Shawano County plans to upgrade 911 system

New system to include improved response times, improved location accuracy, video, texting

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Shawano County Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a resolution for a new 911 operating system during its Oct. 26 meeting.

The Wisconsin Department of Military Affairs' Office of Emergency Communications is providing Shawano County with a Public Safety Access Point Grant to provide funding for equipment upgrades including implementing a new 911 operating system.

"The state of Wisconsin's 911 system is still built from the early (1990s) — technology has not moved forward with the system," said Shawano County Communication Supervisor Bill McGlinn. "Over the last couple of years, the state has made a plan to get on to Next Gen 911."

McGlinn said the state will be funding the system for the next eight years and an estimate for the cost on the project sits around $45,000.

"With the resolution it is an 80% state match and 20% local match for this grant," said McGlinn. "The state would reimburse us just over $36,000 — our total share match would be just over $9,000."

He explained that the ungraded system will improve response times, improve location accuracy and will be able to communicate between different communication centers.

"Currently, our 911 center has difficulty transferring 911 calls to Langlade County," said McGlinn. "They don't talk to each other, so when we actually transfer a 911 call from our county to Langlade County, it goes to their administration line. So, it could be some time before they answer it."

According to McGlinn, communication between Shawano County and Marathon County has been difficult, too.

"When we call them, it does go to their 911 line, but they don't get any of the location information or a call-back number," said McGlinn. "That part of the state is Frontier and us and south is AT&T, so those two networks don't communicate."

In Wisconsin, McGlinn said that he is aware of 26 counties that have signed on to use this upgraded 911 system, including Marathon County. McGlinn added that more features include video and texting are available from the system.

"This will help for us to know what is going," said McGlinn. "There is software out there that can actually pass those videos on to the actual responders that are going to the scene, so they can see it for themselves before they actually get there."

He added that with the board approving the upgraded system, it would go live March 13 of the upcoming year.

Gresham man charged with sexual assault of child

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

A Gresham man is facing one count of sexual assault of a child under 16 years of age, relating to an incident in Shawano in November 2016.

Brian S. Pamonicutt, 28, faces up to $100,000 in fines and 40 years in prison if he is convicted.

According to a Shawano County Sheriff's Department detective, they attended a forensic interview on July 20, 2018, from a victim of alleged sexual abuse from Pamonicutt. The detective said that they were contacted to attend the interview at the request of Menominee Tribal Police, after Pamonicutt allegedly admitted that he had sexually assaulted three juvenile males, while he was living in Shawano.

During the interview, Pamonicutt allegedly stated that he went to visit his sister's house in Shawano and was alone with two juveniles. In an interview, the victim allegedly told law enforcement that Pamonicutt inappropriately touching them has happened, "more than one time." The victim added that they believed this happened in 2017, when they were in sixth grade.

On May 29, 2018, the victim's mother allegedly made law enforcement aware that her child had told her that Pamonicutt "tried doing things to him" at a residence in the South Branch of the Menominee Reservation. The mother reported that Pamonicutt allegedly tried kissing the victim and asked them to play house. She added that the victim allegedly said that Pamonicutt was touching his butt over clothes.

The mother stated that she was not aware of the incident that happened in Shawano.

Shawano-Menominee County Circuit Court Judge William F. Kussel Jr. set a cash bond of $50,000.

Shawano County approves $66.2M budget

Tax levy increases by $37K; tax rate drops 62 cents

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The 2023 $66.2 million budget and tax levy have been set and approved for Shawano County during the Shawano County Board of Supervisors meeting on Oct. 26.

The $66.2 million budget will be increasing from just over $400,000, as the amended 2022 budget was $65.8 million. Though the tax levy will increase from $17,562,689 to $17,599,806, the tax rate for the county will be dropping, as county property owners who are currently paying $4.92 for $100,000 of assessed value will be paying $4.30 for county purposes, a decrease of 12.6%. That means that someone who owns property valued at $100,000, will pay $430 in county taxes. This marks the second year in a row that the tax rate will be below $5, something that the county hadn't seen in over a decade, prior to last year.

"This year we had a nice jump in our equalized value — it went up 14.6%," said Shawano County Finance Director Carrie Buntjer, explaining the reasoning for the drop. "The other part is with our debt service. Early this year, we passed a resolution to refinance some debt that we had outstanding. We were able to drop from 4.25% interest down to 1.85%. That is a savings of $100,000."

When discussing the funds of the tax levy, Buntjer said that 55.9% of it is used for the general fund, which includes public safety. County roads and bridges came in second place, taking up 19.3% of the tax levy.

She then walked the board through the capital improvement plan projects, which total $526,050 for 2023. The funding sources for the capital projects plan comes from Environmental Impact Funds, which will fund $443,550.00, while the remaining $82,500 will come from Ho-Chunk funding that the county receives each year.

"The No. 1 thing was the county facility assessments, so we got that approved to move forward," said Buntjer. "The other two projects that we have in there is for parks, which is a good investment there because it has nice revenue generation for the county."

She added that Shawano County's outstanding debt sits at $15,588,641 with $13,070,000 coming from the human services facility, and $2,518,641 accounted for the jail locks project.

"We do have ample room to borrow if we were to do that in the future," said Buntjer.

Shawano County Administrative Coordinator Jim Davel said that when talking with directors of various departments, he advised them to be realistic when it came to the budget.

"Overall, I will tell you that I am very happy with the budget," said Davel. "We would like to say that we could just cut, but that does not necessarily get the job done for what the public expects."

Highlights of the budget include a minimal health insurance increase, a 6% wage increase and a replacement fund for public safety vehicles. In 2020, roughly $800,000 was left over from the general fund. In 2021, that grew to $1,000,000. A 6% raise is estimated to come out to about $700,000-$800,000 cost to the county.

According to Shawano County Chair Tom Kautza, doing this, will help with turnover, as the county's turnover ratio was as high as 21%. Kautza added that that the 6% increase does not apply to all employees, as the jailers are going to get approximately a 1% increase, due to a three dollar an hour raise that was previously passed.

"The executive committee asked us to look at a 6% increase in wages," said Davel. "In 2014, 2015 and 2016 there were no raises given to the county employees. That put us behind where we're at with the pay scale that the county uses. When we looked at this — part of it was how can we get this back up a little bit and is it sustainable? Right here, this is sustainable and it gets us back up a little bit. I think that this is a good morale boost for our employees, and I think it is deserved all the way around."

In terms of health insurance, Davel said that Wisconsin Physicians Service came to Shawano County with a 24% rate increase and eventually cut it down to 18%. Due to this, the county shifted to Robin.

"We feel very comfortable with who we are going with," said Davel. "Overall the cost for us as a county was a $44,000 increase. If we would have gone with the other carriers that we looked at, WPS would have been a $950,000 increase to the county."

With 36 county employees who use Prevea for health care, Davel said that those who are in treatment can continue their treatment with their current provider. For those who aren't in treatment and use the doctor for routine checkups, they will need to find a new provider, he said.

Shawano County partakes in Operation Green Light

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Shawano County Courthouse visitors can expect a little change in the lighting outside of the building during the night hours.

The Shawano County Board unanimously voted to approve the county's participation in Operation Green Light for Veterans, which will see the courthouse receive green lighting from Nov. 7-13. The National Association for Counties' website states that the National Association of County Veteran Service Officers invited all 3,069 counties in the country to participate in the program.

"This came up and the intent is to honor the veterans," said Shawano County Administrative Coordinator Jim Davel. "(It is) to have the courthouse lit green at night in the honor of the sacrifices that the veterans have done."

Supervisor Jerry Erdmann said that putting green lighting out at night is being practiced in the county, including in his neighborhood in the Town of Seneca.

"We run them 24-7 sometimes," said Erdmann. "It is just to show that a veteran lives here or veterans meet here. It is a good program and I support it 100%."

GOP keeps pushing in election home stretch

Johnson, Gallagher, others brought to town to keep red effort strong

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The 2022 general election is only a few days away, but the Shawano County Republican Party is not assuming they have it in the bag when it comes to state and federal positions.

The local GOP held its fall dinner Oct. 29 — bringing out candidates like U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson, who is running for a third six-year term, Rep. Mike Gallagher, who seeks a fourth two-year term, and others who are gunning for their first terms. The afternoon featured one speaker after another, but their messages were tied to one theme: Democrats could not be in control any longer.

Even though Wisconsin has GOP control in both chambers of the legislature, the state has a Democratic governor and attorney general, and there's a battle at the federal level to wrest control of the U.S. House and Senate from liberal control. All of the candidates made it clear that defeat at the ballot box was not an option.

Johnson spent little time discussing what another term for him would bring the 100 or so guests at the dinner. Instead, he used his time to attack his challenger, Mandela Barnes, and paint a gruesome picture of what would happen if both of Wisconsin's Senate seats were blue.

"We're trying to raise the resources to tell the truth about the other side," Johnson said. "Every last one of us, and I'm sure it's true in the House races, too. We're all running against the same thing — lies, distortions, character assassinations, the personal politics of destruction."

As an example, Johnson pointed out that Tim Michels, who is facing off against Tony Evers for governor, has given millions to cancer research, but is being attacked because Democrats have "turned it into something derogatory."

Johnson said he's endured plenty of attacks during his campaign, too.

"I'm used to it," Johnson said. "The mainstream media, national as well as local, through the whole campaign I've been at the receiving end of all of this."

U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson lists some of the statements that challenger Mandela Barnes has made that Johnson feels would make Barnes a poor choice for the Senate during the Shawano County Republican Party Fall Dinner on Oct. 29 at The Woodland in Gresham.

Johnson went after Barnes, calling him a "performer" and an "actor." He claimed Barnes has never had a job in the private sector, saying that, if he had, word would have leaked about it by this point in the campaign. Johnson said that's why it's important to turn to hard-working Republicans to represent the working class.

"They're running to represent you, represent us, and I hope you understand the distinct difference between us vs. them," Johnson said.

The senator noted that there is an almost daily barrage of past tweets or video clips with Barnes showing "his disdain" and "his contempt" for the country, the state and law enforcement.

"What does that say about what he thinks of you?" Johnson said.

Gallagher rested more on his laurels during his speech earlier in the event, but he also claimed that conservative policies would be more effective than liberal ones in curbing the inflation and other issues affecting voters' wallets. He is focused on international issues while sitting on committees for foreign policies and national security, along with intelligence.

"You just turn on the TV, and you can see we live in a very dangerous world," Gallagher said. "These are serious times."

He noted that the recent action of Xi Jin Ping declaring himself leader of China for life indicates the timetable to invade Taiwan could be accelerated, the action possibly being a catalyst for precipitating a third world war. Gallagher criticized the response to the action by the Biden Administration, claiming it was calling for "a 10-day diversity, equity and inclusion festival at the State Department."

"We're abandoning Martin Luther King's beautiful vision of a colorblind society in favor of color consciousness," Gallagher said. "The Air Force Academy just told its cadets that the term 'colorblind' may be offensive and that they should be more color conscious. That's crazy nonsense."

Gallagher also lashed out at the pandemic protocols, pointing out that the recent National Report Card shows how it impacted education. He expressed irritation at "record drops" in reading and math scores to levels not seen in 30 years.

"Wisconsin is 32nd among 50 states in fourth grade reading scores. If you're not reading at grade level by the end of third grade, very difficult to catch up," Gallagher said. "We're failing those kids."

Gallagher added some wit to his speech by noting that getting married while being in Congress taught him the importance of give and take in a relationship.

"I learned that when you disagree with someone, you should just apologize and accept blame immediately if you want to live a happy life," Gallagher said to the laughter of the crowd.

Attorney general candidate Eric Toney acknowledged that things are looking good at the state level but that the results will only be known if conservatives rise up and continue to push for GOP candidates up and down the ballot. He vowed to improve law enforcement in the state, including the state crime labs.

Toney noted that current AG Josh Kaul has not improved the crime testing labs despite Kaul's statements to the contrary. Toney said that Kaul's predecessor, Brad Schimel, averaged 50 days in testing evidence, while Kaul's average was 115 days.

"He won't tell Wisconsin how badly he has mismanaged our crime labs," Toney said.

Wittenberg bowling alley changing hands

Minimal change expected from new owners

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Village residents and visitors can expect to see new faces in the area, as Tonya and Chris Lange recently purchased Resch Lanes from Jason and Jenny Resch.

While Tonya Lange said that everything will stay the same initially, the bowling alley's name will be changed to T&C Lanes. Lange added that all employees will stay on, as well.

"Some of the biggest questions that we have had is what are you going to change," said Lange. "Really, we are coming into this as an opportunity to be a part of the community, and so we don't want to change anything — at least, not right now."

Lange recently left her position as a principal in the Hortonville School District and started working as an operations manager at Super Bowl in Appleton and quickly became accustomed to the new line of work. She added that it has always been a running gag between her and Chris that they wanted to own a bowling alley or campground.

"(Chris) searched bowling alleys for sale and Resch's came up," said Lange. "We decided to take a look, and it just kind of all fell into place pretty quickly."

She added that a major difference between working at a bowling alley in Appleton and owning one in Wittenberg will be that this is something that she and Chris can call their own. She said that they are excited to be able to be a spot for entertainment in a small community.

"When I went into education, I started out my first few years in a small town in southwestern Wisconsin," said Lange. "I loved it. I love the small town, when somebody can walk through the door and you can call them by their name."

Becoming visible in the community is a point of emphasis for the family's first couple weeks in Wittenberg. Much like Resch Lanes has in the past, Lange said that T&C Lanes will be hosting tournaments and hosting youth leagues.

"(Jason Resch) has awesome ideas,

Chris, left, and Tonya Lange stand in front of the bowling alley portion after recently purchasing Resch Lanes from Jason and Jenny Resch. As ownership transitions, Tonya Lange said that visitors to the bowling alley should not expect anything major to change, noting that all employees will stay on.

and we were up front and honest right away saying that we are just going to piggyback off of what you've done," said Lange. "I'd like to possibly get younger kids in for a bumper league or summer programs."

She added that hours at the bowling will remain the same through the upcoming summer.

As for the Resches, Jason said he is going to take some time off of work to spend time with his family.

"My first grandson was born two years ago and our second one was born three months ago, so you get to that point in life where time becomes more important, so spending time with them and getting back with my family has taken more importance than running a business," said Resch.

He said that growing up, bowling was always a big part of his life, adding that growing up he always wanted to own a bowling alley. He made that dream a reality 15 years ago, when he purchased Resch Lanes. Though this was the case, Resch knew at one point, he was going to have to sell it.

"I think that when you a buy a business like this, you have to think about selling it — the day you bought it, you plan on selling it," said Resch. "It is something that I wanted to do my entire life but something that I didn't want to do for my entire life, so the day was coming and you don't when."

Stepping away isn't an easy thing for Resch, having owned and operated the bowling with his wife Jenny since 2008. While he is selling the business, Resch said that he plans to stay involved and continue to coach the traveling high school and middle school teams.

When recounting his time at the bowling alley, Resch noted the friends that he made and the good times that were spent in the building. Echoing the words of Lange on small towns, Resch said that he appreciated providing the service to an area where he knew everyone.

"We are all connected in these smaller towns, and that is the way how I always wanted it," said Resch.

"I wanted this to be everybody's hangout and for everyone to have fun. I was absolutely happy with how that turned out. There hasn't been one fight in that bar in the last 15 years."

Resch said that a major part of Resch Lanes was being involved in the community, saying that even though he owned his own business, he still had bosses in the form of community members.

"The people that come in every day were the ones that paid my bills," said Resch. "They were my bosses. I wanted to give back to them because they have given me so much."

Wrapping up his time as a Wittenberg business owner, Resch thanked his wife, Jenny, called himself a blessed man and said that he will always remember the friends and fun that were spent at the bowling alley. As he did, Resch encouraged others to find a job that they love.

"I haven't worked a day in 15 years," said Resch.

OBITUARIES

Otto V. W. Giese

Otto V. W. Giese, 92, of Tilleda, passed away at home on Friday afternoon, Oct. 28, 2022, with family at his side.

Otto was born on Nov. 23, 1929, to Frank and Minnie (Bratz) Giese in a log house on the family farm in Town of Seneca. He was baptized and confirmed at Peace Lutheran Church in Tilleda where he was a lifelong member.

Otto married Elizabeth "Betty" Dey (his beloved Suzie) on June 14, 1952, at Elias Lutheran Church in the Town of Herman. He and Betty celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary with family and friends in June.

Otto was a graduate of Bowler High School. After marriage, his first job off the farm was on the Rockville Mink/Trout Ranch in Tilleda, where he worked for 12 years, during which time he and Betty built their own home. After that, Otto worked for Clintonville Lumber and Supply for 30 years. Otto was a committee-man for Central Wisconsin Electric Coop for 25 years and a life member of the North American Hunting Club.

He played baseball and umpired men's, women's and 4-H softball teams. He was recognized as a Shawano County Volunteer of the Year for his many contributions to the Tilleda community. Otto was a 50-year member of the Tilleda Advancement Association where he fried those famous potato pancakes for TAA and church dinners each year.

Otto took many hunting and fishing trips out west. Otto and Betty traveled the U.S. extensively and liked to camp. They drove the United States from coast to coast and from Mexico to the Canadian Rockies. Their Labor Day trip this summer was to see the Chapel of the Transfiguration in the Grand Teton National Park and the 50-mule team hitch parade in Idaho.

He is survived by his loving wife, Elizabeth; children, Greg (Mary) Giese, of Bowler, Charlotte (Donald) Schwartz, of Gresham, Mark Giese, of Marion, and Curt (Wendi) Giese, of Meridan, Idaho; grandchildren, Charles Schwartz, Dawn (Brian) Berg, Stacy (Emily) Schwartz, Heather (Zack) Hoffman, Michael Giese and Joe (Paige) Giese; great-grandchildren, Matthew Berg, Emily Berg, Cole Onesti and Tenley Schwartz.

Otto is further survived by a sister, Angeline Ebert; a brother, Orville (Sandy) Giese, in-laws, Mabel Giese, Darlene Dey, Vernon and Delores Dey; nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Otto was preceded in death by his parents; brothers, Roy and Ruben; brothers-in law, Quentin Ebert and Marlin Dey; and sister-in-law, Betty Giese.

A funeral service was held at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 2, 2022, at Peace Lutheran Church in Tilleda with the Rev. Lois Graper officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Visitation was held on Tuesday at Swedberg Funeral Home in Shawano from 4-7 p.m. and again at the church on Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until the time of the service. In lieu of flowers, memorials in Otto's name may be directed to Peace Lutheran Church in Tilleda.

The family of Otto would like to extend a special thank you to Greg, Charlotte and Stacy for their loving care under the guidance of Theda-Care at Home Hospice.

Beverly E. Oleson

Beverly E. Oleson, 88, passed on Saturday, Oct. 22, 2022, at Aspirus Wausau Hospital.

Beverly was born on Feb. 18, 1934, to the late Otto and Roberta (Lamb) Hass in Shawano. She grew up in the Bowler area and graduated from Bowler High School. After moving to Milwaukee, she met Gary Oleson. They were joined in marriage in 1967 and had over 40 years together. They raised two children together.

Beverly loved playing cards, gardening, and will be missed for her crafts, including cross-stitching. She loved spending time with her family and friends. She will always be remembered for her love and caring nature.

Beverly is survived by her son, Scott (Terri) Oleson; and many nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Gary; her daughter, Beth Ann (Gary); parents; and siblings, Lucy (Fred), Dawn (Ralph), Corky (Ann), and Arthur (Lily).

A visitation will take place on Thursday, Nov. 3, 2022, from 2-6 p.m. at Brainard Funeral Home-Everest Chapel, 5712 Memorial Court, Weston. A burial will be taking place at a later date.

Family would like to thank the friends and staff at Birchwood Highlands for the love and care that they have given Beverly over the years.

Infections preventable at health care facilities

About a quarter of deaths worldwide are caused by infectious organisms, with reports from the World Health Organization (WHO) of new infectious diseases continuing to emerge in new locations around the globe.

Infectious diseases are illnesses caused by pathogens, commonly known as germs, such as bacteria, viruses, and fungi, that enter the body, multiply, and can cause an infection.

"Understanding how certain infectious diseases spread is a key factor in preventing disease, and it varies for different bacteria, viruses, and other pathogens," said Jen Matuszewski, Aspirus infection preventionist and registered nurse. "Some diseases require direct contact such as hand holding, kissing, skin-to-skin, etc. In other cases, spreading can take place through airborne transmission, such as breathing in dust particles or small respiratory droplets from an infected person."

Infections can compromise patients' health and the efforts of health care workers to have a detrimental impact on public health. Every year, secondary infections cause thousands of health concerns in health care facilities.

"Most patients coming into health care facilities due to an illness or surgical procedure might require the use of medical devices or treatment that could potentially put them at risk for a health care-associated infection," Matuszewski said. "By requiring specific infection prevention policies in our health care facilities, we prevent the transmission of potentially life-threatening infections."

Health care facilities continue to implement ways to keep patients safe and limit exposure to outside pathogens, such as wearing facial masks, strict adherence to hand hygiene and maintaining social distancing. These interventions have remained crucial throughout the COVID-19 pandemic and are especially important with the upcoming influenza and RSV (respiratory syncytial virus).

It is important to help health care facilities in the effort to contain the spread of infectious diseases. However, people can work towards protecting their loved ones from sickness no matter where they are.

QUESTION NUMBER II

"Shall the Pulaski Community School District, Brown, Oconto, Shawano and Outagamie Counties, Wisconsin be authorized to issue pursuant to Chapter 67 of the Wisconsin Statutes, general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $69,800,000 for the public purpose of paying the cost of a school facility improvement project consisting of: construction of additions, renovations and safety improvements at Hillcrest and Sunnyside Elementary Schools; construction of a Technical Education addition and renovations at the High School; district-wide building systems, capital maintenance and site improvements, accessibility updates and renovations; and acquisition of furnishings, fixtures and equipment?"

Explanation

The referendum election ballot will ask District electors to vote "yes" or "no" on the referendum election questions as set forth above.

A "yes" vote on Question Number I is a vote to authorize the Pulaski Community School District budget to exceed the revenue limit specified in Section 121.91, Wisconsin Statutes, by $1,500,000 for the 2023-2024 school year, by $1,600,000 for the 2024-2025 school year, by $1,700,000 for the 2025-2026 school year, by $1,800,000 for the 2026-2027 school year and by $1,900,000 for the 2027-2028 school year, for non-recurring purposes consisting of compensating and providing benefits to teachers and staff, maintaining programs and services, and operating facilities.

A "no" vote on Question Number I is a vote to deny the Pulaski Community School District the authority to exceed the revenue limit specified in Section 121.91, Wisconsin Statutes, by $1,500,000 for the 2023-2024 school year, by $1,600,000 for the 2024-2025 school year, by $1,700,000 for the 2025-2026 school year, by $1,800,000 for the 2026-2027 school year and by $1,900,000 for the 2027-2028 school year, for non-recurring purposes consisting of compensating and providing benefits to teachers and staff, maintaining programs and services, and operating facilities.

In the event a majority of the electors voting on Question Number I vote "yes", the District will be authorized to exceed the revenue limit specified in Section 121.91, Wisconsin Statutes, by $1,500,000 for the 2023-2024 school year, by $1,600,000 for the 2024-2025 school year, by $1,700,000 for the 2025-2026 school year, by $1,800,000 for the 2026-2027 school year and by $1,900,000 for the 2027-2028 school year, for non-recurring purposes consisting of compensating and providing benefits to teachers and staff, maintaining programs and services, and operating facilities; if a majority vote "no" on Question Number I, the District will not be so authorized.

A "yes" vote on Question Number II is a vote to approve the borrowing of $69,800,000 by the Pulaski Community School District through the issuance of general obligation bonds for the purpose of paying the cost of a school facility improvement project consisting of: construction of additions, renovations and safety improvements at Hillcrest and Sunnyside Elementary Schools; construction of a Technical Education addition and renovations at the High School; district-wide building systems, capital maintenance and site improvements, accessibility updates and renovations; and acquisition of furnishings, fixtures and equipment.

A "no" vote on Question Number II is a vote to deny the Pulaski Community School District the authority to borrow $69,800,000 through the issuance of general obligation bonds for the purpose of paying the cost of a school facility improvement project consisting of: construction of additions, renovations and safety improvements at Hillcrest and Sunnyside Elementary Schools; construction of a Technical Education addition and renovations at the High School; district-wide building systems, capital maintenance and site improvements, accessibility updates and renovations; and acquisition of furnishings, fixtures and equipment.

In the event a majority of the electors voting on Question Number II vote "yes", the District will be authorized to undertake the school facility improvement program described in Question Number II and borrow not in excess of $69,800,000 therefor; if a majority vote "no" on Question Number II set forth above, the District will not be so authorized.

If an elector is not registered to vote, they may register to vote at the polling place serving their residence if the elector provides proof of residence.

Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot.³

Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall enter a voting booth or go to a machine and cast their ballot. The vote should not be cast in any manner other than specified here. Sample ballots or other materials to assist the elector in marking their ballot may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

An elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward.

An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote but the official may not advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

Assistance for Voting

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting their vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that they are unable to read, have difficulty reading, writing, or understanding English, or that due to disability are unable to cast their ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

Where Paper Ballots are Used

On referendum questions, the elector shall make a mark (X) in the square next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall make a mark (X) in the square next to "no" if opposed to the question.

Where Optical Scan Voting is Used

On referendum questions, the elector shall fill in the oval or connect the arrow next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall fill in the oval or connect the arrow next to "no" if opposed to the question.

When using an electronic ballot marking device ("Automark," "ExpressVote," "Clear Access" or "ImageCast Evolution-ICE") to mark an optical scan ballot on referendum questions, the elector shall touch the screen or use the tactile pad to select "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall touch the screen or use the tactile pad to select "no" if opposed to the question.

Where Touch Screen Voting is Used

On referendum questions, the elector shall touch the screen at "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall touch the screen at "no" if opposed to the question.

After Voting the Ballot

After an official paper ballot is marked, it shall be folded so the inside marks do not show, but so the printed endorsements and inspectors' initials on the outside do show. The elector shall deposit the voted ballot in the ballot box or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit and shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve, so the marks do not show. The elector may insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. If a central count system is used, the elector shall insert the ballot in the ballot box and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The elector shall leave the polling place promptly. After an official touch screen ballot is cast, the elector shall leave the polling place promptly.

Spoiling Ballots

If an elector spoils a paper or optical scan ballot, they shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.¹

The elector may spoil a touch screen ballot at the voting station before the ballot is cast.

The following is a sample of the official ballot:

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM

Town of Bartelme
November 8, 2022

Referendum Election Details

At an election to be held in the Town of Bartelme on November 8, 2022, the following proposed:

RESOLUTION

By the Town of Bartelme Electors Supporting a Constitutional Amendment

Whereas, government of, by, and for the people has long been a cherished American value, and;

Whereas, free and fair elections are essential to democracy and effective self-governance, and;

Whereas, corporations are not and never have been human beings or persons, and therefore are rightfully subservient to human beings and governments as our legal creations; and rightly are provided ONLY privileges by the states, and;

Whereas, interpretation of the U.S. Constitution by appointed Supreme Court Justices to include corporations in the term "persons" has long denied We the People's exercise of self-governance by endowing corporations with Constitutional protections intended by the Framers for ONLY We the People, and;

Whereas, in 1976 in the ruling on Buckley v. Valeo. The untenable decision of the Supreme Court changed the course of American elections and established the doctrine that spending money to influence elections is a form of speech; and;

Whereas, on January 10, 2010, in Citizens United v. Federal Elections Commission, the Supreme Court overturned a century of precedence by ruling that corporate spending on elections cannot be limited under the First Amendment; now therefore,

Resolved, that "We the People" of the Town of Bartelme, Wisconsin, seek to reclaim democracy from the expansion of corporate personhood rights and the corrupting influence of unlimited political contributions and spending. We stand with communities across the country to support passage of an amendment to the United States Constitution stating:

1. Only human beings — not corporations, unions, nonprofits or other artificial entities — are endowed with constitutional rights, and; /
2. Money is not speech, and therefore limiting political contributions and spending is not equivalent to limiting political speech.

Further Resolved that the Town of Bartelme Wisconsin Clerk is directed to forward a copy of this resolution to our state and federal representatives with instructions to enact resolutions and legislation to advance this effort. will be submitted to a vote of the people:

Resolved, that "We the People" of the Town of Bartelme, seek to reclaim democracy from the expansion of corporate personhood rights and the corrupting influence of unlimited political contributions and spending. We stand with communities across the country to support passage of an amendment to the United States Constitution stating: 1. Ballot Text

The question will appear on the ballot as follows:

Shall the Town of Bartelme adopt the following resolution?

Explanation

A "Yes" vote indicates you support a Constitutional Amendment, while a "No" vote indicates opposition to an Amendment.

School tax rate to drop even further

Increase in state aid puts Shawano school taxes at $6.86 for 2022-23 school year

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The Shawano School Board adopted its 2022-23 budget on Oct. 31, and with it comes an even lower tax rate than expected.

The school district expected to have a tax rate of $7.20 per $1,000 of equalized valuation, but an extra infusion of state aid dropped the rate to $6.86. That means the owner of a $100,000 property will be paying $686 in school taxes. The previous tax rate was $9.56.

Much of the drop came from property tax values soaring due to inflation, a phenomenon that has taken place everywhere. However, it was discovered that the state planned to give the district $17.45 million in total aid instead of $16.2 million, which meant officials only needed to get $7.23 million in local taxes instead of $8.47 million.

While the news of the tax rate dropping was welcome news to most, board member Mart Grams was concerned that the sudden drop this year could reverse just as sharply in the next year or two and bring the tax rate back up.

"I know there has been talk, especially among people who have been here a long time, that say don't lower the mill (tax) rate, because it's hard to get it back up again," Grams said.

He noted that he's heard from people in the Town of Wescott about their property values jumping up 22%, when values usually rise and fall in the single digits, and are freaking out about it. Grams said there are already indications that the values are dropping back to previous levels and even lower.

"Are we going to have enough money, not this year but the following year with a $6.86 (tax rate) on the valued homes?" Grams said.

Denise Guex, the district's finance spokeswoman, pointed out that the state's levy limits don't allow the district to keep the tax rate where it is and bring in more local revenue, so there's not much that can be done when it comes to the tax rate.

"That's part of the problem," she said.

Grams was pleased that the tax rate was going down, but he couldn't shake the feeling the one-time drop could swoop back up again.

"I love it, dropping taxes, but is it going to bite us in the hinder next year?" Grams said.

Guex noted that the district is also getting an increase in the amount of funding it receives through open enrollment, where $1.77 million was estimated, but the district will receive over $2.03 million instead for this school year.

However, the expenditures for open enrollment are also higher than anticipated, with the district sending more money out than bringing in, with about $2.06 million being spent for students living in the Shawano School District to go to other schools.

"We're spending about $25,579 more for our students going out than we are receiving, so there's a little deficit there," Guex said.

Debt service funding is up more than double what was originally estimated. The district had expected to receive about $2.3 million in taxes to pay down debt but will instead receive $4.68 million. Guex noted the amount is lower than last year's, which was almost $5.73 million.

After Voting the Ballot

After an official paper ballot is marked, it shall be folded so that the inside marks do not show, but so the printed endorsements and inspectors' initials on the outside do show. The voter shall then deposit their folded ballot in the proper ballot box or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit and leave the polling place promptly.

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, the voter shall then insert the ballot in the voting device or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official touch screen ballot is cast, the voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

The following is a sample of the official ballot

Kara Skarlupka,
Shawano County Clerk

Gresham man charged with sexual assault of child

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

A Gresham man is facing one count of sexual assault of a child under 16 years of age, relating to an incident in Shawano in November 2016.

Brian S. Pamonicutt, 28, faces up to $100,000 in fines and 40 years in prison if he is convicted.

According to a Shawano County Sheriff's Department detective, they attended a forensic interview on July 20, 2018, from a victim of alleged sexual abuse from Pamonicutt. The detective said that they were contacted to attend the interview at the request of Menominee Tribal Police, after Pamonicutt allegedly admitted that he had sexually assaulted three juvenile males, while he was living in Shawano.

During the interview, Pamonicutt allegedly stated that he went to visit his sister's house in Shawano and was alone with two juveniles. In an interview, the victim allegedly told law enforcement that Pamonicutt inappropriately touching them has happened, "more than one time." The victim added that they believed this happened in 2017, when they were in sixth grade.

On May 29, 2018, the victim's mother allegedly made law enforcement aware that her child had told her that Pamonicutt "tried doing things to him" at a residence in the South Branch of the Menominee Reservation. The mother reported that Pamonicutt allegedly tried kissing the victim and asked them to play house. She added that the victim allegedly said that Pamonicutt was touching his butt over clothes.

The mother stated that she was not aware of the incident that happened in Shawano.

Shawano-Menominee County Circuit Court Judge William F. Kussel Jr. set a cash bond of $50,000.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Evers got job done over last 4 years

To the editor:

We recently traveled 155 miles from Pulaski to Land O'Lakes near the Michigan border, and the new road work was wonderful. Thank you, Gov. Tony Evers for following up on your promise of improving our infrastructure! This is just one of the many miles and miles of roads that have been upgraded in our state over the last few years.

I also want to thank Gov. Evers for his commitment to the education of our children, the future citizens of Wisconsin and the United States. He knows the background of education and how it works. Tim Michaels may have a house in Wisconsin, but his family live and go to school in one of his east coast houses.

In my opinion, there would be less crime if the punishment fit the crime. An eye for an eye.

Why does nobody ever mention FoxConn? There's your tax dollars at work.

We need a governor who works for the people and with the people, not for a party. If you don't agree with a proposed plan, at least be respectful enough to listen and not just leave the room.

Please re-elect Gov. Tony Evers.

Lora Houska, Suring

Switalla should win Assembly seat

To the editor:

I've known William Switalla for the past five years. He has consistently expressed his support for our citizens in a nonpartisan manner. He is always eager to help. I've been impressed with his empathy for others. Bill takes the time to listen.

William is the president of the village of Wittenberg, and a longtime Shawano County supervisor. I'm aware of the many Shawano County projects that have been completed because he encouraged give and take with everyone no matter how they leaned politically.

He has been a farmer and has strong support for our rural lifestyle.

I know he will work to meet the needs of children, seniors, farmers and working families. He is committed to improving broadband so we have access to better jobs. He'll support women's health rights. He'll help employers grow their businesses.

I know he will stand up for our needs in the Assembly.

I'll be voting for William and urge you to do the same.

Patty Luff, Marion

Poor vetting made Schmidt candidate

To the editor:

In February 2022, Brown County Republicans' vetting committee met with all their candidates, including Mr. Peter Schmidt. After conducting background checks, Peter was asked specific questions about his background, and Peter did not tell the truth. Brown County banned Peter and did not share that information with Shawano County.

The Sixth Assembly District covers portions of Shawano, Brown, Outagamie and Waupaca counties. Only Brown has a vetting process. Shawano made bad assumptions regarding how background investigations would be done.

Shawano asked Peter about his past, and he stated it will all be hidden and the incident was blown out of proportion.

Shawano knew very little of the details about Peter but in June, things started to leak out. The executive board met with Peter and all candidates twice and encouraged Peter and several others to drop out of the race. At that time, Mr. Schmidt was asked if there was more to the story and if there would be an October surprise. Mr. Schmidt replied: "Nothing at this time."

After the August primary, the Shawano Republican Party received specific information on where to obtain the criminal records of Peter Schmidt. We met with Peter, and informed Peter that if he wanted to keep this all a secret it is best that he drops out, and at the same time, we informed Peter that we will not support Peter and not allow him to have campaign information at the headquarters.

Not having a vetting process allowed a flawed candidate to receive the most votes in August. Write in Dean Neubert.

Richard Kucksdorf, Bonduel

Bad timing for school referendum

To the editor:

I heard about three weeks ago that the Gillett School District is going for another referendum. I guess these people have no idea that the inflation rate is around 8.5%. Gas is around $4 per gallon or more. Food in the store is up 14-30%, utilities are up, building materials are up a lot and wages are stagnant.

The Gillett School District is looking for a raise when the wages of the working class of this district are staying about the same.

There are many people who are on a fixed income and will probably not get a raise on their Social Security. If they do get a raise, the Medicare end of it will wipe out the raise.

Has the district gotten rid of any teachers that they don't need? Not so much. Last I heard, we hardly had enough students to make a football team.

For you people who like this referendum, if you like it then you fund it. I can't imagine a worse time to go for a referendum than now.

Also remember, they tried this earlier this year, and it failed. Let's make it fail again.

Just heard on the news that the utility company is looking to raise our utilities. Thank you, Gillett School District.

Del Miller, Gillett

Benson brings bipartisan leadership

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my endorsement of Jane Benson for the 89th Assembly District.

I have met Jane on several occasions and spoke with her at length regarding her positions on various topics. I feel she will be the best person to represent the district and fight for issues important to the citizens of the 89th. Drinking and surface water quality, public education and local government control are examples of issues near and dear to Jane and to the voters in Northeast Wisconsin.

The 89th District, and the Wisconsin Legislature in general, needs leadership that will restore civility and bipartisanship to state government. I believe that Jane will be that type of leader. We need leadership that makes decisions based on facts and the best information available rather than speculation, hyperbole or exaggeration. Jane will be that leader.

So please join me in voting for Jane Benson for the 89th Assembly District on Nov. 8.

BBB recommends caution with holiday shopping

The 2022 holiday shopping season promises to be an unpredictable one. High inflation rates and increased prices of consumer goods are already throwing a wrench into holiday shopping. Electronics, toys, and other products will be (or already are) in short supply, and retailers are struggling to staff up as the shopping season nears.

Just like in 2021, people are planning to start their holiday shopping early. Watch out for deals well before Black Friday sales. Retailers are also expecting to see even more people shopping online.

Product shortages and increased online shopping are likely to result in even more online purchase scams this year. These scams accounted for nearly 40% of all scams reported to BBB Scam Tracker in 2021, according to the 2021 BBB Scam Tracker Risk Report. Shortages are likely to make purchase scams even more common as desperate shoppers turn to shady websites in hopes of finding this year's must-have gift.

BBB recommends the following tips to "Shop Safe, Shop Smart" this holiday season:

- Research before you buy. Use www.bbb.org and shopper reviews to do homework before paying.

- If the deal looks too good to be true, it probably is. The top motivating factor for people who made a purchase and lost money was the price. Don't shop on price alone.

- Beware of fake websites: Check the URL, watch for bad grammar, research the age of the domain, and search for contact information. See BBB's tips for identifying a fake website.

- Professional photos do not mean it's a real offer. Respondents reported that website photos motivated them to engage with scammers, especially for pets/pet supplies, clothing/accessories, and vehicles.

- Make sure the website is secure. Look for the "https" in the URL (the extra s is for "secure") and a small lock icon on the address bar. Never enter payment or personal information into a website with only "http" — it is not secure.

- Be careful purchasing sought-after products, especially during the holiday season. The risk of online purchase scams rises during the holidays because more people are making online purchases, and scammers offer the most popular products for the season at great prices.

- Beware of making quick purchases while scrolling through social media. Scammers have access to tools they need to learn about your buying behaviors, offering exactly what you want at enticingly low prices.

- Look for the BBB seal. BBB Accredited Businesses pledge to uphold the BBB Standards for Trust and to deal fairly with consumers. If a business displays a BBB seal, verify it by going to BBB.org.

- Use secure and traceable transactions and payment methods. According to BBB's research, those who paid with a credit card were less likely to lose money. Be cautious when paying by digital wallet apps, prepaid money cards, or other non-traditional payment methods. Learn more about payment types and how to use each safely.

- Shipment tracking information can be faked. Look closely to make sure it is a legitimate business. Avoid clicking on the tracking link; go to the shipper's website and type in the code to see if it is real.

- Count on BBB to help you "Shop Safe, Shop Smart." More tips are available at BBB.org/holiday-tips.

- Report unsatisfactory purchase experiences to BBB. If you are unhappy with a purchase, file a complaint at BBB.org/complaints. If you never got what you paid for, consider reporting it to BBB Scam Tracker to help other consumers avoid being scammed.

Another wild adventure for Stephanie Plum

JAN JONES

While scanning the eBook selection in the library Infosoup section, I found "Game On: Tempting Twenty-eight" by Janet Evanovich. Though Stephanie Plum's behavior sometimes frustrates me, I get a kick out of how her family deals with her crazy life choices. This book contains all the mayhem and odd characters Evanovich is famous for creating.

Activity at the bail bonds office has been rather mundane with only one high-bond FTA (failure to appear) on Stephanie's list. Oswald Wednesday is a nasty character who has proved especially hard to find.

At this point, Stephanie has exhausted all her usual information sources with no sign of the man. So, she has mixed emotions when Diesel suddenly appears in her bedroom. Diesel is a strange character who has the habit of just showing up out of nowhere. He says he's also been assigned the task of apprehending Oswald Wednesday.

His employers want to prevent O.W. from making good on some very serious cyber hacking threats. With no other leads, Stephanie reluctantly agrees to team up with Diesel. Through man who is hired to "moon" at birthday parties, etc. Naturally, Grandma Mazur knows and admires the man.

They soon stumble upon a possible connection between Oswald and a young computer hacker named Melvin Schwartz. He and a group of hackers known as the Baked Potatoes consider Oswald Wednesday to be the ultimate hacker and decided to try to hack into his system. And they succeeded briefly. O.W. must be in Trenton to find and kill the Baked Potatoes.

Sadly, Melvin doesn't know their real names, so it takes precious time to dig them up and Oswald is right behind them. When two members are found dead with their tongues cut out, Stephanie hides Melvin and Charlotte Huck at her parent's house. Stephanie's mother has become accustomed to her daughter bringing home a wide assortment of people, but she knows "medicating" with whiskey isn't healthy so she tries knitting. Before long her "scarf" is so long it takes on a persona of its own.

As their pursuit of Oswald continues, he tries to abduct Stephanie, torches her car and shoots Lula in the leg. Thanks to her relationship with Ranger, she manages to get Melvin and Charlotte stashed at Rangenam Security headquarters, where they amaze Ranger with their hacking skills.

Things come to a dramatic climax involving a kidnapping, an abandoned high rise, Stephanie, Lula, Diesel, Melvin and Charlotte.

It is fun to read about the quirky villains and odd residents in Stephanie Plum's hometown, but I am glad I don't have to live next door to any of them.

Wittenberg-Birnamwood School District Official Minutes of the Board of Education September 26, 2022

Meeting called to order by President Chuck Wendler, pursuant to WI.STATS.1984 (1). Superintendent Rogowski verified that this meeting was posted and published as required by law.

Roll Call of the Board: All nine Board Members were present. The Pledge of Allegiance was recited.

Approve the Minutes: (Magee-Schmidt) moved to approve the minutes of the August 22, 2022 regular meeting as circulated. 9 yes. Motion carried.

Communications & Delegations: In attendance along with Board Members were: Garrett Rogowski, Jill Resch, Cole Irish, Nick Firari, Stuart Russ, Megan Marcks, Barbara Buchholz, Nikki Steigerwald, Jill Meverden, Erin Tuskowski, Ashley Hegewald and Chris Kulas.

Public Comments: Barbara Buchholz, representing the Town of Wittenberg, asked if the art students would be interested in redoing the Wittenberg Sign.

Board Concerns or Reports: Meredith, Cesa 8 representative, attended a Cesa 8 meeting and explained what Cesa does for all of the districts. Pietz spoke about the Annual Audit and shared that he is impressed with the outcome of the audit. Olson said he is honored to be part of the legionnaires who present the color guard at our home games. The Commander said they will continue to do it and are honored to do so. Wendler stated that Hanson is doing an awesome job with excavating.

Student Representative: None

Financial Report: (Magee-Schmidt) made a motion to pay the following as of September 26, 2022: budgetary checks numbering 106932-107195 in the amount of $579,154.53, payroll checks numbering 142456-142498 in the amount of $55,828.49, direct deposit advices in the amount of $613,698.38, ACH payments in the amount of $781,451.46 and credit card payments in the amount of $30,005.96. Approve Agenda: (Stewart-Schmidt) moved to approve the agenda.

Administrative Reports:

- Cole Irish, Birnamwood Elementary and Middle School Principal, shared some important upcoming dates including the Homecoming Parade in October and Parent Teacher Conferences that will also be in October. Mr. Irish reported that the open house was a huge success. From the elementary school, 88% of the students attended the open house, and 73% of the middle school students attended.
- Nick Firari, Wittenberg Elementary and Middle School Principal, also shared important upcoming events including First Grade Reading Night on October 14. He gave a shout out to Ashley Hegewald for doing a great job with the Explorer Days and the community gardens. Mr. Firari reported that open house was also a huge success for their building, with 87% of students attending.
- Stuart Russ, Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School Principal, reported that it has been a great start to the school year. He also gave updates on Athletics and Student Activities. He finished by announcing that Taylor Bergner, a WB Junior, has been named a semifinalist for the National Merit Scholarship Program. Taylor has the opportunity to compete for some 7,250 National Merit Scholarships worth nearly $28 million that will be offered next spring. Congratulations Taylor!
- Megan Marcks, Director of Pupil Services, spoke about the RVA/WB Consortium, and the Party in the Park that was held for staff appreciation. She also talked about BARK, referring to the information that was recently shared with parents, "We currently utilize Bark to assist us in monitoring our students' online activity through their school issued devices. This emergency response tool helps us to keep students safe and alerts administrative staff when unsafe/crisis information is searched or typed by a student." Marcks also added, "Please note, that outside of school hours, the Bark alerts are NOT closely monitored and we can't guarantee that a staff member will be available to respond accordingly during those times. If your child is using their school issued device outside of school hours, we ask that you closely monitor their activity."

- Jeff Miller, Director of Buildings and Grounds, reported that the press box is almost complete, and that the Tech Ed class will be building ticket booths for both entrances at the football field.
- Superintendent Rogowski invited the Board Members to join him at the upcoming WASB meeting in Rothschild and also expressed appreciation to the Board Members for their service. The Board and attendees all enjoyed snacks and treats in honor of National School Board Week.

Gillett's Alex Peterson finishes 8th at state championship

Gillett boys claim 8th; Bonduel's O'Brien places 55th

Gillett Secondary School's Alex Peterson placed eighth during the Division 3 boys race to help the Tigers also claim eighth at the 2022 WIAA State Cross-Country Championships on Oct. 29 at The Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids.

Bonduel's Ben O'Brien also competed in the D3 boys race, coming in 55th.

Petersons lead Gillett boys

The Gillett boys earned their eighth-place finish with a mark of 221.

Alex Peterson capped a strong career and huge senior season with an eighth-place finish in 16 minutes, 30.6 seconds.

The senior was in third after a first mile of 5:05 before moving up to second after a second-mile time of 5:25.

"My coach and I came up with a plan to stick right on the leader, no matter what," said Peterson. "So I went out in 5:05 which is pretty normal, but the second mile was fast. I think that cost me a little in the end since I was second going into the 400-meter final stretch. I ended eighth, and that's two spots better than last year, so I'm happy with that for sure."

"Going into the season I knew I had a pretty good chance at placing high, so realizing those thoughts puts all my hard work into reality. Also, medal-ing two years in a row is something I thought might be impossible back in sixth grade when I started running. Doing that, again, makes my mental toughness and perseverance so much more rewarding."

Alex's brother Evan was the next Gillett boys finisher. Evan Peterson completed the course in 17:29.9 to grab 32nd place.

"It feels so good," Evan Peterson said of ending his high school career at state. "To qualify four times, I'm blessed to be able to have this opportunity to compete at this meet and on this stage. It's really cool, especially with the team, a bunch of younger guys too — just getting them here for the first time is really awesome."

He later noted how it was neat for things to come full circle, after the Peterson brothers were the only freshmen on a state-qualifying team in 2019.

The third Gillett finisher was a freshman, Bradyn Wendorff. He placed 40th in the race with a time of 17:41.5.

The freshman was especially strong later in the race, moving past 17 runners after the opening mile.

"I feel like I did great," said Wendorff, adding having the Peterson brothers leading the team this year helped him out tremendously. "I used the hills, I used the straightaways, I did what we were trained to do. The finish I think I need to work on a little bit, but that's for next year."

Scott Herroux, a sophomore, placed 123rd with a time of 19:51.6, while freshman Chase Anderson was 131st in 20:25.8 to cap the team score.

Freshman Nash Stange (22:04.4) and sophomore Zander Davis (22:21.9) capped the seven-runner team, placing 145th and 146th, respectively.

O'Brien content with state finish

O'Brien earned his 55th-place finish in 17:56.2.

"It was very hard. It was very different with all the guys running," said O'Brien on his first state run. "I felt like I did pretty good, but I was dying toward the end. I think I gave it my all and finished the season off strong."

"It's a very humbling experience. It was a little overwhelming when we started with all the guys, but I just stuck with guys and tried to just keep running as hard as I could.

His first mile was clocked at 5:25 before a second mile of 6:01.

He's hoping the state finish in a junior season that was a strong one helps him keep pushing even more for his final season.

"Just keep pushing as hard as I've been and just set new goals and crush them," said O'Brien. "Hopefully make it back here next year and hopefully with my team."

Pulaski boys qualify for state tournament

Red Raiders win 2 tight sectional matches

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Pulaski High School boys soccer team is headed to state for the second time in school history after winning a Division 2 sectional title last week.

Top-seeded Pulaski edged West De Pere 4-3 in penalty kicks to claim a sectional semifinal win on Oct. 27 in Pulaski and then topped fifth-seeded Tomah 1-0 in an Oct. 29 sectional final in Pulaski to punch its ticket to state.

The team's other state appearance came in 2014, with a number of close calls since. That made qualifying this year extra gratifying, especially for a roster that includes 16 seniors.

"Qualifying for state as a senior this year is definitely something special," said goalie Mason Baker. "Our team was very close last year, but unfortunately we fell short. I think this only made us stronger for this year, however. A lot of our veteran players, including myself, remember how heartbreaking it was to be that close for a shot at state and lose. Everyone in this game definitely played with a sense of urgency and revenge for last year."

"It's very special; I honestly couldn't ask for anything better," said senior Ryan Drafz. "We lost last year in the sectional finals, so it feels really nice to even the score and advance to state. We were able to win with confidence, passion and playing the full game. We never let up or gave up; we played our hearts out, and that's why we were able to win and advance to state."

Ben Uelmen netted the lone goal against Tomah, scoring unassisted in the 28th minute.

Baker and the team's defense handled things from there, shutting out Tomah. Baker was credited with six saves in the contest.

"I certainly think that last year's experience being the 1 seed and coming up short in the sectional final provided ample motivation," said Pulaski coach Jeff Schneider. "We had 14 guys returning who either played in that game or were present on the bench. Aside from that, I think it was clear early on that we had the ingredients needed to get to this point. We had a very good start to the season and at one point cracked the top 10 in state rankings (first time in program history), so it really helped get our mindset focused on getting the job done this year."

Pulaski was handed a No. 4 seed for the Division 2 state tournament. The Red Raiders will battle No. 1 Whitefish Bay at 11 a.m. Nov. 3 at Kohler Engines Stadium at Uihlein Soccer Park in Milwaukee.

A win would send Pulaski to the state title match against either No. 2 Oregon or No. 3 Waukesha West at 11 a.m. Nov. 5.

"We haven't discussed any goals yet for state because we should really only have one, and that's to win," said senior Chase Ambrosius.

"One team goal we have is to win. Another goal is to work as a team, no matter what. We can't give up because anything can happen in 80 minutes," said Drafz.

In the sectional semifinal against West De Pere, Drafz scored off an Ambrosius assist in the 50th minute to put the hosts ahead. West De Pere scored four minutes later to knot the game at one, and it remained that way through regulation and two overtime periods.

In the penalty kick shootout, Baker made two saves, which allowed the team a chance to win it. Ambrosius had the match-sealing kick.

"It's definitely a great feeling for the players, the school and the community," said Schneider on making state again. "We've been so close for so long, going back to even 2015 when we were in the sectional final that year as well. Since then, there's been several years in between where we had a high playoff seed and endured some really tough playoff defeats.

"So the concept and opportunity of getting through to state is not foreign to the players in our program, and every year that concept gets passed down from group to group, and through those past experiences we learn more about what it takes," Schneider continued. "But we are here now, and it's really about what this team and these players have and can achieve. It's going to be a special experience for them, but our focus is competing at the highest level and representing our school and community in a positive and respectable manner — and, of course, winning these next two games."

HIGH SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL

Chargers make state for 1st time

Witt-Birn tops Edgar in sectional final

By MORGAN RODE

Sports Editor

The Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School volleyball team has enjoyed sustained success over the past several seasons, with Central Wisconsin Conference-East Division titles, plenty of player and coach accolades, and big number of wins along the way.

The Chargers accomplished something this past week that's never been done in school history, though. Witt-Birn swept Weyauwega-Fremont (25-17, 25-12, 25-17) in a sectional semi-final match in Wittenberg and then rallied past Edgar (25-20, 19-25, 12-25, 25-19, 15-13) in a sectional title match in Auburndale to qualify for state for the first time.

"When you play high school sports, you dream as a little kid to make it to state, and you don't know how hard it really is until you're a coach," said Witt-Birn coach Becky Rew. "These girls did it. It's so hard, it's so hard to be the first ones ... Nothing is better than being the first one. It's great anytime, but being the first ones, that's awesome."

Qualifying for state looked bleak after the Chargers fell behind against Edgar after dropping sets two and three. Witt-Birn controlled the fourth set to extend the match and then did just enough in set five to advance.

London Metropulos was serving to start the fifth set, and after a couple Edgar errors, kill from Reese Rogowski and block, the Chargers were up 4-0. Edgar rallied and tied the match at five, forcing a Witt-Birn timeout.

After splitting the next two points, freshman Melaina Granquist delivered a big kill to put the Chargers back ahead. An Edgar attack error was followed by a Wildcat kill to make it an 8-7 Charger lead.

Metropulos continued her huge match with back-to-back kills, and after another Edgar error, Witt-Birn was up four and only four points from advancing.

The match was far from over though, as Edgar won three straight points to get within a point, 11-10. Two Metropulos kills sandwiched a Charger error, making it 13-11.

After an Edgar timeout, Metropulos went back to serve. The serve was long and was ruled out of bounds, with the Charger faithful begging for an Edgar touch to no avail. Edgar then delivered a kill to tie the match at 13 and force the final Witt-Birn timeout.

Rogowski had an attack kill to give the Chargers a one-point advantage and then got her hand on an Edgar tip attempt to block the ball down to the floor and send Witt-Birn to state for the first time ever.

"It's so surreal, I can't even believe it's happening," said Rogowski on making state. "I never would have imagined something like this when I was a freshman."

"It's crazy," said Lilly Betry, another senior on a roster that has six. "It's so nice that it's our last year, too."

This is the way we're going to go out. It's just amazing."

"Literally everything, it's crazy," said senior Kiara Deruchowski. "Our team has worked so hard for this, and to be a senior and go to state is absolutely amazing."

Witt-Birn received a No. 4 seed for the state tournament and will take on No. 1 seed Howards Grove on Nov. 4 at the Resch Center in Green Bay. No. 2 St. Croix Falls and No. 3 Randolph make up the rest of the Division 3 bracket.

The moments after Rogowski delivered the match-sealing point was a bag of mixed emotions for the Chargers. After initial screams and yells of joy, some players broke down in tears. Others were smiling ear-to-ear, while some were simply in shock.

"This team here this year is super close," said Metropulos. "We're super good friends at school, so it really helps bring that into volleyball. The seniors have been playing volleyball their entire lives, we just want to do our best for them so we can see them happy and successful."

The team's strong bond and connection was evident at the start of the match against Edgar, as the team was able to overcome a few mistakes and go on a run during the middle of the set.

Metropulos, Rogowski, Granquist and senior Payton Foster all recorded kills when the Chargers turned a tied match at 8 into a 16-11 lead. After Edgar tied it back up, Rogowski caught fire late to help the Chargers take the set.

Set two started in a similar fashion to set one before things went off the rails for Witt-Birn. Edgar used a 9-0 run to grab a 17-10 lead. Witt-Birn got things going a bit more late in the set, but it was too little, too late at that point.

Set three began with Edgar winning seven of the first eight points and eventually going up 16-4. The Chargers split the final 16 points of the set, creating some momentum to build off of.

The Chargers continued to play better in set four, and had a 9-5 lead after kills from Granquist and Metropulos. Edgar got back within a point before the Chargers rattled off a 9-1 run to seize control. Rogowski led the team on the spurt, with Foster and junior Layla Huffman adding in timely kills.

Edgar tried to rally late but points from Foster, Huffman and Rogowski finished things off.

"In the second and third sets, we weren't talking as much, we were letting balls drop. We had to take time, take a deep breath, pick ourselves up and stop being so down," said Foster.

"Many of us knew this could be the last game, so we're like, 'OK, if this is going to be the last game, go out and play our best that we possibly can so we can continue or not,'" said Betry. "Either/or, we just needed to finish strong."

Finish strong the Chargers did, and now the team — with seniors Rogowski, Foster, Betry, Deruchowski, Allison Linke and Halle Beversdorf — will get at least one more match together.

Minutes after the match ended, Rew and the players didn't really have any specific goals laid out for state.

"We'll figure that out later on, we're just happy we made it," said Rogowski while laughing.

Rew simply wants to team to soak it all in and enjoy it all.

The team's sectional semifinal match against CWC-East foe Weyauwega-Fremont was a lot less stressful than the match against Edgar.

Witt-Birn dominated from pretty much start to finish. Everything was clicking for the Chargers, and they left little doubt on their way to a sweep.

The Oconto Falls High School volleyball team saw its fall season come to a close after a Division 2 sectional semifinal loss to Tomahawk on Oct. 27 in Tomahawk.

The hosts prevailed by scores of 25-15, 25-17, 22-25, 25-20.

As has been the case all season, it was a balanced effort in the match for Oconto Falls.

Amber Otto led the team with 18 attack kills, while Brailyn St. Louis had 16. Keira Cole and Morgan Kluth chipped in three attack kills each.

Otto served three of the team's eight aces, with Kyndra Staidl serving up two aces. Cole led the Panthers with three total blocks.

Staidl had a team-leading 18 digs for the Panthers. Otto was credited with nine digs, while Madison Uelmen and Hanna Krejcarek had eight each. Morgan Moynihan contributed six digs.

Krejcarek posted a team-high 21 assists in the match, with Moynihan tallying 14 assists.

Oconto Falls wrapped up the season with a 27-16 overall record, which included a 5-4 mark in the tough North Eastern Conference.

The Panthers received a No. 2 seed for the postseason and swept No. 10 Antigo and No. 3 Mosinee before falling to No. 1 Tomahawk.

Oconto Falls will need to replace Uelmen, Krejcarek, St. Louis, Morgan Kluth and Tess Maggio heading into next fall after those five graduate in the spring. Outside of Otto, a sophomore, the rest of the roster was made up of juniors this fall.

Shawano girls finish 6th at state

Guenther, Hendricks guide Hawks

By MORGAN RODE

The Shawano Community High School girls cross-country team earned its best-ever finish at state after placing sixth during the Division 2 race Oct. 29 at the 2022 WIAA State Cross-Country Championships at The Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids.

The Hawks earned the strong finish with a score of 186. Shawano was making its third-ever state appearance, having placed 15th in 1981 and 13th in 2021.

Like they had all season, Lily Guenther and Bailey Hendricks led Shawano at state.

Guenther placed 20th with a time of 20 minutes, 7.1 seconds. After a first mile of 6:10 had her in 30th, she worked up to 25th by the 2-mile marker. She passed an additional five girls in the final mile-plus.

"The race has a lot of people, so it was kind of hard to figure out your pacing," said Guenther, a junior.

"The only person I could see the whole time was Bailey, so I was just pacing off Bailey and I knew if I was by Bailey, I was OK. And a couple girls from other teams I'd remember, some of the Freedom girls. I knew if I was by them, I was in a good spot. In the last mile, I just gave it whatever I had left."

Hendricks, a freshman, completed the course in 20:16.1 and moved past three runners after the opening mile.

"It was just really exciting, just like everybody cheering you on, running with a whole bunch of people that are like one second in front of you, one second behind you to push you even more," said Hendricks on her first state run. "I thought I did good. It was a really tough course, hot day. But I thought I did pretty good."

Junior Grace Chelberg was the next Hawk across the finish line, taking 64th in 21:04.6. Freshman Maci Beyer turned in an 83rd-place finish in 21:23.9.

Sophomore Adalyn Barkley capped the team score by taking

Chargers' Salvesen finishes 24th at state

Bonduel girls 7th as team; Kaczmarek places 43rd

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School freshman Rory Salvesen capped a big freshman year with a 24th-place finish in the Division 3 girls race on Oct. 29 at the 2022 WIAA State Cross-Country Championships at The Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids.

In the same race, the Bonduel girls team earned a seventh-place finish, while Gillett's Carleigh Kaczmarek capped her high school career with a 43rd-place finish.

Salvesen finishes 24th

Salvesen turned in a time of 20 minutes, 30.1 seconds to earn her 24th-place finish.

The freshman was in 31st after a first mile time of 6:16 and moved up to 29th when she reached the 2-mile marker at 12:58. She passed five more girls in the last mile and change.

"The race itself was good; I ran a great race. I left everything out there that I had for the last race of the season," said Salvesen.

"I'm overwhelmed by the support and love of all the people here and all of the other amazing athletes I got to compete against today. They were so nice and welcoming and helping out for it being my first time here."

Salvesen was the fourth-fastest freshman in the race. Nine of the girls who placed ahead of her will graduate after this school year.

The freshman is hoping the strong finish to her first season is just the start of big things to come.

"I can't wait; I'm super excited to go into next season," said Salvesen. "I'm just going to keep working hard and trying to give it everything I got. From there, I guess they fall where they fall."

In determining what she wants to improve on going forward, Salvesen said she enjoys hills on courses but wants to get faster in the non-hilly spots to keep shaving seconds off her time.

Ashlyn Kurey the team's top finisher, placing 42nd in 20:56.9. The junior moved up 11 spots after passing the 1-mile marker.

"I knew this course was harder. I told myself to go out there and give it my all — this is the last race of the season," said Kurey. "We just had to go out and run our best."

Freshman Mariah Wondra was next across the finish line, taking 55th in 21:21.9. She moved up 12 spots after the first mile.

Sophomore Teagan Engel claimed 68th place in 21:37.9. She moved past 14 runners after the first mile.

Kendra Troxel, the team's lone senior, capped her career with a 71st-place finish in 21:40.8. Like her teammates, she did a good job of moving past runners after the opening mile, working past 10.

"It really means a lot, especially with how much work me and my team have put in over the years," said Troxel of getting to cap her career at state.

"It was definitely a journey. You can see how much you've grown as a person, like especially with your times. Throughout the years, you see how you develop and it's actually really cool."

Junior Joselyn Bohm capped off the team score for the Bears with a 102nd-place finish in 22:39.3. Not to be outdone by her teammates, Bohm moved past nine runners after the opening mile.

"It's amazing," said Bohm on getting to cap the season at state. "Our team every day at practice continues to push each other and try and be the best that we can. We knew we just had to come in here, run as a family, run as a team and really push ourselves to be better."

Sophomore Hailey Berg and freshman Cierra Schnell capped off the seven-runner team. Berg placed 117th in 23:17.5, while Schnell was 124th in 23:34.9.

Kaczmarek places 43rd

Kaczmarek turned in a time of 20:57.8 to earn her 43rd-place finish at state.

"I think I raced better than last year (at state) for sure," said Kaczmarek. "I didn't feel my best, but I gave it my all, and that's all I could ask for."

The senior was in 35th after a first mile of 6:17 before dropping back to 44th by the 2-mile mark. She was able to work past one runner in the final mile-plus.

In her three years racing at state, she placed in the 40s on each occasion.

"Very special, obviously," said Kaczmarek on getting to cap her career at state. "Unreal, actually. I've been here three times in my career, so I'm just grateful for it."

Kaczmarek joined the Gillett team as a sophomore after spending her freshman year at Oconto Falls, a change that paid off for the athlete.

"It's been really special," she said. "I'm glad I made the switch. There's nothing I could ask for a greater team than this. It's been a very fun time with them."

The Shawano Community High School boys cross-country team placed 13th at state after competing in the Division 2 race at the 2022 WIAA State Cross-Country Championships on Oct. 29 at The Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids.

Oconto Falls' Ben Adams also participated in the D2 boys race, taking 78th place.

Shawano boys led by Chelbergs, Onesti

Shawano earned a team score of 251 to come in 13th at state.

Will Chelberg and Ethan Onesti were the first two Hawks across the finish line.

Chelberg, a junior, placed 11th in 16 minutes, 35.6 seconds. Onesti, another junior, was 15th in 16:44.1.

"I honestly just tried to conserve the first mile or more, because I knew there was a lot more hills on the back side," said Chelberg of his race. "I tried to just get a comfortable pace that first mile or so and then attack the next 1½ miles about."

Chelberg was in 18th after a mile and was up to 14th by the 2-mile marker before getting past a few more runners the last mile-plus.

"This year I did a better job of getting out ahead right away and maintaining a good, solid pace, which helped me in the long run to finish better than what I did last year," said Onesti on his race.

Junior Andon Chelberg was the next Hawk to finish, taking 90th in 17:59.8. Senior Aidan Preston capped his career with a 131st-place finish in 19:13.2, while junior Connor Chelberg capped the team score with a 134th-place finish in 19:17.7.

Senior Jaymin Boivin also got to end his high school career at state, finishing 149th in 20:18.2. Sophomore Quinn Olson capped the seven-runner team with a 152nd-place finish in 22:40.5.

"It's always nice to have the stress on everyone's shoulders, instead of just one person," said Andon Chelberg of getting to race with the rest of the team at state. "We're all kind of like brothers. We've known each other for a really, really long time — we've ran with each other for many years.

"It's going to be sad to see the seniors go, but it's nice to know each other so well. We know each other's routines, we can get each other's stress out and just talk about the race so it's not just built up inside."

Adams happy with state run

Adams capped his sophomore year by taking 78th at state with a time of 17:53.7.

"I think it went well," said Adams of his race. "It was a hard course, the hills really. It's what stopped me from going further."

"The atmosphere was great, I was surprised with how many people were here and how much cheering was going on. Every corner I turned, I heard more fans."

Adams also was in 78th after a first mile of 5:24. He dropped back to 81st after a second mile of 6:02, but passed a few guys in the last stretch to move back to 78th.

"Train on more hills during the summer. Get better at the hills to improve my place and time here at state," Adams said on what he wants to work on before next season.

Pulaski senior Angela Opolka capped her high school cross-country career by placing 88th during the Division 1 girls race at the 2022 WIAA State Cross Country Championships on Oct. 29 at The Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids.

Opolka completed the course in 20 minute, 50.9 seconds.

"It's definitely a tough course," said Opolka. "The first mile is pretty easy, but after that, it's just hills and hills. But I just tried to use the hills to my advantage. I just tried to keep it going the whole time."

Opolka completed the first mile in 6:21 and was in 87th place at the time. She had a mark of 6:56 at the 2-mile marker, when she was in 88th place. She had a mark of 7:36 on the final mile-plus to maintain that spot.

"It was amazing; I'm so happy I was able to come," said Opolka on making state as a senior. "I feel like I've worked really hard for this, and it's really been a journey since freshman year — and even before then, middle school. I'm just happy that this could be my last race. It was really an amazing experience."

"It means everything. I don't think anything could have gone more perfect. When my coach told me after sectionals that I made it to state, we were just jumping around. It was the most perfect ending to any experience."

Witt-Birn will next compete in the Division 2 Merrill Sectional on Nov. 5.

Brown joined Breanna Anderson, Tela Hopfensperger and Lila Melchior on the seventh-place finishing 200 freestyle relay (2:10.07).

Shawano/Bonduel will next compete in the Division 1 Neenah Sectional on Nov. 5.

Schmidt leads Pulaski at FRCC Championships

Pulaski senior Taya Schmidt was tabbed the Fox River Classic Conference Diver of the Year after the conference championships were held Oct. 29 in Ashwaubenon.

Schmidt won the conference's diving event with a score of 452.25. The second-place finisher had a mark of 278.25.

The Pulaski girls took fifth as a team with a score of 198.

Schmidt also placed fourth in the 50 freestyle (26.01) and was on the fourth-place finishing 200 freestyle relay team (1:51.84).

Angelina Fulgione, Brynn Rybicki and Grace Duffrin filled out the 200 freestyle relay team. The same quartet placed sixth in the 200 medley relay (2:05.45).

Individually, Duffrin claimed fourth in the 200 IM (2:22.72) and fifth in the 100 butterfly (1:06.87).

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Lena/STAA upended by Wabeno/Laona

Titans limited to 1 offensive score

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Lena/St. Thomas Aquinas Academy football co-op had its season come to a close in a similar fashion to a year ago.

The fourth-seeded Titans were toppled 20-8 by third-seeded Wabeno/Laona on Oct. 28 in Wabeno. The Rebels are also the team that eliminated the Titans in 2021.

In this year's battle between the teams, Lena/STAA scored first and had a halftime lead before Wabeno/Laona scored twice in the third quarter to take the lead and then tacked on an additional score late to seal the game.

The game began with two turnovers in a three-play span.

Lena/STAA received the opening kickoff before fumbling the ball away after two plays. Wabeno/Laona threw a deep pass on its first play, only to have Sam Marquardt intercept the ball in the end zone to get Lena/STAA the ball right back.

The Titans then put together a 11-play drive that got down to the Wabeno/Laona 30 before another fumble ended the threat.

"The two turnovers we had, maybe we could have scored on," said Marquardt of how the early giveaways were big in the final outcome.

Wabeno/Laona then looked to be on its way to the game's first score, but Lena/STAA's defense held strong inside its 10-yard line and stopped third- and fourth-down plays from the 1-yard line to end the drive.

Lena/STAA's offense then put together a 21-play, 99-yard scoring drive that chewed up the last couple minutes of the first quarter and first eight minutes of the second quarter.

Marquardt, Logan Graef, Tyler Shallow and Josh Kristof split the team's 21 rushing attempts on the series. Marquardt eventually scored on a 5-yard run on a third-and-3 play.

Each team punted once more in the half before the clock hit zeros.

After holding Wabeno/Laona out of the end zone all first half, the Lena/STAA defense couldn't accomplish the feat much in the second half.

The hosts worked 68 yards down the field on their first offensive series and scored to tie the game at six.

Marquardt returned the ensuing kickoff to the Wabeno/Laona 45-yard line, but the Titans weren't able to cash in, stalling inside the Wabeno/Laona 10.

"They were playing the ball good and in the second half they really flowed to the ball perfect," said Marquardt on Wabeno/Laona's defense. "They stopped our big plays and our 10-yard-at-a-time plays to like 2 yards and we couldn't move the ball anymore."

Stalling was a moot point though as Lena/STAA's defense got a safety to take an 8-6 lead. Jake Belongia and Sidney Sylvester teamed up for the tackle that led to the safety.

With a chance to break the game open and potentially go up two scores, Lena/STAA's offense had a rare three-and-out.

Wabeno/Laona took advantage, with a couple big chunk plays on its way to a touchdown that gave the hosts a 12-8 lead as the third quarter clock expired.

"They got a great quarterback. He's shifty," said Kristof of how Wabeno/Laona's offense was able to produce some big plays. "We were killing them when they were running the ball straight up the middle, so they spread it out."

Lena/STAA's offense had another promising drive going early in the fourth quarter, but again had it break down before the team could reach the end zone.

Wabeno/Laona drained a good portion of the remaining 5 minutes of game clock with its next offensive drive and delivered the dagger with a 30-yard touchdown pass. The pass came on a broken play with the hosts facing fourth-and-19.

Lena/STAA had one more offensive possession, but wasn't able to pick up any first downs, allowing Wabeno/Laona to kneel out the remaining seconds of the contest.

Despite the outcome, Lena/STAA coaches were still happy of the team's efforts this season, noting how they were one of just eight teams still playing in the 8-player football playoffs.

After helping turn the program around, the co-op will need to replace a strong core of senior players, including Kristof, Marquardt, Belongia and Sylvester among others.

"It's so surreal, it's crazy. Our freshman year, we were just hoping to get a touchdown every game," said Kristof while laughing. "Our whole offense changed drastically — new coach, new gameplans. New leaders stepped up, more in the weight room and we just evolved. It got better every year."

"Our senior class really got big in the weight room and that definitely helped us," said Marquardt. "We played as a team. Nobody needed the ball every time — it was let's just get some yards and a touchdown. We had a great group of guys that got along perfect and never fought."

Bonduel's season ends against St. Mary's Springs

Bears shut out in second round of playoffs

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

A 21-0 loss to the St. Mary's Springs Ledgers ended the Bonduel Bears' football season in the second round of the Division 6 playoffs on Oct. 28 in Fond du Lac.

The Bears enjoyed a somewhat unexpected playoff run, as they knocked off third-seeded Crivitz the week prior. In this game though, the Ledgers' defense was the story. They held Bonduel junior quarterback Noah Weier to just 7-of-21 passing on the day, including one interception.

"This whole season has been a grind with these guys, with a lot of seniors in this program," said Weier, recapping his thoughts on the year. "It's just special — the game of football. You don't get this out of any other sport. It is just a great time playing with these guys."

As its passing game struggled to get going, Bonduel's rush game was just as stagnant. The team totaled only 63 yards on the ground, as opposed to the Ledgers' 183 rushing yards, with Levi Huempfnr leading the way with 118 rushing yards.

While Bonduel did give up just short of 200 yards on the ground, the defense was better than the score showed. Bonduel started the game by forcing St. Mary's Springs into a turnover on downs after three straight rushes were stuffed. On Bonduel's subsequent drive, three different Bears recorded carries before a reverse passing play was intercepted by St. Mary's Springs.

St. Mary's Springs then marched down the field, highlighted by a 15-yard rush from Huempfnr. The 62-yard drive eventually ended with a Huempfnr 10-yard rushing touchdown.

Bonduel took back over minutes before the first quarter ended, only to go three-and-out before punting on the first play of the second quarter.

The next drive for each team ended in a punt, before St. Mary's Springs took over on its own 39-yard line. A fumble recovery from Bonduel on the second play of the drive set the Bears up for a scoring opportunity, as it took over on the Ledgers' 45-yard line.

The drive eventually stalled, as two straight incompletions on second and third downs forced Bonduel to punt. Weier, who punts for Bonduel, downed the Ledgers at their own 2-yard line.

From there, St. Mary's Springs once again worked down the field methodically, eventually making it to Bonduel's 35-yard line. A false start pushed the Ledgers back, and then Bears senior linebacker Tyson Bogacz recorded an 8-yard sack, forcing St. Mary's Springs to punt.

Getting the ball back before half-time, Bonduel senior Gaven Vance got heavily involved, recording a rush of 13 yards, a reception of 5 yards and a pass completion of 18 yards. In what became a theme of the game, Bonduel once again stalled, with Weier's last two pass attempts falling incomplete.

Much like St. Mary's Springs' first drive, Bonduel turned the ball over on downs to open the half. St. Mary's Springs built its lead as the subsequent drive ended with a 3-yard Huempfnr touchdown rush.

A three-and-out forced Bonduel to punt — one that St. Mary's Springs could not handle. The ball was recovered by Bonduel. The muffed punt seemed to revitalize the the Bears as the recovery was almost immediately followed by 12-yard reception from Vance to sophomore Cade Johnson. Once again, two incomplete passes ended Bonduel's drive.

"We thought that we were in this game all week," said Weier, on whether the muffed punt inspired any hope of winning. "That is the thing especially about this team — there is no negativity. It is just, 'Forget about the last play.' And to see us play hard all game, I couldn't be more proud."

St. Mary's Springs eventual punt led to Weier throwing a interception to St. Mary's Springs' Sam Lucas. Bonduel's chances stayed alive though, as a missed field goal gave the ball back to the Bears at their own 20-yard line.

Those chances to stay alive quickly diminished as the Bears were forced to punt, leading to 22-yard rushing touchdown from Jacob Holmes.

Bonduel could not recover, eventually turning the ball over on downs and ending the game.

"Every team that we have lost to this year is still playing," said Weier, wrapping up the season. "We fought every game. This score does not show how hard we played this game, and I think that you look back and don't look at the losses, but at how you grinded every single practice."

Even though the season did not finish how Bonduel wanted, senior running back Louis Hrabik said that this was the most fun that he has playing football.

"It was a lot of fun; I had a good time with all of the guys," said Hrabik. "It was definitely good memories, and we played hard all year."

Finally, Hrabik said he learned how to be a leader from playing football in Bonduel for four years. In his leadership position, Hrabik gave a word of advice to those who will play for the team next year.

"Definitely keep coming up, don't give up and keep working hard," said Hrabik. "Do what you can."

Lena falls to Wabeno/Laona in three sets

Wildcats' season comes to end in sectional semifinal

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Lena High School girls volleyball season came to end Oct. 27 after the Wildcats lost in three sets to the Wabeno/Laona Rebels in the sectional semifinal round of the Division 4 tournament.

Lena came into this game with plenty of momentum and three straight playoff wins under its belt, including wins over first-seeded Suring and second-seeded Gresham. Lena's run came to end though against Wabeno/Laona, as the Rebels took down the Wildcats 25-17, 25-11, 25-6 in Shawano.

While the season did not end the way that Lena players and coaches had hoped, senior Natalie McNurlen spoke on what her experience was like with the team in the playoffs.

"Going through regionals, we just had that team connection to beat the first seed and second seed," said McNurlen. She added it felt amazing to defeat top-seeded Suring. "We haven't been the regional champs in 32 years, so it was really cool bringing that back."

"We communicated. We all had fun, and no one had attitudes," said senior Makynna Herald, when recaping the postseason.

Being the first Lena volleyball team to make it to sectionals in 32 years was a major accomplishment, Herald said.

"We feel very proud that we came this far," said Herald. "It is sad that it has to end this way, but we came this far and it was super fun."

Wabeno/Laona got out to a quick start, mostly on the back of Allison Albrecht, who scored the first three points for the Rebels. Down 3-1 in the first set of the match, Lena sophomore Peyton Dorow scored the first ace. Scoring kept coming for Wabeno/Laona, as the team eventually built a 9-4 lead, before Lena junior Alabama Lambert recorded the Wildcats' second ace of the set.

The Rebels immediately responded, recording their first ace of the match by way of freshman

Lily Terry. That ace put Wabeno/Laona up 11-5. Lena closed in on that lead, scoring four out of the next six points, with senior Claire Brooks leading the way with a kill.

But 13-10 was as close as Lena got, with the Rebels going on a 5-0 run, with five different players scoring. Dorow stopped the flurry of points, scoring to bring the score to 18-11. The Rebels built the lead up to 21-10, before McNurlen and junior Mackenzie Vorpahl scored back-to-back points as part of a three-point run.

The Rebels scored four of the next six points, including an ace from Ava Cleereman to win the set.

"We talked about how talking would be a big thing — communication. And honestly, where we went wrong was just talking," said Herald. "We played slower than we usually have in our other regional games. In our other regional games, we played by talking, not having attitudes and as a whole team. And as a team in this game, I feel like we were individual."

The Wildcats began in a hole to start the second set, as Wabeno/Laona opened the set on an 8-0 run, headlined by three straight aces from Cleereman. Brooks brought Lena back into the set, as she recorded two points in response to the 8-0 run, including a kill.

The Rebels built the lead back up to 10, scoring the next four points. The second set got worse for Lena before it got better, as the team eventually found themselves down 16-4.

McNurlen was not ready for the set to end though, as she led a three-point run for Lena, with two points coming by way of aces. Wabeno/Laona shut the door on the comeback, scoring six out of the next seven points and seven out of the next 11 points to win the set.

The teams traded points to open the third set. Then, as was the theme of this match, Wabeno/Laona went on another huge run, this time scoring eight straight points.

A single Lena point, due to serve out of bounds, bridged the gap between the Rebels' eight-point run and another four-point run.

Down 13-3, McNurlen got Lena back into the scoring column. McNurlen and sophomore Eva Brooks could only muster three more points, as Wabeno/Laona scored 13 more points over the course of 16-point span to win the set and ultimately the match.

"We definitely did not have that energy that we wanted," said McNurlen. "We weren't getting that team connection that we had the rest of the regional or season, but I am happy we made it as far as we had."

With this being her last game in a Lena uniform, McNurlen said that becoming a leader has been something that she has learned to do.

"You have to have the one person on the team that has to feed the energy, otherwise it's not there," McNurlen said. "I have definitely learned to be that person."

On top of learning to be a leader, Herald said that she has learned how important communication can be.

"It might seem silly in volleyball because you have to move around, but communication is the biggest thing," said Herald.

Celebrating the end of a new year in 4-H

Shawano County looking forward to increasing number of participants, programs

By LYNN ZAFFRANN
Correspondent

The Shawano County 4-H celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2022, and it is continuing to grow.

The organization brought its year to a close Oct. 30 with the Rendezvous held for 4-H members and families, at the Shawano Lake County Park Pavilion. Although the year is closing, 4-H enrollment is open, said Megan Suehring, the 4-H positive youth development educator in Shawano County.

Suehring was recently awarded the 2022 Achievement in Service Award by the National Association of Educators and 4-H Youth Development at its professional conference held in Madison. This recognition for an outstanding career of leadership in the 4-H program highlights the positive things she brings to Shawano County.

"It's really rewarding to be recognized with that award, but the thing it really comes back to is being able to make an impact in our community and being able to make a difference in Shawano County," Suehring said. "I'm looking forward to 2023 in Shawano County."

"We have some new activities that we're looking to try. 4-H has 20 community clubs for youth to join, and we're kicking off some in-school and after-school programs that are going to be fantastic," she continued. "We're also going to be looking forward to employing a few college interns this coming year, and we're looking forward to having kids get the opportunity to use their hands, to learn what lights their fire, what their sparks are, and then really developing those into flames into their future. Either they can find hobbies they love, or occupations they love or just find where they fit into their communities."

In addition to her youth development role through the University of Wisconsin-Extension, Suehring is also the leader of the Tiger Tribe club.

The 4-H Executive Board hosted a memorable party, with lunch by Primal Eats from Gillett and an exciting program of recognition and awards for the many 4-H activities in the past year. Individual and group accomplishments completed by graduating 4-H seniors and recognition of the leaders with five to 55 years of service were some of the honors highlighted during the program. The 77 kindergarten through second grade participants in the Cloverbuds program were acknowledged, ensuring the continued growth of Shawano 4-H.

Suehring kept the program rolling, with the help of the executive board vice president, Nicole Blaskowski, from the Country Corner 4-H club, and president Katie Wolf, Bondel. The afternoon included camp counselors and Suehring leading the members in a hilarious rendition of "The Milk Song" and an imaginative skit by the counselors and Suehring to keep the audience entertained.

Winners of raffle baskets donated by clubs and 4-H families were chosen during the program, keeping the audience alert to hear their raffle ticket numbers called. A competition to assemble three youth-size bikes was a highlight of the festivities. Three teams were randomly chosen and tasked with the building of the three bikes. The teams, most from different clubs, worked cohesively to complete each bike.

The winning team included Josh

Kolodziej, Jameson Kolodziej and Henry Kolodziej from Angelica; Andrew Suehring, Tiger Tribe; Cheyann Smith, Green Valley; and Evie Grunwald, Pella Eagles. The finished bikes, one for a boy, and two for girls, will be donated to Toys for Tots.

"I was a 4-H member when I was little. I grew up in Iowa County," Wolf said. "We moved up here, and now my kids are part of 4-H."

Wolf is a legacy 4-H member. "My mother was, and still is, a leader. She was always on the leader's council. My projects were dairy, horticulture, crops. My kids both show pigs."

When asked how it was to be president during the 4-H centennial, she said: "It was pretty cool. I was part of the centennial committee, and the cake at the fair."

Wolf promoted 4-H for families to join.

"4-H is just a wonderful opportunity and I know that when people think about 4-H, they think it's a lot of agriculture, but it's not," Wolf said. "There's so much more to it. It's about making good leaders, getting kids involved. 4-H is not only the fair. There's projects, interactions with other kids, meeting other people."

One of the leaders recognized during the Rendezvous was Mary Pluger, Tilleda.

"I've been a leader in 4-H for 40 years," Pluger said. "I was a member for 12 years before that."

Pluger is the countywide key committee member for crafts, specifically working in leathercraft.

"Anybody can call me for information or helping out," Pluger said. "We make everything from belts to wallets to key fobs."

Her mother, Eleanor Aschenbrenner, was a leader for 20 years, dating back to the 1960s.

"She got me involved," Pluger said. This year, Pluger helped out at the fair with cake decorating.

"I also do candle craft and archery, the shooting sports," she added.

CMN hosts first winter farmer's market

Two subsequent dates scheduled for Nov. 18, Dec. 16

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

For those who are in need of their farmer's market fix in the winter, look no further than Keshena.

The College of Menominee Nation in Keshena hosted the first winter farmer's market of the season, where jewellery, crafts and apple cider were available for sale. If visitors could not get to Keshena for the Oct. 28 winter farmer's market, there are two more scheduled, with the next date being Nov. 18, followed by Dec. 16. Both days will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"Today is the first winter farmer's market, hosted by (College of Menominee Nation) Sustainable Development Institute and the Department of Continuing Education," said event organizer Tatjana Farjadi. "We are trying to bridge the gap between the summer farmer's market and these winter months."

Farjadi said that there has been expressed interest in returning to a farmer's market in the winter months from vendors.

"It is great that SDI is able to provide," said Farjadi. "People want to keep up the presence, both on the vendors side and just on the community members side. It has become such a consistent thing over the summer, so it is nice to keep up that consistency during the colder months."

She called the market a community event and pointed to that idea of supporting community members as to why the farmer's market has gained popularity.

"It is a lot of supporting the people in your community and the people that you know," said Farjadi. "It is just keeping up that sustainable economic piece. It is a different experience than shopping online."

In terms of anything different between the winter farmer's market and the summer farmer's market, Farjadi said that visitors can expect a natural shift to more crafts, as opposed to food.

"We are still really grateful and excited to see the exact same vendors from the summer farmer's market," said Farjadi.

Barb Garvey, who traveled from Keshena resident Marguerite Bowan, left, and Green Bay resident Shandel Kovars sit down and catch up with each other during the winter farmer's market at the Cultural Learning Center of the College of Menominee Nation on Oct. 28. Event officials hope that this event can be a place where community members and visitors meet new people and make new friends.

Pulaski to sell apples and apple-related seasonal drinks, said it was her first time selling in Keshena.

"I have gone to the Shawano Farmers Market as a vendor, and I always wanted to come to Keshena because everyone says that they have a farmer's market during the summer," said Garvey. "It was interesting to see that the college was hosting it, so I thought it would be a neat thing to come."

Garvey said that she also took this as an opportunity to teach people about her growth methods for apples.

"It is also neat that it is the Cultural Learning Center, because for my product, it is a holistic orchard, so we don't use chemicals," said Garvey. "You want people to learn why we do that — so I thought this was a good chance to do that. It has gone really good — a lot of people were interested and got good feedback."

In her first experience at a farmer's market in Keshena, Garvey said that she has learned about different cultures from different vendors.

"I think as a community, just being able to get together and talk — I think we need that," said Garvey.

Ron Bowan, who has many years of experience selling various crafts, said that having this event in the community is an overall positive thing.

"If you look around, most of the vendors are local, so it gives us an opportunity to get our crafts out," said Bowan. "It is just nice to get involved with the community. This is just a place where people can meet up."

Farjadi added that interested vendors can contact her through email at tfarjadi@Menominee.edu.

FARM LIFE FROM A FARM WIFE

Completing fall tasks demands proper mood

I'm not a hoarder. I'm not. To be honest, if any one person would stroll through parts of my house they'd beg to differ. I'm trying. It's a process. Decluttering settles my mind and I realize the rewards are so worth the effort.

I've lived in three houses my entire life. When a person lives in one place for a long time, things accumulate. Often when I hear of someone moving, I am pleasantly covetous. If I'd move, I tell myself, if I'd move,

KAY REMINGER

I'd be able to ditch with much more abandon, but even then, I'd have to be in the proper mood.

The other day, I bemoaned the issue to my middle one. His old room needs help. Little by little, I've been slicing through his stuff like a hot knife through butter. This? Gone. That? Give away. I text him, "You really need to come home and get rid of some stuff."

His response, "Never mind, Dad has his high school letterman jacket in my closet."

He has a point.

Numerous times when my kids were still living at home, we'd have a cleanse. Not deep seated, just rather superficial. It was like pulling teeth. They'd sprawl out on their bed while I held up one piece of clothing at a time.

"This?" Thumbs up or thumbs down determined its destiny.

For some reason, this time of year gets me in a "let's do a cleanse" frame of mind. I tackled my clothes closet. I could barely walk in a walk-in closet. Pulling everything out that was in boxes on the floor and dumping it in my bedroom I started in, one thing at a time.

I seized a shirt. When did I even wear it last? Grabbing a piece of paper and a pen, I began a Goodwill list.

"Netted hamper (where on earth? A college kid's dorm room? Which kid? It's a mystery), men's coveralls (no way, never fit) women's sweaters, men's shirts and jeans, women's hoodies, women's capris (when did I even buy those?) pillow shams, jewelry, puzzles, cowboy hats (what?

Numerous carrots are chopped up in preparation for freezing, one task that can be fun to do in the fall.

why, just why) winter hats, women's sandals, dish rack."

The list went on. I could have shopped in my own house. That day, four full boxes plus a wire dish rack full of stuff got organized for Goodwill. It was rejuvenating, so much so the next warmish sunny day the mood had me in the garden digging carrots.

All season long, I've been tending to the garden, faithfully pulling weeds, along with thinning the carrots and for the most part, produce going straight from the garden to our table. Potatoes were harvested a while back. Apples and raspberries are in the freezer.

Freezing carrots, for me, is a whole-day project. Digging them out first, I twist off the tops and throw the carrots in a five-gallon pail to cart over to the water faucet, spray hos-ing them down to get all the dirt off.

Hauling them into the house, I scrubbed them individually with a vegetable brush. Then comes the slicing and as I slice I started the process of blanching, getting a large pot of water boiling. Immediately after straining the hot carrots, I gave them a two-minute ice water bath, then dumping them on a flour-sack cotton towel laid flat on the kitchen table, patting them as dry as possible. Scooping them into quart freezer bags, I squeezed all air out and then sticking a straw into one corner, sucked the remaining air out of the bag, sealing it tight.

Carrots. I was sick of washing, slicing, boiling, cooling, drying and bagging carrots. Weary of it. I told God and then I felt I heard Him say, "Do it for Me." That gave me a revelation and a new resolve. I did it. I did it for Him. Suddenly the job wasn't a job but an offering to the one who made these delicious orange vegetables grow in the first place.

During my quiet devotion time, I've been reading "Practicing His Presence" by Brother Lawrence and Frank Laubach. I highly recommend it for anyone who wants to draw closer to God as you do menial daily tasks, or wherever life takes you. The longer I linger in His presence, the more I want to be there. It's addictive in the most delightful way.

Going through clothes, downsizing and decluttering can be daunting — or scrubbing countless carrots — but if I set my mind on things above the tasks seem easier somehow. Why? I cannot explain. I'm still physically doing but mentally, I'm thinking about the one who lovingly and profoundly gave me the ability to do this thing called life.

The sweet satisfaction of getting produce ready for the winter, or glancing inside a walk-in closet that I can actually walk in can't be beat. Spending life with the One who gave me life? Priceless.

("But as for me, the nearness of God is my good; I have made the Lord God my refuge, that I may tell of all Your works." Psalm 73:28)

Kay Reminger was born and raised on a dairy farm, and she married her high school sweetheart, who happened to farm for a living in Leopolis. Writing for quite a few years, she remains focused on the blessings of living the ups and downs of rural life from a farm wife's perspective.

Leave the leaves; let creatures hibernate

By now, you've probably all heard the recent mantra over the past few years of "leave the leaves." More and more, messages like this are flooding social media and magazine articles, imploring you to skip fall garden cleanup and allow Mother Nature to do what comes naturally.

ROB ZIMMER

Have you tried it yet? Have you attempted to skip the fall cleanup for the sake of birds, insects and wildlife? This week, I offer some information on why this is a great choice.

Looking to Mother Nature, we can see clues and reasons why we should not be so obsessed with cleaning up fall garden waste. Many of our favorite creatures actually overwinter in leafy yard debris and the hollow stems of dormant annuals and perennials.

Native bees such as mason bees and bumblebees and others overwinter among the debris left on the ground. Leaves, weed debris, mast and old wood and stumps are great places for bees and other insects to overwinter. The queens of all of these species, and others, spend the winter sheltered underneath leaf litter and other garden debris.

By raking away or blowing away fallen leaves, you are killing those precious creatures.

The cocoons of Luna moths and Cecropia moths and others are also found among leaf litter, old stems and woody shrubs. By disturbing these or removing them, we are destroying populations of these incredible insects.

Try to skip heavy raking and blowing this fall and give these amazing creatures a chance.

Another aspect to consider is that all of the plants that we have grown all summer long in the garden are now filled with precious and nutritious seed. These seed heads provide an amazing source of nutrition for overwintering birds, as well as those now migrating through.

Juncoes, chickadees, nuthatches, goldfinches, American tree sparrows, pine siskins and others feast upon these seeds throughout the winter season, giving them a vital source of nutrition and energy. By chopping up and hauling away all of these precious food sources, we are removing a vital source of nutrition and sustenance for overwintering songbirds.

Many insects, such as moths and butterflies, as well as native bees, utilize the stems and seeds heads of native wildflowers and garden plants during the winter season for shelter.

Plants such as purple coneflower, sunflower, zinnia, cosmos, goldenrod, aster, black eyed Susan and others produce massive amounts of seeds, making them a precious food source for migrating and overwintering birds. Ornamental grasses, especially native varieties, also produce huge numbers of seeds that these birds depend upon for winter food.

Allowing garden plants to remain standing throughout fall and winter is one of the easiest and most beneficial things we can do to help songbirds through the winter.

If you're not quite ready to completely give up the fall cleanup, a simple thing you can do is cut back your perennials and annuals that are full of seed and simply stack them in bunches, or stand them erect in chicken wire cages or tied around the bases of trees. This allows the birds to still access the seeds, and you can still get the garden beds chopped back and cleaned up. You can also hang them from trees and poles to allow the birds access to the precious seed.

Quilt pays tribute to those in uniform

To honor the U.S. military and as a tribute to family members who have served our country, the pattern Randy and Renee Godin selected for their barn quilt has a patriotic theme.

The quilt, Shawano County's 398th, has been named Service with Pride and is on display on the Godin barn at W3506 State Highway 22, Cecil.

The five gold stars on the quilt represent the five branches of the U.S. military — the U.S. Navy, the U.S. Army, the U.S. Air Force, the U.S. Marines and the U.S. Coast Guard. Randy served in the Air Force from 1985-1990; his dad, Jim, served in the Marines from 1957-1960; and Renee's dad served in the Army from 1960-1963.

The Godin barn quilt is the second one that has been sponsored by Charlie's County Market in Shawano, owned by Charlie Harvey and his family.

"My dad loves this community and has been one of its greatest supporters," said Kelly Harvey, Charlie's daughter. "He continually gives back to a community that has given him their never-ending support. We are proud to be a part of the Shawano County barn quilt project that encourages the preservation of our area's historic old barns and promotes tourism to our wonderful area."

Randy and Renee moved from Green Bay to their present home in May 2004 in search of a smaller community similar to where they both grew up. Randy was raised on a small hobby farm outside of Wittenberg while Renee grew up in the small town of Rosholt in central Wisconsin.

"We wanted our children to live in the country and experience country lifestyle, such as helping your neighbors pick rocks, bale hay and tame kittens," Renee said.

Their home was built in the late 1800s by a Marohl family and, at some point, was sold. The barn, however, stayed in the Marohl family. In 2021, Randy and Renee purchased the barn from the Marohl family, bringing the homestead back together again.

"We have always enjoyed seeing the barn quilts as they have popped up around the county," Renee said, "and are very thankful to Charlie's County Market for sponsoring one for us. I hope people who see it will enjoy it as much as we do."

The quilt was painted by the Shawano County barn quilt committee and was put on display by Keith and LeRoy Raddant of Raddant Electric in Shawano.

Randy and Renee Godin are shown with Shawano County's 398th barn quilt on their barn at W3506 State Highway 22, Cecil.

CLUB NOTES

Lena Lions

The Lena Lions welcomed Brad Paitl as a new member at the October meeting. Brad is a graduate of Lena High School and later attended Northeast Wisconsin Technical College for police science. Brad started his law enforcement career in 1999 with the Lena Police Department. In 2004, he was hired by the Oconto County Sheriff's Office as a deputy. In 2019, Brad was promoted to his current position of patrol lieutenant.

Brad and his wife, Trina, live near Kelly Lake. Brad enjoys hunting and snowmobiling. He also helps at several local farms in his free time.

Brad is looking forward to being a Lena Lions Club member so he can contribute and support the Lions' events and activities in the community of Lena, where he grew up.

Brad Paitl, center, was presented by his sponsor, Jon Shallow, right, and sworn in as a new Lena Lions member by President Lisa Misco.

Lichon new coordinator for PHS fitness center

Spencer Lichon is the new strength and wellness coordinator at the Pulaski High School Fitness Center.

Lichon is a 2007 Green Bay West High School graduate. He is a 2011 University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point graduate, where he majored in health promotion/wellness with a minor in strength and conditioning.

"We are very excited to have a full time, successful strength and wellness coordinator to offer our students, workers, and community," said PHS athletic director Janel Batten. "Spencer Lichon is a high-quality individual, who will be a great addition to the PCSD. We are excited to have him join our team."

Lichon comes to the district after 11 years at the Bellin Health Tiletown Sports Medicine Facility, where he helped train Green Bay Southwest and other high school athletes including some from Pulaski. He is looking forward to increasing use of the facility.

"I'll be working with the students, student athletes and staff as well as the community," Lichon said.

He will also step in to coordinate the popular summer Build a Better Raider fitness program.

Veterans organization serving up spaghetti

Vets 4 Vets of Northeast Wisconsin is hosting its 20th annual veterans spaghetti dinner from 3-6 p.m. Nov. 11 at Red Maple Country Club, 501 Golf Course Road, Suring.

Spaghetti with meatballs and garlic bread will be served; carry-outs are available on request. The spaghetti dinner is free for veterans; cost for guests and the general public is $7 per person.

A full cash bar and dining room service at Red Maple will be available, with silent auctions, 50/50 raffles, a meat raffle, Bingo and more. Oconto County Veteran Service Officer Ron Christensen will be the keynote speaker for the event, and a licensed Medicare insurance agent will be on hand to answer questions.

All veterans who bring in their invitation postcards will be eligible to win grocery gift certificates. Veterans and active military who do not have an invitation are welcome to attend the dinner and can fill out a postcard to be eligible for the grocery gift certificates, but they should bring a military ID or proof of military service, if possible.

Spencer Lichon is the new strength and wellness coordinator at the Pulaski High School Fitness Center.

Operation Christmas Child starts 2022 season

Samaritan's Purse Operation Christmas Child shoe box project is well underway at Grace Lutheran Church, 501 S. Main St., Oconto Falls.

Ellen Pritzlaff, local coordinator, noted that last year, the church collected and shipped over 1,000 shoe boxes gathered from throughout the community. An informational display at the Oconto Falls Community Library will show how people can participate.

The shoe boxes contain wash cloths, bar soap, hygiene items, small toys, school supplies, and much more suitable for children ages 2-14. There will be no candy or liquids. There is a designated collection tote next to the church office door for donations to be dropped off anytime. Monetary gifts are also welcome. Every shoe box will go directly to a child in need extending the love of Christ around the world.

Shoe box packing parties at Grace Lutheran are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Nov. 8 and Nov. 10, as well as 10 a.m. Nov. 12. Questions can be directed to Pritzlaff at 920-362-5752 or epritzlaff@hotmail.com.

Sanitary district to hold meeting in November

Kelly Lake Sanitary District 1 will hold its monthly meeting at 6 p.m. Nov. 14 at the district office building, 9535 Green Acres St., Suring.

Requests to be on the agenda must be made by Nov. 11 by calling 920-842-4527.

Lakewood library gets to its $10K donation goal

Lakes Country Public Library in Lakewood has received over $10,000 in matching donations for a contribution made in September by an anonymous donor.

"In just six weeks, we received 37 donations ranging in amounts from $20 to $1,000," said Library Director Katie Essermann. "Some came from other states: Arizona, California, Florida, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Texas, and Washington."

The donations are going toward the library's building and expansion project. Essermann noted that the library's recent fundraising success has resulted in another offer of an even larger matching challenge. Essermann did not specify the amount but said more information would be provided in the coming weeks.

Hillside announces annual Thanksgiving dinner

Hillside Assembly of God Church has announced its 32nd annual Gillett Community Thanksgiving Dinner, consisting of turkey and ham with all the trimmings, from 3:30-6:30 p.m. Nov. 23 at the church, 5890 State Highway 22 in Gillett.

This dinner is offered to anyone who would enjoy the feeling of being a part of a large family. There is no charge for the dinner. Anyone who is homebound and lives in Gillett, Suring, Cecil or Oconto Falls can have a meal delivered.

Seating will be limited. When making reservations, ask for a specific time slot: 3:30-4:15 p.m., 4:30-5:15 p.m. or 5:30-6:15 p.m. For dine-in dinner reservations, meal pick up, meal delivery, or to volunteer, call the church at 920-855-2962 or email teri@hillsideassembly.com. Dine-in times can also be reserved at www.hillsideassembly.com. Anyone who leaves a message should include a phone number to confirm. Early reservations are recommended.

Packers start 3-5 for first time since 2006

Rush offense thrives, rush defense struggles in road loss to Bills

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The 2022-23 NFL season has been a season of firsts for the Green Bay Packers, though those firsts may be counterproductive.

For the first time in Aaron Rodgers' 18-year career, he was a double-digit underdog on Sunday. For the first time in Matt LaFleur's head coaching career, he lost two regular season games in a row, then three and finally four in a row. This was also Rodgers' first loss in the prime-time television slot in his last 13 starts at night.

These firsts are obviously not what a team looking to contend for a Super Bowl wanted from its first eight games.

Much like the last couple of weeks, the Packers are in uncharted territory and are now two games below .500. The 3-5 record is the first time the Packers have had that record since 2006 — in Brett Favre's penultimate season in Green Bay.

Inconsistency is just one of the problems that are currently plaguing the team. This season, Green Bay has gotten wins because of its offense — Chicago and New England — and because of its defense — Tampa Bay — but those two entities have yet to come together in a single game.

"We had too many momentum swings, I think," said Rodgers, recapping the loss to Buffalo. "We couldn't answer back when we needed to."

The rush defense is quickly becoming an achilles heel for the team, as the Packers currently rank 29th in yards given up on the ground per game.

That problem may not soon be fixed either, as against Buffalo, Quay Walker was ejected after an altercation on the sideline and De'Vondre Campbell left the game with a knee injury, leaving Eric Wilson and Isaiah McDuffie in unfamiliar territory.

Opponents are gaining 141.3 yards per game on the ground, something that may not subside, as Green Bay is looking ahead to games against Detroit, Dallas, Tennessee, Philadelphia and Chicago — all teams that average over 131 yards rushing per game.

RICK SCUTERI | THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Injuries didn't only affect the defensive side of the ball in this game, as rookie wide receiver Christian Watson was forced out of the game with a concussion.

Receivers Allen Lazard and Randall Cobb are currently injured and Sammy Watkins has a long injury past, that Green Bay may not want to rely on.

"Yeah, that's football," said LaFleur on Watson's injury. "You have to be able to adjust."

The silver lining in this though is that with three contributors down on offense, the Packers were forced to rely on Aaron Jones — something that LaFleur has been questioned about all year.

While almost having to be forced to use a Pro Bowl running back is a spot of concern for Green Bay, the results more than paid off for a stagnant offense. This obviously didn't help Green Bay win the game, but it did provide the team with energy and big plays, something any middle-of-the-pack team requires.

Immediately establishing a run game often pays dividends for teams in the form of setting up deep passes with play-action. With Jones averaging 5.9 yards per carry, defenses have to respect Green Bay's run game. Additions to the offense may help, but consistently using a run game should open other areas of the field up.

"I think that we have to find that balance," said LaFleur, on Green Bay's ability to get the run game going. "I was super proud of our ability to come off of the football

— I thought that everybody was blocking hard. I thought Aaron (Rodgers) did a good job of getting us in and out of looks. I also think that we have to be able to mix it up a little bit."

Green Bay currently sits four back in the loss column to the Minnesota Vikings in the division. In fact, the Packers are last in the NFC North in points scored.

There is no sugarcoating it, the Packers have a problem, whether it be players, staff or the front office — something is not working this year. Finding a team identity and becoming consistent in what they do should be a starting spot for this team that is looking to turn its season around.

Struggling defense

The Green Bay Packers hadn't finished in the top quartile of the NFL in points allowed since 2010. They won the Super Bowl that year.

With a star-studded group, this was supposed to be the year that changed. Green Bay's starting defense didn't have a single weak link.

On the defensive line, Pro Bowler Kenny Clark was joined by veteran addition Jarran Reed and first-round pick Devonte Wyatt. At inside linebacker, All-Pro De'Vondre Campbell was joined by first-round pick Quay Walker. At cornerback, Jaire Alexander was healthy to create an elite trio with Rasul Douglas and 2021 first-round-er Eric Stokes.

Rising star Rashan Gary and Preston Smith formed a high-quality duo at outside linebacker. At safety, Adrian Amos and Darnell Savage were entering Year 4 together.

While the offense predictably has struggled to adapt to life without Davante Adams, it was supposed to be the defense that was ready, willing and able of picking up the slack. Instead, entering their week nine game at the Detroit Lions, the Packers are 3-5 and losers of four consecutive games in part because their defense ranks 16th in points allowed.

That unit can't stop the run, doesn't create enough turnovers and can't get off the field on too many important third downs.

Against Buffalo on Sunday night, the defense gave up five consecutive scores. The Bills' offense was on the field for just two third downs during that sequence.

"There's times we play good football and times we let it get away from us," Clark said after the Buffalo game. "Whatever it is, we've got to correct it. We've got to figure that out. I don't really have an answer for it."

Something's got to change. It won't be the coordinator, though.

"Absolutely not," coach Matt LaFleur said on Monday when asked whether he had contemplated firing second-year defensive coordinator Joe Barry.

There are no excuses for the disappointing play. Alexander essentially missed two games early in the season and Campbell was sidelined for the second half against Buffalo with a knee injury that might keep him out for the Detroit game. Otherwise, they've been healthy.

They almost lost to one backup quarterback (New England's Bailey Zappe) and did lose to another (Washington's Taylor Heinicke).

Frustration is building. A source told ESPN.com (www.espn.com/nfl/story/_/id/34920325/lafleur-no-plans-shake-packers-defensive-staff) that there is "a declining confidence" in Barry's scheme. LaFleur downplayed any differences in opinion between what's called by Barry and what has to be executed by the players.

"Well, first of all, it's impossible to please everybody," LaFleur said. "Everybody has their own opinions, their own ideas. You have to get the staff on the same page, first and foremost, in making sure that everybody is confident in the plan, and then you teach it to the players.

I think we'd be foolish not to listen to our players at certain times. Ultimately, we have to make the best decision for our football team in terms of how do you go about winning the game? You know, there were some great moments and then there were some not-so-great moments."

The Packers need more of those great moments. Fast. On Sunday, a three-game road trip concludes at Detroit, which is ninth in scoring. Then, it's a home game against Mike McCarthy's Dallas Cowboys, who are 6-2 and just scored 49 against Chicago.

Then, it's home against the Tennessee Titans, who are 5-2 behind star running back Derrick Henry, and at the Philadelphia Eagles, who are 7-0 and third in scoring.

The defense has had an annoying habit of playing one good half and one bad half. The good half against Buffalo could be a building block, Douglas said, though that seems more like grasping at straws than anything.

"You can't come out here and spot a team 21 points and expect to come back," Douglas said. "What was it at halftime? 24-7? And the final score was 27-17. You can't spot a good team that many points. I think we played good in the second half. They just made more plays."

Offensive woes

It's not all the fault of the defense, obviously. After ranking first in scoring in 2020 and 10th in 2021 en route to earning No. 1 seeds in the NFC playoffs, the Packers are 26th. They've averaged merely 17.5 points during their losing streak.

"We're hurting ourselves," quarterback Aaron Rodgers said. "We had a touchdown to Bobby (Robert Tonyan) called back on a penalty.

We had other opportunities to get points — fourth down, I had Jo(siah Deguara) for a big gainer down the left side but couldn't get the ball off.

"We've got to help our defense out a little better early in the game. When we went on a run back in '16, we started those games faster so we could play more one-dimensionally on defense. We just haven't done that. We haven't put up any points early in games to get our defense to have a chance to pin their ears back and get after the passer."

The Packers did run the ball extremely well against the Bills. The question as the team advances into the second half of the season is whether than running game is a building block.

While the Packers frequently lined up with two tight ends to run the football, the Bills didn't play a single snap of their base 4-3 defense.

Essentially, they let Green Bay run the ball, confident in their belief they'd eventually get a stop or the Packers would shoot themselves in the foot.

"We know we have everything in the locker room," Jones said after running for 143 of the team's 208 yards. "We just haven't put it together. We have to be a more disciplined football team.

"We have to play off each other. I think that's one of the big things. Just execution across the board, I think. There's going to be mistakes here and there. Now, we're causing a mishap on the play or something like that. We got all the talent in this locker room that we need.

We've just got to put it together now."

Change at linebacker

Assuming Campbell doesn't play, second-year player Isaiah McDuffie will make his first NFL start against Detroit. The Buffalo native played the final 40 snaps against the Bills and recorded four tackles.

"I thought Isaiah did a nice job," LaFleur said. "There was the one play where Josh (Allen) was able to get out of the sack. I think we were a little late getting the call in, our guys weren't quite ready on the snap of the ball and he has a free runner, but I thought all in all he handled himself well.

"He played with great effort — he always does. He always plays with great urgency, great effort, you can feel him, he's physical on the football field, not only on defense but on (special) teams, as well."

Receiver Christian Watson, who had missed the previous two games with a hamstring injury, suffered a concussion on his lone catch against the Bills. Fortunately, there are no other issues. At left guard, Elgton Jenkins was inactive with a foot injury sustained at Thursday's practice.

"Just one of those deals where he got stepped on and we thought he was going to be all right, I think he thought he was going to be all right, and on Sunday morning didn't feel great," LaFleur said. "Took him out in pregame, worked him out and it was one of those deals where he was having pain in his certain area and didn't feel like it was worth the risk."

KEYS TO THE GAME

By BILL HUBER
Correspondent

The Green Bay Packers (3-5) will travel to face the Detroit Lions (1-6) at noon on Sunday at Ford Field in Detroit. FOX will televise the game.

History

In a series that dates to 1930, when the Packers routed the Portsmouth Spartans 47-13, Green Bay leads 103-73-7. Including playoffs, it's 105-73-7.

Detroit won the last matchup, 37-30, in last year's finale at Ford Field. The Packers played their backups for the second half of that game, which helped the Lions snap a five-game skid in the rivalry.

Coaches

Green Bay — Matt LaFleur, 42-15, fourth season. Detroit — Dan Campbell, 4-19-1, second season; he went 5-7 as interim coach of the Dolphins in 2015.

When the Packers have the ball

You've probably heard of the irresistible force paradox: What happens when an unstoppable force meets an immovable object? Well, this would be the opposite. The Packers rank 26th in scoring. With four rookies in the starting lineup, the Lions rank 32nd in points allowed.

If Green Bay's horrendous offense can't get going in this game, it might never get going.

The Lions have allowed 32.1 points per game — 5.1 points worse than any other team. They're across-the-board terrible: 32nd in total defense, yards allowed per play, passing yards per play and third down.

Of the main statistical categories, Detroit's best is passing, where it's merely 27th. Campbell fired defensive backs coach Aubrey Pleasant on Monday.

"I think Aubrey is a hell of a coach," Campbell said. "I've got a ton of respect for him. It was a tough decision, but we're in a production-based business and after seven weeks I felt like this change needed to be made."

Detroit's base defense is 4-3. The front consists of defensive ends Aidan Hutchinson and Josh Paschal and defensive tackles Isaiah Buggs and Alim Mitchell.

Hutchinson was the second pick of the draft and Paschal was the second-round pick. Hutchinson has 4½ of the Lions'

Green Bay Packers quarterback Aaron Rodgers, center, throws a pass during the team's game against the Washington Commanders on Oct. 23 in Landover, Maryland.

GREG MELLIS | NEW MEDIA

11 sacks. He splits his time between the left and right sides. Paschal has been starting for Charles Harris, who has been out with a groin injury. Harris had 7½ sacks last season.

Malcolm Rodriguez, another rookie, and Alex Anzalone are the primary linebackers. Anzalone has a team-high 55 tackles. Rodriguez, an undersized but fleet-footed sixth-round pick, is third with 47 tackles but first with five tackles for losses.

The secondary consists of Jeff Okudah and Amani Oruwariye as the corners, A.J. Parker in the slot and DeShon Elliott and rookie third-round pick Kerby Joseph as the safeties.

Okudah, the oft-injured 2020 first-round pick, has started every game and is tied for the team lead with three passes defended. Oruwariye, who had a breakout season last year, has not been as good this year. He's given up four touchdowns, according to Pro Football Focus. Elliott, who is second with 48 tackles, has one of the team's two interceptions.

When the Lions have the ball

The Lions boast a formidable offense. At times, anyway. They rank ninth with 24.7 points per game. After scoring a total of six points in road losses to the Patriots and Cowboys, they scored 27 in Sunday's loss to the Dolphins. All 27 of those points, however, were in the first half.

They're fourth in total offense and yards per play, fourth in rushing per play and seventh in passing per play.

They are bad on third down (23rd with 37.4% conversions) but great in the red zone (third, 72% touchdowns).

"We literally just have to do our jobs like we did in the first half, and everything takes care of itself," left tackle Taylor Decker said, a line that might be used by any member of Green Bay's offense. "We just have to play a complete game. We have to play for 60."

You get what you pay for; Decker, Sewell and Ragnow were first-round picks and Jackson was taken in the third.

They've given quarterback Jared Goff ample time and cleared the path for running backs D'Andre

Swift and Jamaal Williams.

Brown is playing for Halapoulivaati Vaitai, who is on injured reserve following back surgery.

Goff is 11th in passer rating (93.2). He's been so much more productive compared to last year, his yards per attempt up to 7.5 from 6.6 and his yards per game up to 272 from 231.8.

Williams, the former tag-team partner of Aaron Jones in Green Bay, has rushed for 464 yards and a career-high eight touchdowns. Swift, who returned from an injury last week, has averaged a robust 7.4 yards per carry.

Swift, especially, is a dynamic threat as a receiver. He caught 62 passes last year. Behind that line, they will test Green Bay's porous run defense.

Amon-Ra St. Brown, Josh Reynolds and Kalif Raymond are the primary receivers. D.J. Chark, one of their big free-agent signings, is on injured reserve and first-round pick Jameson Williams is still out following the ACL sustained last year at Alabama.

St. Brown is a stud. He's caught 35 passes for 344 yards and three touchdowns despite missing time with injuries.

Spanning the end of 2021 and the start of 2022, he caught eight-plus passes in an NFL-record eight consecutive games.

Reynolds and tight end T.J. Hockenson are tied for second on the team with 26 receptions.

Hockenson, who has receptions of 81 and 58 yards this year, was traded to the Vikings at the trade deadline.

Special teams

In Football Outsiders' rankings, Detroit is 19th and Green Bay is 31st.

Michael Badgley is the kicker. Already the team's third kicker, he's made all four field goals and all three extra points.

Jack Fox is the punter. He has a big leg (49.5 average) but gives up a lot of returns and a lot of return yardage (13.5 average). Can Green Bay's Amari Rodgers field the ball and take advantage?

Raymond handles punt returns and backup running back Justin Jackson is the primary kickoff returner.

They've had minimal success, though Raymond has big-time speed and averaged 11.2 yards last season.

Q&A WITH ALLEN LAZARD

By BILL HUBER
Correspondent

Allen Lazard, who is Green Bay's leading receiver, discusses At The Top, a personal motto and clothing line meant to inspire others to reach their fullest potential.

Q: What is the genesis of At The Top?

A: At The Top, it's a mindset. We don't say it's a place, a title or an accomplishment. It's waking up and being the best version of yourself every single day.

I developed that in high school. My best friend and I, Ryan (Lillard), had kind of coined the term "At The Top" to give an identity to how we felt like we approached a lot of things in our life. I've used that mindset to deal with the different adversities and challenges that I've had throughout my life, whether it be sports or relationships or different hardships I've had to deal with.

Here, I've been trying to spread the word and let everyone else know what I consider to be At The Top and the mindset it is. I think a lot of these people already have that mindset. To even be at this level, you already have to have it. But some people may not identify with it or fully understand it.

I think giving it a name or identity helps people recognize it and they're able to focus a little bit more on it when those types of situations present themselves.

Q: What does it mean to you? Ask someone on the street, and "at the top" means you led the league in receiving or are a company CEO. To you, what does it mean?

A: Just be the best version of yourself. Do the best that you can do. Somedays, you wake up and you may have an injury, you may not mentally be fully there, and you can only be 80% of yourself. If you can only be 80% of your full self, then you need to be all 80% and not 79 and not 70.

It's a way to get the best out of yourself every single day. Having that mindset and that consistency allows you, when times are tough, to persevere and keep fighting through those tough moments.

Q: So, it's that mentality that allowed you to go from an undrafted practice-squad guy in Jacksonville to the No. 1 receiver with the Packers?

A: I would credit a lot of it to that, as well as a lot of other factors — obviously, my teammates, my coaches, opportunities presenting themselves and being prepared for them. I think ultimately, it's the belief in yourself. I think that has to do with At The Top and believing that you can be yourself.

Q: You came up with this in high school? That's pretty mature. I was focusing on a lot smaller goals when I was that age. Have you always been that way?

A: I always knew that I wanted to be a professional athlete. Around the time I developed At The Top is when I realized my path was probably going to be down toward football. When I set my focus to be on football, I knew my end goal was to be in the NFL. Since high school — and even when I was a little kid — I had dreams and aspirations to be here and everything. In high school, it definitely narrowed.

Q: Coming from where you came from, what does it mean to be here? You've accomplished just about everything you set out to accomplish.

A: It's definitely a blessing. I think all the time about being a mixed-interracial kid from Des Moines, Iowa. To be here playing for the Green Bay Packers, to be able to represent not only my family and friends but the whole state of Iowa and Des Moines and, more so than that, throughout my career, a lot of people have doubted me.

Whether it's high school, college or even at the beginning stages of my NFL career and even more so now being the new role I've assumed. Going back to the At The Top mindset, it's helped me prove people wrong and, more than that, prove myself right.

Q: You can buy At The Top shirts and so on. Where do you want to take At The Top?

A: I have a foundation called At The Top for Vets. It's in the beginning stages right now. I'll probably have an event next year when I can do a fundraiser to raise money to help veterans transition from their service life back into normal citizen life.

Whether it's health, finding a job, their family or whatever it may be, I want to help. Those people serve our country and protect us for our freedoms and give us our rights. For me to be able to live this amazing life and to live out my dreams, I feel like those people should be the No. 1 in society.

I want the help make sure that they

AT A GLANCE

Number: 13

Age: 26

College: Iowa State

have the easiest transition from what they've been doing back into civilian life.

Q: Where did that inspiration start?

A: I've always had a lot of respect for the military. Before I knew about football, I wanted to be part of the Secret Service and protect the president. I've always had a tremendous amount of respect for those men and women that serve our country and fight for our rights and our freedoms.

There's a lot of similarities between their day-to-day lives and how they go about their jobs and the emphasis they put on the details. If they have any faulty decisions or actions, it ends in maybe not their life but someone else's life.

Thankfully, our ramifications aren't to that level but I feel like it correlates very well.

Rodgers preaches patience after Packers' skid grows to 4

By JONAH BRONSTEIN
The Associated Press

Aaron Rodgers' frustration following a fourth consecutive loss was familiarly apparent. This time, the Packers quarterback chose his words more carefully in expressing them.

A week after suggesting some players need to be benched and citing too many mental errors following a 23-21 loss at Washington, Rodgers was more understated on Oct. 30. He preached patience after a 27-17 loss to the AFC-leading Buffalo Bills dropped the Packers to 3-5 — their worst start through eight games since Rodgers took over as quarterback in 2008.

"The most important thing is to take a beat," Rodgers said. "After a frustration like this, the last thing you want is to respond in emotion. So take a beat. Let it sit. There's not a whole lot to say after the game that is really going to spark the team."

Rodgers snapped a 13-game win streak in primetime, and the Packers have lost four in a row for the first time since 2016. Rodgers responded to that midseason slump by declaring the Packers could "run the table."

They won the next eight on their way to the NFC Championship Game.

On Sunday night, Rodgers said the Packers just need to find a way to get one victory.

"I feel like if we just get one, then our whole momentum changes," Rodgers said.

The Packers haven't lost five of their first eight games since 2006, when Brett Favre was the team's starter. Their third double-digit loss this year matches the most they've had in a full season with Rodgers at quarterback. The five losses marks the most they've had in one season under coach Matt LaFleur took over in 2019, and most since a 6-9-1 finish in 2018.

Now the three-time NFC North champions face an uphill climb in the division standings after falling three wins behind the Minnesota Vikings.

What encouraged Rodgers was the energy he felt from his teammates leading up to the game, by noting it "felt like the Packers again." The only issue was how it failed to carry over into an outing Green Bay trailed 24-7 by halftime.

After holding Buffalo to its first three-and-out on the opening drive this season, the Packers' defense allowed touchdowns on three consecutive possessions, and field goals on the next two, before stiffening to intercept Josh Allen twice in the fourth quarter.

LaFleur said the Packers need to play with more discipline.

Green Bay had eight penalties for 58 yards, including an offensive pass interference penalty on tight end Robert Tonyan that wiped out a touchdown on the first series of the second half.

"We're getting killed with penalties," LaFleur said. "It's taking points off the board. It's extending drives."

LaFleur was especially displeased when linebacker Quay Walker got ejected in the second quarter for shoving an inactive Bills player on the sideline, further weakening a defense that also lost leading tackler De'Vondre Campbell to a knee injury.

"When it gets chippy, you've got to keep your poise," LaFleur said. "Mistakes are going to happen in this game. But losing your cool, losing your poise, putting the team in jeopardy, I've got no tolerance for that."

Walker regretted his emotional response, saying it was sparked after he was pushed from behind after tackling running back James Cook.

"I probably misinterpreted on what it was," Walker said. "I just felt the push, and I'm on their sideline. Feelings just flowing. I'm very hyped and everything like that. And I just let it out of emotion. Right away, as soon as I did that, I regretted that I did that. But it's something that I'm going to have to live with, and I'm going to have to face."

Emotions flared before the game, with Packers cornerback Jaire Alexander and Bills receiver Stefon Diggs exchanging words in the tunnel before and after pre-game warmups.

While Green Bay's running attack combined for a season-best 208 yards, the Rodgers-led passing attack was limited by an injury depleted group of receivers. Christian Watson left the game with a concussion in the first quarter, further depleting a receiver group already missing Allen Lazard (shoulder) and Randall Cobb (ankle).

"We know we have everything in the locker room. We just haven't put it together," said running back Aaron Jones. "I feel like we did a great job in the run game. We just gotta keep going, keep digging."
