MIRIAM NELSON | NEW MEDIA

Keeping you informed

You're doing your part to keep your families safe, your business viable, your community running.

To do that, you need fast, accurate information. That's what we at NEW Media Inc. can do for you.

The staff at NEW Media, Inc. is posting current COVID-19 information on our website, www.newmedia-wi.com, throughout the day. This service is free to all and is made possible by the support of our subscribers and advertisers.

Newmedia-wi.com is where you can find local information in one location. You'll find closures, new hours, changes in services, and other news about our communities in Shawano, Menominee and Oconto counties.

Newmedia-wi.com is the only local, comprehensive source for this vital information.

As with other businesses, we are facing new challenges as we gather the news, print it and post it. While we understand that our jobs do not allow us to stay home, we want to make sure we are supporting the efforts to keep our communities — and our employees — safe.

That means we are changing how we deliver news and advertising during this crisis.

Next week, you'll see some changes in the distribution of the Shawano Leader, Wittenberg Enterprise and Birnamwood News and Oconto County Times Herald. Look for a new weekly edition on Fridays, beginning April 3.

We will also roll our shoppers into the Friday publication. As with the news, you'll also be able to view advertising online.

In an emergency, fear and misinformation tear at the fabric of our communities. We stand apart to avoid sharing a virus, but mistrust and anger are also contagious. We calm anger by sharing facts, not theories. We ease mistrust by listening, even when we think we already know the answers.

We are here to share and listen, and most important, we are here to serve.

Love, sex and the IRS lead to kidnapping

This week's book was a bit of a disappointment. I selected "Third Degree" by Greg Iles. I wouldn't recommend it, but I will tell you about it and you can decide.

All her life, Laurel Shields longed for stability. She found it when she met Warren Shields in college. They married, and she taught special education while Warren was in his medical residency. Sadly, he agreed to return to Athens Point, Louisiana, to help care for his dying mother. Once there, he became a partner with Dr. Kyle Auster, and Laurel returned to teaching.

When Warren's mother lived far beyond predictions, she begged for a grandchild. Against her better judgment, Laurel agreed, and soon Grant was born. When Warren's mother died, the family was settled in Athens Point. In the following 12 years, Laurel did her best to be a good wife and mom to Grant and little Beth, but she knew something was missing in her life.

For almost a year, Warren had been acting strangely. He was always quiet, but now he seemed to be shutting her out. He was often short with the children, too. That was when Laurel met Danny McDavitt. His son, Michael, was one of Laurel's students, and she was impressed with his devotion to his care.

Danny had been a Marine helicopter pilot in Afghanistan earning several awards for bravery, but now all he wanted was a quiet life and a loving family. He'd made a terrible mistake in marrying Starlette. He'd asked for a divorce, but Starlette threatened to take Michael with her when she left, and Danny couldn't bear to be away from his special-needs son.

Things all came to a head in a most unexpected way. Laurel knew that Warren was concerned about a planned IRS audit, but this was something more as he swept books from the shelves in a frenzied search for something. She doesn't dare tell him that she's pregnant. She and Danny had broken up five weeks ago, and she'd only been with Warren twice in the past two months. So either man could be the father.

After a terrible day at work, Laurel returned home to find Warren in a murderous state. He'd been tipped off that there was a love letter hidden in the house, and he'd found it. His confrontation was severe as he bound her hands and feet, demanding to know who her lover was.

He'd found bonds and ledgers indicating that she was involved with Kyle Auster. The more she denied it, the angrier Warren became. As he held her hostage, the situation at the medical office was coming to a head.

Unbeknownst to Warren, Kyle and office manager Vida had been defrauding insurance companies and Medicaid. Now the IRS was about to shut them down. They'd hoped to pin it on Dr. Shields, but that wasn't going to work now so Kyle went to the Shields home to retrieve the hidden items. Little did he know what he'd be walking into.

Soon a full-blown SWAT type team is assembled, and Danny must fly the sheriff to the site. He knows a little of what's happening because he and Laurel communicate by secret cellphones, but he doesn't dare tell the sheriff the truth. As the situation devolves, they learn that Warren has a fatal brain tumor that may be affecting his behavior. Danny goes in to try to talk Warren into letting the children go, but when Warren learns that Danny is Laurel's lover, things go very bad.

An attempted rescue fails miserably. While Laurel lies wounded, Warren forces Danny to fly him and Grant to Laurel's mother's where he leaves Grant. Then he demands they fly high over the river. The final action there is almost anti-climactic. Danny survives; the sheriff has suspicions. Will their relationship survive the guilt they both carry to make a life together?

WOW cancels fundraiser and art show

Walls of Wittenberg Inc. has decided to cancel its main fundraiser, the Wine, Beer and Cheese Gala. The event was scheduled to take place April 24.

The gala was also scheduled to open the spring art show where any Wisconsin artists can enter up to two pieces of artwork as part of the juried show. The spring art show has been canceled. WOW will not be collecting art on April 14 as planned.

"It was a hard decision for the board to make as it is a major fundraiser for WOW," said Elaine Knab, president of WOW. "Anyone who has already purchased tickets for the event should contact the person they bought them from or call the WOW phone line at 715-253-3525."

Happy hour just got a little easier

For about 30 years now, I have been getting together with former roommates for a few weekends each year. The ritual helps us reconnect and blow off a little steam. I jokingly refer to those getaways as our Wild Women Weekends, the joke being they never were all that wild and seem to be getting less so with the passage of time.

I'm the oldest in the group, and although I'm willing to rally at least one night out of an entire weekend, I try to steer my friends toward theater or music venues for purely selfish reasons — I'm tired, and I can't keep up with them. Whoever said 60 is the new 40 certainly wasn't looking at life through my eyes.

One of my pals was visiting her son in Ireland, doing a semester abroad program, when the news came that all Americans should back the very next day.

It made me think of traveling around Europe over 40 years ago and not finding out my grandfather had passed until a month after the event. Had this COVID-19 been an issue back then, I wonder when I would have even heard about it before my trip back home. Technology has changed so much over the years, and a lot of what we take for granted now would have been most make their way back home.

In this day of instant communication, I sent her a message encouraging her to get back as soon as she could, and she changed her flight to come useful back then.

Finding ways to connect in the midst of all of our self-imposed social distancing is taking a top priority now. One of the youngest in our group is highly attuned to the communication options available these days. She tried to get us to connect on our computers via Zoom, a "new to me" app that only half of us could figure out how to connect to. After a little trial and error, we settled on connecting via Facetime on our phones.

In keeping true to our traditions, we used this glorious application so we could all meet for happy hour. It was so much fun to see everyone all at the same time even though we were miles apart — spread out through Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. I was most pleased with my beverage service.

Being able to connect again, even for just an hour, was balm for my weary soul. It's easy to keep busy making adjustments in our daily lives, but trying to find ways to keep connected in the midst of a time of isolation takes a little more effort for some people. Having lived alone now for 15 years, I'm well accustomed to laughing at my own thoughts, keeping myself busy and refraining from finding boredom. I have it easier than most.

We've decided to try to meet each Thursday at 5 p.m. for happy hour. Last week, the happy hour was an experiment. If we pull it off this week, we can start forming a habit. If we continue, it could become a tradition. If it lasts well after the end of the pandemic, then we might need to admit we have a problem.

Class of 2020 has been forged through adversity

Over the past two weeks, nothing has weighed more heavily on my mind than you, Wittenberg-Birnamwood Class of 2020. I know your emotions have to be running between disappointment, sadness and confusion.

Why does this happen during a time every adult tells you: "This is supposed to be the greatest time of your lives. Enjoy it now. Make the most of it, and take advantage of every opportunity you can"? These final months of school should be met with anticipation and excitement for events like prom, athletics, concerts and — most importantly — one final opportunity to walk with your classmates in celebration for all that you have accomplished together.

If there is ever a graduating class that has experienced rapid and significant change, adversity and the challenges life hands us, that distinction goes to you. You were born during a time when the events of 9-11 changed the course of the way Americans and the world went about their way of life forever. Never since has airport, stadium and building access been the same.

You have been a part of the transition from simply holding monthly fire drills, to now preparing and responding to an active intruder in our buildings. You have exercised patience through building construction, and now with the recent decisions surrounding the coronavirus and mandated school closure, are faced with yet another challenge of completing your senior year in a way none of us could have ever imagined.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: I DON'T THINK ANYONE, UNTIL THEIR SOUL LEAVES THEIR BODY, IS PAST THE POINT OF NO RETURN. — TOM HIDDLESTON

GARRETT ROGOWSKI

It has been said that there is no education like adversity. Well, in that case, all you have endured and persevered through has truly prepared you for what lies ahead.

The challenges you face and your response to them are the decisions that make you who you are today and who you will become tomorrow.

Success is not determined by the situations you experience. It's determined by how you choose to respond. Randy Pausch, the author of "The Last Lecture," wrote this about adversity: "The brick walls are there for a reason. The brick walls are not there to keep us out. The brick walls are there to give us a chance to show how badly we want something."

So here we stand, with another brick wall in front of us. It's OK to feel disappointment, sadness and confusion through these uncharted times. You have the right to, but you need to know this: You are the Wittenberg-Birnamwood Graduating Class of 2020. No one can take that from you.

No wall, no adversity, can stand in your way. We are there for you, we're proud of you and we will see to it that you are provided with every opportunity you deserve in meeting all graduation requirements and will do whatever we can to support you every step of the way.

OBITUARIES

Murl Hahs

Murl Hahs (nee Schmidt), 92, passed peacefully March 16, 2020. Murl was born on a Friday, Jan. 13, 1928, in the township of Birnamwood to her late parents, Fred and Erma (Kufahl) Schmidt. She grew up on the "rocky" family farm in Birnamwood with her parents and 10 siblings.

Murl began her first eight years of education at Balsam Grove, a one-room, one-teacher school with 40-50 neighborhood students. In 1945, she graduated from Birnamwood High School. In 1947, she was accepted as a student nurse at Milwaukee Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing under the guidance of Sr. Emma Herch, RN, who would daily remind students, "We are not here to dream and to drift. We have work to do and loads to lift. Shun not the struggle, bear it; it's God's gift." Murl graduated as an registered nurse in 1950 and continued to work at Lutheran Hospital for 34 years. On Oct. 2, 1971, she was married to Chester Hahs and became a member of another caring and loving family. Whether it be the small creek that rippled behind the barn, Pelican Lake (especially ice fishing), deep sea fishing in the Gulf of Mexico on the Blue Heron with Captain Curley and Sarah, to the icy waters of Sturgeon Lake in Ontario - Murl was always ready to go fishing.

She also enjoyed gardening, knitting, crocheting and sewing, making mercy quilt tops for Lutheran World Relief and countless sweaters for family and friends, many which are still being worn today. Murl also enjoyed picking wild raspberries in surrounding woods and wild blueberries in Canada, which she later baked into pails of cookies for her nieces and nephews. It was a toss up on who enjoyed these endeavors more — Murl or her nieces and nephews.

She was an active member of St. John's Lutheran Church in Birnamwood where she was baptized, confirmed and married.

Survivors include her siblings, Milton (Suzanne) Schmidt and Earl (Judy) Schmidt, of Birnamwood, Carol Kocina, of Independence, Minnesota, and Rachel Kluck, of Tomahawk; sisters-in-law, Judith Schmidt, of Birnamwood, and Orah Hahs, of Cumberland; a stepdaughter, Diane (Thomas) Krueger, of Rochester, Michigan, and stepson-in-law, William Pieczynski, of Manitowoc; and beloved grandchildren, Amy Tasch, Greg Krueger (Bethany), Ali Kay Smith and Kathy Stafford. She is further survived by great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews and many loving family members and friends.

Murl was preceded in death by husband, Chester; her parents; stepdaughter, Jane Pieczynski; and siblings Donald, David, Roy, Doris, Erma Jean and Verna Viegut.

From Murl: "Thank you all for an enjoyable and rewarding earthly life, but the best is yet to come. I am a child of Jesus Christ and am going home. Hope to see all of you there."

Bye, Murl.

In following the guidelines recommended from the state of Wisconsin, the funeral service for Murl will be celebrated at a later date. Notification will be given when the funeral is scheduled.

Schmidt and Schulta Funeral Home in Birnamwood, is assisting the family with funeral arrangements. Messages of support and condolences may be shared at schmidtschulta.com.

Sacred Heart giving lunches, planning new classes

Sacred Heart Catholic School in Shawano started supplying free bag lunches to its students and any siblings within the household last week.

Lunches were picked up by over 30 children who needed them as of March 18.

The school sent out a Google survey to all school families on March 17 asking if the family would participate, how many household members younger than 19 would need a lunch, and which designated pickup site they would be picking up the lunches from. Any siblings living in the household were also included.

Due to the school having a large number of students living in the Keshena and Neopit areas, the school not only had a pick up point on the school campus, but also at the Spirit Rock historical marker on state Highway 47 in Keshena.

The school averages 40 bag lunches each day and is committed to continuing the free lunches as long as the school is not in session during the coronavirus shutdown.

Lisa Bantle, a mother of three, including two who attend Sacred Heart, appreciates the school's help during a difficult time.

"With school being cancelled due to this virus going around, I am very grateful that Sacred Heart has stepped up and helped the families with these meals," Bantle said. "As a single parent of three amazing little girls, it truly helps me out a lot as all three are home all day now."

The school is also working on a contingency plan for off-site learning. Some of their teachers had already sent materials, educational link information, and have been in contact with families since the school closed March 13, but a new plan will officially kick off the week of March 30.

City extends absentee voting hours

SHAWANO — The city is holding extended absentee voting hours two days a week ahead of the April 7 election to give voters who might not be able to vote during regular hours a chance to cast their ballots.

Shawano City Hall, 127 S. Sawyer St., will remain available to curbside in-person voting up until 7 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, March 24, 26, 31 and April 2.

The move is part of a push being made to encourage absentee voting statewide due to health concerns over the COVID-19 coronavirus.

“In an effort to continue to keep our residents and staff safe, the city of Shawano is continuing to urge its residents to utilize www.myvote.wi.gov to obtain an absentee ballot for the upcoming April 7 election,” the city said in a statement.

Those who don’t have the ability to upload a photo ID to that site can mail a written request to City Hall. You will need to provide a copy of your ID with the request.

Curbside absentee voting is available if neither of those options are practical for voters.

“We will continue to keep you informed of any changes the city makes regarding the services being provided to our residents,” the city said in the statement. “We hope you are all able to stay safe and healthy during this time and are here for you if you have any questions. Thank you as always for your understanding and patience during these rapidly changing times.”

2019 Consumer Confidence Report Data BIRNAMWOOD WATERWORKS, PWS ID: 45904496

Water System Information

If you would like to know more about the information contained in this report, please contact Chris Jensen at (715) 219-4151.

Opportunity for input on decisions affecting your water quality

Meeting are held every 2nd and 4th Monday at the Matsche Community Center 363 Railroad St. Birnamwood at 7 pm

Health Information

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Source(s) of Water

Source ID	Source	Depth (in feet)	Status
3	Groundwater	49	Active
4	Groundwater	56	Active

To obtain a summary of the source water assessment please contact, Chris Jensen at (715) 219-4151.

Educational Information

The sources of drinking water, both tap water and bottled water, include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which shall provide the same protection for public health.

Definitions

Term	Definition
AL	Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
Level 1 Assessment	A Level 1 assessment is a study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system.
Level 2 Assessment	A Level 2 assessment is a very detailed study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why an E. coli MCL violation has occurred or why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system, or both, on multiple occasions.
MCL	Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
MCLG	Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MFL	million fibers per liter
MRDL	Maximum residual disinfectant level: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
MRDLG	Maximum residual disinfectant level goal: The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
mrem/year	millirems per year (a measure of radiation absorbed by the body)
NTU	Nephelometric Turbidity Units
pCi/l	picocuries per liter (a measure of radioactivity)
ppm	parts per million, or milligrams per liter (mg/l)
ppb	parts per billion, or micrograms per liter (ug/l)
ppt	parts per trillion, or nanograms per liter
ppq	parts per quadrillion, or picograms per liter
TCR	Total Coliform Rule
TT	Treatment Technique: A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Detected Contaminants

Your water was tested for many contaminants last year. We are allowed to monitor for some contaminants less frequently than once a year. The following tables list only those contaminants which were detected in your water. If a contaminant was detected last year, it will appear in the following tables without a sample date. If the contaminant was not monitored last year, but was detected within the last 5 years, it will appear in the tables below along with the sample date.

Additional Health Information

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Bensawood Waterworks is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at www.epa.gov/safewater/lead.

Laura Jolin and Cary Gorski, owners of Baba's Café in Wittenberg, are adjusting to the new normal of working during the coronavirus pandemic. Their hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Wednesday through Sunday.

Small business deals with illness

Baba's Café is open for pickup service

By MIRIAM NELSON
News Editor

WITTENBERG — When Laura Jolin and Cary Gorski opened their restaurant in April 2017, they were pursuing their own version of the American dream. The couple planned to work as owners and operators of Baba's Café and decided to start out small, keeping hours only on Wednesdays through Sundays, primarily for breakfast and lunch.

What they didn't plan for was what would happen if one or both of them became ill — and certainly they never imagined dealing with a nationwide health crisis.

"If we don't work, we don't get paid," said Jolin. "We weren't thinking about not getting paid."

A couple of weeks ago, they had to shut down the restaurant for about a week while they each recovered from the flu. As luck would have it, they reopened their doors just in time to be closed to all but takeout service, due to the state decree for dealing with COVID-19.

"The state isn't giving us options, so we're going with how they want it to be," said Jolin.

"It's a precaution, and we need to do our part to keep the virus infections at a minimum," said Gorski.

The restaurant is offering takeout service and limited delivery at this time.

Planning for such a scenario was not something they thought about when deciding to open the restaurant in Wittenberg, Jolin said. Looking back, she wished they'd taken their sick time earlier rather than later. Gorski said he is grateful that neither of them ended up in the hospital.

The couple was living in Appleton when they opened Baba's Café. Jolin said she had grandparents in the area and was used to visiting every other weekend. The time spent commuting gave them a bit of breathing room to discuss the business as it grew.

"We needed the time to adjust to the change of pace," said Gorski.

They have since relocated to Wittenberg and live with their two dogs about six miles outside of the village. They have enjoyed a loyal clientele who appreciate the good food and pleasant personalities offered by Jolin and Gorski.

One thing they say they miss about Appleton is the abundance of food delivery options, which is another reason why they are exploring delivery service for their restaurant. Jolin's parents own The Olde Dime Store, just two doors down from Baba's on Webb Street, and are willing to lend a hand with deliveries, if needed.

Most customers, however, have been calling ahead for pickup. The cafe is open 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. They can take credit card payments over the phone or cash upon arrival; checks are not accepted. Their menu is available on their website, www.babas-cafe.com. Call 715-253-2288 to place an order.

Menominee Tribal police warn of possibly laced heroin

Authorities responded to four overdose cases Saturday

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

KESHENA — The Menominee Tribal Police Department is pleading with the public for the community's assistance after responding to four drug overdose cases in a single day.

"We are asking the public to spread the word, to let anyone know that may have purchased heroin recently, we fear that it may be laced with fentanyl or an other unknown substance," the department said in a Facebook post.

Fentanyl is 80-100 times more potent than morphine and an overdose could occur quickly and is likely to end in death if Narcan is not rendered immediately.

"If you would like to turn in suspected heroin or other drugs, the police department will take it from you with no questions asked," the post stated. "Please call our non-emergency number at 715-799-3881 if you have anything to turn in or any information pertaining to this matter."

The string of incidents began just after midnight on Saturday, as police responded to a medical call of a male not breathing.

The officers on scene quickly determined that the male had overdosed from suspected heroin.

Officers administered Narcan. Menominee Tribal EMS and Shawano EMS arrived on scene to provide emergency medical services.

"Regretfully, the male eventually succumbed to the effects of this overdose," the police department said.

While tending to the first overdose victim, a second overdose was called in to 911 at approximately 12:14 a.m.

Tribal officers and the Menominee County Sheriff's Office responded to the second overdose and administered Narcan to the second individual. This individual was revived, checked over by EMS and recovered from the overdose.

After a brief investigation, officers were able to determine the source of where the heroin came from for both of these overdose incidents. The same name was given as the supplier for both overdoses.

A search warrant was obtained for the residence of the reported supplier of the heroin.

Menominee Tribal police and Menominee County sheriff's deputies executed the warrant at approximately 3:06 a.m.

As a result of the warrant, a female adult was taken into custody, the police department said. Illegal drugs, drug paraphernalia and money were seized. The female was booked into the tribal jail.

"Through Menominee Tribal Police Department's investigation it was determined the female that had been arrested from the search warrant had received the heroin from her supplier," the department said in its Facebook post.

A second search warrant was obtained for the residence of original supplier of the heroin. Police and sheriff's deputies executed that search warrant at about 6 a.m. Saturday.

"As a result of the second search warrant Tribal Police seized the following; 33.6 grams of Methamphetamine, 14.8 grams of Heroin, 12.7 grams of Cocaine and a large sum of cash. A female adult was also arrested from the residence and booked into the Menominee Tribal Jail," the department said.

The department said two more overdose cases were reported later that day.

Sociable distancing

Married nearly 50 years, Diana and Myron Heistad, Shawano, are several feet apart as they take their daily 3-mile walk on a route that takes them past the county courthouse on Main Street in Shawano on Saturday. Myron Heistad said they weren't necessarily trying to keep their distance while walking, but he said the precautions are a good idea and encouraged everyone to follow them. The sign in the foreground was posted by the Shawano County Health Department.

Letter, Kakwitch make CWC-East first team

Witt-Birn's Resch, Bonduel's Robaidek on second team

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

KESHENA — Menominee Indian High School senior Norman Kakwitch was named to the Central Wisconsin Conference-East Division first team unanimously after leading the conference in scoring.

Kakwitch averaged 21.8 points per game in CWC-East play, nearly two points more than any other player.

"It (the honor) just means how much I put into the game," said Kakwitch. "Blood, sweat, and tears were shed while I was trying to accomplish my goals — first team being one of them. I wasn't gifted like a lot of athletes — I'm not very fast, I'm not very athletic, so I had to do more so I could succeed in the sport."

Behind Kakwitch, Menominee Indian went 4-8 in conference play.

Bonduel

Bonduel senior Cole Letter was also a unanimous selection to the CWC-East first team, while junior Carson Robaidek made the second team.

In conference play, Letter averaged 19.3 points, 3.8 rebounds, 5.5 assists and 1.3 steals per contest.

"I just feel incredibly thankful. Thankful for the opportunity from God to play the game, thankful to my coaches and teammates, thankful to my family, and thankful for all of the other coaches recognizing the hard work I've put in to get here," said Letter. "It's truly a feeling like no other."

Robaidek became a consistent performer for Bonduel, which finished 7-5 in conference play.

The junior averaged nine points, 3.2 rebounds, 2.3 assists and 1.2 steals per conference game.

"It means a lot to me to make second team all-conference because I've worked so hard this last summer with all of my teammates to get ready for the varsity level. All of my teammates have been so supportive throughout this year and I'm sad to see this year go," said Robaidek, who next year hopes to take over the leadership role that Letter served in this year.

Wittenberg-Birnamwood

The Wittenberg-Birnamwood boys also finished 7-5 in conference play.

Junior Brendan Resch was the team's lone all-conference selection. He averaged 14.4 points, 4.2 rebounds, 3.2 assists and 2 steals per CWC-East game.

"It means a lot to me. I was not expecting to make all-conference, but I'm happy to see my name on the list after my senior year," said Resch. "Basketball has done so much for me and getting this award is just like the cherry on top."

Witt-Birn's Fraaza makes WBCA honorable mention team

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

WITTENBERG — Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School girls basketball player Abi Fraaza was named to the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Association honorable mention team in Division 3 after a big junior season.

"It means so much to me to be able to be named WBCA honorable mention being a junior because with a great support system consisting of my parents, coaches and teammates, all the hard work pays off in the end," said Fraaza. "But also I am going to keep pushing myself to work harder everyday to achieve the next level of first team all-state next year."

Fraaza posted averages of 16.1 points, 10.8 rebounds, 5.7 assists, 3.5 blocks and 2.4 steals per game for a Witt-Birn team that went 22-2 overall and made it to the regional finals.

The junior scored in double figures in all but three of the team's contests, shooting over 50% from the field along the way.

She scored 30 points in two games — a Central Wisconsin Conference-East Division game against Menominee Indian on Jan. 30 and in a regional semifinal playoff game against Clintonville on Feb. 28. Fraaza hit the game-winning shot as time expired against Clintonville.

Get creative while trying to fill sports void

A world without sports. That sounds like every sports fan's worst dream, but the coronavirus has made it a reality.

In a matter of just a couple days, we lost just about every major sport, from the professional level all the way down to youth leagues.

Along with the suspensions of the NBA and MLB seasons, March Madness was completely canceled. More close to home, the WIAA high school basketball tournaments were also canceled and spring sports were put on hold.

With no live sporting events on TV, fans have resorted to other options to ease their sports cravings.

I personally spent an evening taking part in the first Wisconsin Sports Network watch party on March 18.

At 8:30 p.m., individuals were instructed to cue up the 2012 Division 5 state boys basketball championship game on YouTube to watch me, you forgot for a few minutes that the coronavirus wiped out the possibility of watching something spectacular like that again this year.

After Dekker knocked down his game-winning 3-pointer and the game wrapped up, reality quickly set back in, leaving me scrambling to try and fill the sports void again.

The following night, I spent a solid 15 minutes scrolling through my winter sports photos of high school basketball teams — I wasn't soon-to-be Wisconsin Badger Sam Dekker carry Sheboygan Lutheran past Racine Lutheran in an instant classic. Fans provided comments on Twitter during the event, and if you were like trying to remember the games (I'll save that for another night) but instead was trying to determine which schools had the best road uniforms.

If you think that's bad, I also watched a marble race on Twitter and was fully invested in it — by the way, the light blue marble I was rooting for won.

Fans and even some athletes have turned to sports video games with no live action to tune in for.

ESPN even jumped into the realm of fantasy to help provide closure for the NCAA tournaments.

ESPN's Basketball Power Index simulated how a 2020 men's bracket may have played out, and wouldn't you know it, Wisconsin came away as the champions. My championship T-shirt is on the way (and no, I'm not kidding).

The NBA and NFL gave fans a bit of relief by offering some free content for the next several weeks.

NFL Game Pass is free until May 31, while NBA League Pass is free until April 22 — both options allow you to watch games that have already taken place.

While the fans that are going to take advantage of the free offers will likely watch their favorite teams and probably have already watched the games or at least have seen highlights from them, it will help people escape from reality for a bit and ease some of the pain.

While it certainly might not seem like it now, sports will return at some point and we'll finally be able to hit the play button on life again. Until then, hit rewind and reminisce your favorite games of the past — or maybe even try marble racing. It's the best choices us sports lovers have for now.

Northland College

Bowler graduate Jodi Wolf drew a walk during the Northland College softball team's 7-4 loss to Augsburg University (Minnesota) on March 10 in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The rest of the team's season was canceled due to the coronavirus.

In a 16-0 loss to ASA College (Miami) on March 10, Wayka drew a walk in his lone plate appearance.

On March 11, Wayka drove in a run and later scored in a 16-6 loss to College of Lake County (Illinois). The freshman had two hits, scored twice and drove in one run in Bay's 17-5 win over Nyack College (New York) later in the day.

Wayka doubled during the team's 16-2 loss to Hagerstown Community College (Maryland) on March 12.

The National Junior College Athletic Association, the league in which Bay College competes, suspended all competition through at least April 3.

Menominee COVID-19 response expands to food deliveries

KESHENA — Children in the Menominee reservation's Head Start program will start receiving food deliveries on March 23, according to Vaughn Bowles, tribal public information officer.

That's one of the continuing responses to the COVID-19 pandemic as discussed in the daily meeting of the tribe's incident command team.

Students in the Menominee Indian School District (MISD) can go to their school for two days of food on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Bowles said.

The tribe's Aging Department is also maintaining its food service program but is now only providing takeout and home delivery meals, Bowles continued. The priority is on those seniors who are restricted to their homes and other elders.

Bowles credited tribal leadership with taking the pandemic seriously and providing good examples. He said part of the reason why some people haven't taken the pandemic seriously is that we haven't had a disease like this since the Spanish Flu Epidemic of 1918 and they have nothing for comparison. The tribal public information officer observed COVID-19 is different and it is much more lethal than the flu.

Infections are not confined to the elderly as has been the experience early in the pandemic, Bowles said.

He cited Doug Cox, who is coordinating with other tribes on the pandemic, in telling the Friday meeting that a 17-year-old boy on the Bad River Reservation in Ashland County had tested positive, as an indication that all age groups are at risk.

Bowles expressed concern for young people who contract COVID-19 and survive but then have to live with damaged lungs.

Menominee gaming operations and the hotel closed on Friday, Bowles said. The tribal buildings are being subjected to a deep cleaning.

Tribal government departments are allowing only essential personnel to come to work, with the remainder working from home, Bowles said. Operations are also being consolidated into fewer spaces.

Employees of the tribe will remain on the payroll during the shutdown, Bowles said. Other entities, such as Menominee Tribal Enterprises (MTE), will make separate decisions on whether to pay employees.

MTE forest work remains open, he continued, as most of those workers operate power equipment from an isolated cab or perform tasks at a distance from other people. The MTE board will soon be deciding on its next steps in keeping the business open.

Information current as of March 20, 2:02 p.m.

More PSC consumer protections ordered

Gov. Tony Evers issued Emergency Order 11 on Sunday, suspending several utility-related administrative rules, paving the way for the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin to temporarily order further consumer protections amid the COVID-19 public health emergency.

"It is critically important to give people flexibility during this emergency, when paychecks might be disrupted, to keep the lights and heat on and water flowing," Evers said. "We're making sure that folks don't have to make the critical choice between keeping their utilities on and paying for other essentials."

Immediately following the governor's emergency order, PSC Chairwoman Rebecca Cameron Valcq directed regulated utilities in the state to take the following actions for the duration of the emergency:

- Stop utility disconnection for nonpayment for all customers, including commercial, industrial and farm accounts. Previously this applied to residential accounts only.

- Cease assessing late fees to customer accounts.
- Halt the practice of requiring deposits from customers for reconnection of service.
- Allow deferred payment agreements for all customers who request them.
- Remove any administrative barriers for customers establishing or reestablishing utility service.
- Authorize water utilities to provide budget billing arrangements to customers. Electric and natural gas utilities are allowed to do this under current rules.

Previously, the PSC directed utilities to cease disconnecting residential service for nonpayment until the state public health emergency had been lifted. Additionally, utilities were required to make reasonable attempts to reconnect service to an occupied dwelling that had been disconnected.
