Sleeter cleared 5 feet in the high jump to take second place. She also tied for fourth in pole vault (7-0).

"Well, placing second tonight in high jump out of at least 30 girls is definitely something I'm proud of, especially going against all these talented girls from bigger schools," said Sleeter.

"Making 5 (feet) tonight in high jump is definitely something that will push me the rest of the season now, knowing I can do 5 for sure. Hopefully when I get outside things will start to become a little more normal and I can hopefully get higher this season."

MacKenzie Bailey was one of the girls Sleeter tied for fourth with at 7 feet in the pole vault. Olivia Noack claimed fourth in the 800 (2:40.2).

Hensel finished third in the pole vault (11-6) and was seventh in the 400 (56.77) to account for all of the boys team's scoring.

He broke his own school record after clearing 6-4 in the high jump and placed second. Kietlinski also placed fifth in the triple jump (41-1) and seventh in the long jump (18-7).

"This early in the season, even the best jumpers have inconsistent performances, so I try not to get too disappointed when I don't perform up to my standards," said Kietlinski. "My long jump and triple jump aren't where they need to be yet, but my high jump is where I hoped I would be at at this point."

"I'm looking forward to getting outdoors where I can work more on technique. The UWSP meet is a great building block for the outdoor season."

"Going into the 3,200 race today, I didn't really know what my time was going to be, so I stuck to what my coach told me to do and it worked out in the end. Just stick right behind Charlie Vater and the rest will take care of itself," said Peterson.

"Even though I didn't win the race, I broke 10 minutes in the 3,200 for the first time which I am ecstatic about! I love running this race, and it was a super fun one tonight!"

ATHLETE PROFILE: ISABEL ROLOFF

Senior track star hoping for best season yet

Shawano's Isabel Roloff is no stranger to success during her high school track and field career. She's hoping for one more big season this spring before she takes her talents to UW-Milwaukee, where she plans to continue competing in the sport.

Her best high school season came as a junior when she qualified for state in the pole vault and 100-yard dash. Roloff took second in the Division 2 pole vault field after clearing 11 feet, and she was fourth in the 100 with a time of 12.34 seconds.

She was the Bay Conference champion in the 100 and pole vault as a junior.

According to the school's record books, she owns the top mark in the 100 (12.22) and pole vault (11-0) and sits in third in the 200 (26.84).

Q: When did your interest in track and field begin?

A: My interest started my freshman year of high school when I decided to try track. After a fun and successful first year, it became one of my favorite activities.

Q: What is your favorite part about the track and field season?

A: My favorite part of the season is at the end of May when conference, regionals, sectionals and state meets are happening. I love the excitement of track meets that qualify you for a bigger meet.

Q: What has the sport taught you over the years?

A: Track and field has taught me perseverance even through challenges. Last year I had a hip injury during the end of the season, but I still managed to run well and go to state.

Q: What is your favorite event to compete in, and why?

A: My favorite event is the pole vault because there is always something to be improved. I enjoy the combination of running fast on the runway and being coordinated in the air.

Shawano's Isabel Roloff competes in the girls pole vault competition during the Division 2 WIAA State Track and Field Championships on June 25, 2021, at Veterans Memorial Stadium in La Crosse.

Q: You are headed to UW-Milwaukee to compete in track and field. With that in mind, what goals have you set for yourself in your final high school season?

A: I hope to go to the state meet again this year and possibly place higher than I did last year. I also hope to set PRs (personal records) in all of my events this season that I can improve upon at UW-Milwaukee.

Q: How did you prepare for the track and field season?

A: I prepared for track in the winter by staying active with competitive dance and practicing at an indoor pole vault facility.

Q: In this early portion of the season, what are you focusing on the most?

A: In the early part of the season, I'm focused on building strength and endurance. Working hard now allows me to be a competitive runner at future meets.

Q: Before competing in an event, do you have any routines or rituals you go through?

A: One ritual that I created at the end of last year's season was to drink a Body Armor at every meet. Other than that, I try to do the same warmup before every race so that I can get in the sprinting state of mind.

Q: What's your favorite memory of competing on the Shawano track and field team?

A: One of my favorite memories with the track team is being escorted out of town last year on our way to state. All the people in town cheering for us and the fire truck and police cars made it very exciting. It was definitely a moment to remember.

Q: Favorite movie, TV show and musical artist?

A: Movie — "High School Musical 2." TV show — "Jane the Virgin." Music artist — Rex Orange County.

Q: Name one thing about yourself that not many people know.

A: I have also showed market lambs since I was in third grade. My family and I travel to livestock shows around the Midwest, and I compete at the state fair and the county fair.

Q: What are some things you hope to accomplish after graduating high school?

A: Along with all of my track and field goals for college, I also hope to earn a master's degree in accounting. My ultimate goal is to one day open a business of my own.

ATHLETE PROFILE: JEREMY HENSEL

Suring senior eyes school record in pole vault

Suring High School's Jeremy Hensel qualified for the state track and field meet as a junior last spring. This year, he's hoping to make a return to state while also breaking the school's record in pole vault.

Hensel cleared 12 feet at state to finish in 12th place. He won the Marinette & Oconto Conference title in the pole vault after clearing 11-6.

Suring's school record is held by Mitch Stegeman at 14-6.

Hensel already has several strong finishes to his name after a few indoor meets. He won the 400-yard dash and took fourth in the pole vault at the Oshkosh Boys Invitational on March 17.

He had the top mark in the pole vault during an indoor meet at Oconto Falls on March 22. Hensel placed second in the 200-meter dash and fourth in the 45-yard dash that night, too.

Hensel scored all of his team's points during the Rosholt Badger Invite on April 1 in Stevens Point after a third-place finish in the pole vault and seventh-place finish in the 400-meter.

Q: When did your interest in track and field begin?

A: My interest in track began in sixth grade. I always loved running when I was a kid, so I decided track was the best sport for that.

Q: What is your favorite part about the track and field season?

A: My favorite part about track has to be meeting new people and pole vaulting.

Q: After making state last spring, what are your goals for your senior season?

A: My goal for this year is just to get to the school record, which is 14 feet, 6 inches.

Q: Pole vaulting isn't for everybody. What drew you to the event, and what makes it fun to compete in?

A: You're right when you say it isn't for everyone. But what drew my attention to the event was that falling from high heights and landing on a soft mat is fun. And what other event to do that in besides pole vault?

Q: In this early portion of the season, what are you focusing on the most?

A: As of now I'm really focusing on my sprints due to the weather outside. I can't get outside to vault and we don't have a pit inside, so it's tough right now.

Q: Before competing in an event, do you have any routines or rituals you go through?

A: I just stretch and listen to my music to get my mindset on what I'm doing.

Q: As a senior, how do you try and help lead the team?

A: I try leading the team by just trying to help whenever possible and always cheer my teammates on in their event.

Q: How did playing football and basketball prepare you for the track and field season?

A: It just kept me conditioned really well.

Q: What's your favorite memory of competing on the Suring track and field team?

A: Definitely has to be going to state or placing first at sectionals last year.
