FINDING THE MISSING

Wisconsin Attorney General Josh Kaul talks about the importance of pursuing cases involving missing people and murder, especially when they involve minorities like Native Americans, during a press conference July 22 in Keshena. The state and the Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin called the press conference to announce rewards in two missing person cases and the formation of a task force to address the issue of missing and murdered indigenous women. # Shawano schools pushing for face-to-face learning

Current county health risk might hamper those plans

By LEE PULASKI

City Editor

The Shawano School Board took its first look at a plan to reopen school doors to students again after having to shut down the buildings three months early via state order due to the coronavirus pandemic.

Although the pandemic has not subsided, districts around the state are planning to be in school in some form or fashion beginning Sept. 1, the earliest that state law allows public schools to start.

The Shawano School District is planning to have a face-to-face setup five days a week, according to Superintendent Randi Anderson. However, it will depend on Shawano County's health risk at the given time.

Low and moderate risk will allow for the full-time traditional learning environment, but higher risks will require going to a hybrid learning model and possibly 100% virtual learning. Anderson said that the current health risk for the county as of Monday would put the Shawano public schools in a hybrid mode.

Some board members balked at the idea of having the state of Shawano's education depending on the county's numbers, arguing that a surge in total county cases could be coming from other communities, with Shawano's numbers staving steady or even dropping. Board member Chris Gull argued that having the county numbers be the guide is "placing the blame on someone else," noting that three doctors from ThedaCare had informed the board earlier in its meeting that health statistics in individual schools would make a better guide.

"Using the county — we need to throw this out because it does not represent what's going on here in our district, what's going on in our building," Gull said. "It's not based on hard math, and if it's not based on hard math, it means nothing."

Board member Bruce Milavitz agreed, noting that the county's health department cites that there are only 46 active coronavirus cases out of almost 41,000 people living in the county.

"The positive cases are going to go up, but so is the healing," Milavitz said.

Gull argued that the Shawano-Menominee Counties Health Department does not currently have the authority to shut down any facilities due to coronavirus, and so the school district should not give it to the department, either.

"We're going to grant authority to people that even their own employers are not granting this authority to?" Gull said. "Absolutely not."

Board member Chuck Dallas suggested that the district form a committee to monitor health in the schools and recommend whether to stay open if there's an outbreak in the district.

Masks are not mandatory under the proposed plan, but they will be highly recommended. The district will be depending on parents to screen their own children at the start of each school day for symptoms and temperature.

There is an option for parents concerned about their children's health to participate in complete virtual learning. Families that want to do this would need to sign up for the option by Aug. 7 and must commit to virtual learning for at least one semester.

Board member Diane Hoffman criticized the plan for not having enough details on how virtual learning would be achieved, noting that internet accessibility is a key obstacle in rural portions of the district.

"I want to know how the virtual is going to be different than it was in the spring," Hoffman said. "Nobody has told me yet. We're just going to do it. How are the teachers going to be prepared?"

Citing a questionnaire the district sent to students, Anderson said 60% of respondents said they definitely plan to send their children to school in the fall. Respondents were evenly split on whether they're in favor of students and staff wearing masks. Only 40% said they would have their children ride the bus.

Anderson said busing will be the last issue determined, once they figure out how many families will be using the buses.

Board member Mart Grams said it's important to get the students back into school because the recent closure has put their education behind. He argued that not having inperson learning would just frighten families and not help students to learn.

"The AAP (American Association of Pediatrics) in their report, as well the National Education Association, says we're  $2\frac{1}{2}$  years behind, or it will take  $2\frac{1}{2}$  years before we can catch these kids," Grams said. "Anybody here willing to sacrifice a kid  $2\frac{1}{2}$  years of their education because they might get a cold?"

Gull agreed, pointing out that the virtual learning offered by the district during the spring was less than successful.

"We cannot have two days a week," Gull said. "We will fail our kids."

The board is expected to vote on the plan when it meets at 5:30 p.m. Monday at the Shawano Community High School library, 220 County Road B, Shawano.

Mask issue causes tempers to flare at board meeting

Grams accuses administrator of making threat if staffer doesn't wear mask

By LEE PULASKI

City Editor

Tempers flared briefly during a Shawano School Board workshop Monday regarding school reopening plans when board member Mart Grams claimed a staff member had been told masks would be required in school.

Grams said he had heard from a teacher who claimed to be told by an administrator that, despite the proposed plan that states masks would not be required but highly encouraged by students and staff with some exceptions, the coverings would be a requirement at all times in school. He would not identify specifically who made the claim or which school the charge comes from, saying that administrators would retaliate.

"A principal said, 'If you want to work here, you'd better learn to wear a mask," Grams said.

Board president Tyler Schmidt interjected at that point and said the board couldn't take action based on anonymous accusations, at which point, Grams slammed his hand on the table.

"I heard it!" Grams shouted before accusing Schmidt of having "a bug up your butt" every time he speaks. "All of these are emails I have directly received today."

"Then forward them on to the appropriate people," Schmidt said in reply.

Other board members also chastised Grams, claiming there is a protocol for staff complaints.

"You're not elected, Mart, to micromanage the school," said board member Chuck Dallas. "You're to take those concerns to Randi (Anderson, district superintendent) or the person that supervises."

"Raising your voice doesn't help," board member Diane Hoffman said to Grams.

Scott

Zwirschitz, Shawano Community High School principal, told the board that he had made a comment earlier in the year, when it was unclear what requirements would need to be implemented, that if any staff members "have any concerns about masks, you should probably get used to wearing them because we're probably going to have some requirement."

"If Mart wants to change that to I made a threat that they're not going to be able to work here, that's inaccurate," Zwirschitz said. "If you're going to fabricate my story, I would appreciate you saying if it was me who said it."

The proposed plan has teachers being required to put on a face covering when physical distancing of 3-6 feet cannot be achieved. The plan has not been formally approved yet.

"In this situation (with the masks), there is no black and white," Anderson said. "There is just a lot of gray."

This is not the first time Grams has been at odds with the rest of the board. On July 12, the other eight members of the board censured Grams and recommended he resign his post after he posted on Facebook: "You know George Floyd has been drug free for 2 months."

MISD reopening schools with hybrid learning

Students in school two days a week, learning online the other three

By LEE PULASKI

City Editor

Menominee Indian School District announced last week the details for a school reopening plan where students will be attending schools two days a week and learning virtually during the other three.

Beginning Sept. 21, students living in Keshena will be attending school on Mondays and Tuesdays, while students living on the rest of the reservation and in Shawano will attend Thursdays and Fridays. The school buildings will be closed Wednesdays, when schools will do deep cleaning to further prevent the spread of the coronavirus.

"This is not how I anticipated the new school year to start," said Wendell Waukau, district superintendent. "But it's here. We've accepted it, and we're ready to go."

Parents will have the option to have their children engage in full virtual learning if they are concerned about their children being at risk for catching the coronavirus, according to Waukau. He noted that the district will need to be flexible with its attendance policy during the pandemic.

The split will generate classrooms of seven to 10 students, according to Waukau. He said having the smaller classrooms should allow for better social distancing, and masks will be required in the schools for students and staff alike.

"Putting together a reopening plan was based more on the safety of the students, family, staff and the community," Waukau said. "Our decision, the plan we put together had a huge impact from what is happening in our tribal community, which we know right now we're doing an excellent job of keeping our rates down."

The district will have what Waukau described as a "soft opening" beginning Sept. 1. For those three weeks leading up to Sept. 21, parents and students will be getting Chromebooks for the virtual learning, getting registered, scheduling any needed meetings and more, he said. "It's going to take a couple of weeks to get off the ground slowly and get things ready to go on Sept. 21 when we go to our in-person learning," Waukau said.

The soft opening came about as a result of conversations with Dr. Amy Slagle, Menominee tribal health officer. Waukau said Slagle was concerned about the first day of school happening the week that the Shawano County Fair opens and was worried that tribal families who attend the fair might spread the coronavirus.

"We certainly want to impress upon our students and families that we prefer they not go, because we're trying to keep our rates down," Waukau said. "We don't want that to impact the school. We don't want that to impact the community."

He added that, if there was a coronavirus outbreak that impacted his schools, the district would likely go to full virtual learning on Sept. 21 and then go back to the original plan once the outbreak was concluded.

Everyone entering the school will be required to get their temperature checked. Waukau said the Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin purchased kiosks for all of the schools that will take temperatures automatically and not require staff involvement.

"Children who are brought to school, you won't even have to get out of the car," Waukau said. "We will come up to you with temperature scanners, and we'll come right to the car and take your temperature."

One challenge that rural families have faced is access to the internet, and the Menominee Reservation is no exception. MISD is combating that by having Wi-Fi on its buses, according to Waukau, and they will be dispersed throughout the communities so that anyone with a computer that has Wi-Fi can participate in virtual learning.

"Wi-Fi connectivity was a huge obstacle," Waukau said. "We have Wi-Fi on our buses, and we have hotspots we can take out into the community. If families need Wi-Fi connectivity, we are going to take that into the community. We didn't have that back in March, but we'll have it now."

Another challenge is busing. With the current buses, the district would only be able to have 12 students maximum on each bus, and Waukau is encouraging families to transport their children to school. The district is talking with Menominee Transit Services to see if their buses could also be used, if necessary.

Eating in the cafeterias will not be happening in order to keep social distancing in place, and Waukau said that elementary students would be having lunch and breakfast in the classrooms, while the middle and high schools would likely be utilizing the libraries and other larger spaces.

Recess will still be going on at Keshena Primary School, according to Waukau, and teachers at all three schools are being encouraged to plan outdoor learning activities whenever possible.

Waukau dispelled the rumors that the district is eliminating elective classes like art and music. He said some school districts in Wisconsin are planning to do that, but Menominee Indian will not.

Waukau said the district will look at its plan at the end of the first semester in January and determine then if it will continue with its hybrid plan or go back to having all students in school five days a week.

Parent Craig Penass said during a Zoom presentation July 22 that he was concerned about keeping social distancing, but he believes the existing plan will keep the health risks to a minimum.

"I'm not there to watch them, but I do trust your staff to keep up the social distance," Penass said to Waukau. "We don't want that (coronavirus) to come home to us and our families."

Several people injured in car versus semi crash

Several people were seriously injured Monday when a car crashed with a semi on state Highway 29 in the town of Richmond, according to the Shawano County Sheriff's Department.

Deputies were called to the crash scene at Highway 29 and Clark Drive about 9:30 p.m. after the driver of a car attempted to cross the highway in the path of an eastbound semi.

"Several people were ejected from the car, and numerous people with severe injuries were transported to ThedaCare (in) Shawano," Lt. Jesse Sperberg said in a statement.

Four people were in the car, Sperberg said.

The driver of the car was identified as a 21-year-old Waunakee man. The semi was driven by a 33-year-old Wausau man.

No further information about the passengers or their conditions was available.

The sheriff's department said alcohol is believed to be a contributing factor in the crash.

Northcentral Technical College designs virtual labs to support student success

Instructional designers and faculty at Northcentral Technical College have been reimagining the future of science labs. The result is the creation of virtual lab simulations, built inhouse, that give students the opportunity to learn at their own pace.

Through this collaboration, the team utilized backwards-design methodology, which allowed them to identify the knowledge, skills and abilities students need to be successful in their classes. Then, they designed custom learning solutions that met those needs.

"Virtual labs promote a high level of student engagement and understanding, while not feeling overwhelming," said Penny Tesch, a science instructor at NTC. "This is a great recipe for student success."

Tesch leads students through modules where content and expectations are reviewed. Students read through materials and review diagrams. Then, students are able to experience virtual lab simulations where they can review videos, such as dissections, and have the opportunity for self-guided exploration where they are challenged with lab quiz questions to help them assess their level of understanding.

Tribe seeks to close missing Menominee cases

State task force forming to look into violence against Native Americans

By LEE PULASKI

City Editor

The Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin and the state of Wisconsin came together July 22 to plead for information related to some of the tribe's missing person cases.

Police agencies in Keshena and Shawano have reported putting in a lot of a manhours searching for Katelyn Kelley, a 22-year-old Menominee woman who has been missing for over a month. Tribal and state officials told media and members of the community about the anguish that the family is going through, waiting and hoping for her safe return.

However, there are three other families on the Menominee Reservation that have been waiting much longer for their missing kin to be found and for justice to be served. At a press conference at tribal headquarters, officials highlighted all of the cases, with one dating back 40 years.

"I wish we didn't have to be here," said Joan Delabreau, tribal chairwoman, "but I think it's warranted."

The issue of missing and murdered indigenous people, especially women, has been gaining some attention at the state and federal levels. Wisconsin Attorney General Josh Kaul announced at the press conference that the formation of a task force has been created in spite of inaction from the state Legislature, and that meetings are expected to start at the end of the summer once task force members are appointed by tribes and other interested parties. A bill was introduced to the Legislature in 2019, but did not move past the committee level, according to Kaul.

"At the Department of Justice, we felt that this was too important an issue to wait and see what would happen in the next legislative session and see if there might be progress," Kaul said. "So we decided to move forward with the creation of this task force."

Among the goals of the task force is to raise awareness about missing and murdered indigenous women and how Native Americans are most often victimized by violence, according to Kaul. He noted that the issue is something that affects tribes across the country.

"Wisconsin, unfortunately, is no exception to that," Kaul said. "We need to do something about that."

An issue involving missing and murdered indigenous people is the lack of data. Kaul said another goal is to gather data in the hope that it can be used to resolve the unknown number of cases out there.

"Hopefully, we can prevent more of these cases from happening in the future," he said.

Delabreau praised Kaul for taking action on forming the task force.

"He has answered that call by creating the task force to explore the issues involving missing and murdered indigenous women," Delabreau said. "It's long overdue."

Tribal Legislator Myrna Warrington will represent the Menominee on the task force, according to Delabreau.

Delabreau also announced the Menominee Tribal Legislature was offering a $5,000 reward for anyone who provides information that leads to the return of either Kelley or Robert Lyons, a Menominee man who disappeared on the reservation in June 2017.

Law enforcement are also continuing to search of Lisa Ninham, who went missing in 1980, as well as the killer of Rae Tourtillott, whose body was recovered by Menominee Tribal Police and the FBI in April 1987. The FBI is offering a $15,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of her killer.

"The Menominee Tribal Legislature knows that it needs to help to keep these cases in the forefront, and that's why they approved offering rewards in the cases of Robert Lyons and Katelyn Kelley in the amount of $5,000 each," Delabreau said. "We had $5,000 set up for (the case of) Rae Tourtillott."

Delabreau noted she plans to get legislative support for a $5,000 reward in Ninham's case, as well. She said that there has been no information regarding Ninham's disappearance since

A factor that has muddied the investigative waters is figuring out which law enforcement agency needs to take the lead when a report of a missing or murdered tribal member is made, according to Delabreau.

"One of the things that impacts missing and murdered indigenous women and men is jurisdiction," Delabreau said. "You would think that jurisdiction would be a simple thing for the Menominee because there is no state jurisdiction — it is just us and the federal government."

In Kelley's case, there has been a need for the Shawano Police Department to get involved, as a lead has indicated she was last seen in her home in the city around 3 a.m. on June 17, which was several hours after someone saw her near Keshena on County Road VV around 10 p.m. on June 16.

Tribal Police Chief Richard Nacotee said that the two departments have spent many hours pursuing leads in the search for Kelley, including evenings and weekends. However, the tribal police are also pursuing leads in the other cases.

"We hold this to a high priority when it comes to missing and murdered indigenous persons," Nacotee said. "We don't want people to think that we forgot that these cases are still there."

Nacotee noted that, after a gathering dedicated to Tourtillott in 2019, more tips were relayed to his department about her case.

Delabreau encouraged family members to be vigilant and to demand answers from law enforcement about their loved ones.

"You need to be informed from all of those jurisdictions as to the status of your case and the whereabouts of your loved ones," Delabreau said. "Thankfully, in this case, jurisdiction has been working out relatively smooth."

Kaul told the family members of the missing and murder tribal members that they should not give up, because the law enforcement agencies continue to pursue leads on some of the cases.

"The people in law enforcement are dedicated to these cases. They're not going to give up on them," Kaul said.

Delabreau said she wants the cycle of Native American people disappearing without a trace to end and said the tribal legislature would do what is needed to help.

"We don't want these cases to get any colder than they already are," Delabreau said. "We want to continue to move forward, and we hope our actions in this case can bring some closure and whereabout information that you may think is significant, but to our police, it may be important."

Cornhole leagues offer great sport for seniors

By MIRIAM NELSON

News Editor

Cornhole — It's a relatively simple game. The main objective is to toss a small bag into a 6-inch hole carved into a set of 2-by-4-foot boards placed 27 feet opposite each other.

There are four bags to a set, and each set of bags are different colors. According to Wikipedia, the game originated in 1883, but it didn't really take off until 1974 when it became popular in the Midwest. The original bags were filled with corn kernels, which lead to the name cornhole. Most bags now are filled with resin and have different types of material on each side, which gives the thrower more options on how to throw the bag.

A cornhole match is played until the first player or team reaches 21 points at the completion of an inning where every player throws four bags, alternating between each throw.

Much like horseshoes, the game is ideal for tournament play and easy to practice social distancing. Although there are professional teams, it's a sport that's easy to learn, and fun can be had with just a little practice and some luck.

At age 62, Elaine and Mike Knab, of Wittenberg, enjoy playing the game because it's something they can do as a couple.

"It's a great way to socialize and get in some exercise," said Elaine Knab, who admits that it's fun regardless of your skill level.

According to Knab, it's a low impact sport that doesn't require excessive training or special equipment to wear. So each Thursday night, it's easy for her and her husband to hop in the car and get ready to play once they arrive at Resch Lanes bowling center in Wittenberg. Owner Jason Resch has the boards and bags set up outside, and on a nice summer night customers like the Knabs can have a fun night of friendly competition. Resch noted the play generally continues even through nights with light drizzle since there is very little chance of injury.

"It's a sport that young and old can enjoy playing together," said Mike Knab. "The young might have more stamina, but we tend to have strategy and a few tricks up our sleeves."

Originally from Pennsylvania, a job opportunity in 2011 brought the Knabs here and they quickly found they enjoyed living in a small town.

"We also participate in a couples bowling league at Resch Lanes during the fall and winter," said Mike Knab. "We've met a lot of great people through the league sports."

The Knabs had participated in bowling leagues in Pennsylvania, but noted it wasn't as popular as what it is here in Wisconsin.

It's easy to practice social distancing while competing in a cornhole tournament.

Jeff Low and his wife, Nichol, are in their early 50s and have been participating in cornhole tournaments for the past four years. They're locals but noted that some come from as far away as Plover to play.

"It's not highly competitive, not a money league, just fun and easy to do," said Jeff Low, who also bowls at Resch Lanes during the winter. "It's a good group of people, we love the camaraderie."

For Resch, it's a way to keep the fun going outside all summer long.

This season he has had 16 couples in a Wednesday night league, and 24 couples that have been competing each Thursday night.

One week, Resch had to cancel the league play as he temporarily closed his business. A family member had been in close contact with a non-family member who tested positive for COVID-19. Fortunately everyone tested negative for the virus, and Resch was able to reopen his business on the weekend.

Todd and Cathy Linke are also in their early 50s and enjoy having the weekly activity to look forward to doing together and still keep in touch with their friends and make some new ones.

"This is something we can walk to, have supper, play in the tournament and then walk home before dark," said Cathy Linke.

During the Safer at Home order, Resch was able to keep the food side of his business going, thanks to the many customers who supported his curbside pick up. He also took special orders for making custommade corphole boards.

A man of faith, Bill was a member of Lutheran churches in Milwaukee and Oconto, ensuring his family was early in the pews every Sunday. He was a 60-year member mainly of the Germantown and Lena American Legion posts serving as Commander many times. To say Bill was a proud veteran would be an understatement. His service to his country continued following service, driving veterans to Veterans Administration medical facilities in Tomah, the Fox Valley and Iron Mountain, Michigan. Bill was a Deputy Zoning Administrator for the Township of Oconto, often helping his neighbors in the Township submit building permits and served as Supervisor for the Town of Oconto. He proudly encouraged his nephew Steve Carlin to fill his Supervisor vacancy. "BK," before kids, Bill enjoyed convertible sports cars and motorcycles. He was the proud owner of the First Indian Chief in Wisconsin following World War II. Bill dreamed of flying as a child, attaining a private pilot's license during, and following his military service. He took up photography while serving in the Air Force and continued that in civilian life. "Wild Bill," as he was known, spent retirement traveling North America trapshooting. An avid outdoorsman, he enjoyed fishing and hunting, especially for waterfowl in the Horicon Marsh. Over the years, Bill played softball in various legion leagues and participated in league bowling with his wife and friends. The "sign man," as Bill was known, enjoyed various woodworking projects. Robert "Robbie" N. Lyons, 57, of Shawano, passed away on Friday, Feb. 10, 2020. He was born on Oct. 25, 1963, to Gary and Rose Lyons.

Jacqueline Jones

The matriarch of our family, Jacqueline "Jackie" Jones, has passed on; as her journey continues we would like to say:

"Mom, thank you for being both mother and father for most of our lives. You've raised a strong family who have learned to survive in some of the worst of times. Without your strength and positive influence, we would not have the love we share for each other. She taught us we were special in our own way."

She was born Oct. 3, 1925, in Crystal Falls, Michigan. Graduated valedictorian of her high school class in Howards Grove. She moved to Oconto Falls from Milwaukee in 1976, where she made it her home. Many of the family followed. She watched her family grow — more grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-greatgrandchildren.

Jackie enjoyed spending time with family and friends, drinking coffee or spirits and playing dice. Nature and the care of animals was a big priority. If asked, Jackie would tell everyone that she has lived a wonderful life and was very proud of her family.

Moesch drops out of primary for Assembly

Sarnwick hoping to win nomination in bid against Tauchen

By TIM RYAN Reporter

Simon Moesch has announced he is dropping out of the race for the Democratic nomination for Wisconsin's 6th District Assembly seat.

Moesch, a Shawano resident and 22-year-old graduate of Northern Michigan University-Marquette, was vying for the nomination against Richard Sarnwick, a Shawano doctor hoping to make his second run against Rep. Gary Tauchen in November after being defeated two years ago.

Both names will still be on the ballot in the Aug. 11 primary.

Moesch explained his withdrawal in a Facebook post, saying he had been given an opportunity to go back to school and further his education.

"This was not something that I had foreseen before this week," Moesch wrote. "With that being said, I am going back to school to earn my Master's of Public Administration with a concentration in state and local government."

Moesch said it was a very hard decision, but it was the best one for himself and the community.

"By doing this, I will be even more educated and have more knowledge of the field that I hope to one day work in," he said. "I wish I could have let everyone know of this sooner, but I just found out about this."

Moesch urged his supporters not to vote for him in the primary.

"If I win the primary, I have no way of giving up the Democratic seat in the general election," he wrote on his Facebook page.

Moesch could decline the nomination if he won, but that doesn't mean Sarnwick would become the Democratic nominee.

Instead, there would be a vacancy and no name would appear on the Democratic ballot for that office.

Some ballots have already been mailed to absentee voters who have requested them.

In-person absentee voting was already underway in some communities and was expected to start in the city of Shawano on July 27.

The Republican Wisconsin Legislature recently won a court ruling seeking to limit early voting to two weeks before the election, but the mandate in that ruling has not yet gone into effect, according to the state elections commission.

There are no other contested races on the Aug. II primary ballot in Shawano County, but County Clerk Pam Schmidt said the primary would have been held regardless of whether there were any contested races.

Sarnwick said he had been happy to see Moesch get into the race.

"I really like the fact that the race attracted younger people," he said. "We've had some problems getting younger people involved in politics. I was really happy that he was willing to run"

Sarnwick said Moesch's involvement had also attracted other younger people.

"He had a lot of younger friends who, because he was involved, they seemed to be involved in the process, too," he said. "Sometimes it's hard to get younger people to the polls."

Sarnwick said not much separated the two candidates in terms of politics.

"I think politically his views and my views were pretty similar," he said.

Shawano grinds out win over Antigo in final game

Beilfuss' gem guides Bonduel past Clintonville

By MORGAN RODESports Editor

High school-aged baseball teams from Shawano, Bonduel and Clintonville all had busy weeks on the diamond, playing three games each. Each team won at least twice.

Shawano

It wasn't a pretty start for Shawano, but the team stuck together and was able to rally to an 8-7 win over Antigo on Saturday in Shawano.

Antigo held a 6-1 lead after three and a half innings and looked to be on its way to spoiling Shawano's season finale and senior day. Instead, Shawano started chipping away, eventually scoring the winning run on a pinch-hit RBI double by Wyatt Brandt in the sixth inning in a two-strike count.

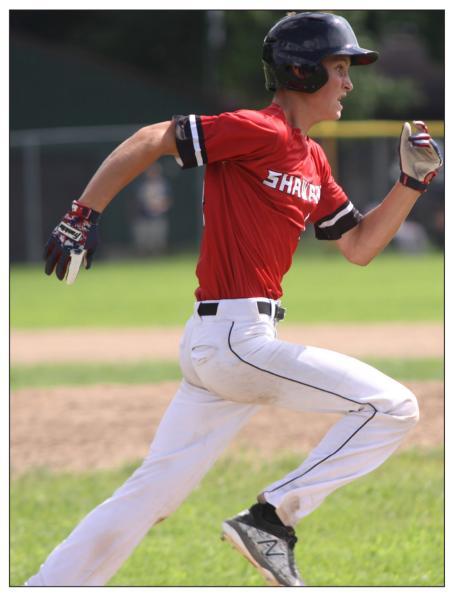

"I've been hitting with two strikes all year, so it was no problem with me. Just stay relaxed, you hit the best at the plate when you're nice and calm. Kind of just let your instincts take over, not overthinking it," said Brandt of his approach during the at-bat. "It was really great to win this game. Go out there, know I played my role and drove that run in and did the best I could for the team today."

The win capped an 8-3 summer on the diamond for Shawano under new coach Dustin Beyer. The victory also gave Ian Reinders — the only player from the Class of 2020 — a great memory to end his high school career on. The team honored Reinders before the game.

"It's really nice that you can look back on it and you're going to be like 'Well, we won that last game that I played.' Obviously, not a lot of people get to say that. It's special."

Ashton Henning wrapped up the win for the hosts, working around a two-out error in the top of the seventh. Henning pitched the final 3 2/3 innings after Brandan Bushy started the game.

After Antigo scored two unearned runs in the first, Shawano got a run back in its half when Zach Erdmann singled home Henning. The visitors scored three more times in the third and once in the fourth to go up five

Shawano began chipping away in its half of the fourth, scoring three times.

Carson Popp came through with a two-out single to plate Jacob Landon for the first run. Courtesy runner Ethan DeMunck and Joey Sperberg later scored on wild pitches.

Shawano surged ahead in the fifth with another three-run frame.

Braedyn Kowalkowski singled in Andrew Popp with one out. Kowalkowski and Reinders crossed home plate after wild pitches with two outs.

Antigo quickly tied the game in the sixth, but Henning worked out of more trouble by stranding a pair of runners.

Andrew Popp led off the sixth with a walk before stealing second and then moving to third on a sacrifice bunt by Jacob Polzin. Brandt then came through with the big hit.

Shawano won a pair of games earlier in the week.

Shawano earned a 17-10 road win over Ashwaubenon on July 23. Shawano tallied 14 hits and walked 12 times.

Andrew Popp posted two hits and three RBIs for Shawano, while Henning had two hits and two RBIs. Landon led the team with three hits, with Bushy and Kowalkowski each chipping in a pair of hits.

Andrew Popp also earned the win after striking out six batters over three innings. Sperberg recorded seven strikeouts in three innings of work. Erdmann pitched the other inning.

Shawano posted 19 hits and eased to a 19-3 home win over St. Mary's Menasha on July 20.

Henning led Shawano at the plate, recording five hits. He doubled twice, scored four runs and had three RBIs.

Michael Metcalf, Erdmann, Kowalkowski and Brandt all had two hits for the hosts.

Kaleb Lowney earned the win on the mound after pitching 3 2/3 innings. Polzin worked three innings for Shawano.

Bonduel, Clintonville

Bonduel's Noah Beilfuss' night on the mound started and ended by striking out the side, and he was able to avoid trouble in the other five innings during the team's 4-1 win over Clintonville on July 23 in Bonduel.

Beilfuss finished the game with 12 strikeouts, surrendering just five hits and an unearned run.

"My approach was just to keep mixing it up — keep them off balance and guessing. Work the zone and throw hard," said Beilfuss. "Listen to Garrett (Engel, the team's catcher) — we have good chemistry. He knows what I wanna throw and I know what he's going to call, so listen to him."

Clintonville was actually the first team to plate a run, taking advantage of a Bonduel error in the second inning.

Klay Finger reached on the error to start the inning before moving to second on a sacrifice bunt by Sean Finger. Matthew Morse then singled Klay Finger to third. Morse was caught stealing during the next at-bat, but Finger was able to score as the throw went to second.

Bonduel had an answer in its half of Kyle Hanus and Brett Margelofsky each singled with one out before Reece Stoltenow singled with two outs to load the bases. Logan Guenterberg then drew a walk to score Hanus and pick up a RBI.

Clintonville pitcher Brock Smejkal escaped the inning by striking out the next batter.

The game remain tied until the fourth frame, when Bonduel grabbed the lead.

Cole Anderson singled to open the inning before moving to second on Margelofsky's second single of the contest. The inning nearly ended on a groundout, but Margelofsky avoided a tag attempt as he ran toward second, giving Stoltenow an opportunity with two runners in scoring position. Stoltenow delivered, singling to score Anderson.

Bonduel tacked on two big insurance runs in the sixth, taking advantage of Clintonville miscues.

Isaac Boldt singled to open the inning before Beilfuss reached on an error. A walk by Hanus loaded the bases with just one out.

Margelofsky recorded his third hit of the contest, singling to left field to score Boldt. Beilfuss also scored on the play after the ball was misplayed.

From there, Beilfuss put the finishing touches on the win for the hosts, striking out the side in order in the seventh.

Smejkal turned in a strong pitching outing of his own for Clintonville, striking out seven over six innings.

Aside from its run in the second, Clintonville had a couple other chances to scratch across runs, but couldn't come up with a clutch hit.

Presley Rosenow made it to second after a single and Bonduel error in the third inning, but was eventually stranded at third. The visitors put two runners — Jared Cartwright and Sean Finger — on the fourth, but two groundouts ended the threat.

Braiden Behnke singled before being moved to second on a sacrifice bunt in the fifth, but back-to-back strikeouts ended the inning. Cartwright and Morse reached base in the sixth, but Beilfuss induced a groundout to get out of the inning.

Bonduel played two other games during the week, splitting them.

The team used a pair of three-run innings to pick up a 6-2 win over Shiocton on July 22 in Cecil.

Boldt drove in Carson Robaidek for Bonduel's first run in the first inning. Anderson then drove in Boldt on a groundout before Hanus doubled in Beilfuss.

In the fourth inning, Beilfuss scored on an error after an errant pickoff attempt. Anderson then crossed home plate on a double by Margelofsky, who later scored on a wild pitch.

Boldt struck out nine batters over 6 2/3 innings to pick up the win on the mound. Stoltenow recorded the game's final out.

Bonduel was limited to five hits in a 5-2 road loss to Crivitz on July 21.

Engel and Jack Johnson led Bonduel with two hits each, with Engel doubling twice. Anderson, Engel and Johnson all pitched for Bonduel.

Clintonville won two games against Waupaca earlier in the week.

On July 22, Clintonville picked up a 13-0 win in five innings in Clintonville.

Cartwright led Clintonville at the plate by driving in three runs on a pair of hits. Dylan Danforth finished with two RBIs, while Smejkal and Klay Barkow finished with four and three hits, respectively.

Smejkal struck out four batters and allowed just two baserunners over three innings to earn the win. Barkow tallied three strikeouts over the other two innings.

Clintonville topped Waupaca 9-3 on July 21 in Waupaca.

Cartwright earned the win on the mound, striking out eight batters over six innings. Sean Finger worked the final inning.

Brady Kasson, Klay Finger and Barkow each had two hits for Clintonville, while Danforth stole five bases and scored three times

WIAA sports set to return, but start dates amended

Football, boys soccer, volleyball start dates not until Sept. 7

By MORGAN RODE

Sports Editor

The Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association Board of Control voted 8-3 to amend the start dates for fall sports at a special meeting on July 23.

The sports that are considered lower risk — girls golf, girls tennis, girls swim and boys and girls cross-country — will begin practice Aug. 17 under the amendment. The higher risk sports — football, boys soccer and boys and girls volleyball — will have to wait until Sept. 7 to begin practice.

The original dates fall sports could start practicing were: football (Aug. 4); girls golf (Aug. 10); girls tennis and girls swim (Aug. 11); cross-country, girls and boys volleyball and boys soccer (Aug. 17).

No decisions were made on the sports seasons to follow.

Under the amendment, should a school opt out of, or be forced to shut down a fall sports team, a spring opportunity will be provided for those teams. The final details on how that would work are still to be determined.

There was talk amongst the board about how to handle postseason tournaments, with the group deciding to wait to make a final decision. With some conferences or schools potentially opting out of the fall season, there's a possibility that postseason tournaments are completely eliminated. A regional or district championship was one option discussed for a way to wrap up a season if no state tournament could be held.

With the later start dates for some of the sports, no postseason tournament would give teams a couple extra weeks in which it could potentially schedule more games. Several times during the nearly three-hour meeting, participants talked about maximizing the amount of opportunities for athletes to compete in their fall sports.

An amendment to the motion that passed was made to start the high risk sports two weeks earlier — a week before the start of schools opening — but it was voted 9-2 against.

The meeting was livestreamed on YouTube and at some points had over 3,500 people watching as the participants discussed the pros and cons of playing in the fall.

Individuals involved in sports in the area were tuned in and excited when a final decision was made.

The news was especially meaningful for fall athletes that are entering their seniors years. "Having my senior season means I get another year with my team to run and reach goals — that alone is a blessing itself," said Gillett cross-country runner Sylvia Hansen. "We have been working really hard this summer and I'm so excited to see where it takes us this fall."

Fall coaches were also pleased with the outcome, even if the start of their season got pushed back.

"As with anything during this time in our lives, I'm disappointed that our season is affected by this virus but I am happy that they have kept at least part of our season," said Wittenberg-Birnamwood volleyball coach Beck Rew. "I believe the move to keep fall sports is a good one for our students. Athletics and all extra curricular activities do so much for kids. They keep kids motivated, teach life skills, give them confidence, and so many other things that are good for adolescents mental health. We need to do whatever we can to keep our students physically safe and mentally strong."

Shawano Athletic Director Joel Wondra watched the meeting unfold and was thankful for a decision, as he and athletic directors around the state were finally given direction on how to proceed.

Wondra said his first order of business will be finding out if the school district is on board with having sports teams this fall before diving into the logistics of the fall schedules.

He said some sports schedules — primarily the lower risk ones — will require less tweaking as the start of the season wasn't altered too much. For the higher risk sports, a complete rebuild of the fall schedule might need to be done.

Along with finding teams to play, athletic directors might also need to find officials that can work the game, re-book venues and also redo busing plans. Wondra called the situation a "workable challenge" and was most thankful that the fall athletes will get the chance to play the sports they put so much time and effort into.

Wondra also noted that he wasn't sure how conferences would approach the season. He broke it down into three options: allowing conference and nonconference games like in years past; only allowing conference games; and only allowing nonconference games, which would give teams the most flexibility should any issues arise during the fall.

He also wondered what might happen to multi-school sporting events, like triangulars or conference tournaments, but believes those questions will have answers as soon as ADs within each conference meet and make their new plans.

Anvelink, Schmuhl sweep Mid-Summer Classic

Westphal claims Mighty 4 win again

By DAVE BUSS

Special to NEW Media

Based on the support by drivers and fans, it looks like the Mid-Summer Classic may become an annual event at the Shawano Speedway. With a rare Friday night show followed up with another show on Saturday night all while battling the summer heat, fans and drivers filled the stands and pits.

Opening night set a high bar when it came to action on the track, with multiple features providing exciting three-wide racing.

Jeff Schmuhl picked up the win in the Sport Mods while Nick Anvelink grabbed the Late Model feature. The Stock Cars saw Jared Siefert grab the win by a nose over Brandon Czarapata. In Modifieds, Marcus Yarie outlasted the competition for the win. Street Stocks joined the show and did not disappoint, with Jesse Krahn surviving numerous three-wide battles for the win.

With the excitement of Friday night in the rearview mirror, competitors faced a different kind of heat on Saturday with soaring temperatures and a bright sun.

Schmuhl took his time working to the front of the Sport Mod feature as Tyler Sobiescyk led from the pole for the opening laps. Jayden Schmidt positioned himself for another feature win, moving into the runner-up spot before mechanical issues ended his night on lap six.

Schmuhl used the ensuing restart to power to the lead and never look back, cruising to a sweep in the Sport Mod division. Brock Saunders finished second with Zachary Raab third.

The IMCA Stock Cars had work to do to match the finish on Friday night, but they were up to the challenge.

As a Doxtator did all he could to remove the drama as he took the lead from Vern Stedjee on lap four and began to disappear from the pack. Illinois driver, Abe Huls, grabbed the runnerup spot and gave chase to Doxtator.

The action was fierce behind the top two as Jeremy Christians was working his way forward along with Travis Van Straten and Chucky Forstner. Christians eventually tracked down Huls and the two of them would fight it out for second. That battle intensified greatly when Doxtator suffered a mechanical issue coming to the white flag.

Christians powered by Huls to grab the win. Van Straten earned third and Forstner fourth.

For the second consecutive night, the luck of the draw was on Anvelink's side as he drew a front row starting spot in the Late Model feature event. Anvelink wouldn't relinquish the lead as he drove to another dominating win.

Troy Springborn and Mike Mullen battled it out for second, with Mullen eventually capturing that position. Springborn settled with third. Brett Swedberg drove from the last starting spot to fourth, with John Kaanta finishing fifth.

Lance Arneson looked to put a rough start to the season behind him as he grabbed the lead at the start of the IMCA Modified feature. Arneson showed the way until lap 12, when Mullen, doing double duty, powered past. Mullen cruised to victory over the final nine laps.

Arneson was left to battle with Yarie and Konnor Wilinski, with Arneson grabbing the runner-up spot. Post-race inspection disqualified Arneson, giving Yarie the runner-up spot. Wilinski finished third, with Jordan Bartz grabbing fourth.

The Mighty 4's competition was up for a challenge as Tanner Westphal, with multiple feature wins this year already, started on the front row. Westphal wouldn't let anyone close as he drove away from field en route to another feature win.

Jason Stueck was just as impressive with a solid second and Brad Wedde scored a top-three finish as well.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Fair is fair when it comes to mowing

To the editor:

Anyone driving on Waukechon Street may have observed tall plants, grass and weeds growing on the southwest corner property of Waukechon and Richmond Streets. According to City Ordinance 11.10: Control of weeds, grans and plants, this should not be allowed.

The city ordinance reads: "1. Mowing required. No person owning property within the city shall permit any weeds, grass or plants to grow to a height exceeding six inches. Any such weeds, grass or plants exceeding said height are hereby declared to be a nuisance. In order to prevent such growth, it shall be the duty of every property owner to mow or cause to be mowed upon his or her premises all such weeds, grass and plants exceeding six inches in height."

This is city of Shawano residential property, not zoned agriculture or industrial park and is not a field, as stated by City Administrator Eddie Sheppard. This property should not be exempt. It's an eyesore compared to the surrounding properties at this intersection which are in compliance with the ordinance.

If the city administration is going to allow these conditions to exist. then the ordinance should be eliminated. What's fair for one, should be fair for all. No exceptions.

Joe Skaleski, Shawano

100 days before the election are important

To the editor:

We are 100 days from the Nov. 3 election, and the stakes could not be higher. Our country suffers under the leadership of President Donald Trump and his bungled response to the COVID-19 pandemic. He has failed America and Americans. Trump has negatively affected other facets of our state. He has gutted Wisconsin industries, attacked its workers, forced farmers out of business, and attempted to strip us of our health care. We suffer due to his craven incompetence.

In addition, Republicans in the Wisconsin state legislature are of no true help to the Wisconsin citizenry. At every chance they have blocked Gov. Tony Evers attempts to keep people safe. There have been over 46,000 COVID-19 cases and almost 900 deaths in the Badger State, but Speaker Robin Vos continues to push for early openings without following suggested guidelines. Most recently the Republicans held an in-person, indoor convention where masks were optional.

For the next 100 days Wisconsinites are committed to putting Joe Biden in the White House and putting an end to this corrupt, "meseeking" administration. Now's our chance to build a safe, equitable country, a strong economy for all workers at all levels, and a state that will once again be a progressive stronghold.

Edward C. Johnson, Clintonville

Native Americans more vulnerable to COVID-19

To the editor:

In Wisconsin, Native Americans are facing extremely high rates of coronavirus and are at higher risk for hospitalization. Because of historic injustices that have built upon each other, Native Americans have been particularly vulnerable to the systematic failure of the government response to the pandemic.

After the GOP struck down Gov. Tony Evers' Safer at Home order, many tribes have put their own safety measures in place, and have had to put together a patchwork of support systems to minimize risk and exposure in their communities. Our state has neglected our Native American neighbors throughout history, and now as they face a particularly dangerous health crisis, we must do more to support them.

Thankfully, leaders like Sen. Tammy Baldwin have urged congress to give more funding to tribal health facilities. Wisconsin should continue to push for substantive support as this virus takes its toll on vulnerable populations.

Ask Rep. Mike Gallagher to get on board. We have needs for more Native American resource assistance, right here in the Shawano-Menominee counties area. Call him at 920-301-4500.

Festival asks visitors to stay six sunflower leaves apart

By CAROL RYCZEK
Editor-in-chief

In any other year, 13 might not be a lucky number.

In 2020, the ability to walk through acres of brightly blooming sunflowers made thousands of visitors feel lucky

This year marks the 13th year of sunflower production and the fifth year for the Bergsbaken Sunflower Festival, a three-day event held at their farm at W2095 County Road E, Cecil.

The farm is operated by the families of Lee Bergsbaken and his brother, Dale. This year, the families planted 270 acres of sunflowers, an average acreage for the operation. The flowers are gown for oil and birdseed.

Seeds and oil are sold at the farm. Someday, the operation may develop a commercial kitchen for processing oil, but for now, the law allows it to be sold from the farm, and several visitors were seen talking out with both bundles of flowers and bottles of oil, Lee Bergsbaken said.

Once a year, the families set up tents, clear a field for parking, and allow the public to walk through the fields awash in yellow. In other years, the event included food, wagon rides and pick-your-own blooms. This year, Bergsbaken said, the families scaled back. Only packaged foods were served and family members picked flowers for the public, instead giving them the tools to cut stems themselves.

Signs along the walk provided information about the crop, and also reminded visitors that a sunflower leaf can grow 12 inches long, so standing 6 sunflower leaves apart provided the correct measure for social distancing.

"Everybody enjoys themselves. It's heartwarming to see people take the time to come out. There's a lot of kids running around, a really family feeling," Bergsbaken said.

Sunflowers usually have 70 days before planting and their peak bloom, he said, and the farm schedules the festival when the big yellow heads are most likely to be open. Last year, a wet June postponed the peak, but they had the event anyway.

Shari and Dale Bergsbaken, members of the family-owned Bergsbaken Farms, collect bundles of sunflowers for visitors to buy at their annual sunflower festival on Saturday. In other years, visitors were allowed to pick their own flowers, but this year's festival saw some changes due to COVID-19.

"You order the tents — last year we had polka bands — so it's got to be that weekend," he said.

The flowers are perfect this year, he said.
