Hippe finds wild adventures right in her own backyard

Hobby farm works toward self-sufficiency

By MIRIAM NELSON
News Editor

ELAND — Some people travel the world in search of adventure, and others find it in their own backyards.

Andrea Hippe is finding the fulfillment of living her best life as she homeschools her twins and raises animals on her family's hobby farm.

To become more self-sufficient, the stay-at-home mom says they are raising ducks, chickens, geese and goats. New this year, they've also decided to raise pigs. She said she's gotten a lot of their information from the internet; other knowledge they've had to learn firsthand. This summer, the family planted pumpkins and squash in the garden solely to provide food for their pigs.

"You really don't save money raising your own pigs," said Hippe, who has a pair of pigs being fed and fattened to eventually provide meat for the family.

Goats are a different story, according to Hippe. By breeding and selling baby goats and turning one goat's milk into soaps, she said she makes enough money to pay for their hay and oats.

Her production of goat soaps, which she says is still in the hobby stage, has nonetheless allowed her to attend several craft fairs. The past two weekends, she has been at local fairs and has done quite well in selling her products.

A customer of hers had come to Wittenberg from Green Bay just to purchase more of her soap. Hippe met the customer at the Shawano Folk Festival in August a couple of years ago when she was a vendor at the event.

Hippe makes her soap with goat milk and lye, using essential oils for scents. She makes about 30 different scented soaps. Some of the scents are re-created as popular mixes used in diffusers, but sometimes it takes a bit of adjusting to get the right scent.

Andrea Hippe feeds the pigs that are new this year to her family's hobby farm. She and her husband, Matthew, also raise goats, chickens, ducks and geese.

MIRIAM NELSON | NEW MEDIA

Hippe notes that others who make goat soap use mostly water and only a small amount of goat's milk. She chooses to use all goat milk because she feels the end product has better moisturizing properties.

Clarey is the name of the only milker in her herd of goats. She produces a gallon a day. Some of that goes to feed the family in the form of kefir, soft cheese, caramel sauce or drinking milk; the rest gets turned into soap.

Hippe has two male goats and six females, which are bred and their offspring sold as pets. Males go for $125, and females go for $150. She raises Nubian and Nigerian Dwarf goats. She says there are other goat breeds that would be good for meat, but she will probably never raise any of those since she views her goats as pets.

Hippe and her husband, Matthew, also butcher their own chickens and ducks. They've learned a few hard lessons along the way. She noted that ducks need to be butchered at a certain time of year or you'll end up spending a lot of time plucking out the tiny feathers.

"I was up very late one night plucking the ducks, only to discover we don't like the taste of duck," said

Hippe, amused by the revelation.

Hippe said they do like the eggs the ducks produce as they are more nutritious than chicken eggs and are really good for baking.

In between caring for her barnyard full of animals, Hippe also home-schools her 7-year-old twins, Fenton and Silas. With a degree in educational interpreting, she has been doing sign language in schools for 12 years.

When the boys were born, she decided to stay at home until they were able to go to 4-year-old kindergarten, but when they were struggling in kindergarten, she decided since she had the qualifications and experience in teaching, she would homeschool them. She noted there is also a very good home educator group in Wittenberg.

The farm sits on just 3.5 acres and was Hippe's family homestead. Her parents never had animals, so there was a lot of work that needed to be done to transform it into a hobby farm.

Before they could entertain the thought of raising animals, the couple needed to clear some of the land, which was overgrown with trees, vines and bushes. They built a barn to house the goats and fenced in the area around it. She realizes however, that they made more work for themselves by not having one end of the barn outside the fence and nearer to the driveway to make it easier to unload and store hay.

Next summer, Hippe plans to have a larger garden and jokes that the twins will hopefully become better weeders to help out.

Although the idea of becoming self-sufficient and go entirely off the grid is appealing, she believes that would require a move to a warmer climate — a move they're not yet ready to make.

Hippe can be reached at 715-432-9155 or hippehomestead@gmail.com.

Keeping the school lunches coming

Clintonville man raises funds to pay off student meal debts

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

CLINTONVILLE — For some families, it's not always easy to keep up on paying for school lunches, and some fall behind.

When the debt builds enough, the school will usually take action — whether it's just a cold sandwich or another alternative. When that happens, some students feel ostracized.

In the Clintonville School District, one business owner decided he was going to help most of the families in his community that have fallen behind. On Friday, during the community's annual tree lighting ceremony, Jeremy Lewallen, owner of Jeremy's Tree Service, set up an old butter churn for community members to donate money toward those meal debts. He promised to match those donations, dollar for dollar, up to $2,000.

Lewallen checked with the district in early November and found that $4,100 was owed at the time in meal payments, which is what prompted him to set his goal. Final numbers on what was collected were unavailable by press time.

"I wanted to do something good for the city, and I wanted to do something that directly affected the city," Lewallen said. "Everyone wants to do something for hunger, and this is something that isn't ordinarily done."

Lewallen noted that some of the families who owe for meals make too much money to qualify for free and reduced meals but still are living paycheck to paycheck.

"They don't make enough money to cover all those expenses in life, and one of those expenses is school lunches," Lewallen said. "They're right in the middle, and those are the people we are targeting to help."

Lewallen said he was fortunate enough to be raised in a family that could afford school meals, but he chose the issue as his way of paying it forward to thank the community for supporting his business, which began three years ago.

He added that he hopes to continue to give back to the community, although perhaps not always by Jeremy Lewallen, owner of Jeremy's Tree Service, adds some money given to him at the Clintonville tree lighting ceremony Friday to a butter churn he set up in First State Bank. The donations will help pay off school lunch debts for students in the Clintonville School District.

LEE PULASKI | NEW MEDIA

paying off student meals. If Lewallen learns of a more urgent need, he said he plans to switch gears.

"I just know the importance of doing good," Lewallen said. "You help when you can help."

David Dyb, the district's superintendent, was very appreciative of Lewallen's generosity and thanked him right after the lights went on for the community Christmas tree, which Lewallen also sponsored.

"I think this is a wonderful and generous thing he's doing," Dyb said. "This is just an example of the Clintonville community stepping up to help everyone in our community at this time of year."

Dyb noted that about 60% of the district's elementary students qualify for free and reduced-price meals, with a lower number of middle and high school students also qualifying. He encouraged the families who are falling behind to check with the district to see if their income levels qualify them for the service, as the district receives aid to pay for those meals based on the number of students who meet the criteria.

Rep. Gary Tauchen, R-Bonduel, introduced Assembly Bill 84 earlier this year, which addressed student meal debts. Besides forbidding "lunch shaming," which happens when students are publicly called out because families are behind in paying for meals, the bill would also allow any donations to pay off meal debts to be tax deductible.

The bill was introduced by the Assembly Education Committee in May and a public hearing was held, according to Tauchen spokesman Craig Arrowood, but there has been no action on it since then.

Dyb said he has not read the proposed bill, but he wants anything that is beneficial to students to move forward and succeed.

"Anything that I think would be in support of our students and families should definitely be taken in a positive light," Dyb said. "Let's see how this unfolds."

OBITUARIES

Gordon A. James Sr., 73, of Keshena, began his journey to the spirit world Wednesday, Dec. 4, 2019, at ThedaCare Medical Center-Shawano.

Gordon was born July 28, 1946, in Keshena to the late Dennison and Mary Jane (Askenette) James Sr. He attended the Shawano elementary and middle schools, receiving his GED later in life. On March 26, 1969, he was united in marriage to Leone Wilber in Gresham.

Gordy was a hardworking man. He worked at the Neenah Foundry for a few years, followed by a long and distinguished career at Menominee Tribal Enterprises. Gordy retired in August 2018, having worked for 43 years and holding most of the positions MTE had to offer. He was also on the board of directors for MTE for many years.

Gordy was a lifelong, faithful member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Neopit. He served on the parish council and was known for being at church long before anyone else arrived. Gordy was also a member of the Knights of Columbus. In his younger years, he was known for having good moving feet in the boxing ring, as he was named a Golden Glove Boxer. He was also talented on the dance floor.

Gordy was a loving family man who enjoyed playing bingo on Sundays with his daughters, fishing on Evergreen Stream with his sons or sitting outside on a swing with his wife of 50 years, reminiscing. They used to sneak away for an evening in Carter to have dinner and gamble, or to spend time at the James' family lake lot. He loved watching the Packers. Now whether that was a good thing, his family would probably beg to differ. The most important thing to Gordy was having his family close and together as much as possible, especially during the holidays.

Gordy was preceded in death by his daughter, Jessie James; son, Tracy Peters; granddaughters, Gwendlyn and Amber Peters, and Christy Kiny; grandson, Albert "Mothers"

Peters Jr.; sister, Violet "Jitter" (Robert) Tucker Sr.; brothers, Dennison "Tonto" James Jr., Marvin "Joe Brown" James and Richard James; brothers-in-law, Clifford Wilber and William "Snooky" Wilber; and his special aunt, Josephine "Baby Girl" Askenette.

A funeral Mass for Gordon A. James Sr. will be celebrated Wednesday, Dec. 11, 2019, at 11 a.m. at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Neopit. The Rev. Joel Jores will be the celebrant. Visitation began Monday, Dec. 9, 2019, after 4 p.m. at the Neopit Community Center and will continue until the time of Mass on Wednesday.

Mickelson Funeral and Cremation Service of Shawano is assisting the family with arrangements. Please share online condolences at www.mickelsonfs.com.

Robert 'Bob' Hanke

Robert "Bob" Hanke, of Appleton, went to play golf on the greenest fairway of all and to sing with the choir of angels at the 19th hole. A wonderful tenor voice, he joined the Lord's Choir on Dec. 2, 2019, when he passed peacefully at Cherry Meadows Hospice in Appleton, surrounded by his family.

Bob was born Oct. 9, 1935, in Shawano to William and Albertina (Wolff) Hanke. He attended Wittenberg High School, where he met Elaine Day, his wife of 65 years. They married in October 1954.

Bob worked at the former Gilbert Paper Company in Neenah for many years, where he served as union president for many years, until retirement in 1994. After retiring, they spent many winters in Arizona where Bob was able to enjoy golf, his favorite sport, and softball, avoiding the cold in Wisconsin. Bob enjoyed playing cards. Sheepshead was his favorite game, and he was known to "place a bet" on anything for fun and challenge.

Bob had a beautiful voice and sang for many funerals and weddings. At one time, he sang with the McDowell Chorus. He also sang with the Y-Nots of Neenah/Menasha, joined by Elaine and others, visiting nursing homes and assisted living facilities, to entertain residents.

Bob is survived by his wife, Elaine; his son, Shane; and two granddaughters, Rhiannon Hanke (Joey Sanborn) and Katelyn Flatoff (Travis). He leaves two great-grandsons, Eli and Orlen Flatoff. He is further survived by one sister, Jane Wendler, of Wittenberg; several sisters- and brothers-in-law, Marvel Adams, Sharon Wright, Lois Karpf, Dan and Kristy Day, Ken and Lynda Day, Warren and Deb Day, Larry and Mary Day and Carla Day Johnson. He leaves numerous nieces and nephews and great-nieces and great-nephews who will all miss "Uncle Bob."

He will be missed by his buddies, Drake, Wally and Mike, Norbie and Rich.

Bob was preceded in death by his parents, William and Albertina Hanke; sisters, Dorothy Mathison, Ruth Barnowski and Patsy Siebert; and brothers, Melvin, Roger, George and Donald "Pete" Hanke. He was also preceded in death by three brothers-in-law, Leonard Adams, Bill Wright and Kenneth Karpf.

He was preceded in death by his daughter in 1989. Colleen, 32, died of a brain aneurysm. Fortunate people received organ transplants from Colleen's untimely death and organ donation, due to the family's generous spirit. Meeting the recipients and having some as a second family pleased Bob. A daughter born to that family is named Colleen.

A private service will be held at a future date.

The family wishes to thank the staff at AMC in Appleton and Cherry Meadows Hospice for their loving and compassionate care and comfort in Bob's final days.

God knew he was suffering, knew he was in pain. He knew that he would never get well on earth again. He saw the road rough and the hills hard to climb, he closed his eyes, whispered softly, "Is it time?" Our hearts are broken, now he's gone, but he didn't go alone. Part of us went with him, when God called him home.

Providing the Compassion & Care Your Family Deserves.

Richard "Dick" Cook, 90, of Shawano, passed away Wednesday, Dec. 4, 2019, at his residence. Richard was born April 6, 1929, in Rochester, Indiana, to the late Harry and Bertha (Wolf) Cook. He graduated from Rochester High School.

Dick went on to proudly serve his country in the United States Army from 1950-1952 and was stationed in Okinawa, Japan. Most recently, Dick had the privilege of being a participant in the Wisconsin Honor Flight.

On Nov. 24, 1950, Dick married Barbara Durch. Barbara preceded him in death in 1982. On July 14, 1984, Dick was united in marriage to Deidra "Dee Dee" Peterson. Dick worked as a manager for Schultz Brothers for 47 years and for Prange Way for three years until his retirement in 1991. He was involved in his community with the Shawano-Gresham School Board for nine years and a supervisor on the Shawano County Board for eight years. Dick was honored in Hobart, Indiana, having received the Distinguished Citizen of the Year Award in 1997. He enjoyed being active in the outdoors by golfing and downhill skiing.

Dick is survived by his wife, Dee Dee; his children, David (Anne) Cook, Susan (Mike) Brown, Robert (Julie) Cook, Dawn (Ken) Tucker, George (Julie) Neubauer and William (Shelli) Neubauer; 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. He is further survived by nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Harry and Bertha; his first wife, Barbara; and three sisters.

A memorial service for Dick will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 28, 2019, at Swedberg Funeral Home in Shawano, with Deacon James Lonick officiating. Military rites will be held by the Shawano American Legion following services. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery at a later date. Visitation will be held Saturday at the funeral home from 9:30 a.m. until the time of service. In honor of Dick's favorite color, please wear red. In lieu of flowers, please make donations to the American Legion Wisconsin Honor Flight.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to ThedaCare Hospice for the wonderful care given to Dick, especially Katie and Roxann.

Benedict V. Banaszynski Sr.

Benedict "Bennie" Vincent Banaszynski Sr., 81, of Cecil, passed away Sunday, Dec. 8, 2019. Bennie was born March 26, 1938, in the town of Angelica to the late Walter and Evelyn (Blaser) Banaszynski.

Bennie was united in marriage to Sandra Krueger in Pulaski, on Sept. 8, 1956. He lived in the Angelica and Cecil area his whole life. Bennie worked for Green Bay Forge for 42 years until his retirement. He was a member of the steel workers union. Bennie enjoyed hunting and fishing, spending time with his family and stock car racing.

Bennie is survived by: daughter Lyn (Michael Hogan) Banaszynski and her son Jason, daughter Dawn (Dan Hintz) Banaszynski and her children Nicci and Daylee, and daughter Laura-lee (Wayne Buelow) Banaszynski and her children Amanda (Donny) and Austin; 12 great-grandchildren and one on the way; sister-in-law, Marlene Krueger; brother-in-law, Gene (Diane) Krueger; and special friends, Larry and Mary Rosmer. He is further survived by other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Sandra; parents, Walter and Evelyn; son, Ben "Jay" (Anne) Jr.; two grandchildren, Kelly and Jeremy; two sisters, Mona and Doey, and a brother, Ray.

Private family services were held. A memorial fund has been established.

Swedberg Funeral Home is assisting the family with arrangements.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to Pines Post Acute Care.

Kuehl Funeral Home

Open House

As you know there is new ownership and management of Gillett's own funeral home, we also understand that most people don't look forward to hanging out at a funeral home - but we wanted to have an opportunity to introduce ourselves, meet people from town, and really put a face with the name.

Our goal is to offer the best service, uncompromising compassion, unique personalized service, and integral part the community, and a business that you are proud to have - for a very long time!

The staff is all unique with differing backgrounds, but all share same beliefs - Gillett deserves the best we can offer, come meet us to see why we are different.

Saturday December 14th 11A-2P

We will have - Appetizers, snacks, soda, and coffee, Christmas cookies from cookies by Cheryl, Pies from OJ's Full Military honors, a flag folding, taps and a gun salute by American Legion Post #300 - Gillett at noon ... AND MORE!

Time is running out!

Don't forget to use your 2019 health benefits. Call now for an appointment or stop in to pick out new glasses for the new year.

Deklan Arndt is amazed by the Christmas village, particularly the fact that it even had snowmobiles. He was among the visitors at the opening of the festival on Friday. The village is one of the displays at the annual Tigerton Festival of Trees. The event opened on Saturday and continues through Christmas, with voting on the trees closing on Dec. 18.

Festival of Trees lights up old village hall in Tigerton

Twenty-two decorated Christmas trees on display

TIGERTON — The trees are trimmed in Tigerton, and now it's up to the public to determine which creations will top the nice list.

The community's Festival of Trees, sponsored by Tigerton Main Street, started Friday with carols, a visit from favorite "Grinch" characters and 22 Christmas trees decorated by various businesses, nonprofits and school groups. Voting on the trees, which will be up until Christmas, runs through Dec. 18.

"It's fun to watch people come in and decorate a tree," said Andrea Graham, Tigerton Main Street manager. "There are so many different ideas, and the same ones come year after year."

The trees are available for viewing at Tigerton's 1905 Village Hall, 215 Cedar St., weekday mornings from 8 a.m. to noon, as well as Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. The voting this year will fall under four categories — Best School Tree, Best Theme (business or nonprofit), Most Creative and overall Best of Show, Graham said. Gifts will be awarded to the top vote-getters in each category.

Carolers from Tigerton High School kicked off Friday's festivities. After the trees and the Christmas village were lit, children and families went upstairs to meet Mr. Grinch and Cindy Lou Who of Dr. Seuss fame. In addition to posing for photos, the kids were able to participate in other activities, color Grinch bookmarks and enjoy some snacks.

Those who missed the festivities can still check out and vote on the decorated trees. The local chapter of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) contributed a tree featuring super fruits and vegetables — complete with capes, eyes and "S" crests. A "Blue Christmas" tree pays homage to the late Elvis Presley, while a plumed peacock tree with a chicken wire skirt was decorated by Anita Kernen, owner of Anita Haircut.

Nineteen additional trees and more Christmas decorations are available for viewing. For information, call the Tigerton Main Street office at 715-535-2110.

Anita Kernen adds evergreens to the skirt of her peacock tree at the Tigerton Festival of Trees display. She created the "peacock" prior to the opening of the festival.

The annual Festival of Trees is just one of the events on the calendar for Tigerton Main Street, an organization that is part of the Wisconsin Economic Development Corp.'s downtown improvement program.

"We are the smallest community in the Main Street program," said Andrea Graham, Tigerton Main Street manager. "There are 32 communities in all; we compete against places like Fond du lac, Wausau and Milwaukee."

Tigerton was chosen as a Main Street Community in 1993. One of program's early projects was refurbishing the old Village Hall, which had fallen into disrepair. Built in 1905, at one time it housed the fire department and the jail. Today, Graham holds office hours there, and the space is available for rent. It's also the site of the current Festival of Trees and the annual Fourth of July block party.

"We don't have the money like larger communities for face lifting," Graham said. "But we just keep pushing. Plus, the volunteers in Tigerton are great."

Tigerton Main Street named James and Brenda Gauthier as this year's volunteers of the year, Graham said. Additionally, corporate sponsor of the year went to Kathy Robbins, president at First National Bank.

Another fundraiser for Tigerton Main Street is the soup cook-off, which will be Jan. 26. Due to the space needed for that event, it will be held at the Tigerton Community Center. Soups are judged in different categories.

The community park is the site of the Taste of Tigerton's Applefest, which has gotten bigger every year and will be held Sept. 26 next year. It features vendors, crafts and an apple pie contest.

Graham is not only the Tigerton Main Street manager. She also serves as village president and on the ambulance board of directors. Soon, she and her family plan to open a new business called Graham's Sweet Shop. It is located across the street from the old Village Hall and will sell ice cream. The refurbished building at one time held a store called Sweet Shop, which is how the new name was chosen.

"It's taken a bit longer than we thought it would," Graham said. "But we are excited to have it open early next year."

"We are the smallest community in the Main Street program."

THE GARDENING YEAR

Take proactive approach to protect trees

Now that the winter season has officially arrived and the snow is beginning to accumulate in our yards and gardens, it is time to prepare valuable trees and shrubs for the rest of the winter.

Garden trees and shrubs that are especially valuable and used as specimen plants in the yard and garden should be protected from a variety of winter hazards. Perhaps the most destructive is damage caused by hungry rodents, such as rabbits and voles.

Rabbits and voles may cause girdling damage to decorative trees and shrubs. Girdling is where the entire base of the trunk of the plant is debarked, or gnawed completely bare around the entire perimeter. This is destructive to the plant because valuable nutrients are carried through this bark layer. Once it is completely removed around the entire base of the tree, the plant has a hard time recovering and will potentially die off within a season or two.

Another potential hazard is feeding by deer. Deer can cause extensive damage in a short period of time if they move into the yard or garden and begin to nibble away at twigs and branches loaded with buds already for the spring season.

While in some cases, a little natural pruning is fine, feeding deer can do quite a bit of damage to expensive specimen plants that are not protected from their feeding activity.

There are a variety of options for protecting trees and shrubs from feeding wildlife. Tree guards, tree wraps and caging are among the most popular. These options come in a number of styles and forms; you can either purchase premade guards and wraps or create your own from items you may have around the home.

Tree guards are often made out of plastic or PVC and are a popular and easy-to-install choice for valuable trees in the garden, as well as newly planted trees that need protection for their first few years while the base of the trunk is young and tender.

Protecting young trees during their first few winters is important to prevent loss from girdling caused by hungry rodents.

ROB ZIMMER

Tree guards come in a number of different styles and can be used for trees of various sizes and ages.

ROB ZIMMER

It is important that the guard is sufficient in length, or height. Many people install tree guards that are much too short. For maximum protection, estimate how deep the snow will be around the tree, then be sure your tree guard stands a minimum of 18 inches above that anticipated snow line. Three feet higher than the snow line is a much better safety measure.

Tree guards can be installed at the time of planting and left in place during all four seasons for further protection from feeding rodents. Or they can be installed anytime for seasonal protection from wildlife.

Some tree guards are flexible and can remain on the tree for many years. Others, however, are rigid and must be removed or replaced as the tree continues to grow.

Another option for winter protection is to install tree wrapping around the base of the tree or shrub. Tree wraps are available in a variety of materials including metallic foil, corrugated plastic and heavy duty tape. These wraps are easy to install as you simply wrap them around the tree to a desired height for protection from gnawing rodents. Follow the label instructions for proper attachment. Some varieties are adhesive while others are not.

Installing wire cages around trees or shrubs is another option for protecting from predators. Caging can be done seasonally before the snow begins to pile up, or left permanently until the plant is large enough to withstand feeding wildlife.

You can purchase premade plant cages, or create your own out of a variety of wire materials and hardware cloth. For vole protection, it is important to use the smallest wire mesh possible when installing a cage around the base of the tree or shrub. For rabbits, wire mesh or chicken wire with smaller openings is sufficient. Deer caging must be of sufficient height to protect the plant from hungry deer. Generally, this is at least 6-8 feet, depending upon the type of plant.

In some cases, notably some conifers, loosely wrapping the plant in burlap offers protection against deer, as well as against the desiccating potential from the winter sun.

There are gardeners out there who swear by the use of cut up soap chunks, especially Irish Spring, or mesh bags filled with dog or horse hair hung from valuable trees and shrubs in the garden for protection from deer and rabbits during winter. Use these methods at your own risk, preferably in combination with cages or wrapping in case they are not dependable.

There are also a number of repellents on the market, from granules to sprays to sonic repellents to keep feeding rodents and deer at bay during the winter season. A physical barrier always offers more reliable protection as some of the others need to be reapplied fre-

Green Bay grinds out win over Washington

Jones, Pack's defense lead team to 10th win

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

GREEN BAY — It wasn't pretty, but the Green Bay Packers took down the Washington Redskins 20-15 on Sunday at Lambeau Field.

The Packers jumped out to an early 14-0 lead and looked to be on their way to a rout, but then things ground to a halt.

Green Bay's offense posted 111 total yards of offense in the first quarter, but finished the day with just 341 yards. The Packers' defense surrendered just 12 yards while forcing three straight three-and-outs to open the game, but the lowly Redskins were able to put scoring drives together on three of their final six possessions.

Even though it wasn't the greatest of wins, the victory gave Green Bay 10 for the season and kept it atop the NFC North.

"We'll never apologize for winning, we're always going to feel great about winning," said coach Matt LaFleur, who became the first coach in franchise history to win 10 games in their first season with the Packers. "But you always want to go out there and put your best performance out there. You know, I think there was more out there today for us."

It was a total team effort that got the Packers off to a fast start in the first quarter.

Washington started the game with the football, but the Packers' defense stuffed a pair of runs before Kenny Clark and Kyler Fackrell teamed up to sack Washington quarterback Dwayne Haskins on third down.

On the ensuing punt, the Packers found life in their return game as the newly-signed Tyler Ervin gained 10 yards and set the Packers up at midfield.

It took the Packers' offense seven plays to go 50 yards and take the lead. Quarterback Aaron Rodgers hit tight end Jimmy Graham for a 20-yard completion on the first play of the drive before Rodgers scrambled for 13 yards on a third-and-six play.

Running back Aaron Jones capped the drive with a 4-yard touchdown — his 12th rushing score on the season and 15th overall.

After the Packers forced two more three-and-outs, the Packers extended their lead with another quick scoring drive. Rodgers hit Graham on a 25-yard pass to get things going before Jones broke free for runs of 16 and 12 yards to get the Pack into the red zone.

Rodgers finished off the five-play, 57-yard drive with a 12-yard touchdown pass to tight end Robert Tonyan to make it 14-0.

Outside linebacker Preston Smith sacked Haskins to end the next Redskins' drive, and Jones opened the Packers' possession with a 42-yard run, but the drive stalled and Green Bay was forced to punt.

Washington then put together an 11-play, 95-yard drive to tighten the game up (14-6, after Dustin Hopkins missed the extra point).

Green Bay's offense looked to be on its way to a touchdown drive of its own, but Rodgers had the ball stripped away while being sacked.

The Packers' defense kept the lead at eight going into halftime after safety Adrian Amos intercepted a pass.

"It's always good, you know, eliminating points," said Amos. "That's always good. It's always big to get turnovers in situations like (the) end of the half and end of the game, and in the red zone. Those are the three big times when you need stops."

Green Bay upped its lead to 11 after a 32-yard Mason Crosby field goal to end the team's first drive of the second half. After that score, the offense went into another rut until the 10-minute mark of the fourth quarter.

Up 17-9, the Packers put together a 14-play, 74-yard drive that set up a Crosby 33-yard field goal that looked to be the final touch to Green Bay's win.

Instead, Washington drove 75 yards in eight plays and scored a touchdown to keep hope alive. The Packers finally finished off their win by stopping the two-point conversion and then recovering an onside kick.

"Winning's the only thing that matters, and even in the midst of some of these games where it hasn't been a great flow (on offense) the entire time, we are winning, so that's the encouraging thing," said Rodgers, who finished with just 195 passing yards. "We expect to win games where our defense holds them to less than 20 points, but we'll find our rhythm — I'm not worried about that on offense."

Jones was the team's leading rusher and receiver, finishing with 192 total scrimmage yards. He carried the ball 16 times for 134 yards (8.4-yard average) and caught six passes for 58 yards.

Jones hauled in a key 25-yard pass on a third-and-14 play to extend the Packers' final scoring drive.

Graham finished with three catches for 49 yards, while Davante Adams was limited to 41 yards on four catches. No other Packers' wideout had over 19 receiving yards.

Blake Martinez led the defense with 10 total tackles while Clark had 1½ of the team's four sacks. Along the Amos' interception, the defense forced two other fumbles, but couldn't recover either.

Green Bay will stay in town to take on the Chicago Bears at Lambeau next Sunday.

Big second half powers Shawano boys to victory over Pulaski

Weisnicht scores 29 for Hawks

SHAWANO — The Shawano Community High School boys basketball team opened its regular season with a pair of tight wins and looked to be on its way to a third on Friday with Pulaski in town.

Instead, Shawano dominated the second half, outscoring Pulaski 33-12 in the final 18 minutes to pull away for a 69-42 nonconference victory.

Shawano held a 36-30 lead coming out of halftime before senior big man Carter Weisnicht took over. Weisnicht, who finished the game with 29 points, scored 12 of the team's first 13 points in the second half to help Shawano go up 49-30.

Weisnicht converted three shots near the basket before burying two 3-pointers, which had the crowd buzzing and the bench fired up.

"It felt good. I mean, I haven't had the best first two games, so it felt good to go out there and get my teammates some shots, get my own (shots) and contribute to the team and get a good win," said Weisnicht.

Senior Brayden Dickelman added a field goal on a fastbreak chance to cap the Hawks' 15-0 run to start the half.

Pulaski wasn't able to trim its deficit below 16 points the rest of the way. A 3-pointer from the Red Raiders made it 59-42 with about five minutes to go before Shawano senior Sam Schulze sealed up the win.

Schulze, who hadn't scored in the contest up to that point, tallied the final 10 points for the Hawks. He hit two 3-pointers and then added four points from the free throw line after grabbing a pair of offensive rebounds and getting fouled.

Schulze was one of several Hawks to make an impact in the game, something coach David Ambrosius loves about the team.

"We knew going in (to the season) that we were going to have a lot of guys that could go out there and contribute so that played a big factor in how we wanted to design both our offense and defense and how we wanted to play this year," said Ambrosius. "Obviously, we have all the confidence in the world with the guys that we put out there, that they're going to be able to get the job done. Tonight was just another example."

Eight of Shawano's 10 players that played scored, with senior Nick Sherman scoring 15 points to join Weisnicht and Schulze in double figures.

Weisnicht's 14 points and Sherman's 10 led an efficient Hawks' offense in the first half, but the Red Raiders knocked down seven 3-pointers to keep things close.

Shawano turned up its intensity on defense to stifle Pulaski in the second half.

"Pulaski is really, really good. They got some guys that can really shoot the basketball, so what we saw in the first half was not surprising by any stretch of the imagination," said Ambrosius.

"I thought our kids did a really good job of taking the adjustments we made at halftime. We really turned up the defensive pressure, and in doing so, the tempo picked up a little bit and we started to play our tempo of basketball."

The win moved the Hawks to 3-0 on the season.

"It's been a lot of fun," said Sherman on the start to the season. "All of us guys are really close — it's like family, we're brothers. We have a lot of fun in practice, we have a lot of fun in games. We just got to bring the energy and that's what we're doing. We want to play defense and want to play fast and bring that energy and show every team that we can do it."

WASP racks up several first-place finishes at pair of weekend meets SHAWANO — The Wittenberg Area Swim Program won the WASP Winter Meet on Saturday before turning in several strong finishes at the Shawano Winter Meet on Sunday.

WASP's Kelsie Davis finished first in all three of her individual events, the 50-yard freestyle, 50 breaststroke and 100 backstroke, and helped the 200 medley relay team also take first in the 11-12 division at Sunday's meet.

Lily Metropulos (10-and-under division) came in first in the 100 butterfly and 50 freestyle.

Ava Hegewald (11-12) took first in the 100 butterfly, while Faith Resch (open) won the 50 freestyle.

Hegewald, Reese Dickman and Olivia Bessette joined Davis on the 200 medley relay. Resch, Metropulos, Rylee Crick and Jessica Storlie formed the 200 medley relay team in the open division that took second.

At Saturday's meet, Davis, Resch and Metropulos led WASP by taking first in each individual event they swam in.

Competing in the 11-12 division, Davis took first in the 50 freestyle, 50 breaststroke, 50 butterfly and 50 breaststroke. She was also two relay teams that took first — the 200 medley and 200 freestyle.

Resch (13-14) placed first in the 50 freestyle, 50 backstroke, 50 butterfly and 50 breaststroke. She was on the Metropulos (9-10) claimed first place in the 100 IM, 100 backstroke and 100 butterfly and 50 breaststroke. She was also on the first-place finishing 200 medley relay team.

Ava Hegewald (11-12 girls) took first in three individual events, while Crick (9-10 girls), Matilda Hegewald (8-and-under girls) and Logan Hanson (13-14 boys) earned two first-place individual finishes each.

Addison Schmid (9-10 girls), Bessette (11-12 girls), London Metropulos and Laura Gilmeister (13-14 girls) and Alexa Chaney (15-and-over girls) also took first in an event.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a Public Hearing will be held before the City of Shawano Plan Commission on Wednesday, December 18, 2019 at 6:00 PM at Shawano City Hall located at 127 S. Sawyer St., Shawano, WI to:

Add sub-section to Municipal Code Section 10-143(2)(f) Painted Wall Sign to read as follows:

(f) Painted wall sign: a wall sign painted directly on a building façade.

- 1.) Painted wall signs shall be professional painted. Professional hand painting is permitted.
- 2.) No part of the painted wall sign shall wrap around the corner of the building onto another façade, unless that façade, is also eligible for a painted wall sign.
- 3.) Painted wall signs shall use a durable and long-lasting paint designed to withstand the elements. Acrylic or mineral-based paint products are recommended.
- 4.) Painted wall signs shall not diminish a building's architectural integrity.
- 5.) Painted wall signs shall be regularly maintained or touched up to maintain legibility and avoid the appearance of peeling paint, per Section 10-150(7).
- 6.) Murals or works of art which in no way identify a product shall not be regulated under this Chapter.
- 7.) A painted wall sign would count towards a business's permitted business signs.

Amend Figure 10-144a to allow painted wall signs in the Downtown Mixed Use (DMU) and by conditional use in the Urban Mixed Use (UMU) zoning districts:

Figure 10-144a: Permitted Signs by Purpose/Configuration and Zoning District
Note: Several rows from this table have been omitted that aren't affected by this change.

Amend Section 10-152(2), to add (a) pertaining to removal of painted wall signs when business is no longer in operation.

(2) Sign structures that have been left vacant, devoid of any message, display a message pertaining to a time, event or purpose that no longer applies, or where the permit holder no longer has any interest in the premises as owner or tenant, any of which for a continuous period of 90 days, shall be deemed abandoned and must be removed by the owner of the sign structure or the City shall proceed to remove such sign structure pursuant to the term of this sign code if the owner has not been granted an extension.

(a) Removal of abandoned painted wall signs shall either involve complete physical removal of the abandoned sign from the wall or repainting of the entire wall containing the abandoned sign, so that the said wall matches the building's other facades and the abandoned signs is no longer visible.

At the above time and place, all interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard.

ATHLETE PROFILE: ZACH FEHRMAN

Upbeat Bowler senior helping lead young team on basketball court

BOWLER — The Bowler High School boys basketball embarked on the winter season with a young roster and under the direction of a new coach. Senior Zach Fehrman has helped ease the team into the season.

Fehrman serves as a leader for the Panthers, both in games and in practice.

“Zach brings tremendous energy and leadership to our team,” said first-year Bowler coach Ted Kietlinski. “Perhaps Zach’s greatest quality is that he remains upbeat even during the most trying of game situations. We are a young squad this year, but Zach is always a positive influence in working with our underclassmen.”

Fehrman can knock down the 3-point shot, but also isn’t afraid to drive to the basket. He is also a strong defender, both on the ball and on the boards.

The senior guided Bowler past Tigerton in a Central Wisconsin Conference-North Division contest on Thursday, scoring 26 points in the team’s 80-62 win.

Q: When did your interest in basketball begin?

A: When I was in about third grade I had an interest in basketball but I didn’t really get into it until I started Gresham Booster Ball (that year). Ever since then, I’ve wanted to be the best that I can be.

Q: What is your favorite part about the basketball season?

A: Spending time with my team on and off the court. Also, when I am able to have a really good game in front of our home crowd.

Q: How did you prepare for the basketball season?

A: Playing soccer is kind of my way of preparing for the basketball season. Other than that, I don’t really prepare for the season.

Q: With the season just getting rolling, what has the team learned about itself so far?

A: That we have to push the other team on every play and we have to get offensive and defensive rebounds. We also have to be making a lot of our shots and can’t make any dumb turnovers.

Q: As one of the few seniors on the team, how do you plan to help lead the team?

A: One of the main ways is showing a good example and helping develop some of the younger players. I also plan to keep the team on track during practice.

Q: What’s your favorite memory of competing on the Bowler boys basketball team?

A: Probably the time I was walking back to the school after eating at Bonnie’s Place and a group of boys from the team grabbed me and threw me in the trunk of their vehicle. That is something that I will never forget.

Q: What are you going to miss most about high school sports?

A: I will miss my teammates so much. They were my family for all four years of sports, and if I ever had a problem, they helped me out.

Q: What is your favorite thing to do when you are not in school or competing in a high school sport?

A: Going out ice fishing with one of my best friends Jacob Bratz. Also playing BABA baseball for Tilleda.

Q: Favorite movie, TV show, musical artist?

A: My favorite movie is “Major League.” TV show is “That 70s Show.” Favorite musical artist is Kenny Rogers.

Q: Name one thing about yourself that not many people know?

A: I love to listen to old country music.

Q: What is the greatest piece of advice you have ever been told?

A: To shut up and shoot the ball — Nathan Montez (a former teammate of Fehrman’s)

Q: What are some things you hope to accomplish after completing high school?

A: To graduate college with a degree in a natural resource field and just live a good healthy life.
