump (4-8).

Brynn Hodkiewicz came in third in the 800 (3:06.75) for the Oconto Falls girls. Morgan Moynihan placed third in the shot put (28-4½), and Abby Budz was third in the triple jump (25-7).

Ruechel's path to greatness a unique one

Pulaski grad starring as thrower at UW-Stout

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Pulaski High School graduate Kevin Ruechel has become one of the top track and field throwers in all of Division III during his career at UW-Stout, but the path he took to get there isn't one you'd expect.

The fifth-year college senior has Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and DIII titles to his name but didn't once qualify for high school state as a thrower. In fact, he didn't even begin competing in the sport until he was a junior in high school.

"I was relatively naive when it came to throwing," recalled Ruechel.

The Pulaski grad added that he was competing in one of the state's top sectionals in the entire state.

"Our sectional was stacked with kids from Kimberly, and I ended up taking fourth place in both events (shot put, discus) my senior year, just missing out on a trip to La Crosse," said Ruechel.

Since joining the UW-Stout team, Ruechel has spent a great deal of time "breaking down the technical aspects of the throw with my coach and have taken thousands of throws to prepare for the ones that matter most."

He added that his workout program — which focuses on major lifts and Olympic lifts — has been a great asset to him, helping him with explosiveness. That's led to further throws and plenty of success.

While he turned in strong finishes at the WIAC indoor and outdoor championships and made multiple DIII championship appearances as a freshman and sophomore, his career got a jolt in 2020.

Ruechel said stepping away from the UW-Stout football team, which he competed on from 2017-19, was the turning point for his throwing career.

"As much as I loved the sport, focusing on only throwing allowed me to fully commit to training year-round, and I would say it has paid off well in my favor," said Ruechel, who earned the Co-Offensive Line-man of the Year honor for football in the Fox River Classic Conference as a high school senior. "Having more time to lift, recover and practice has allowed me to compete at the highest level that I am capable of."

FYI

Keep tabs on Ruechel's track and field season by checking out the college highlights articles, which are posted weekly at www.newmedia-wi.com.

During the 2020 indoor track and field season, Ruechel won his first-ever WIAC title in the shot put with a personal-best throw of 57 feet, 10½ inches. He placed first in six shot put events that season.

Just when Ruechel had it all figured out, the pandemic brought all the momentum to a halt. The indoor DIII championship and entire outdoor season was canceled. The pandemic also took away chances for Ruechel to shine at the 2021 indoor WIAC and DIII championships.

Instead of letting the setback get him down, Ruechel continued to work hard.

During the parts of the 2021 season he was able to compete in, Ruechel continued to shine. He set the school record for indoor shot put and broke the outdoor shot put record twice. The first time he broke the outdoor record was when he won the outdoor WIAC title with a throw of 59-2¾, more than five feet beyond any other competitor.

The second time he broke the record was during the DIII outdoor championship with a throw of 59-9.

"I would say without a doubt winning the outdoor shot put national title in 2021 was my favorite moment (of his college career so far)," said Ruechel. "Sitting in second place as I took my final throw and taking the title was an insane feeling, especially with having to deal with a rain delay that meet."

While for most athletes, that 2021 season would have been their last as college seniors, the NCAA changed some of its eligibility requirements to allow athletes that had seasons taken away by the pandemic an extra opportunity to compete. Ruechel jumped at the opportunity.

"Knowing that I had eligibility remaining, I didn't want to waste it and look back in 10 years wishing I would've competed one more time," said Ruechel.

The Pulaski grad has made the most of his extra season so far, with a number of top finishes to his name through the indoor season and beginning of the outdoor season.

Ruechel won his second straight WIAC indoor title in the shot put after a top throw of 59-0¾. All five of his throws that day would have earned him first place. He became just the third Stout thrower ever with at least two shot put titles.

Ruechel then won the indoor DIII title in the shot put. Competing in the second flight of throwers, his first throw immediately put him in first. His top throw of 58-4 was three feet further than any other thrower. He became the second Stout thrower ever to win an indoor shot put title.

"This indoor season went by in an instant," said Ruechel. "It felt good to have a normal WIAC indoor conference meet after not having one last year, and it was good preparation for nationals.

"For nationals, it was a bitter-sweet return to the JDL Fast Track in Winston-Salem, (North Carolina), where two years prior, we had practiced for the 2020 Indoor Championship, but then were sent home without having the opportunity to compete. To go back down there and win an indoor title was a testament to having all the hard work pay off. Overall, it is fantastic to have a 'normal' season once more and having an extremely optimistic outdoor season upon us."

Ruechel kicked off his outdoor season by winning the shot put and discus events at the Rhodes Invitational in Tennessee. He competed in the javelin throw for the first time in his career, placing fourth, and also took ninth in the hammer throw.

It's a promising start to an outdoor season chock-full of big goals for Ruechel.

"Looking ahead to the outdoor season, getting another shot put title is priority number one, and my goal is to make my way onto and up the all-time D3 list for outdoor," he said. "Additionally, a goal I have is to be more consistent when it comes to discus and get the elusive All-American for this as I am 0-for-3 at nationals for discus, so there is always room for improvement."

ATHLETE PROFILE: ELLIOTT LOWNEY

Shawano senior hoping to cap career on top of podium

Shawano Community High School's Elliott Lowney has been a big-time athlete in whatever high school sport he's played over the past four years. Lowney will cap his career competing on the track and field team and looking to improve on last year's state showing.

A year ago, Lowney placed second in the 200-meter dash at the Division 2 state meet, while also placing seventh in the 400.

He just missed out on making it to state in the 100, and he will also compete in the long jump and triple jump this spring.

In the team's first indoor meet of the spring season on March 17 in Oshkosh, Lowney placed second in the long jump and 200 and was third in the 60 dash.

Lowney is committed to Bemidji State University, where he is set to join the football team. Lowney also was a part of the basketball team while in high school.

Q: When did your interest in track and field begin?

A: I really didn't have an interest in track throughout middle school. I was more of a baseball kid, but I went out with a couple of friends my eighth grade year and fell in love with it. Then my freshman year I had to decide between the two, and I think I chose the right one.

Q: What is your favorite part about the track and field season?

A: My favorite part of track would have to be the warm meet days. At the beginning of the season everyone is cold and not running good, but as the season goes on it gets warmer and that's when PRs (personal records) are set and records are broke.

Q: You're headed to Bemidji State to play football. How does track and field help you on the football field?

A: Track and field helps me with a multitude of things — the first, obviously, being my speed but not just that. My form is critiqued and bettered, and lifting for track helps me be more explosive.

Q: After making state last spring, what are your goals for your senior season?

A: Going to state last year was a great experience, but there's always room to improve on that. This year I don't want to just go to state, I want to win state in the 100 and 200.

Q: In this early portion of the season, what are you focusing on the most?

A: This early in the season I am just really focusing on my form and making sure everything is feeling good before the outdoor season starts.

Q: What's your favorite event to compete in, and why?

A: The 100 dash because nothing is staggered. Everyone starts at the same spot and we run right past the grand stand, where everyone is cheering.

Q: Before competing in an event, do you have any routines or rituals you go through?

A: Before a race I just try to get into the right mindset — I go through my warmup and envision myself running so when I get up there, it's just clockwork.

Q: As a senior, how do you try and help lead the team?

A: I just try to make sure the younger group has good form and telling them not to worry about times right now and that with good form fast times will follow.

Q: What's your favorite memory of competing on the Shawano track and field team?

A: Just the trip down to state last year with the team and staying at the hotel. Then the next day running in the 200 dash final at state and taking second.

Q: Favorite movie, TV show and musical artist?

A: Movie — "6 Underground." TV show — "Outer Banks." Music artist — Lil Baby.

Q: Name one thing about yourself that not many people know.

A: My favorite thing to do in the summer is go bridge jumping.

Q: What are some things you hope to accomplish after graduating high school?

A: I want to make my way into coaching at some point and just pass on what I know to the next generation. Whether it's in track, basketball or football I don't know yet.

ATHLETE PROFILE: KAYLEE SCHRAM

Senior looking to guide inexperienced team

The Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School softball team had several seniors graduate from a sectional-qualifying team in 2021. That means the team will be looking to new leaders this spring, with senior Kaylee Schram serving as one.

Schram is coming off a junior season in which she made the Central Wisconsin Conference-East Division honorable mention team. She had a .279 batting average while driving in nine runs and scoring 13 times. She clubbed six extra-base hits and stole 11 bases.

She will primarily play first base in her final season, but she is willing to move around the field if needed.

Q: When did your interest in softball begin?

A: When I was younger, I was actually a die-hard baseball girl. My brothers (Tyler and Jake) were the influence with that one; I wanted to be just like them. I always thought that was what I would be playing, but in eighth grade I joined softball and I loved it and have been playing since then.

Q: What is your favorite part about the softball season?

A: My favorite part of the softball season is definitely playoffs. I really like how high stakes everything is, and there is a different atmosphere. Every single person on the team is on edge and ready to play, and I love it.

Q: What has the game of softball taught you over the years?

A: It sounds cheesy, but softball has really taught me a lot about teamwork. Everyone has to do their part in order for things to be accomplished, whether that be making defensive plays or getting on the bats. We all go where the team needs us, and we need to do our part.

Q: There were several seniors who graduated from last year's team that went to sectionals. As one of the few experienced players back, how do you plan to lead the team this spring?

A: Our seniors last year were all great players, but I think that their attitudes are what I want to try and keep that same energy. In the dugout, there were never any hanging heads; if someone fell down, they were picked back up again, and I really want to keep that energy this season.

Q: What's the key to you and the team having another successful spring?

A: I think that confidence will be the key to us having a successful season. We have a young, inexperienced team with a lot of potential, but we need to be confident in our abilities in the big games. I believe we can do it, and everyone else needs to believe that, too.

Q: In this early portion of the season, what are you and the team focusing on the most?

A: In the early portion of the season, we are going back to the fundamentals. We want to make sure that we don't start off the season with any bad habits, and that our fundamentals are strong.

Q: After making an all-conference team last spring, what are your individual goals this spring?

A: One of my individual goals is this spring is to make an all-conference team again. I know it will be difficult, but it is a great motivator to keep me working hard throughout the entire season.

Q: Before a game begins, do you or the team have any routines or rituals you go through?

A: Before games, we always go through and make sure that everyone gets eye black. It makes us feel cool. Last season, we also did a prayer after we were all ready that was usually led by our volunteer coach Bill Fraaza.

Q: What's your favorite memory of competing on the Wittenberg-Birnamwood softball team?

A: My favorite memory of competing was actually last season during playoffs. We had gone into extra innings against Amherst with a tied score, and we won by a walkoff in the 11th or 12th inning. We were on edge the whole game and when we finally won, it was amazing.

Q: Favorite movie, TV show and musical artist?

A: Movie — "The Replacements." TV show — "Gilmore Girls." Music artist — Harry Styles.

Q: Name one thing about yourself that not many people know.

A: One thing that not many people know about me is that really like to read. I really love sitting outside and reading a good book.

Q: What are some things you hope to accomplish after graduating high school?

A: After high school, I want to go on to college at four-year university to study forensic psychology. I suppose if that doesn't work out I would be just as happy marrying rich.

Lena's Max Beyer, Oconto Falls' Hailey Peitersen, Bonduel's Allaina Robaidek, Wittenberg-Birnamwood's Reese Rogowski and Pulaski's Lincoln Simons earned all-state recognition after the winter seasons wrapped up.

Beyer, Robaidek and Rogowski were honored for their play on the basketball court, while Simons earned his for his play on the ice. Peitersen was honored for her work in the classroom.

Peitersen picked up an individual academic all-state award from the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Association.

To be recognized, athletes had to be nominated by their coaches. Athletes have to be seniors with at least a 3.5 grade-point average and an ACT score of at least 25.

Peitersen was one of 16 girls selected by the WBCA Executive Board.

"It is very rewarding to not only receive recognition for my basketball abilities, but also for all the work I put into the classroom," said Peitersen. "I am very honored to be recognized at the state level for my athletics and my academics."

The Oconto Falls senior made the North Eastern Conference honorable mention team and defensive first team after averaging 10.6 points and 9 rebounds a game this winter. In 18 conference game, she also blocked 15 shots, dished out 19 assists and had 46 steals.

Robaidek and Rogowski were each part of the WBCA all-state honorable mention girls team in Division 4.

"As my senior year comes to a close, it was extremely meaningful to have my career and hard work acknowledged at the state level," said Robaidek. "It is very exciting to be placed on a level with some of the best athletes. I also want to thank all the coaches that helped me reach this level of play and the teammates."

Rogowski made the CWC-East first team as a junior. She led the conference in scoring with 18.6 points a game.

The junior also led the conference in assists (5.3) a game, a mark that helped her finish 14th in the entire state, according to www.wissports.net statistics. She averaged 4.6 rebounds, 3.4 steals and 1.6 blocks also.

Beyer made the WBCA all-state honorable mention boys team in Division 5.

"It's a huge honor and to also know that all the hard work paid off. I'm very thankful," said Beyer.

Beyer enjoyed a big senior season for the Wildcats, coming in 28th in the state after averaging 23.8 points per contest.

Green Bay re-signs Douglas and Tonyan

The Green Bay Packers re-signed cornerback Rasul Douglas and tight end Robert Tonyan.

The transactions were announced separately March 21 by General Manager Brian Gutekunst.

"In a short period of time, Rasul made a huge impact on the Packers with his professionalism and on-field performance," said Gutekunst. "We are excited that he is returning to Green Bay and look forward to his contributions to the team both on the field and in the locker room."

"We are excited to come to an agreement that brings Robert back to Green Bay," added Gutekunst, of Tonyan. "Through his approach and dedication he developed into an important part of our offense, and we are confident he will come back stronger from his injury because of the person he is and how hard he works."

Douglas, a 6-foot-2, 209-pound, sixth-year player out of West Virginia University, was originally selected by the Philadelphia Eagles in the third round (No. 99 overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft. He played three years for the Eagles (2017-19), one season for the Carolina Panthers (2020) and this past season for Green Bay after the Packers signed him off the Arizona Cardinals' practice squad on Oct. 6, 2021.

Douglas played in 12 games with nine starts for the Packers, registering a career-best five interceptions, two of which he returned for TDs to tie for the fourth most in a single season in team history.

The Pro Bowl alternate also registered 52 tackles (48 solo) and a career-best 13 passes defended (No. 2 on the team). According to stathead.com, Douglas had the lowest passer rating allowed when targeted (44.5) in the NFL in 2021 among all defenders targeted over 45 times.

In 2020, Douglas appeared in 14 games with a career-high 11 starts for Carolina, recording a career-best 62 tackles (50), while adding nine passes defended (No. 2 on the team).

Overall, Douglas has appeared in 72 games with 38 starts in five seasons, totaling 230 tackles (192 solo), 10 interceptions and 47 passes defended as well as seven special teams tackles. He has also appeared in seven postseason contests with three starts, recording 14 tackles (12 solo) and two passes defended.

Tonyan, a 6-5, 240 pound fifth-year player out of Indiana State, was originally signed by the Detroit Lions as an undrafted free agent in 2017.

Tonyan has played in 51 games with 15 starts in his career, registering 84 receptions for 967 yards (11.5 avg.) and 15 touchdowns. He started five of eight games he played in last year before a knee injury ended his season.

In 2020, Tonyan played in all 16 games with eight starts and ranked No. 2 on the team with a career-high 52 receptions for 586 yards (11.3 avg.)

and 11 TDs, tying the single-season franchise record (Paul Coffman, 1983) for the most TD catches by a tight end. He was tied for No. 1 in the league in TD receptions among tight ends (Travis Kelce), becoming the first Packer to rank first in the league among TEs since Bubba Franks (tied for No. 1 in 2002).

Tonyan was only the second TE in franchise annals to register 45-plus catches, 500-plus receiving yards and nine-plus receiving TDs in a season (Coffman, 54-814-11 in 1983). He ranked No. 4 among NFL tight ends (min. 50 rec.) in 2020 with an average of 11.3 yards per catch.

Pack signs Jarran Reed

The Packers signed defensive lineman Jarran Reed. Gutekunst announced the transaction March 23.

Reed, a 6-3, 307-pound seventh-year player out of the University of Alabama, was originally selected by the Seattle Seahawks in the second round (No. 49 overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft. He played five seasons with the Seahawks (2016-20) before spending last season with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Overall, Reed has played in 89 games with 80 starts, recording 237 tackles (123 solo), 24½ sacks, 24 tackles for a loss, 70 QB hits, seven passes defended, five forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries.

He has also appeared in nine postseason contests (all starts) and registered 28 tackles (16 solo), three sacks, four tackles for a loss and six QB hits.

Green Bay adds Keisean Nixon

The Packers also signed cornerback Keisean Nixon. Gutekunst announced the transaction March 26.

Nixon, a 5-10, 200-pound fourth-year player out of the University of South Carolina, appeared in 40 games with two starts in three seasons (2019-21) with the Oakland/Las Vegas Raiders. He registered 20 tackles (15 solo) and a pass defended on defense while adding 18 tackles on special teams, highlighted by a team-high nine stops on special teams as a rookie in 2019.

Signed by the Raiders as an undrafted free agent in May 2019, Nixon played two years at South Carolina after transferring from Arizona Western College. As a senior in 2018, he appeared in 12 games with 11 starts for the Gamecocks and posted 63 tackles (42 solo) and a team-high nine passes defended.
