USDA to continue free meal program

Students will continue to receive free meals at school through Sept. 30

By LUKE REIMER

Reporter

The United States Department of Agriculture will continue to provide free meals to all students through Sept. 30.

The USDA previously extended the free meal program through June 30, but the department found it appropriate to continue the program through September.

The program was set up in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The USDA introduced this program so that students across the country would have access to healthy food as recovery efforts from the pandemic continue, even when schools were closed.

With the extension of the meals, food service workers have noticed the advantages that have been presented from it.

Kandice Miller, food service director for Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School, mentioned that this program has helped families financially.

"Families that do not qualify for free or reduced meal prices do not have to worry about coming up with breakfast and lunch money," said Miller.

With the burden off parents and families who may struggle financially, advantages also arise for food service workers.

"The food service staff does not have the awful duty of keeping track of students' accounts," said Miller. "If the money becomes low in the student's account, we don't have to remind the families to deposit money."

Food service workers also know that the students are being fed properly with the free meal program in place.

"It has been an advantage for us food workers, because we know that the students are being fed healthy meals," said Amy Laatsch, food service director for Tigerton Middle/High School.

According to Miller, the number of students who have participated in both the breakfast and the lunch programs has increased.

"The program is going quite well," said Miller. "The number of students who have participated has increased, which is great to see."

In the Tigerton and Shawano school districts, there has also been an increase in the students who are taking hot lunch and breakfast daily.

"During a typical year, about 50% of the students take hot lunch; this year, we are at around 85%," said Laatsch.

Bobby Reed, food service director for Shawano, mentioned that he is seeing double the amount of students consuming the free breakfast provided by the school.

"During the normal school year, we have only about 450 kids eating breakfast, which is only about 18% of the student body," said Reed. "This school year, we have 900 a day, so double what we normally have, which is fantastic."

The Shawano and Tigerton school districts are also offering delivery to students who are learning virtually, something that would not be available during a normal year.

The food service staff say their priority is supplying healthy meals to students and that keeping this model in place would be a benefit to all.

"This is a no-brainer," said Laatsch. "Students do about 20-30% better on tests and assignments when they are better fed."

All of the parties involved, including the families of the students, could benefit from continuing the free meal program.

"There would be no financial worries for the families that are in financial situations that do not qualify for free or reduced prices," said Miller.

The free meal program has been a success at Shawano, Tigerton and Wittenberg-Birnamwood so far, according to the food service directors.

"During a normal school year, we normally serve around 250,000 meals," said Reed. "This school year to date, we have already done over 300,000 meals."

According to Laatsch, continuing to give students an opportunity to consume healthy meals is a benefit that will help them in both school and their future.

"Putting money towards students is worth it," said Laatsch, "The kids are the future, and we want to make sure that they are happy and healthy."

Walls of Wittenberg looking for artists

WOW holding 8th annual juried art show to showcase talent within community

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Walls of Wittenberg is looking for art entries for its eighth annual juried art show.

"Last time we held the art show, two years ago, we had 65 submissions," said WOW event coordinator Elaine Knab. "That was quite a lot that year."

The annual WOW art show is held to showcase art created by members of the Wittenberg area. This year, the art show will be held on the Saturdays and Sundays between April 24 and May 9.

The art that is submitted comes in a variety of styles and techniques.

The pieces of art eligible include photography, paintings, textiles, mixed media, three-dimensional metal pieces, wood pieces, fabric pieces, printmaking and ceramics.

"Opening the show up to various types of art gives people a way to share their talent and creativity," said Knab. "It is really intriguing to see different techniques."

In order to enter a piece of original art, the art, an exhibitor contract (which can be found at www.wall-sofwittenberg.com) and the entry fee for each piece must be brought to WOWSPACE, 114 Vinal St., on April 10 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., April 12 between 10 a.m. and noon or April 13 between 4-6 p.m.

Each entry costs $10, with a student entry of $5. There will be a maximum of two entries per person. Artwork is not eligible if it has previously been on display at the WOWSPACE art show. WOW will not accept any artwork that is submitted late, and they will not allow someone to pick the art up before the show ends. The art submitted must also be created within the last two years. For wall hung art, it should be framed and ready to be hung with wire. Textile art must have a 3-inch sleeve as well.

Knab and those in charge of the art show will ask that visitors who come to see the art obey the COVID-19 restrictions that are in place.

"We will keep track of the amount of people that enter the WOWSPACE and ask that masks be worn and that people socially distance," said Knab. "If we come to the point where we have to limit the amount of people that come inside, we will have them wait outside and extend the hours."

The Best in Show will receive $300. Two Award of Excellence winners will receive $150, and two Awards of Honor winners will receive $75.

WOW charges a 30% commission on the art that is sold through the show. The proceeds of the art show go to the maintenance of the WOW-SPACE, as well as to the murals that are painted on the walls in Wittenberg. The event is free and open to the public.

Every year, a wine, beer and cheese gala is held the night before the show. This gala serves as the preview and the kick off to the show. Unfortunately this year, the gala will not take place due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

"We usually have around 125 people in the WOWSPACE for the gala, but with the time that we are living in, we didn't find it appropriate to hold it this year," said Knab.

Art can be picked up May 9 at 3 p.m. and May 15 between 10 a.m. and noon. All art that is not picked up 30 days after the exhibit ends will become the property of WOW.

Shawano Farmers Market back in action in June

The FRESH Project Shawano Farmers Market will open for the summer season June 19.

The open-air market, in its 14th year, will be open Saturdays, 8 a.m. until noon, through Oct. 2 in Franklin Park, 235 S. Washington St., Shawano. The market will also offer extended hours until 1 p.m. on July 10 for Shawano Fest.

"We are so excited to have a full market this season," said Barb Mendoza, executive director. "While we encourage social distancing and face masks, we encourage all vendors, including crafters and food vendors to join us this summer. We will also be hosting a 5K on Saturday, July 10 in conjunction with Shawano Fest."

The market operated in a limited capacity in 2020 due to the coronavirus pandemic, with limited vendors and no outside activities like music performances and family activities. Mendoza said those types of things will return in 2021.

Products sold include fruits, vegetables, flowers, landscaping plants, maple syrup, bread, cheese, fish, meats, and select, high-quality crafts. Local musicians perform and kid-friendly events the market is a place to enjoy socializing, shopping and relaxing.

For vendors who would like to participate, go to <http://www.thefreshproject.org/forms/> to fill out forms. Slots are also still available for musicians who would love to perform between 9-11 a.m. on market days. There are still some slots available for nonprofits to join the market to highlight their cause.

The market's mission is to provide local farmers with alternative marketing opportunities.

"As we continue to enhance the quality of life in the greater Shawano area, we look forward to continuing our partnership with local organizations and farmers by providing a healthy, social community activity, and keeping the downtown area of Shawano alive and vital," Mendoza said.

Shawano hospital once again in top 100

For third year, ThedaCare Medical Center one of top critical access hospitals

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

For the third straight year, ThedaCare Medical Center-Shawano has been selected as one of the top 100 critical access hospitals in the nation.

This achievement is recognized by the Chartis Center for Rural Health.

ThedaCare facilities in Shawano and Waupaca have been both named to the top 100 list. This list includes rural hospitals located throughout the United States.

“The team here at the ThedaCare Medical Center in Shawano is very proud of the ranking,” said Julie Chikowski, vice president of critical access hospitals. “It is a great testimony that the team provides the best patient experience.”

TMC-Shawano is among eight other hospitals in Wisconsin to be included on the top 100 critical access hospitals list.

The qualities that factor into being named to the top 100 list are inpatient market share, outpatient market share, cost, charge, financial efficiency, patient perspective, outcomes and quality.

According to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid website, a critical access hospital is located in a rural area, located more than 35 miles away from the nearest hospital (or more than 15 miles in area with TMC-Shawano offers many different services to those that need it — including primary care, cancer and blood care, cardiovascular care and orthopedic care.

“We want to maintain rural health through these services,” said Chikowski. “With smaller hospitals often struggling to survive, we take pride that we are on this list, being able to provide these services.”

With the COVID-19 pandemic effecting many rural areas in the past year, these critical access centers have been working in full force. Throughout the pandemic, many hospitals and care centers have become crowded in rural areas especially due to the limited access of health care. With having such small rural communities, health care is vital to those that need it in this trying time, and the ThedaCare Medical Center in Shawano has exemplified their ability to demonstrate this.

The COVID-19 pandemic proved to be a great challenge for TMC-Shawano as the amount of patients who were administered was significantly higher due to the virus. TMC-Shawano was able to maintain their ranking on the list due to their work through the pandemic assisting patients with their medical needs.

“As the pandemic continues, our work during it is a reason that we are on the list,” said Chikowski. “Our ability to help those in need during this pandemic was taken into consideration for this ranking.”

In the United States, there are currently 1,326 critical access hospitals. Within the ThedaCare umbrella, there are locations in Berlin, New London, Shawano, Waupaca and Wild Rose.

“I just wanted to say that the team here at TMC-Shawano are rock stars,” said Chikowski. “It takes the work of everyone to make the hospital to get us here.”

CSA program expands to Menominee Nation

The FRESH Project received a grant from the Lumberjack Conservation to expand its programs to the Menominee Nation.

“The Menominee Indian Tribe is excited to continue our important partnership with the FRESH Project,” said Jonathan Wilbur, tribal administrator. “The availability of healthy food options for members of our tribe is an important component of tribal efforts to promote a culture of health.

The program will operate alongside the FRESH Project Mobile Market, a three-year program operating from late June through September. The mobile market delivers fresh local produce to area communities at a very low price to the customer providing affordable, accessible, and healthy food to all.

“CSA allows you to have a deeper connection to your food, without having to grow it,” said Barb Mendoza, executive director of the FRESH Project. “Your membership will give you an inside look at what is happening with the farms growing your food around Shawano County.”

There are two membership options available, with pricing based upon annual income. Recipients will receive shares bi-weekly for seven weeks.

In a meat and produce share, participants will get a pound of locally grown meats, one or two kinds of fruits, and five to six kinds of vegetables. The cost varies between $100 and $185 for seven deliveries with a retail value of $230.

There is also a share for produce only. In this box, participants receive one or two kinds of fresh fruits and three to four kinds of vegetables. It costs between $65 and $150 for seven deliveries, with a retail value of $180.

The program is limited to 100 participants.

“By staggering the prices of our CSA boxes, this will allow the opportunity for us to reach those that may not be able to afford healthier foods,” Mendoza said.

Anyone wanting to participate can fill out a CSA membership agreement at www.thefreshproject.org and select the 2021 Summer CSA tab.

“Investing in the CSA is a great way to have locally grown produce in your neighborhood. You will also receive special discounts on produce, learn about cooking techniques and healthy recipes for the foods in your share package,” said Mendoza. “CSAs will also help our farmers plan what to grow by sharing what kinds of produce and/or meats you are interested in.”

Pickup locations include Bowler, Cecil, Gresham, Shawano, Marion, Navarino, Tigerton, Wittenberg and Keshena. The mobile market will also carry loose produce items along with other local products for sale at for anyone at the locations determined. Schedules will be published once finalized.

For information, contact Mendoza at 715-526-5206 or barbara@thefreshproject.org.

Gallagher throws support behind Milavitz

Congressman praises mayoral candidate, notes importance of local elections

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

Shawano mayoral candidate Bruce Milavitz got a nod of support from U.S. Rep. Mike Gallagher at a get-together April 1 at Season's Restaurant that included Milavitz, Gallagher and a packed house of Republicans.

Milavitz, who faced no significant opposition in the April 6 election after challenger Jeanne Cronic had to bow out due to family issues, received significant praise from the congressman, who noted that people like Milavitz work to bring communities together. During a speech to the group, Gallagher said that it should be the mayors of communities, not the country's president, that should have the true power in the United States.

"I think sometimes, because we're so consumed with presidential elections, senator elections, governor elections, congressional elections, we forget how important our local elections are," Gallagher said.

Milavitz, who proudly announced that "Shawano is open for business," to the crowd, noted the city needs to find a way to attract more businesses and companies to the community.

"I'm hoping the businesses currently (in the community), the city and the county can partner with businesses to get business start-ups and get something going for someone that wants to come into the community," Milavitz said, noting that he came to Shawano in the mid-1990s and that it was an interesting experience. "I knew it was going to be an excellent fit."

Gallagher praised Milavitz's declaration, which echoed former Gov. Scott Walker's "Wisconsin is open for business" call when he was elected more than 10 years ago.

"I love that Shawano is open for business," Gallagher said. "That's a great slogan."

The congressman also contrasted the work that municipalities like Shawano are doing with what's being attempted at the federal level.

"People need to work, not only to provide for their families but to feel a sense of community, to feel a sense of being connected to the local community," Gallagher said. "That's what your platform is all about, incentivizing work, keeping people here in Shawano working, giving them a sense of belonging to this community."

Shawano mayoral candidate Bruce Milavitz, right, chats with U.S. Rep. Mike Gallagher during a get-together April 1 at Season's Restaurant. Gallagher commented that the United States was "lucky to have people like Bruce" going into public service.

When people don't work, or when the government pays people not to work, or when they're trapped inside, bad things start to happen. Those bonds of community start to fray."

Milavitz said he is already making inroads with the county to try and get much collaboration on issues, noting that Shawano, as the county seat, is the "hub of Shawano County" and that there's only benefit to working together.

Milavitz said he was going to work with Shawano Community High School's on-the-job work experience program and promote it more to local businesses.

"It's fantastic," Milavitz said. "They get (school) credit, and it really helps solidify that there's a reason to stay in Shawano."

The candidate, who would fill out the last year of Ed Whealon's term and would face reelection in 2022, said he plans to be the community's "cheerleader," promising to go out into the region and promote Shawano.

"Whether it be a fair or a parade, I'm hoping to do that," Milavitz said. "I'm hoping to partner with businesses such as the tavern league. Let's make sure we're doing everything we can to promote that and keep that moving."

Milavitz also mentioned wanting to work with the Shawano Country Chamber of Commerce, the Ski Sharks, and outdoor groups for hunters and snowmobilers. He noted that the community events that did go on in 2020, like Thursdayz at Franklin, brought in plenty of people to visit the community. He wants to bring more.

"Even with the COVID, it was packed," Milavitz said of Thursdayz at Franklin. "It wasn't just local people. It was people coming into the community."

Milavitz vowed to form citizen groups to look at whether there's any tax waste in the city. He noted he didn't know the full financial situation of the city but wanted to make sure everything is being run efficiently.

Youth will also be a part of the city's decision-making process, Milavitz said, as he promised to resurrect the youth advisory board that was part of former Mayor Lorna Marquardt's administration but has languished under the last two mayors.

"Our youth is our future, and we need to promote that," Milavitz said. "I'm hoping to get some input and find a way to input their concerns and their needs to stay in the community."

Gallagher praised Milavitz's speech, noting that it was a good thing to see "how thoughtful you've been and thoughtful you are about this role and doing what's right for Shawano. I was blown away by that."

Gallagher added that the strength of the United States comes from the bottom up, with local communities working on bold visions.

"America is still the greatest country in human history," Gallagher said. "America is lucky to have people like Bruce step up and serve in roles like this. It's absolutely critical."

NEW Media hires new reporter

Reimer excited to write in Northeast Wisconsin

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

NEW Media Inc. has hired a new reporter to cover Shawano County news and events.

Luke Reimer, 22, graduated from West De Pere High School in 2016 and continued his education at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, earning a bachelor's degree in media studies with a minor in professional and organizational communication. In college, Reimer contributed to the student news network, where he worked as an on-air reporter and behind the camera.

He is a contributor to Flurry Sports, a sports website based out of Eau Claire, writing about professional and collegiate sports — including the NFL, NBA, MLB and NCAA basketball.

"We think Luke is an ideal fit for

LUKE REIMER

NEW Media as we grow our online presence with a commitment to the news of Shawano, Menominee and Oconto counties," said Warren Bluhm, interim editor-in-chief. "His writing and digital experience is invaluable."

Outside of writing, Reimer spends his time watching sports, most notably the Green Bay Packers, Milwaukee Bucks and Milwaukee Brewers. Reimer also enjoys spending time outside, fishing, hiking and boating at his family's cottages in the Oconto area and in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

"I'm excited to have a chance to write in Northeast Wisconsin, where I was born and raised," Reimer said.

NEW Media Inc. is the home base of newmedia-wi.com and publishes the Shawano Leader, Oconto County Times Herald, and Wittenberg Enterprise and Birnamwood News.

Health department issues mask advisory after court decision

The Shawano-Menominee Counties Public Health Department wasted little time issuing a health advisory that stipulates that every person age 5 and older should wear a face covering or mask, after the Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled against Gov. Tony Evers' extension of a statewide mask mandate beyond 60 days.

As of March 25, 25.6% of Shawano County residents have received at least one dose of the vaccine, according to the health department, and 15.7% have completed the vaccine series. Officials are saying that they're trying to reach the goal of vaccinating 80% of the community, which they said means folks will be able to return to a life before COVID-19.

The following does not meet CDC requirements for mask wearing, according to the health department:

- Masks worn in a way that does not cover both the mouth and nose
- Face shields or goggles as a substitute for masks. Goggles or other eye protection may be used in addition to a mask. Face shields and goggles are used to protect the eyes of the person wearing it.

The health department stated that the advisory should not be used as justification to harass or harm another person who is either wearing or not wearing a face covering. Individuals may have disabilities or other conditions that prohibit them from wearing masks.

The advisory remains in effect until further notice, according to the health department.

Gresham scholarship fund reaches $1M

Qualifying seniors will be awarded $3,250 for their continued education

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

In late fall of 2020, the Gresham Scholarship Fund reached $1 million.

"When we first started, I was encouraged to see the fund grow to $100,000," said Bob Klopke, president and one of the founding board members of the Gresham Scholarship Fund. "With it getting there so fast, I knew we could get to $1 million."

The fund, created 20 years ago, started by giving $400 scholarships to graduating seniors who qualified. That number has grown to $3,250 in 2021.

That's more than half again last year's $2,000 award to qualifying graduates.

"This was an unusual jump for us," said Klopke, who has served as Gresham Community School's principal in the past. "But members on the board felt it was necessary."

In order to qualify for the scholarship, graduating seniors need to apply online, have a 2.0 grade point average or better, and have a plan to further their education. The scholarship will be awarded after graduates finish the first semester of their continued education.

The Gresham School District has an average of 19 students in each class. With this number in place, typically 50% of the graduating class qualify and accept the scholarship.

When Klopke was principal, he would experience parents and grandparents coming up to him and handing him checks to be used for the fund. This is when Klopke realized that trust had been built within the community.

"It was a good feeling having the community supporting this," said Klopke. "Being available to meet with those donors was a big thing for the community, I think."

The awarded scholarship money is expected to remain at $3,250 for the near future.

"We don't want to go down in how much we are putting into the scholarship, so the $3,250 will remain consistent for the near future," said Klopke.

The money that has been donated to the scholarship fund has come from graduates and the community around the school. Gresham scholarship dinners are also held annually with proceeds going to the fund.

The scholarship funds are held by the Shawano Area Community Foundation, which is under the umbrella of the Community Foundation for the Fox Valley Region.

This money is then invested in order to expand it. With this money, the graduating seniors have an opportunity to open a better future for themselves and ultimately get a head start on the rest of their lives.

Klopke and those in charge of the fund have noticed that even without a lot of big donations, that the smaller donations do in fact make a difference.

"Getting to $1 million really shows the power of what people can do when they can't afford to donate a lot," said Klopke. "Even though small donations come in, it adds up to a lot."

With those in the community being supportive of the fund and donating what they can, Klopke wanted to extend his appreciation, not only for donating, but also assisting in getting these seniors started on the right track.

"We are just very grateful for all those who have helped out and contributed," he said. "We hope that the students value this money, and we hope that it can help them start a better life."

Last State Restricted Silver Walking Liberty Bank Rolls go to WI residents

Wisconsin residents get first dibs on last remaining Bank Rolls loaded with U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties dating back to the early 1900's some worth up to 100 times their face value for just the $39 minimum set for state residents - non state residents must pay $118 per coin if any remain after 2-day deadline

► STATE DISTRIBUTION: A strict limit of 4 State Restricted Bank Rolls per WI resident has been imposed WISCONSIN - "It's a miracle these State Restricted Bank Rolls even exist. That's why Hotline Operators are bracing for the flood of calls," said Laura Lynne, U.S. Coin and Currency Director for the National Mint and Treasury.

For the next 2 days the last remaining State of Wisconsin Restricted Bank Rolls loaded with rarely seen U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties are actually being handed over to Wisconsin residents who call the State Toll-Free Hotlines listed in today's newspaper publication.

And here's the best part. If you are a resident of the state of Wisconsin you cover only the $39 per coin state minimum set by the private National Mint and Treasury, that's fifteen rarely seen U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties worth up to 100 times their face value for just $585 which is a real steal because non state residents must pay $118 per coin which totals $1,770 if any coins remain after the 2-day deadline.

"Recently National Mint and Treasury spoke with a retired Treasurer of the United States of America who said 'In all my years as Treasurer I've only ever seen a handful of these rarely seen Silver Walking Liberties issued by the U.S. Gov't back in the early 1900's. But to actually find them sealed away in State Restricted Bank Rolls still in pristine condition is like finding buried treasure. So anyone lucky enough to get their hands on these Bank Rolls had better hold on to them," Lynne said.

JACKPOT: Imagine finding the 1919-D Silver Walking Liberty shown above worth thousands of dollars in collector value in one of these unsearched Bank Rolls. There are never any guarantees, but Wisconsin residents who get their hands on these State Restricted Bank Rolls will be the really lucky ones because even more common coins are still worth up to $115 - $825 in collector value.

"Now that the State of Wisconsin Restricted Bank Rolls are being offered up we won't be surprised if thousands of Wisconsin residents claim the maximum limit allowed of 4 Bank Rolls per resident before they're all gone," said Lynne.

"That's because the dates and mint marks of the U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars sealed away inside the State of Wisconsin Restricted Bank Rolls have never been searched. But, we do know that some of these coins date clear back to the early 1900's and are worth up to 100 times their face value, so there is no telling what Wisconsin residents will find until they sort through all the coins," Lynne went on to say.

The only thing Wisconsin residents need to do is call the State Toll-Free Hotlines printed in today's newspaper publication before the 2-day order deadline ends.

"Rarely seen U.S. Gov't issued silver coins like these are highly sought after, but we've never seen anything like this before. According to The Official Red Book, a Guide Book of United States Coins many Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars are

VALUABLE:

It's like a treasure hunt - there's no telling what you'll find. That's because the dates and mint marks of the fifteen U.S.

Gov't issued coins sealed away inside these State of Wisconsin Restricted Bank Rolls have never been searched. All we know is some of the coins are worth up to 100 times their face value.

now worth $115 - $825 each in collector value," Lynne said.

"So just imagine how much these last remaining, unsearched State of Wisconsin Restricted Bank Rolls could be worth someday. Remember, these are not ordinary coins - these rarely seen coins date clear back to the early 1900's. In fact, these coins have been forever retired by the U.S. Gov't, and you can only get them rolled this way directly from the National Mint and Treasury because these are the only State Restricted Bank Rolls known to exist," said Lynne.

"We're guessing thousands of Wisconsin residents will be taking the maximum limit of 4 Bank Rolls because they make such amazing gifts for any occasion for children, parents, grandparents, friends and loved ones," Lynne continued.

"We know the phones will be ringing off the hook. That's why hundreds of Hotline Operators are standing by to answer the phones beginning at 8:30am this morning. We're going to do our best, but with just 2 days to answer all the calls it won't be easy. So make sure to tell everyone to keep calling if all operators are busy. We'll do our best to answer them all," Lynne said.

"That's why the private National Mint and Treasury set up the State Toll-Free Hotlines in order to make sure Wisconsin residents get the State Restricted Bank Rolls before they're all gone," she said.

The only thing readers of today's newspaper publication need to do is make sure they are a resident of the state of Wisconsin and call the State Toll-Free Hotlines before the 2-day deadline ends midnight tomorrow. ■

IMPORTANT: The dates and mint marks of the U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties sealed away inside the State of Wisconsin Restricted Bank Rolls have never been searched. Coin values always fluctuate and they are never any guarantees, but any of the scarce coins shown below, regardless of their value that residents may find inside the sealed Bank Rolls are theirs to keep.

Poetry in the meter of the oral tradition

"All music is poetry," Louis V. Clark III stated. "I write in a musical manner. I hear drums in my head."

I asked the Oneida Nation of Wisconsin tribal member to describe his craft in honor of April being Nation Poetry Month. Clark, a retired blue-collar worker who penned poems and stories throughout his life, began a second career as a published man of letters within the past decade.

"I'm very blessed," Clark reflected, but that came after a lifetime of discrimination against him for being a Native American in an intolerant world. "I had to handle a lot of racism, but I kept writing. I did it for me. I put my feelings down on paper to cleanse myself."

Clark, who spent 19 years coaching his six children through little league alongside his wife, Debbie, entered the publishing world covering sports stories for The Omro Herald. Then in 2010, he answered a call for poetry in a newspaper, which resulted in his meeting James Parins from the Sequoyah National Research Center at the University of Arkansas. Clark learned Parins was the grandson of former Green Bay Packers' President Robert J. Parins, and the two men bonded over Clark's work and stories about their shared alma mater, West De Pere High School.

RYAN WINN

In 2011, Sequoyah published Clark's first chapbook,

"Two Shoes," which meant the poet had to promote his book in public events. Quick to use humor, Clark relayed, "The first thing I did was go out and purchase a suit jacket with elbow patches on it. I at least wanted to look the part."

Clark needn't have worried about the fragility of his success, as soon over a thousand copies of his book were in print and he was speaking regularly before audiences of all ages and walks of life. In 2012, he won an Oneida Nation Arts Program Fellowship. By 2014, Clark was in such demand that he was able to move his reading before the Wisconsin Fellowship of Poets Annual Convention in Green Bay to enable him to watch his son pitch for Lawrence University's baseball team.

After the reading, Clark was asked to turn his remarks about his life's story into the book "How to Be an Indian in the 21st Century," which Wisconsin Historical Society Press published in 2017. The press took a chance on Clark, making his book the first poetry collection they'd published after more than a century and a half in the business. Their efforts were rewarded with a Midwest Booksellers Choice Award, which Clark both deserved and appreciated but still surprised him.

"I don't write with some grandiose themes," he said. "Stuff gets in my head and it has to get out."

In 2019, Wisconsin Historical Society Press doubled down on Clark, publishing "Rebel Poet," whose publicity included a National Public Radio interview and a public reading aired on PBS. Like his earlier work, the new book collects cathartic stories in verse that run the gamut of experiences. There's power in his words, drawing empathy from his readers with every rhyming couplet or, as Clark puts it, "I meet life and I accept it."

Thinking nationally, Clark noted that poetry is making a comeback in American society. "I think you saw it with the last inauguration," recognizing how our country was taken with the inaugural National Youth Poet Laureate Amanda Gorman's performance of "The Hill We Climb."

Still, for Clark, American poetry is a practice older than America. "I think Oneida elders put things to meter so they would remember the stories. In my own way, I'm perpetuating the oral tradition."

For Clark, "Poetry is a gift from the Creator. It's in my head and it goes to my hand."

While Clark's poetry describes volatility, he remembers his parents as loving providers despite their perchance for violence. He fondly recalled how calm came to the Clark household in the summer.

"During pow wow time, I could hear drums played at the Oneida ball diamond. We lived nearby, and I could hear them from my bed at night. There were no fights and I felt safe." Clark continued, "I fell in love with the meter of those drums. It felt secure. Now I try to write to make myself feel secure."

Marion confident under direction of new coach

Mustangs have 2 all-conference players back from 2019

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Marion High School baseball team comes into the spring season under the direction of a new head coach and ready to compete for a Central Wisconsin Conference-North Division title.

Joe Stuhr is the team's new coach and he has a strong core of upperclassmen to build around this spring.

"I believe that we have a team that can compete for the top 1-3 positions in the conference," said Stuhr.

"I feel we are in a good spot with pitching depth, as long as the young guys keep developing and the juniors and seniors can get the bugs worked out from not having a high school or Legion season a year ago."

Leading the way will be senior Carter Goke (pitcher, infield) and junior Alex Zimmerman (catcher, pitcher, infield), who each landed on the CWC-North second team in 2019.

Senior Koy Brei (first base, pitcher, outfield) and junior Ethan Scheef (outfield, catcher) also have ample varsity experience.

"I definitely think we can complete for a conference title this year," said Zimmerman. "It sucks from not being able to play last year and we lost a lot of experience and practice especially, which makes it hard for the young freshmen and sophomores but the team looks good and the young guys are really fitting in good and they will definitely be a big part of our team this year."

"So just making sure they feel comfortable and ready to play on the big field will be what we need to focus on the most probably, but once they're comfortable and are able to work with the older guys, we're gonna be a great team and definitely one of the best, if not the best in the conference."

Senior Myles Peterson (infield), sophomores Jaden Stuhr (pitcher, outfield, first base) and Nick Malueg (outfield) and freshmen Ryan Malueg (catcher, pitcher infield), Jay Brei (infield, pitcher) and Jackson Krohn (outfield, infield) are among the players that could help fill out the lineup.

Leonhard says he has 'unfinished business' at Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin defensive coordinator Jim Leonhard says he has unfinished business at his alma mater and wouldn't have felt right leaving after a pandemic-shortened season, even for an opportunity as tempting as his home state's NFL team.

Leonhard was a prime candidate for the Green Bay Packers' defensive coordinator position and had been offered the job according to multiple reports, but opted to return for a sixth season on Wisconsin coach Paul Chryst's staff. The Packers instead hired Joe Barry as defensive coordinator.

"I love Madison," Leonhard said. "To me, there's some unfinished business with the University of Wisconsin. I love this group of kids and want to continue to develop them. With COVID being the way it was last year, I'd have felt a specific way about myself having left after that season."

Leonhard aimed high as he specified the nature of his unfinished business at Wisconsin, which opened spring practice this week.

"I came here wanting to win a national championship, I came here wanting to win the Big Ten as a player," said Leonhard, who played safety for the Badgers from 2001-04 before starting a 10-year NFL career.

"Nothing's changed as a coach. We haven't done that since I've been back. The goals haven't changed. I feel like we have a group that can accomplish that."

Wisconsin struggled to a 4-3 record last year but ranked fifth nationally in total defense and ninth in scoring defense.

Wisconsin has finished in the top five in total defense and top 10 in total defense in three of Leonhard's four seasons as defensive coordinator.

Leonhard acknowledged the Green Bay situation was particularly enticing.

"They're right on the fringe of a Super Bowl and have been for a while now," Leonhard said. "Definitely a difficult decision to have to make."

Eagles hope to continue building program

By MORGAN RODE

A young Menominee Indian High School softball team has a simple expectation for the upcoming season — to improve.

When Menominee Indian was on the field last in 2019, the team won a pair of games. The Eagles hadn't won a game the two seasons prior to that.

"We hope to continue to build a strong softball culture in this community," said coach Miranda Roland.

"A challenge for this season is the amount of youth on the team. Almost half the team will consist of freshmen, which is a blessing and a curse. We have the ability to mold and develop these young players into exactly what we need Menominee Indian's Alexis Wilber makes a throw to first base during a CWC-East game against Wittenberg-Birnamwood on May 2, 2019, in Keshena. Wilber will help fill out Menominee Indian's infield this coming spring.

as a program, but it is young ladies playing against strong experienced players."

Senior Selena O'Kimosh will lead the team after landing on the Central Wisconsin Conference-East Division honorable mention team as a sophomore. She will serve as the team's top pitcher, and play in the infield when not in the circle.

Helping round out the infield will be senior Arvilla James, junior Alexis Wilber and sophomore Aniya Peters.

The rest of the lineup will primarily be first-time players at the high school level.

"As a senior this year, my plan is to push my team, and be the best leader I can be for them," said O'Kimosh, "and hold them up the best that I am able to this year, especially with the young team that we have this year."

4 area teams learn postseason seeds and matchups

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

Alternate fall season volleyball postseason seeds were announced for Gresham, Tigerton, Bowler and Menominee Indian.

There will be two divisions for the playoffs.

Gresham earned the No. 1 seed in its four-team Division 2 regional pod.

The Wildcats will take on fourth-seeded Elcho.

In the same pod, Tigerton picked up the No. 2 seed and will take on No. 3 Bowler.

All regional matches will be played April 10. Because Gresham got the top seed, it will host the regional matches.

The Gresham, Elcho match will start at 1 p.m., with Tigerton playing Bowler at 4 p.m. The winners will play in the regional final at 7:30 p.m.

Menominee Indian is a No. 3 seed in its Division 2 regional pod. The Eagles will take on second-seeded Oneida Nation at 4 p.m.

Top-seeded Kewaunee will battle No. 4 Algoma in the other regional matchup at 1 p.m. Games will be played at Kewaunee High School.

The winner of each regional final will advance to sectionals, which will be played April 13.

The sectional winners will play state semifinal matches on April 15 before the state championship on April 17. The state championship will be played at Kaukauna High School.

Packers to face Chiefs in additional regular-season game in 2021

Following approval from NFL clubs at a virtual league meeting March 30, the enhanced NFL season schedule will go into effect in 2021 with each team playing 17 regular-season games and three preseason games.

The new scheduling format will see each team host 10 games overall — either nine regular-season games and one preseason game or eight regular-season games and two preseason games.

Moving to 17 regular-season games will provide fans an extra week of regular-season NFL action, with the added matchup featuring teams from opposing conferences that finished in the same place within their division in the previous season. The AFC was determined to host the extra game in 2021, and with the NFC North matching up with the AFC West, the Packers will face the Kansas City Chiefs this coming season in Kansas City.

Because Lambeau Field will not host an additional game this season, both gold and green package season ticket holders will receive their regular allotment of games this year. While green package invoices are not affected, gold package invoices will be updated accordingly on ticket holders' online accounts to reflect that no extra game will take place at Lambeau Field this year.

Gold package season ticket holders who have already paid their invoices for this season will soon receive a refund of the difference between the cost of the regular-season and pre-season game. Those who haven't yet paid their invoices will be able to pay the updated invoice on their online account.

Any gold package season ticket holder who received the invoice in the mail and was planning to mail in their payment can pay the adjusted amount due: end zone seats are $58 for preseason, $118 for regular season; south end zone, 700 level are $61 for preseason, $121 for regular season; south end zone, 600 level are $64 for preseason, $129 for regular season; end zone to the 20-yard line are $69 for preseason, $134 for regular season; between the 20-yard lines are $74 for preseason, $149 for regular season.

Updated invoices will be mailed to gold package season ticket holders who have not yet paid their invoices.

The official 2021 schedule, with playing dates and times, will be announced later this spring. With the additional regular-season game, Super Bowl LVI at SoFi Stadium in Los Angeles will take place on Sunday, Feb. 13, 2022.

Tigerton claims pivotal 3rd set, tops Bowler

Seniors lead way for victorious Tigers

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Tigerton High School volleyball team rallied from a five-point deficit in the third set and used that momentum to come away with a road win over Bowler on March 29, winning by scores of 25-14, 15-25, 25-18, 25-18.

Trailing 16-11 in the third set, Tigerton went on a 6-1 run to knot the set up.

The Tigers later got kills from seniors Savannah Swartz and Ladia Block to create a three-point cushion, and then ended the set on a 5-0 run.

"We were just able to get together and be there for coverage, get the passes off against the serve and then play at the net," said Swartz on how the team was able to overcome the deficit.

Tigerton kept the momentum rolling in the fourth set, working out to a 6-1 lead. Later in the set, the Tigers went on a 5-0 run as senior Adrienne Brady served.

Tigerton kept pushing the lead up until it led 24-11, but Bowler didn't quit. The Panthers rattled off seven straight points before finally losing a point to end the match.

It was the senior trio of Swartz, Block and Brady that led the way for the Tigers.

Swartz finished with 13 total kills, 13 digs, 13 service points and three aces. Block contributed 11 digs and seven attack kills, and Brady posted 12 assists, 10 service points and eight digs.

Tigerton also got strong contributions from junior Elizabeth Robbins and sophomores Skyler Hauser and Abby Swartz.

Robbins totaled 11 service points, nine assists and four digs. Hauser chipped in 10 digs, eight service points and five attack kills, while Abby Swartz had six digs, six service points and four attack kills.

"It shows that we never give up, no matter if we're losing or not," said Block of the team's win as the playoffs near. "We just push forward, and we know we can win. We know we can get really far this season and we're really excited to go as far as we can."

After Tigerton came out and controlled the opening set, Bowler — which honored its seniors and parents on the night — was able to flip the switch in the second set.

The Panthers went on a 4-0 run with sophomore Brandi Spencer serving to create a cushion before ending the set on a 7-2 run.

Bowler carried that momentum over into the third set before losing its five-point edge.

"My team does a thing where we get a couple points and we get too excited, I guess, and we think we're the best. And then we just kind of go downhill from there, and then it's hard bringing us back up from then," said Bowler senior McKayla Putnam.

It was Putnam that led the Panthers on the court, as she finished with 10 attack kills, nine service aces and nine assists.

The team's other senior, Tynea Johnson, added eight digs and four attack kills for the Panthers.

Spencer contributed a team-leading 14 assists, while junior Morgan Paiser had six digs and four attack kills. Junior Tia Kroening also had six digs.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK

Tigerton focusing on individual skills with limited athletes on roster

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Tigerton High School track and field team expects just four girls athletes to compete during the spring season.

Even with the limited roster size, it presents a challenge for Holly Meverden.

"The girls are mostly competing in separate events, and I am coaching unassisted this season," Meverden said. "This will present practice and meet challenges as I can only be in one place at a time. These particular girls, though, are independently motivated and will work hard and support each other."

All four athletes back are either juniors or seniors, so they already have varsity experience on their side.

Senior Ladia Block is the only senior expected on the team. She will focus on high jump, long jump and the 400- and 800-meter runs.

"Our team may be very small, but we are very supportive of each other," Block said. "We push each other to be the best they can be in the individual events that they are in. No one is ever too busy to stop and cheer on their teammate."

Junior Mary Kreklow specializes in distance running for the Tigers. She'll compete in the 800, 1,600 and 3,200.

Kreklow was the second-place finisher in the 1,600 and 3,200 at the 2019 Central Wisconsin Conference-Small Division Meet.

Junior Elizabeth Robbins is a sprinter, competing in the 100 and 200, along with the long jump for a field event.

Junior Jaycee Hoppe-Schmidt will also compete in the 200, while serving as a shot put and discus thrower.

Block, Kreklow and Hoppe-Schmidt all competed on the 4x800 sectional-qualifying relay team in 2019, but may not get a chance to replicate that success with limited roster numbers.

"I would expect each athlete to improve on their past times/distances from their previous season, which was spring of '19," said Meverden. "Each athlete brings with them the drive to compete and improve, so I expect nothing less than their best efforts."

Bowler eyeing strong season behind senior quartet

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The last time the Bowler High School baseball team took the field in 2019, it was in the hunt for a Central Wisconsin Conference-North Division title.

Many teams lost several players from a couple seasons ago after graduating two classes of athletes. While Bowler also graduated some impact players, it also returns a strong core of players to the roster this spring, giving coach Brad Brei high hopes.

"I have high expectations for this team," said Brei. "I have had some of these kids in little league and have seen some of the kids play. There is a lot of talent on this team. My job as coach is to bring them together as a team and help them improve their game."

Leading the way will be seniors Logan Thiex and Lane Schultz, who each landed on the CWC-North first team as sophomores. Thiex will pitch, catch and play shortstop for the Panthers, while Schultz can play anywhere on the field and also help on the mound or behind the plate.

Brock Strassburg was a second team all-conference performer as a sophomore and is back for his senior season. He will play at first base or in the outfield.

Adin Brei is a fourth senior back for Bowler. Like Schultz, Brei can play the infield or outfield, and he will also see time on the mound and as the catcher.

The rest of the team will be filled out by several athletes who will be getting their first tastes of varsity baseball.

"We have basically two groups of freshmen this year due to last year's freshmen not having a season, and we plan on having our oldest kids lead them on and off the field the best we can to be successful," said Schultz.

Junior Wylee Dodge (third base) and sophomores Ashwuut Mohawk (infield, pitcher) and Beau Brunner (pitcher, catcher, infield, outfield) are among the players who will help round out the roster.

Bowler's Logan Thiex throws a pitch during a Central Wisconsin Conference-North Division game against Manawa on May 10, 2019, in Bowler. Thiex is one of three all-conference players back from the 2019 Bowler squad that finished second in the conference standings.

Tigers have 2 all-conference players back from 2019

By MORGAN RODE

The Tigerton High School softball team will have several new faces on the field this spring, so the team will need some underclassmen to step up in order to put forth a competitive team.

Since the last time the Tigers took the field in 2019, a total of seven letter-winners have graduated. Still, coach Michelle Brady — the 2019 Coach of the Year in the Central Wisconsin Conference-North Division — has some talented players back to lead the way.

Senior Savannah Swartz landed on the all-conference first team as a sophomore, while senior Adrienne Brady made the second team. Brady was the team's top pitcher in 2019, and will again lead the way this spring. Swartz will be the primary catcher.

"I'm hoping I can give all the underclassmen as much wisdom as I possibly can," said Swartz. "Everything from batting tips, what to do in situations on the field, and maintaining a positive attitude. As of right now, I'm trying to set an example of what to do, and in some cases, what not to do. The only way they'll retain everything I'm teaching them is to create a bond with them, which we are all starting to form together."

Autumn Fredenberg (outfield), Bethany Jobe (third base) and Leandra Kalwitz (outfield) are three juniors back with some varsity experience under their belts.

First-time varsity players will help round out the roster.

Sophomore Skyler Hauser will help Adrienne Brady on the mound and otherwise play in the infield. Sophomore Abby Swartz will spell Savannah Swartz behind the plate and also play in the infield.

Freshmen Maycee Carlson, McKenzie Hoffman, Elizabeth Stueck and Jessalyn Zimdars are utility players that can play the infield or outfield.

"Our juniors and seniors have played a lot of softball, and we will be counting on our sophomores and freshmen to make significant contributions as well," said Michelle Brady. "This year's success will depend on how quickly our young team can mature and adapt to the varsity level."

"Our team has some good bats, good speed, and the willingness to put in the time and effort needed to succeed. We are excited to watch this group of ladies grow and compete at a high level."

OPINION

YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW

Record location fees invite abuses to public

It happens all the time.

A member of the public or representative of the press will file a request under Wisconsin's open records law, which applies to all state and local government entities. Instead of records, the requester gets a bill.

"The city will require pre-payment in full before we begin fulfilling your request," read one such response, dated March 17, to a citizen requester by the assistant city attorney of Fond du Lac. "Please remit $642.42 to cover the above-referenced costs." The notice said this was just an estimate and, if necessary, "we will bill you for the additional cost."

Two weeks earlier, the same assistant city attorney demanded that the same citizen requester, Christine Brennan, pay $6,887.79 on top of the $1,000 she had already remitted to cover the cost of locating records in a different request.

Wisconsin's open records law, passed in 1981, allows records custodians to charge for the "actual, necessary and direct" cost of making and sending copies, as well as the "actual, necessary and direct" cost of locating them, if this latter charge exceeds $50. Even though these searches are supposed to be done by the lowest-paid employee capable of performing the task, they often add up to hundreds or even thousands of dollars, causing many requesters to walk away without receiving the records to which they are entitled.

In some cases, this may be the intended result.

Last November, the Wisconsin Examiner news website reported on a 2016 email it has obtained in which Wauwatosa Police Department Detective John Milotzky advised a colleague that "many departments combat the issue (of records requests) by charging a high price to fill those requests, so maybe that's something to look at in the future."

In years past, some custodians even charged requesters for the time it took them to pore over records looking for things to black out, until the state Supreme Court ruled in 2012 that this was not an allowable cost. Custodians are still finding ways to demand huge sums from people seeking public information.

In Fond du Lac, the $1,000 that citizen requester Brennan paid to obtain records regarding a proposed (and subsequently approved) park development project using public funds yielded a 2019 email from a city council member advising others involved in this process, "Please keep that we are in talks on this on the down low. Stakeholders should be the only people who know that these conversations are happening."

Officials who behave this way should not be able to escape accountability by making the cost of locating the records that prove their perfidy unaffordable.

Gov. Tony Evers, in his proposed executive budget, calls for raising the threshold at which custodians can charge location fees to $100. Adjusted for inflation, $50 in 1981 is nearly $150 today.

This welcome measure deserves bipartisan support, as it protects the ability of all citizens to obtain public records. But the Legislature should go further and consider ending location fees altogether. Their use invites abuse and creates a disincentive for custodians to efficiently maintain and retrieve records.

If a government office actually must spend $7,000 of staff time to locate records, perhaps it needs a better filing system.

Your Right to Know is a monthly column distributed by the Wisconsin Freedom of Information Council (wisfoic.org), a group dedicated to open government. Bill Lueders, the editor of The Progressive, is the council's president.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Time to get into a little bit of 'good trouble'

To the editor:

The late and venerable John Lewis stated that, for America to attain its goal of full equality and opportunity, people of moral foundation must continue to cause and get into "good trouble." Now, because of explicit words and actions of leaders such as Ron Johnson and the spineless complicity of leaders such as Mike Gallagher, our state and country is entering a new era of Jim Crow. This version of Jim Crow under the guise of voting and electoral reform is spreading across our nation as evidenced by the recent actions of the Georgia Legislature.

The time for silence is over. It is time for people of moral character — not merely moralistic words — to stand up. Silence is compliance.

When the Jesus of traditional Christianity overturned the tables in the temple, he was not objecting against economic activity. He was metaphorically standing up for the poor Jews and the neglected "others."

When Gandhi led the non-violent revolution against British oppression in India, he was opposing the "White Man's lie of having a God-given duty to protect those less capable than them. When John Lewis marched across the bridge outside of Selma in the mid-1960s, he was saying "no more" to unequal treatment under the law — regardless of the physical consequences and threat of death.

It is well past time for people of conscience and faith to do nothing. When we hear and see words and actions of hate occurring, speak up.

I am more than willing to work with and talk with Republicans of high moral fiber. I never have considered myself a full-on Democrat. However, those type of referenced Republicans are hard to find these days — especially for me. When actions are motivated solely by fear-based politics is the norm, our hard fought for democracy is jeopardized. When loyalty to one individual supersedes privately held values, bad troubles are afoot.

Let's get into some good trouble.

Ken Kroenke, Shawano

First 'Comanche Sunset' book is full of intrigue

This week, I read book one of Ron Schwab's three-book set "Comanche Sunset," the first trilogy in his "Law Wranglers" series.

This first book is called "Deal with the Devil." It is set on the plains of what is now New Mexico. Most tribes have been driven onto reservations with a few holdouts raiding ranches and outposts. But towns are growing and offering more every day.

Josh Rivers grew up on the Slash R cattle ranch just outside of Sante Fe but is now a successful lawyer there. It is rare for Levi to travel to Sante Fe, so Josh is curious to see him in his office. About a year ago, one of Levi's oldest friends, Bill McKenna, was killed by Comanche raiders and his only child, Erin, was taken in the raid.

Erin's Aunt Dawn Rutledge raised Erin after her mother died. Now in her teens, Erin stands to inherit Bill's Circle M ranch, but Bill's brother Oliver was appointed caretaker and now wants Erin declared dead so that he can inherit instead.

Dawn is sure that Erin is alive, but the court needs proof or it will rule in Oliver's favor. Dawn has hired D.L. Sinclair to represent Erin in court, but Oliver's henchmen have already tried to kill her once.

Levi wants Josh to go into Comanche territory and find the girl with his son. Levi has already gotten Cal to sign on, so the pair heads for the small town of Madison to meet with D.L. Sinclair and start the search.

Female lawyers are rare in the southwest, but Danna Sinclair is used to being an oddity and doesn't let anything stop her. Though she doesn't talk about it, Danna understands what it feels like to become a victim of senseless violence, and she's determined to help Erin return to her birthright.

After they meet with Danna, they are ambushed, and Cal receives a wound to butt. He must remain in Madison while it heals. Josh rides out alone knowing the Comanches will find him. Along the way he discovers raiding party torturing the two men, while a lone woman sits in shock.

When Josh starts shooting, the Comanches ride off with the stolen the fire-red hair, but he only has a month to do it. Five years ago, the Comanches killed Josh's mother and his wife and took their infant son, Michael. Josh has never given up hope of finding horses. He dispatches the dying men and takes the woman along. The next morning Quanah Parker's warriors take them captive. To Josh's surprise, they are treated well.

He is visited by One Who Talks, a young white woman who is now part of Quanah tribe. She knows who he is and why he is here but explains that Quanah Parker wants to hire him. Erin McKenna will be turned over to Josh if he pays $6,000 in gold and agrees to represent Quanah Parker's band in negotiating a peace treaty. Josh agrees, but before they can leave Oliver McKenna leads an army attack and they are lucky to escape alive.

True to his word, Quanah Parker delivers Erin to Josh. Her husband was one of many killed during Oliver's attack, and now she has no one. On the way back to Sante Fe, she gives birth to a baby girl whom Cal names Willow.

As soon as the court rules in Erin's favor, she and Cal return to the McKenna ranch to take over. Back in Sante Fe, Josh realizes that he needs Danna Sinclair's expertise to manage his many clients, and they strike a partnership that suits them both. They both know that he'll do most of his lawyering outside the office while she is content to manage the business end.

Beneath it all, Josh must admit that he sees more than a good business partner in Danna Sinclair, but we must wait until book two for whatever develops.
