Witt-Birn drops two games to Crandon

Rieck points to improving on errors and effort for the future

The Wittenberg-Birnamwood Legion baseball team dropped a pair of games against Crandon on July 7 in Wittenberg, losing game one 7-4 in seven innings and 8-7 in a pre-determined, five-inning second game.

“We have to come ready to play,” said Witt-Birn head coach Jason Rieck. “I don’t think we had great effort tonight — we had a lot of careless mistakes, which costs us a lot of runs and, unfortunately, two games.”

Witt-Birn’s Bryce Zoromski said that the team did not prepare any differently than if it was just a single game on the night.

“It is kind of the same thing as a normal game, we just show up, play some long toss and get some swings in before the game,” said Zoromski.

Witt-Birn took an early lead in game one after two RBI sacrifice flyouts from Austin Worzalla and Evan Meverden. Those runs were complemented by pitcher Nathan Waupekenay’s three strikeouts through the first two innings for Witt-Birn.

Crandon threatened in the top of the third. Waupekenay struck out one batter and the inning was saved after a called out at home plate from a throw from center field.

Crandon once again threatened in the top of the fourth after two singles filled the bases. A wild pitch from Waupekenay allowed one run. The inning eventually ended with a 6-3 double play. Witt-Birn made up that run in the bottom of the fourth, as it scored on a wild pitch to bring the score to 3-1.

Crandon took the lead in the top of the fifth inning after a fielder’s choice, a two-RBI triple and a sacrifice fly, making it 5-3. Witt-Birn once again made up another run on a passed ball in the bottom of the fifth.

The sixth inning continued the theme of the first game, as Crandon added two more runs on a fielder’s choice and a passed ball. Witt-Birn threatened in the bottom of the sixth, as it loaded the bases with two outs, but a strikeout ended the inning.

Witt-Birn failed to score in the seventh inning, giving Crandon a three-run victory.

In game two, Crandon once again opened the game at the plate. This time the visitors took an early 3-0 lead, scoring twice on fielder’s choices and once on a throwing error. Witt-Birn answered right back, scoring three runs of their own. After Zoromski was hit by the first pitch, Worzalla was able to once again open the scoring with an RBI single. The bases were eventually loaded and a run was walked in. Chase Krull contributed the final run of the inning on a sacrifice fly to right field.

In the second inning, Crandon kept their bats hot, as the visitors scored again on a fielder's choice. The visitors then loaded the bases with no outs. An RBI double brought two runs into score. As a third player was trying to score, Witt-Birn threw him out at home and then subsequently threw the batter out at third base for an 8-2-5 double play.

"I can't say that I have ever seen a play like that before," said Rieck. "I have no idea. It was just kind of one of those baseball plays that you don't see a lot of. It was one of those things where you take a positive out of giving up two runs to get two outs."

Witt-Birn once again weathered the storm, scoring three runs of their own to tie the game up at six in the bottom of the second. Worzalla recorded an RBI on a fielder's choice and Waupekenay recorded an RBI on a single. The final run of the inning came on a throwing error from Crandon.

After the bats went cold for both teams in the third inning, Witt-Birn took the lead in the bottom of the fourth after a pickle caused a run to score. Crandon immediately answered back with two runs in the top of the fifth inning. With the game on the line, Witt-Birn recorded three outs in a row on two strikeouts and one ground ball, giving Crandon its second win of the day.

Rieck said working on effort and attitude is how Witt-Birn can play better in future games.

"We have to take it more serious," said Rieck. "They have to want to come out here and play better. We need to step up and want to do the things that they did all spring."

Zoromski echoed Rieck's words, saying that the team played slow.

"We did not play our best games tonight," said Zoromski. "We had a lot of errors that we need to clean up."

Rieck said that he was happy to see that the bats were hot during the night, scoring 11 runs in two games.

"We took advantage of their pitchers giving us free passes and some passed balls," said Rieck. "We had stolen base opportunities, but it was the defensive miscues that hurt us."

Moving forward, Zoromski pointed to improving on effort to be successful in the future.

"We have to come in and practice harder," said Zoromski. "We are having fun, but we need to show more effort."

Shawano's Gull makes Bay 1st team

Daniel, Bystol, Kary, Babino also

Five Shawano Community High School softball players earned spots on Bay Conference teams after strong spring seasons.

Senior outfielder Margo Gull made the all-conference first team. Senior outfielder Isabel Daniel and sophomore infielder Abby Bystol were on the second team, while senior catcher Elizabeth Kary and sophomore pitcher Braylyn Babino were honorable mentions.

Gull finished the season with a .312 batting average and .380 on-base percentage. She doubled and tripled once among her 20 total hits.

Gull scored 16 runs and drove in nine runs. The senior also stole nine bases.

"It was very exciting to be named first team as a senior because this was my last season," said Gull. "I'm thankful that all of my hard work over the years have paid off."

"I was blessed with many amazing coaches and teammates who gave me endless support and pushed me to always work harder and play to the best of my abilities. Softball has given me many amazing experiences, and I have gained so many friendships. I am thankful for the good and the bad times that I had throughout my softball career, and I will forever cherish the memories that I've made."

Daniel finished her senior season with a .286 average and .365 on-base percentage. She tallied 16 hits for the season, all singles.

Daniel scored seven runs and recorded four RBIs. She swiped four bases.

"It was pretty cool," said Daniel of the all-conference honor. "After winning honorable mention last year, I wasn't sure if I would win anything this year, especially after feeling like I had a better season last year. To win second team my last year of softball makes it feel like my 12 years or so playing, and all of the extra time I put in to get here was worth it."

Bystol ended the spring season with a .323 average and .397 on-base percentage. She clubbed three doubles, a triple and a home run among her team-leading 21 hits. Bystol drove in nine runs and scored 17 times, while also leading the team with 11 steals.

Bystol also pitched 36 2/3 innings this spring across 12 games. She picked up three wins and a save and struck out 37 batters. Bystol had a 2.86 earned run average.

Babino was the team's primary pitcher, working 88 2/3 innings over 16 games and 14 starts. She was the winning pitcher five times and struck out 71 batters while sporting a 2.92 ERA.

The sophomore also got on base at a .364 clip this spring. Babino scored six runs and drove in three others.

Kary had a .300 batting average and team-leading .411 on-base percentage as a senior. She doubled three times among her 18 total hits and drove in 12 runs. The senior scored 11 runs.

"It was extremely special," said Kary of the conference honor. "I was very excited to be able to have a conference title again. It's something I've worked for my whole life, and it's a reminder that my hard work has paid off."

Shawano tied for fourth place in the Bay with a 6-6 record.

Panthers' Euclide makes NEC 1st team

3 other Oconto Falls players honored

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Four Oconto Falls High School softball players were named to North Eastern Conference teams this spring season.

Senior Alexis Euclide made the first team as an outfielder. Junior infielders Ashlyn Allen and Hanna Krejcarek and freshman utility player Randi Metzler were all honorable mentions.

In 14 NEC games, Euclide posted a .510 batting average, stole 10 bases and scored 17 times.

The senior doubled twice and tripled twice among her 25 total hits. She drove in two runs and was a strikeout victim just three times in 49 at-bats.

"It was very special," said Euclide of the all-conference honor. "We had a rough season and even though our record wasn't great, our team was still given individual conference awards. Winning it two times in a row is very special to me. I work my hardest when I'm on the field, and it showed."

Allen capped her junior season with a .393 average after posting 22 hits. She drove in 10 runs and scored 14 times.

Allen walked six times and struck out on just four occasions over 56 at-bats and 18 games played. She stole four bases and had two sacrifices.

"Next year, I hope to just keep improving as an individual and as a team," said Allen. "I want to be the best player I can for the team and add to the level of competition I know we can achieve."

Krejcarek finished conference play with a .357 average. Three of her 20 total hits were doubles.

The junior drove in a team-leading 13 runs and had five sacrifices. Krejcarek scored 12 runs for the Panthers.

"It was special making the all-conference honorable mention team because I missed out on a year of my high school softball career, and it motivated me even more to work hard for something that comes and goes so easily," said Krejcarek. "This honor will motivate me for my senior season because I know I can always work harder on the field, as well as knowing others are recognizing the work I put in."

Metzler enjoyed a strong start to her high school career, with a big season at the plate and helping out in the circle.

She hit .326 across 17 NEC games, with two doubles among her 15 total hits. She drove in nine runs and scored four times, while also tallying four sacrifices.

Metzler covered 50 innings and earned one win for Oconto Falls as a pitcher. She struck out 50 batters.

"This honor will motivate me because with coach Jen (Thompson) having confidence in my playing abilities, it will help me strive closer to playing at the college level," said Metzler. "With the help of my teammates I hope we can improve on our record, and while winning games we can improve our team chemistry."

Oconto Falls finished 4-14 in its conference games, taking eighth in the 10-team conference.

HIGH SCHOOL SOCCER

4 Hawks earn all-conference nods

Teetzen, Popelka make 2nd team

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Four Shawano Community High School girls soccer players were named to Bay Conference teams for their strong play this spring.

Senior Kylie Teetzen and freshman Trinity Popelka were both named to the second team, while junior Jenna Ainsworth and sophomore Brynlie Boyles were honorable mentions.

Teetzen made the all-conference list for her play on defense. During the team's 12-9-1 season, Shawano did a lot more scoring than their opponents, outscoring them 107-55.

"It was such an honor for me to be named second team all-conference my senior year," said Teetzen. "It has been one of my goals since I was a freshman to be recognized by the Bay Conference, and I am so proud that I accomplished it. I worked hard during the offseason and during the season to reach this goal.

"I could not have accomplished this without the help of my teammates and coaches pushing me to always do my best. My parents also had a huge impact on my soccer career with always adjusting their schedules to fit my practices and games. I am very glad and honored that I earned second team all-conference."

Popelka made the all-conference list as a forward and ended up leading the Hawks in scoring as a freshman, tallying 28 goals.

Popelka also was credited with seven assists across 21 games played.

"Being named second team was a huge moment for me. I was both excited and absolutely shocked when my coach announced this award at the spring athletic banquet," said Popelka.

"Coming into the season, my goal was to make the varsity team. That was it. Being able to get second team all-conference was something I couldn't even imagine this year, so it was the best feeling to know that I earned that honor with the help of my teammates."

Ainsworth made the honorable mention list on defense, while Boyles was on the list after serving as the team's goalie.

Ainsworth was credited with one assist on the season. Boyles made 132 saves across 21 matches.

Boyles and the rest of the team's defense capped the year with eight shutouts.

"I can't wait to get out on the field and play one final season with this honor under my belt," said Ainsworth. "I'll use it to motivate me for next season to continue improving my game and leadership skills as co-captain and hopefully find myself on one of the higher honored teams."

"It was very unexpected for me to get this as a sophomore, but it definitely is special to me because it shows that all the hard work and dedication pays off," said Boyles. "This honorable mention will motivate me even more next year to be the best I can be for me and my team."

Milwaukee's Portis eager to prove his worth after getting big contract

By STEVE MEGARGEE
The Associated Press

Milwaukee Bucks forward Bobby Portis says his new contract won't change the blue-collar approach that helped him earn the big payday.

After declining a $4.55 million player option to become a free agent, Portis agreed to a four-year, $49 million deal that keeps him in Milwaukee. But he takes issue with the notion that the long-term deal brings him a sense of security.

"My mindset is always going to be that someone is trying to take my spot and I have to go hard each and every day to show why I'm worth what I'm worth," Portis said July 7.

Portis, 27, emerged as a fan favorite his first two seasons at Milwaukee and relished the opportunity to play for a contender. The 6-foot-10 forward had participated in just one playoff series his first five seasons in the league while playing for the Chicago Bulls, New York Knicks and Washington Wizards.

Chants of "Bobby! Bobby!" occurred regularly at Fiserv Forum in 2021 as Portis helped the Bucks win their first NBA title in half a century. They continued this past season as Portis averaged 14.6 points, 9.1 rebounds and 28.2 minutes to set career highs in all three categories.

Portis made a career-high 59 starts while filling in for Brook Lopez, who played just 13 regular-season games due to a back injury that required surgery. Portis returned to his usual bench role once Lopez returned in mid-March.

Fans love the tenacity he brings to the floor, playing as though every game could be his last.

"I'm never really secure," Portis said. "I'm always the underdog mindset, any day, anything can change. Just because they love you today, they might not love you tomorrow. That's always been my mindset in this league."

The return of Portis reflected the Bucks' desire to keep much of their nucleus intact as they attempt to win a second title in three years with a roster featuring two-time MVP Giannis Antetokounmpo, three-time All-Star Khris Middleton and Jrue Holiday. The Bucks didn't have an injured Middleton for their seven-game Eastern Conference semifinal loss to the Boston Celtics.

Last week, Milwaukee announced the signings of guards Wesley Matthews and Jevon Carter along with the return of Portis. Pat Connaughton picked up his $5.7 million player option for the upcoming season rather than pursuing free agency.

The Bucks have added first-round draft pick MarJon Beauchamp and free-agent forward Joe Ingles, who is recovering from a torn ACL injury that ended his season in late January. The Bucks announced July 7 they signed Beauchamp, who was the No. 24 overall selection in the draft.

Portis is ready to work with his old and new teammates. Even after signing his big deal, he remains as motivated as ever.

"I'll always feel like I've got something to prove," Portis said. "Obviously I'm happy that I got a chance to build generational wealth for my family, but (there's) still a lot of work left to do and there's not time or need to celebrate."
